Fourth Annual Drama Institute Closes Today; Many Prominent Dramatic Authorities Are Here

Asheville Wins High School Contest—Northampton County School Honors.

PRIZES GIVEN TONIGHT
Playmakers Will Give "In Dixon's Kitchen" This Afternoon.

The Dramatic Institute ends today with speeches by such famous men of drama as Barrett H. Clark and Nathaniel Reeid, and the presentation of awards by President Chase.

The final college contest will take place tonight at 8:00 o'clock between the Atlantic Christian College and the Catawba College.
Immediately after their performance the final community contest between the Lincolnton Community Club and the Community Players of Henderson will take place.

After the awards are presented there will be a masquerade ball and reception at the Carolina Inn for all those taking part in the Dramatic Institute. The Carolina Buccaneers will play for the occasion.

The Carolina Playmakers will give a guest performance of In Dixon's Kitchen and a demonstration of Old English Folk Dances, directed by Josephine Sharkey at 3:30 o'clock today.
Barrett H. Clark will lecture at 11:00 o'clock this morning, Ethel T. Rockwell at 2:30 o'clock, and Nathaniel Reeid at 8:00 o'clock.

The winners in the county high school contest of original one act plays was won by the Seaboard Dramatic Club of Seaboard, Northampton county. The play presented was Walnut Boards, a dramatic comedy by William Long. Actors were Ray Stevenson as Nathan Crocker; Thelma Smith as Martha Crocker, his second wife; Godwin Waller as Simon Stevenson, a neighbor; William Long as Sam Stallings, a half-witted boy; Marcus Garris as John Pool, nephew of

PAUL GREEN'S PLAY TO RUN IN ENGLAND

"In Abraham's Bosom" To Open in London Early This Summer.

Paul Green, member of the University faculty, has received a cablegram from London informing him that his play In Abraham's Bosom has been accepted in England and will be presented on the London stage either this spring or early summer. The action of the English theatrical authorities is in keeping with the splendid compliments that have been literally pouring from the pens of the New York critics ever since In Abraham's Bosom was presented.

The news that the cablegram brought will mark a prominent milestone in Professor Green's career as a writer. He has seen more that a score of his plays enacted on American soil, but never yet has one gained enough force to cross the Atlantic and be presented for the entertainment of the European theatre goers.

In Abraham's Bosom is already being considered for the famous Pulitzer prize and the action of the London dramatic magnates is a definite boost towards this goal of all play writers.

Inharmonious!

"I just think it's terrible the way politicians start horrible stories on good men," were the words of Co-ed Cora, when she heard that J. O. Harmon, manager of Swain Hall, had had to call together the men working in the dining room to deny an insidious story to the effect that he had said that any man who did not vote as he did would be "fired."

After explaining to the boys that he had been dubious about nominating the man whom he nominated Wednesday night, because despite the fact that he had absolutely steered clear of politics for three years someone started a story every year.
Harmon told them that a freshman came to him and asked him whether he had said that any man, who did not vote as he did, would be "fired."

Harmon said, "I nominated him, because I think he is a good man, but I'm through with politics for this year until I vote. I am going to vote as I please, and I expect every man in here to vote as he damn pleases. The story would be ridiculous, if it were not so nasty."

HINDU PROFESSOR DEFINES EASTERN OUTLOOK ON LIFE

J. J. Cornelius Says Mankind Is Fundamentally Alike.

EXPLAINS CASTE SYSTEM

Laments That World Is So Full of Bitterness and Hatred.

"Man is, after all, fundamentally one," J. J. Cornelius, Professor of Philosophy at Lucknow University, Lucknow, India, declared in Chapel yesterday morning. "He is differentiated only because of the aspects of the problems that he faces and the methods that he uses in solving them."

Professor Cornelius said that he was not speaking as a propagandist, but as a person interested in better relations among the peoples of the world. "At no time has the world been divided up by bitterness and hatred and suspicion been so general, as it is today," he said.

The Eastern outlook upon life is that to secure freedom man must conquer his passions—desires, sorrows, joys. He must have absolute academic freedom, and the material must offer no handicap to the spiritual. To the man of the East that which is real is the spiritual and not the physical as it is to the Western man. He believes that the thing that gives happiness is not possessions but inward contemplation. To be free he must be removed from physical bonds.
The Western mind has become so stereotyped that it cannot conceive of the unity of life as the Hindu sees it.

