

Graduate Students May Have Private Dormitory Next Year

Plans Meet with Approval of Graduate Dean and Business Manager.

PROBABLY BE OLD SMITH

Advanced Students Want More Quiet and More Fellowship; Entire Graduate Club Behind Proposition.

The graduate students at the University are to have a dormitory reserved for their use, if present plans are carried to completion. For some time the graduate students of the University of North Carolina have felt the need of a special dormitory for occupancy by advanced students. The lack of fellowship among graduate students, the absence of convenient rooming facilities for graduates who wish to live together, and the great need for quiet on account of the intensive nature of their studies—these are only a few of the obvious reasons why a special building should be provided for the advanced students.

Early in September the executive committee of the Graduate Club of the University took cognizance of present inadequacy, and saw fit to inquire into the possibilities of securing special rooming quarters for the members. Investigation confirmed a very positive student sentiment in favor of such a proposal. Further inquiry revealed that the Dean of the Graduate School and the Business Manager of the University were not indifferent to the proposal.

Recently a committee of students has been appointed to consider further the original suggestion and formulate a plan for the details of arrangement for the new plant. It is hoped that the University will ultimately construct an up-to-date dormitory with adequate study rooms and bed rooms with special lounging or reading rooms on the first floor. It is also hoped that the building will be located so as to insure the maximum quiet and the minimum noise from external disturbances. In the event that the University builds no new dormitory for a while, it is expected that a temporary plan will reserve one of the present buildings (probably Old Smith which will be re-worked immediately) to supply the need.

Ready by September

The Graduate Club held its last regular meeting of the year Thursday night at which time the committee on the dormitory proposal reported that no less than fifty single men students had expressed a desire to live in the building, that a number of single instructors had also requested residence privileges, and that other students had not been given an opportunity to express their desires.

Mr. C. T. Woolen, Business Manager of the University, was present at the meeting, and he assured the Club that the administration would try to carry out the wishes of the students in regard to the proposal.

The Graduate Club feels that the separate dormitory is now practically assured and should be ready for occupancy by September. When the new residence is made ready, the University Graduate School will be provided with an asset that only a few of the larger Eastern Universities now have.

Senior Week Outfits

The Senior outfits this year will be somewhat different from those which the Seniors of past years have chosen to wear during senior week. Those in charge have worked out a plan with Jack Lipman of the University Shop by which he is to furnish the senior class with outfits which consist of a cane, a soft, white Panama hat, and a hat-band of the class colors. This plan does away with the wing collar and the tie of class colors, but it is thought that the hat and hat-band will be a more lasting semblance of college days for use in future class meetings and reunions. The hat will be very durable, and can be rolled up and packed away for future use. The cane will be the only article which will lend dignity to the make-up.

Jack Lipman of the University Shop requests that all those Seniors who have not already done so call by the Shop as soon as possible and sign up for their outfits as only a limited number are to be ordered. The cost of the entire outfit will be only two dollars and fifty cents.

SCHOLARSHIP TO RECEIVE REWARD

All Plans Made for Phi Beta Kappa Initiation Tuesday Night.

Eyes of the campus are now turned to one of the most important events of the year, the Phi Beta Kappa initiation which, as previously announced, will be held in Gerrard Hall Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

This year's crop of shining lights is one of the largest in the history of the University. About thirty-three students are eligible to be taken into this organization, and some unusually good scholastic records have been made. Two men have made all A's and several have maintained an average of over ninety-five.

Dr. W. W. Pierson, of the History Department, will be the speaker for the occasion, and his subject will be "Opportunity for the Advancement of Scholarship in the South." After this address the neophytes will be "put through."

This initiation will mark the one hundred and fifty-first anniversary of Phi Beta Kappa, and the twenty-third anniversary of the Carolina chapter. Since its foundation in 1776 at William and Mary college, the fraternity has grown and progressed until now it boasts of some of the nation's most eminent men as members.

WHITMAN PRAISES LAW PROFESSION

President American Bar Association Speaks to Law School.

"The Law Schools of this country today are particularly fitting men to become statesmen and legislators," declared Hon. Charles S. Whitman, twice governor of New York and now president of the American Bar Association, speaking to students of the Law School Monday morning in the Law Building. "In the same manner that West Point trains soldiers, Annapolis trains sailors, the law schools are turning out national and local leaders."

The law profession is one that rewards only the most diligent with success. Steady consistent work is one of the requisites. This work is not a drudgery—the contrary, there is no more inspiring, absorbing, or dramatic scene than that presented by the court room. Success requires work, but, "I have found no substitute for work," states Mr. Whitman.

"Law is not a business, it is a profession," stated Mr. Whitman. "The main incentive that a lawyer should have is to see that the laws are enforced. When those laws become oppressive to the progress of society as a whole, the lawyer has always been ready to life his voice against the errors of the government."

According to Mr. Whitman, there is no profession that has given more to our nation than that of law, and with the exception of the ministry, there is not a nobler one.

In closing he stated that during his time he has had several titles, but of them all, there is none finer than "Attorney and Counselor at Law."

The women's missionary society of the Christian church will hold a cake sale tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 o'clock in the Peoples Bank building.

DANCES CONTINUE NEXT WEEK-END

Grail Dance and Three Fraternity Affairs Complete the Spring Program.

The impending cloud of final exams, each day growing more threatening and imminent, fails to place a blanket of gloom upon Ye Olde University campus. In fact, the black fog is far from effective, for four dances are scheduled for next week-end, almost on the eve of the dreaded quizzes.

