

CONFERENCE NET TOURNEY OPENS HERE ON FRIDAY

Southern Tennis Championships
To Be Decided Here for Second Time in Three Years.

SLADE IS FAVORITE AGAIN

Floridian Who Won Last Year
Doped to Repeat; Berry Grant of Georgia Tech and Others
Should Press Him.

The Southern Conference tennis tournament will start here tomorrow morning at nine o'clock. While only about seven teams entered in the tournament, the players participating represent some of the best tennis talent in the South. Slade of Florida, who won the tournament last year is one of the most potent players entered, although he will undoubtedly encounter some very serious opposition from the players of Georgia and Georgia Tech.

Berry Grant, the Tech star, is one of the ranking players in the South while either Courts or Boland of Georgia may hit a super streak and upset the dope. In fact, Slade will encounter quite a bit of opposition from his own college, because Florida has other men entered who has been pushing Slade to the limit all year.

Carolina has practically no chance at all to even enter the semi-finals, due to their lack of individual stars, although they present a very puissant team in match play as was evinced on their recent Northern trip when they won all of their matches without serious difficulty. However, any of the first three ranking men might spring a surprise and go far, and Charlie Waddell especially may do well. His experience on the Varsity so far this spring has stood him in good stead, and he has improved greatly in the short time that he has been representing Carolina.

The tournament which was held here two years ago saw some very hectic struggles, when Berry Grant, a Sophomore then, came to the finals after some very hard struggles against the veterans of other colleges only to be defeated in the finals by Murray of Tulane who now is one of the best players in the South. Malon Courts, who used to be one of the leading juniors in this part of the country until he passed above the group due to age, is also capable of good tennis.

IMPEACHMENT OF DAVE CARROLL TAKEN UP BY DI

Charges Preferred by Taylor Bledsoe and Lee Kennett as Result of Recent Article in Tar Heel.

A sensation was provided the campus when the following articles of impeachment were preferred at the meeting of the Di-lectic Senate Tuesday night: "We, the undersigned Senators, wish to prefer charges of impeachment against Senator David D. Carroll on the grounds of extravagant breaches of decorum and a violation of the oath that he took at the time he was initiated into the Senate."

COLBURN HEADS THE RIFLE CLUB

Parker and Wilson Re-elected in Annual Elections.

Officers for the year 1927-28 were elected by the Rifle Club in its meeting in the club room of the Y on Tuesday night.

The officers for the coming year are as follows: president, B. S. Colburn, Jr., Biltmore; vice-president, G. H. Holmes, Tryon; range officer, Martin Kellogg, Jr., Sunbury; secretary, Haywood Parker, Jr.; and treasurer, C. C. Wilson. The last two officers were re-elected in recognition of their service to the club during the present scholastic year.

After the election of officers, the remainder of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of the rifle meet to which the club is sending a team Thursday.

Managership Elections

The elections for sub-assistant managers of all varsity sports except football were held yesterday with the following result:

Basketball: A. T. Allen, E. Burtt Aycock, "Red" Green, Loy D. Thompson, Albert Whisnant, and Clarence Pemberton.

Track: J. J. Alexander, Cheatham Coley, R. C. Merrett, Pat Patterson, Craig Shelton, and Allen C. Boren.

Baseball: George Bradham, Guy Hill, J. L. Harris, Bill Hooks, Richard Winborne, and Walter Laxson.

Wrestling: C. L. Smith and Nat Lufty.

Boxing: John Graham, Bobby Laughlin, R. C. Merritt, Walter Cherry, Ned B. Giles, and Tom Bowie.

TRACK TEAM OFF FOR S. I. C. MEET

Eight Men Make Trip in Attempt to Retain Conference Title in Face of Great Odds.

The Carolina track team is on its way to enter the annual Southern Conference meet at Baton Rouge, La., Friday and Saturday. The Tar Heels will make a bid for their second consecutive Southern Championship although considerably handicapped. The team left here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock and will arrive in Baton Rouge early Friday morning only a few hours before the preliminaries begin.

In dual meets the Carolina cinder path men would undoubtedly defeat every team in the conference, but in this meet they will have to cope with the stars of the other teams. Other serious handicaps are the long distance, the change in climate and the fact that Coach Bob Fetzer was unable to enter but eight of his best men in the meet.

