

The Tar Heel

GLEE CLUB CONCERT
Saturday Night
Memorial Hall, 8:30 o'clock

Conference on Elementary Education
Today and Tomorrow

VOLUME XXXV

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., THURSDAY, JULY 14, 1927

Summer School Edition No. 6

MISS REUSCHEL DEMONSTRATES NEW DANCE ART

Dalcroze Eurythmics Interpreted by Pupil in Memorial Hall at 8:30 o'clock Tonight

A demonstration of Dalcroze Eurythmics,—bodily interpretation of music—will be given by Miss Nelly Reuschel and her pupil Miss Mercedes Krug tonight at 8:30 in Memorial Hall.

This is the first opportunity North Carolina has had to see the possibilities of Eurythmic work. Miss Reuschel is teacher of Dalcroze Eurythmics at the New York Institute of Musical Art, and ranks with the highest in the profession. Miss Krug has been her pupil for the last three years.

Paul J. Weaver makes the following statement about the demonstration and description of Eurythmic dancing:

"The demonstration will be divided into two parts: in the first part Miss Reuschel will take Miss Krug through the various phases of the rhythmic exercises, using the type of bodily response which corresponds to various rhythmic and dynamic effects as they are found in music. The second part of the demonstration takes the form of interpretive dancing. Four modern compositions will be played by Miss Reuschel and danced by Miss Krug.

"Dalcroze Eurythmics is a bodily interpretation of music. Every type of rhythm is expressed by certain motions of the body there being a definite movement for each phase of the rhythmic idea. Musical dynamics, such as loudness and softness, and accent, are also paralleled by definite physical reactions. In addition to this, the expressive element in the music regulates the

KRINGSBERG, THE MAGICIAN, HERE

5th of Summer Attractions Series, a Magic Show, Given; Pleases Audience

(By Reviewer)

In a program of hand tricks and expositions of seance secrets the Kringsberg Company entertained the fifth audience of the summer attraction series, Monday night.

Mr. Kringsberg in the first part of his show performed the gay tricks of the comedian-magician, which never grow old to the youngsters. But young and old clapped with glee to see the goose and pigeons fly from the man's hat. It is said by psychological observers that people or animals are inclined to be amused at their fellow unfortunates. Then taking as evidence the delight manifested by the audience when they saw the misfortune of the poor goose cramped in the man's hat, there must have been many geese and ganders entertained by the mystery show.

In exposing the appearance of mystery in the work of the wooden hand and the seance secrets Mr. Kringsberg was very adept and appreciative of the popular beliefs existing along that line. Miss Esmeralda Martin, "The Girl with the Radio Mind," gave the most interesting feature of the entertainment with her keen sense of predilection and accurate perception.

Above is the group composing the Glee Club of the University of North Carolina that will leave next Wednesday for a tour of Europe under the auspices of Honorable A. M. Houghton, United States Ambassador to Great Britain. The Carolina Glee Club under the direction and leadership of Paul John Weaver has established for itself a reputation of international, as well as national, note. It has won for itself praise for its work in reviving interest in negro spirituals and folk songs.

REGISTRATION FOR SECOND TERM TO START SATURDAY

New Students Will Register Next Thursday; 1684 Attendance This Term; Instructions Given

Registration for the second term of the University summer school for the first term students who remain for the second half will begin Saturday and continue through Wednesday of next week, the bulletin of the second term announces. All new students for the second term will register on Thursday, July 21. Instruction will begin in all departments on Friday.

Registration of students who remain for the second term is as follows:

Those whose surnames begin with any letter from A to E inclusive will register on Saturday, July 16.

Those whose surnames begin with any letter from F to L inclusive will register on Monday, July 18.

Those whose surnames begin with any letter from M to R inclusive will register on Tuesday, July 19.

Those whose surnames begin with any letter from S to Z inclusive will register on Wednesday, July 20.

As was the case at the beginning of this term, those who are late will be penalized by an extra fee. The last day for registration for credit is Tuesday, July 26.

Special attention is called to the fact that students for the term will register in room 3, Peabody building, from 9 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. and from 2:30 to 5:00 p. m. on the days stated above.

