

The Carolina wrestling squad (shown above) has won the State championship for the second successive year. The Tar Heels defeated every mat team in the State, registering victories over Duke, State and Davidson.

Moulding the team around three outstanding performers, Coach Chuck Quinlan produced one of the fastest mat aggregations yet seen in the State. The two losses came in the opening meets of the year and were to V. M. I. and V. P. I. The Tar Heels then won three meets in succession, defeating Duke 12 to 11, N. C. State 16½ to 6½ and Davidson 20 to 3.

DRAMA CONTESTS WILL BE STAGED HERE THIS MONTH

Fourth Carolina Dramatic Institute Will Be Held March 25-26-27.

The Fourth Dramatic Institute of the Carolina Dramatic Association will be held at Chapel Hill March 24, 25, 26, under the auspices of the University Extension Division's Bureau of Community Drama.

An interesting program has been arranged for the Institute, consisting of addresses by local and national authorities on drama and production of plays by high schools and communities.

The first day of the Institute will be given over to religious drama. Rev. M. T. Workman of the School of Religion will act as chairman of the religious drama conference; and addresses will be made by Frederick H. Koch, Dr. H. E. Spence, of Duke University, Dr. Alvah Taylor, and Miss Ethel T. Rockwell. Thursday night the production of religious dramas will be demonstrated at the Methodist Church, where members of the Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, and Episcopal Churches will present short religious dramas.

The second day of the institute is High School Day. Speeches will be made by W. R. Wunsch, of Asheville, Dr. Archibald Henderson, of the University, Professor Paul Green, and Miss Josephine Sharkey. Hubert Heffner and P. L. Elmore will give a demonstration of stage arts. In the afternoon the final contest in original plays will be held, and Friday night will witness the finals for state championship in high school play production.

Saturday, March 26, will be given over to college and community drama. Barrett H. Clark, author and editor, of New York, will speak on "Plays for the Amateur Theater and their Production." In the afternoon Miss Rockwell will discuss "The Drama for County Fairs and Community Chatauquas" and Nathaniel Reaid, of New York, "The Theater and the People." The Carolina Playmakers will give a guest performance in honor of the visitors. At night will come the final college and community contests and the presentation of awards by President Chasp. After the performance a masquerade party and reception will be held at the Carolina Inn for the visitors to the Hill.

The Omega chapter of Tau Epsilon Phi in the U. of N. C. hereby admits breaking the rules of the German Club and faculty in giving an informal dance on March 1, as published in the TAR HEEL of March 3; and do hereby express regret for this unconscious infraction of the rules.

The rule referred to reads: No dances—may be given, except on Friday and Saturday evenings—forum on the human relations program. In addition to the platform addresses and seminars there will be much opportunity offered students for personal and group interviews with the visitors.

An elaborate exhibit of books and other literature on the subjects of the program has been prepared for reference and inspection during Institute days.

The week's program will endeavor to present the various subjects from all possible points-of-view, and to present no dogmatic theories alone. Not only are the speakers the most outstanding specialists in their fields of study in America, but they have been long associated with student life, college and University affairs.

In the Interracial Relations division there will be: W. W. Alexander, of Atlanta, Ga., Executive Secretary of the Interracial Commission, which operates in thirteen southern states, and author of numerous articles and pamphlets; James Weldon Johnson, Secretary of National Society for the promotion of Colored People, who will bring to the campus the negro's own story and view-point of interracial relations. He is considered the most intelligent and learned negro in the country today. J. J. Cornelius, an orthodox Hindu, and Professor of Philosophy at Lucknow University, Lucknow, India, will speak on Interracial Relations and International relations from the Asiatic view-point.

The leaders of the Industrial Relations division will include: James Myers, Industrial Secretary of the Federal Council of Churches, author of numerous books on industrial cooperation and relations; Fred Rindge, Industrial Secretary, National Council of Y. M. C. A. who has for 17 years traveled the United States and Canada as Industrial Secretary for the "Y."

In the International Relations division will be:

Arthur Rugh, National Student Secretary for the Foreign Department of the Y. M. C. A., who recently returned from 23 years work in China; J. J. Cornelius, of Lucknow, India; E. M. Patterson, Prof. Whorton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, who has written extensively on International Affairs and International Debts; Josephus Daniels, of Raleigh, N. C.; and W. L. Poteat, President of Wake Forest College.

Dean Paulsen Gives Boxing Team a Feed

The boxing team was entertained at a delightful banquet given by Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Paulsen at their home on Ransom Street Thursday night. A delectable three course dinner was served and was interspersed with bits of humor from various men present.

Talks were made by members of the team which served to amplify the fine spirit of cooperation and sportsmanship that has existed throughout the season. Coaches Ashmore, Collins, Belding, and Quinlan addressed the gathering, complimenting the team on the excellent showing this season and predicting even brighter prospects for the future.

ing sentences from the Student Council in this particular case, be placed on strict probation for the remainder of the school year."

In discussing this resolution, Henry Brandis, Salisbury, stated that "the Student Council admitted that it no longer had the confidence of the student body in using coercive means to secure the names of most of the men suspended and evidence against them."

Sidney Chappell, who presided over the meeting in his capacity of president of the student body, characterized the attitude shown by the men when brought before the Council as defiant, and said that they were "guilty of swearing to one of the most damnable lies that a group of men ever indulged in when they stated that they had not been playing for money, and later admitted that they had." He said that the suspension of the men was being held in abeyance until the matter was finally threshed out.

F. P. Parker of Goldsboro and other speakers declared that the real issue was whether the student body was in favor of doing away with the present Student Council or not.

Jonas was heartily applauded when he presented his resolution. When President Chappell, after speaking for what was declared by some to have been twenty minutes, announced a time limit of three minutes for other speakers, he was loudly hooted.

Mr. Chappell originally stated that the meeting would be adjourned at the end of the thirty minute chapel period, but the students voted for an extension of time when the period ended with the discussion just getting well underway. R. L. Dula, in a quavering voice, attempted to expostulate on the subject, but when he was unable to muster sufficient vocal volume to make himself heard, he was advised by nearby students to write an Open Forum letter instead.

Names of men expelled for gambling who signed the petition for the mass meeting this morning were read before the student body in Memorial Hall by President of the Student Council S. G. Chappell, and permission to print the names was given a TAR HEEL reporter yesterday afternoon by Mr. Chappell. The editorial policy of the TAR HEEL has always been to refrain from publishing names of men arraigned by the Student Council; accordingly they are omitted. State papers are printing the names this morning in dispatches sent out by the University News Bureau.