The question is whether Carolina's main strength, which lies in the distance events with Elliott, Pritchett, and Rhinehart, will be seriously affected by the climatic conditions.

The men entering the meet are: Captain Gus McPherson in the 100 and 220-yard dashes; Elliott, 880-yard dash and mile run; Pritchett, two-mile run; Rhinehart, 440 and 880-yard dashes; Pearson, 120 high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles; Giersch, broad jump and 220 low hurdles; Sandlin, 220 low hurdles, the javelin, and the broad jump; and Harper, discus and javelin.

The other schools that will probably enter teams in the meet are: Louisiana State University, Mississippi University, Mississippi A. and M., Tulane, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Sewanee, Clemson, and Alabama.

TAR BABIES LOSE TO STELLAR OAK RIDGE BALL CLUB

Close Game Is Lost 9-6; Captain Maus Got Triple and Two Singles in Three Trips.

Yesterday afternoon on Emerson field the Oak Ridge baseball team hammered the offering of three Tar Baby hurlers to gather in the large end of a 9 to 6 score.

While the cadet moundsman allowed the Tar Heels only six scattered hits the visitors were collecting nine blows off the trio that faced them. However five of these were gained off Bullard in the first three innings. Captain Maus of the Carolinians lead the hitting of the day with two bingles and a triple out of as many trips to the plate. His teammate, Jackson, had three bingles to his credit out of four attempts. Pearce led for the Oak Ridgers with a triple and a single out of four tries. Bunch to Wall and Wright to Wall completed a pair of double plays. White to Durham did the same for the visitors.

The cadets got off to an early lead in the first two frames when they leaned against Bullard for four hits and five runs. This lead was maintained throughout the remainder of the game. The Tar Babies staged somewhat of a rally in the eighth and managed to account for two runs but the Oak Ridge boys added one of their own account in the ninth while White held the Carolinians scoreless.

Score:
Oak Ridge 410 030 001—9
Tar Babies 301 000 020—6

Batteries: Oak Ridge, White and Shaw; Tar Babies, Bullard, Edwards, Stewart and Maus.

Carroll Gives Birth To Another Brain Child---Dynamite Senate

Campus's Four Hundred and Fourth (or Is It Fifth?) Organization to Combine in One Group the Best Features of the Other 403 (404?); Nineteen Men Are Wearing the Pink and Blue of the Dynamite Senate.

(By the Beachcomber)
Today marks an outstanding date in the life of the South's Greatest University. A new organization has been formed and is making its initial bow to the campus. This organization is the Dynamite Senate—an assemblage of earnest future citizens who are seeking better things. It proposes to stand for free speech, free thought, free press, free air and eloquence. As Dave Carroll, founder and Ruling Janus of the Senate remarked to this admiring reporter, "we believe in freedom."

Although the society has been definitely formed only a few days, plans for its formation have been avidly discussed for months. Dave Carroll, who has a perfect gift for realizing the facility of things, long ago discovered that most Carolina organizations were superfluous and damnable. He believed that the situation could be remedied by the establishment of a single organization embodying the best qualities of those already here and carrying out functions in which the others lamentably failed. He broached the matter to a group of friends who received it favorably and advocated action. After consultations with Dr. Bagby, Francis Bradshaw and the Dean of Women they drew up their ultimate plans.

COLLEGIANS TOO LISTLESS, SAYS SOPER IN CHAPEL

Dean of Duke School of Religion Speaks as One of Series on Choosing a Vocation.

"Often the four years of college are looked upon as a happy period between high school and work," Dr. E. D. Soper, Dean of the School of Religion of Duke University, declared in Chapel yesterday morning. "Most college men are happy, as they should be, but what I blame them for is a kind of listlessness that characterizes them. In the midst of all the things that a person like it is possible to take life seriously."

Dr. Soper's subject was "Selecting a Life Work." It was the third of a series of talks on that subject that is being delivered in Chapel this week. The series will be concluded tomorrow with an address by Robert House, Executive Secretary of the University.

There are two questions that every student has to face when he comes face to face with graduation, according to Dr. Soper. They are "What shall I do when I receive my diploma?", and "What shall I do for a life work?" These two questions resolve themselves into one for the man who is going into a profession.