Under the caste system as explained by Mr. Cornelius the people are divided into four classes. The Brahmin class is composed of the intellectuals, who are not supposed to hold property, since property is a material thing that binds the development of the spiritual.
Very little attention is given to the warrior class since the people of India do not favor war.

SPRING QUARTER SOCIAL WHIRL IS WELL UNDERWAY

"13" Club Initiated Dancing With Ball at Gym Last Night.

SIGMA CHI'S TONIGHT

Masked Ball In Connection With Dramatic Institute at Inn Tonight.

The social season for the spring quarter on the campus was ushered in with a flying start last night when the "13" Club entertained at its annual ball in Bynum Gymnasium. The dance, following a precedent set by the club's affairs in former years, was a distinct success.

A large crowd of visiting girls graced the ballroom last evening and contributed infinitely to the great success which marked the re-opening of social activities after the strenuous ordeal of examinations. The dance was open to all members of the thirteen fraternities represented in the club (pledges included) and indications were that most of the lodges attended en masse.
The floor, however, was not too crowded and the dance was considered delightful in all respects.
The "13" Club figure was led by Charlie Lipscombe and Anne Elizabeth Houston, assisted by T. V. Moore and Miriam Rankin.

The gym was tastefully decorated in the colors and emblems of the unlucky number club. Streamers of black and gold were draped over the heads of the dancers and pine trees, the symbol of the club, were banked around the walls. The Buccaneers made the music for the dancing which lasted until one A. M. The chaperones for the "13" Club dance were:
Mrs. Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. Woollen, Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell, Dr. and Mrs. Lawson.

The spring social season seems to be substantially under way for tonight the Sigma Chi fraternity will bring to a close the week-end festivities with its long anticipated dance. The girls on the Hill for last night's dance and others who will no doubt arrive today, should compose an incomparable collection of feminine talent and make the affair in the Sigma Chi house tonight a fitting climax to the opening of a season destined to be replete with outstanding social events. Kike Kyser and His Orchestra has been engaged for the evening.

There will be another dance

GLEE CLUB MAKES TWO SHORT TOURS

Sang at Leaksville Last Evening—Go To High Point Friday.

The University Glee Club left Chapel Hill Thursday afternoon for Leaksville, N. C., where they sang under the joint auspices of the Rotary and the Kiwanis Club. Thirty-two men were taken on the trip.

This, the first concert of the spring quarter, will be followed by a trip to High Point next Friday, where the Club will sing at a luncheon meeting of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs. From High Point the Glee Club will go on to Asheville for a concert that has been arranged by the University Alumni Association of that city.

Investigation Group Sustains Gambling Penalties -- Censures Coercive Evidence

Winter Quarter Grades
Will Be Ready March 31

According to a report from the office of Dr. G.K.
G. Henry, assistant registrar of the University, the grades for the winter quarter's work will be given out on next Thursday, March 31.

The unusually long delay in giving them out, it is explained, is caused by many of the professors being tardy in the filing of the records. It is useless to apply for grades before the date announced above.

V. P. I. TRACKMEN HERE NEXT WEEK

Virginians Have Strong Array of Material to Pit Against Tar Heels.

The University of North Carolina cinderpath stars meet their first conference opponent of the 1926 season here next Saturday when the V. P. I. Gobblers invade the State. The meet will mark the first clash with a Southern Conference outfit this year, and followers of the Tar Heels by that meet will get a fair idea of the chances they have of successfully defending their Conference title at Baton Rouge in May.

The Gobblers were met and decisively defeated early last season, but the Virginia Tech coach has built a powerful squad this spring around such stars as Montague and Lund, and they are preparing to give the Southern Champions a battle here next week-end. Montague is a brilliant sprinter and was one of the six men to reach the Conference finals last year in the century and furlong. Lund holds the Conference record in the discus, and is a capable performer in the other weight events.

To meet this combination Coach Bob Fetzer has a squad built around the veterans of last year's title winning Tar Heels. In Captain McPherson he has one of the greatest sprinters in the South, and Elliott ran the fastest mile credited to a college man in the country last year, and is showing even better form this spring.