The total registration for the first term of the summer school this year is 1,684 students. There are 674 men and 1010 women in attendance. This does not include the summer students of the law school and the school of engineering.

Dr. N. W. Walker, director of the summer school, predicted yesterday that the registration for the second term will go well beyond a thousand or more students.

B. Y. P. U. Will Present Pageant, "Others" Sunday

A pageant, "Others," will be presented by the B. Y. P. U. Sunday evening at seven o'clock at the Baptist church. The pageant gives the story of a young medical graduate who must make a choice between wealth and service to humanity, the scene being laid both in America and China.

First Session of Conference on Elementary Education Tonight

The third annual Conference on Elementary Education to be held at the University of North Carolina opens here this evening at 8:00 o'clock. The meetings of the conference will be held in Gerrard Hall. Many of the delegates arrived yesterday and the number is being swelled every hour this morning. Advance reservation point to a record breaking attendance.

The first session will be held tonight. Sessions will be held throughout the day Friday and the Conference will close Friday night with a dinner at the Carolina Inn, followed by addresses by A. T. Allen, State Superintendent of Public Instruction on the Educational Program for North Carolina during 1927-1928; by Jule B. Warren, Secretary Treasurer of the North Carolina Educational Association, on the General Assembly of 1927 and Public Education in North Carolina, and by Dr. F. W. Morrison, of North Carolina College for Women, on "The Tax Burden and Indebtedness for Education."

The Conference is being held under the joint auspices of the State Department of Education and the University Summer School. Arrangements are in the hands of Dr. M. C. S. Noble, Jr., Executive Secretary. Superintendent Allen will preside.

The ladies and married couples are being accommodated in Dormitory G. The men in attendance are staying at the local hotels.

All sessions will be devoted to the presentation of experimental data concerning the public elementary schools in North Carolina. Dr. Paul W. Terry, professor of education in the University, will preside at the Thursday night meeting, which will aim to demonstrate techniques which lead to the improvement of instruction in the elementary schools. The subject

(Continued on page four)

WEEKLY BULLETIN

THURSDAY, JULY 14 — SATURDAY, JULY 23

THURSDAY, JULY 14th —

Third annual conference on Elementary Education under the auspices of the State Department of Education and the University of North Carolina Summer School; Gerrard Hall, 8:00 P. M.

Miss Jane Fox, physical education instructor, will give a demonstration in physical education at the gymnasium between 5 and 6 o'clock. Demonstration Dalcroze Eurythmics by Miss Mercedes Krug of New York City, in Memorial Hall, 8:30 P. M. Art Exhibit, Phillips Hall, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

FRIDAY, JULY 15th —

Conference on Elementary Education continued. Second session, Gerrard Hall, 10:00 A. M. Third session, Gerrard Hall, 2:30 P. M. Conference Supper, Carolina Inn, 7:00 P. M. Admission $1. Fourth session, Gerrard Hall, 8:30 p. m. Art Exhibit, Phillips Hall, 8:00 a. m. to 5 p. m.

SATURDAY, JULY 16th —

Concert by University Glee Club, Memorial Hall, 8:30 p. m. Single admission, $1.00; holders of season tickets admitted without further charge.

Demonstration of Dalcroze Eurythmics (with class of children) by Miss Mercedes Krug of New York, in Memorial Hall, 2:30 p. m.

First term students remaining for second term whose surnames begin with any letter from A to E inclusive will register today, in Peabody 3.

MONDAY, JULY 18th —

Institute for Public Welfare begins and will last through July 23rd.

First term students remaining for second term whose surnames begin with any letter from F to L will register today, in Peabody 3.

Class work for First Term ends at 6:00 P. M. today.

TUESDAY, JULY 19th —

Final examinations for First Term begins. First Term students remaining for Second Term whose surnames begin with any letter from M to R inclusive, register today in Peabody 3.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 20th —

Final examinations for First Term completed today. First Term Summer School closes today. First Term students remaining for Second Term whose surnames begin with any letter from S to Z will register today in Peabody 3.

THURSDAY, JULY 21st —

Registration for new students for the Second Term register today in Peabody 3.