"Most of us arrive at important decisions without realizing it. It is not so much a question of when a man decides, as of how he decides," Dr. Soper said. "In many cases, as of the man who is going into a profession, the question is already decided. But you would be ut-

Mr. Carroll was mainly familiar with the Di Senate and the Golden Fleece, and found fault with the workings of both. The Di wasn't serious enough, while the Fleece wasn't funny enough. Moreover, they didn't have sufficiently definite aims. So he and his cohorts determined that their group should be seriously funny and have aims even more definite than those of the Rife Club. He mentioned to this reporter some sections from their all-embracing platform: shorter hours for professors, the sanctity of the home, non-paddling initiations, more instructive Pickles, the Stars and Stripes forever, fewer speeches on Nicaragua, cerebral supremacy and the protection of the coeds on the campus.

The Dynamite Senate has selected for its colors charming pastel shades of pink and blue. They are supposed to typify the organization's predilection for sweetness and light. There will be no fees, dues or assessments for the unfortunate University authorities to collect. So far the Ruling Janus is the only official selected, but more will soon be chosen; Mr. Carroll thinks it would be nice if every man in the crowd had an office of some sort. The original membership is small. However, worthy men will be noted and taken in at

Carolina-Virginia Ball Teams Clash Friday In Annual Series

Captain Hatley

Second Game of Historic Series
To Be Played Tomorrow Followed by Game in Greensboro Saturday; Carolina Took First Game of This Year's Series.

A diamond rivalry of thirty-five years standing will be revived Friday afternoon when Virginia and Carolina clash on Emerson Field here in the second of the annual three-game series between the two teams. The third game, the annual Greensboro classic, will follow on Saturday in the new Memorial Stadium.

Coach Ashmore's Tar Heels jumped into the lead in the series this year when they defeated the Cavaliers, 10-7, in Charlottesville in a game that went ten innings. That means that they will have to take but one of the two remaining battles to win the series, and with Ellison and Westmoreland both in top shape, Carolina hopes are running high.

"Red" will probably get the call here Friday with "Lefty" to work the Greensboro game. Coach Ashmore has been keeping his men hard at it all week in preparation for the two big battles, and it is likely that the Tar Heel team which takes the field here Friday will show a decided improvement over the team that lost two games to Tech last week.

Meanwhile, the student body is laying big plans for the annual pilgrimage to Greensboro Saturday to attend the big game. Kike Kyser's Cheerios have been called back into service and will be in all their glory, flanked on both sides by delegations of smiling co-eds from N. C. C. W. and Greensboro College, all "hollerin' for ole Car'olina."

Tar Heel cheerleaders have been in Greensboro practically all week teaching the girls the special Carolina yells and songs, and the cheerleaders of the three institutions will all work together Saturday, all with the same purpose "Down with Virginia." In addition the University band will be there in full force to liven up the occasion with its lilting tunes.

The game itself, the oldest sports classic in southern inter-collegiate athletics, has always been marked for its color, but the 1927 clash bids fair to set new marks.

On to Greensboro! Down with Virginia!

YELLOW JOURNAL EXPECTED FRIDAY

Day of Reckoning Approaches For Eds and Co-eds Who Have Strayed from the Narrow Path. Saffron Sheet Due to Wreck Reputations. Culprits Agog.

DAVIDSON WINS IN FRESHMAN DEBATE

Blankenship and Cohen Lose on Question of War Debts.

Davidson won a 3 to 0 over Carolina in Gerrard Hall Tuesday night in the annual freshman inter-collegiate debate. The query, "Resolved: That the United States should cancel all inter-allied war debts," was upheld by M. J. Blankenship and J. J. Cohen of Carolina on the affirmative, and R. M. Christian and A. T. Edelman from Davidson on the negative.

There is a rumor prevalent on the campus that tomorrow will see the advent of the long-looked-for Yellow Journal, that "independent journal of expression and criticism published annually by the Odd Number Chapter of Sigma Upsilon.

Each year the Journal makes its appearance at one of the big baseball games toward the end of the spring quarter, being sold by the initiates of Sigma Upsilon, and this year may prove no exception. As usual, it will probably contain the names of prominent men about the camp-