The feature of these dances will be the Grail dance in Bynum gymnasium, Saturday evening, May the twenty-first. Since this hop is to be the last affair given by the order this season, every effort is being made to make the fairs the best yet. The dance committee of the Grail is planning elaborate decorations and novel entertainment during intermission, and the Buccaneers have been engaged to furnish the music.

The week-end's social curtain will be raised Friday night spontaneously in Durham and Chapel Hill. The Duke and Carolina chapters of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity will be hosts at a ball at the Washington Duke Hotel, with "Jelly" Leftwich and his orchestra furnishing the music; and at the same time, the Senior Ball will be given on the Hill in Bynum gymnasium. Decorations are being planned for the latter affair, and refreshments will be served. Kike Kyser and his Orchestra will keep things going from nine-thirty till one. During the course of the week, invitations for the Chapel Hill dance will be sent to every senior, and all are expected to attend.

On Saturday evening and coming simultaneously with the Grail dance, there will be a ball given by the Alpha Kappa Psi, a commerce fraternity, at the Carolina Inn from nine until twelve. Kike Kyser and his Orchestra will make their second appearance of the week at this hop, and all indications are for a most enjoyable affair.

PALMETTO CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Tuesday night, the South Carolina Club elected its officers for the next year. W. H. Johnson, of Ware Shoals, S. C., will hold the presidency; R. B. Davidson, Gaffey, S. C., is the vice-president-elect; Eugene McNulty, Columbia, and William Hight, Florence, were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively.

At the meeting a committee was elected to interest the South Carolina boys in the club work. Plans were also discussed in regard to bringing about a closer friendship among the boys of the "Palmetto State," and to enlarge the membership of the club next year.

After the meeting a smoker and social hour was enjoyed by the club members. The date for the next meeting was set for the third Tuesday after the opening of the term next fall.

AND BEAUTY CONTEST, TOO

The first annual Durham Exposition will be formally opened next Monday evening in the Liberty warehouse. After the band concert. W. L. Brinkley, president of the Durham Merchants' Association, will explain the purpose of the enterprise, and then there will be a speech from O. Max Gardner of Shelby, whom many people expect to be the next Governor of this state.

F. Clyde Tuttle and his associates in the management of the exposition say they expect 10,000 people at the opening. A welcome will be extended to Durhamites and visitors by officials of the city; and the mayors of nearby towns are expected to be on hand, each with a representative in the beauty contest.

After Mr. Gardner's speech there will be a performance by the famous Capital Saxophone Trio, and the musicians will give way to the first beauty parade and fashion show. Tilley's stores will present the first fashion display.

A daring and startling knife-throwing exhibition is scheduled for 9:50 P. M., and then Miss Hattie Delman, the soprano, will sing. A rube comedy skit and a dancing sextette will close the vaudeville entertainment. The general dancing is scheduled to begin at 11 o'clock, with Jelly Leftwich and his Duke student orchestra providing the music. A fine dance floor has been prepared.

Exhibits will fill every available corner of the big warehouse and give the visitors some comprehension of Durham's manufactured products and merchandise.

Women from many towns roundabout are entered in the beauty contest. One of them will be crowned Friday evening of next week as the Queen of the Exposition, and the next night a grand ball will be given in her honor.

County Club Honors Graduating Members

Burke Students Give Smoker; Elect Officers for Next Year.

The annual election of officers and smoker in honor of the graduating members of the Burke County Club was held in the club rooms of the Y on Wednesday night.

The following officers were elected to serve next year: Ed Butler, president; Ralph Garrison, vice-president; and George Goode, secretary and treasurer.

At the meeting an announcement was made that the Kiwanis Club of Morganton has invited the members of the Burke County Club to be their guests at a banquet to be given on Friday night after the close of school. The Kiwanis Club is giving this banquet in recognition of the good work done by the Burke County boys at Carolina this year.

Among the plans discussed for next year, the club considered the question of bringing new boys to Carolina. All during this summer the members are planning to carry on a program of interesting high school graduates in coming here next fall.

AMATEUR FIREMEN RESCUE VENABLE

Young Conflagration Extinguished Without Great Loss of Life or Property.

Much smoke and very little blaze characterized the fire scare in Venable Hall Tuesday night. Someone carelessly dropped a lighted cigarette in a basket of waste paper in one of the washrooms, the paper caught on fire, and dense clouds of white smoke filled the room.

Dusty fire extinguishers were ruthlessly torn from their places on the walls by the volunteer fire fighters to be employed in case of necessity against the conflagration. The fire was somewhat difficult to locate and was a great disappointment to those who wanted to see a big fire.

The local fire department was completely snooted. They were not even made aware of the existence of the fire. The reason for this seeming slight was that immediate action was required in small amounts.

"HONORS GROUP" TO BE CHOSEN

Applications for Group of Ten Exceptional Men Will Close Today.

Dean Hibbard has requested that all rising Juniors and Seniors who have a scholastic average of B, and who are interested in carrying on their work on the honor group basis, make application through his office before the end of today. This "honors group," as it is called, will consist of ten exceptional men selected from the rising Junior and Senior classes. These men will be chosen on a basis of scholastic record and on strength of character as manifested through such qualities as initiative, intellectual honesty, and faithfulness to duties. The Administrative Board of the College shall receive the applications and pass upon them.

The student who takes advantage of this plan shall not be required to attend class regularly or take examinations with the other members of the class. At the end of the two-year course the student will be given a thorough examination covering his particular field of study. The plan calls for two year's residence so that the student may have leisure to read broadly and to study and digest the learning within the range of his special interests.

Miss Pauline Troutman of Troutman, N. C. is spending the week-end with her sister, Miss Kathryn Troutman.