Playmaker Reading

"The Field God" Will Be Read Tomorrow Evening.

Paul Green will read his play
The Field God at 8:30 o'clock Cunday at the Playmaker Theatre. The Field God is in production now and will be presented sometime during the spring.
This play has been recently published by McBride in a volume with In Abraham's Bosom. Mr.
Green has also contracted for a novel to be brought out sometime this year. It is to be a story of farm life in Eastern North Carolina.

In addition to the reading there will be negro music furnished by two negro quartets, one of women's voices, The Lily Whites, and another of male voices, Silver Cords.

It seems to us that the various factions in China ought to be able to iron out their difficulties.—Life.

Paul Green's play, "In Abraham's Bosom" is not only a leading contender for the Pulitzer prize in this country, but has been accepted for a run in London during the approaching summer.

HARRIERS OPEN SEASON AT DUKE THIS AFTERNOON

Blue Devils Have Strongest Team in Years.

COACH TAKES 34 MEN

Southern Champions Are Strongest in Distance Events.

The Tar Heel cinderpath artists will blow the lid off their 1927 track season this afternoon when they journey over to Durham to meet the Duke Blue Devils. Men from both institutions have been working out daily since February and present indications point to a very close meet.

Carolina and Duke are about the two most evenly matched track teams in the state, and although neither team has as yet faced actual competition, they are pointed for the clash today.
Duke has the strongest squad it has had in the last six years, and the Methodists are eager to upset the team that marched through to a Southern championship last year. Carolina is unusually weak in the field events, whereas this is Duke's strongest department. The margin of victory, on whichever side it may rest, should not be over ten or fifteen points.

PRESIDENT CHASE IS RECUPERATING

Will Probably Be Able to Return To His Executive Duties Soon.

President Chase, who has been ill in the McPherson hospital in Durham for the past few days, has returned to his home on Franklin street, and is rapidly recuperating. He has been suffering with a bad case of throat trouble, but he is now on the road to normal health, and with the coming of warmer weather will resume his responsibilities in his office in the South Building.

The meeting of the University trustee's committee on buildings, which was supposed to have been held last Monday and which was postponed because of the president's inability to attend, has been scheduled for next week. It is not known what steps will be taken by the committee on buildings, but their meeting has been anticipated with a great deal of interest.

SEVEN MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE FILE A MINORITY REPORT

50 Hours Used in Hearing and Weighing of Evidence Bearing on Case.

MASS MEETING TUESDAY

The Committee Recommendations Will Be Given To Student Body Then.

A recommendation that the sentences of all the thirteen men recently suspended by the Student Council for gambling be sustained is contained in the report of the committee of students appointed to investigate the case, following an appeal by the suspended men to the Student Body from the decision of the Council at a mass meeting March 10.

A report filed by the minority in the committee declares that the majority was inconsistent in accepting the sentences imposed by the Council and then voting that the Council was not justified in suspending the first three men for failure to report the other participants. It states that "if the motion passed by the majority condemning the Council and its tactics is correct then the last ten men were unjustly summoned before the Council and unjustly condemned."

The committee reported that it could not sustain the action of the Council in compelling the first three men brought up to bring the other men involved in the case to trial when they had not previously been charged with gambling. However, it stated that it wished to be clearly understood in this opinion, which it feels is not inconsistent with the recommendation that the sentences imposed by the Council be affirmed.

Yesterday afternoon the committee finished its report, which will be presented to the Student Body at a mass meeting in Memorial Hall Tuesday morning. About fifty hours is the length of time that it has spent in reviewing the evidence in the case and formulating the report in the two weeks since C. R. Jonas' motion to create a committee to review the case was passed by the Student Body in the mass meeting last Friday week.
Three representatives appointed by the presidents of the seven classes and graduate schools made up the committee of 21 members.

Appendages to the report gave the reasons why the sentence of one of the men was recommend-

Revised Nomination List for Y Presidency

By reason of errors in the publication of the Y. M.
C. A. Cabinet nominations for President the TAR HEEL is publishing a new and revised list. There have been two withdrawals from the race, and those who are still in the race are listed here in alphabetical order. They are: Galen Elliott, Nash Johnson, and Bobbie Wilkins.