FRIDAY, JULY 22nd —

Class instruction for the Second Term in all departments begins at 8:00 a. m.

SATURDAY, JULY 23rd —

Regular classes in all departments.

GLEE CLUB WILL GIVE A CONCERT HERE SATURDAY

Last of This Term's Summer Attractions — Group Leaves For European Tour Next Wednesday

The University of North Carolina Glee Club under the direction of Paul John Weaver, will sing in concert in Memorial Hall Saturday night at 8:30 o'clock. This will be the last of the summer attractions series of this term and the final appearance of the club in Chapel Hill before its departure for Europe.

The program for the send-off concert will include old sacred songs from the 13th to 16th centuries, British folk songs, Finnish student songs, American negro spirituals and Russian songs for the closing group. In the last group, the Volga Boatman, sung in Russian and the Russian church Liturgy were both arranged by Mr. Weaver. The negro songs, an appraised feature of the Club's work, also, were arranged by the director for different choral parts.

Following its appearance in Chapel Hill the group will give a concert at State College, Monday and another in Greensboro, Tuesday. Before sailing on the way to London and Paris the Club will broadcast over WEAF in New York Wednesday from 8:00 to 8:30 o'clock, New York time, corresponding to 7:00-7:30 here.

Law School Will Have Good Faculty For Second Term

George W. Connor, Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, Joseph W. Madden, of the University of Pittsburgh Law School, and Leon Green, of the Yale Law School, have been added to the faculty of the University of North Carolina Law School for the second term of the first summer session in which courses are given for credit toward the law degree, Acting Dean A. C. McIntosh announced here today.

The second term extends from July 21 to August 26. The subjects offered are real property, mortgages, torts, code pleading and practice, and trusts. Justice Connor will give the subject of mortgages.

Professor Madden, who was formerly Dean of the School of Law in the University of West Virginia, will teach trusts.

Professor Green will continue teaching torts, which he taught during the first term. He is now

(Continued on page four)

PUBLIC WELFARE INSTITUTE TO BE HELD NEXT WEEK

Prominent Social Workers to Gather Here From Monday to Friday; Complete Program Given

The eighth annual Public Welfare Institute to be held here July 18-22 under the joint direction of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and the School of Public Welfare of the University of North Carolina, will bring to Chapel Hill a large group of active social workers, including the county superintendents of public welfare, representatives from state and private institutions, teachers, ministers, probation officers, juvenile court workers, and representatives from various private organizations, such as the Travelers Aid, Associated Charities, and Community Chests, according to announcement made today.

The idea first became a reality in 1919 when Dr. Howard W. Odum, head of the School of Public Welfare, Roland F. Beasley, then Commissioner of Public Welfare and Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, of his staff, promoted a six-weeks training course for social workers, which was climaxed by a two-weeks intensified course.

The idea merged into a two-weeks Institute of class-room work. Last summer, since the group had gone beyond the regular class-room scheme, the Institute became a one-week affair with lectures as the basis of training. The Institute was followed by a reading course which lasted throughout the year, based upon an outline amplifying the subjects discussed during the Institute.

In 1924 the registration totaled 54, in 1925 the total was 80, and in 1926 the number was 116. This summer a still larger

(Continued on page four)

TRY-OUTS TODAY FOR PLAYMAKERS

Two Plays Which Were Read Tuesday Night Be Produced in August

The summer reading of Carolina folk plays was given in the Playmaker Theatre Tuesday night with Bill Cox reading his own play "The Scuffletown Outlaws," and Shepherd Strudwick reading Wilbur Stout's "In Dixon's Kitchen."

Despite the heat a sizeable audience greeted the readers.

These two plays are to be produced by the summer classes in play production on August 18. Prof. Hubert Heffner, who is directing the Playmaker summer activities, has announced that the tryouts for parts in these two plays will be held tonight and Friday night.

Those interested in trying out for these plays are urged to get them from the library where they have been put on reserve and spend some time in studying the part they intend trying for. The casts will be selected purely on a competitive basis, the casting committee being responsible to select from the available material those best fitted for the different parts.

Participation in this production carries with it all the rights and privileges of membership in the Carolina Playmakers.