INSTITUTE TREATS PSYCHOLOGY OF CHILDREN TODAY

Public Welfare Gathering Which Began Monday Will End Tomorrow; Many Interesting
Speakers on Program

(By Lucy Lay)

The five-day Public Welfare Institute being held here at the University, by the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and the University School of Public Welfare will come to a close Friday night with a burlesque dinner in the Carolina Inn. Thursday will be devoted to child psychology with addresses by Dr. George Preston of the Childrens Memorial Clinic of Richmond during the morning and afternoon, and in the evening the annual meeting of the North Carolina Association of the County Superintendents of Public Welfare. Friday, Edwin Bridges, Pardon Commissioner, and W. S. Rankin, of the Duke Endowment, are the headliners for the day's program.

Well over 100 social workers, a large majority of them county superintendents of public welfare have been in attendance upon the Institute since it began Monday, July 19, when Dr. R. D. W. Connor of the University faculty spoke on "The History of North Carolina as a background for Social Work," deploring our inferiority complex which has made North Carolina satisfied with trifles. "We are the braggingest folks on earth," he stated, "and yet we brag of small things and seem afraid to undertake the large things. We are especially provincial about social affairs, but the critical attitude, which the state is assuming, will usher in a new era," he concluded.

"The greatest rediscovery which modern social workers need to make is the actuality of the spiritual world and the vital necessity of integrating our lives to it," said Dr. Hornell Hart of Bryn Mawr College, who spoke

WILLIAMS WON'T WED; ADOPTS HER

Letter Reports Philosophy Professor Adopts Miss Bonner
In London

Contrary to persistent reports circulated two weeks ago, Professor Horace H. Williams will not marry Miss Miriam Bonner, but has adopted her. A letter received here several days ago discredits the reports of his approaching marriage and gives the news of the adoption.

The letter, from London, states that Dr. Williams has adopted Miss Bonner. Dr. Harry W. Chase, President of the University, who is spending the summer abroad, and Dr. J. M. Bell, of the University chemistry department, who is doing research work in England, were witnesses at the procedure.

Miss Bonner, who is originally of California, was formerly assistant professor of English at North Carolina College in Greensboro, and spent some time in Chapel Hill before going to England. It was here that Dr. Williams met her.

Dr. Williams and Miss Bonner plan to leave London September 6, and will arrive in Chapel Hill before the opening of the University in the fall.

PERFORM HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Above is the Elena de Sayn Quartet who will give the first entertainment of the second term summer attractions series in Memorial Hall, next Wednesday evening.

SEASON TICKETS FOR ATTRACTIONS MAY BE HAD NOW

Program of Attractions for This Term Includes Four Entertainments — Tickets Are Priced at $1.50

The varied yet balanced program of instruction, entertainment, and social activities that was carried out during the first term of Summer School will be continued through the second term.

The program of entertainment, or the "attractions" as they are more commonly called, is made up of four numbers. Again there will be a season ticket allowing general admission to all the attractions for the second term. The price of this ticket is $1.50, which will afford holders a saving of $2.50 above the total price of single admission tickets for the four numbers.

On Wednesday of next week, July 27, the program will be opened by the De Sayn String Quartet, of Washington, D. C. The group that will play this concert is trained by Miss Elena de Sayn, a Russian violinist who is now living in Washington. Miss de Sayn has given a number of concerts in the South and has established a high reputation for herself and for the artists who play with her.

The next number on the program will come on the evening of August 4 when Karl Jansen, the well known Swedish lecturer and popular entertainer, will give his lecture on "The Land of the Midnight Sun."

Mr. Jansen has appeared before the Summer School here a number of times and has always delighted the audiences that have greeted him.

WARREN AND MAYLE TO FIGHT TOMORROW NIGHT

Addison K. O. Warren and Chief Mayle of Fort Bragg will meet in a return battle of four rounds at Fort Bragg tomorrow night. The Carolina fighter and Mayle fought in Durham, July 4, with Warren winning a newspaper decision over the Indian.

What the outcome of the bout tomorrow night will be, is uncertain. Warren declares that he is confident that he can knock the soldier out. The fight at Durham between the two was slow and full of clinches. Chief Mayle represented the American expeditionary forces at the Olympic meet in Paris in 1924. K. O. Warren is amateur heavyweight champion of the United States.

CAROLINA GLEE CLUB DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

A Farewell Concert By Choral
Group Well Received; Negro
Spirituals Feature

Giving its last concert here before leaving for Europe, the University of North Carolina glee club lived up to its reputation in presenting its program Saturday evening in Memorial Hall. The concert was the last of the summer attractions for the first term and the building was filled with an enthusiastic audience which brought the singers back time and again with their rounds of applause.

The program consisted of old sacred songs, British folk songs, Finnish student songs, love waltzes, American Negro and Russian songs, with the Negro spirituals the feature of the program.

The Negro songs, "Toll de Bell, Angel," "Joe Jacobs," "Little David, Play on Your Harp," and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" were arranged by Prof. Paul John Weaver, Director of the club.

Nelson O. Kennedy, instructor in the University music department, was at the piano.

The sacred songs included "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Beautiful Savior" and "Ave Maria." "The Hundred Pipers," "Lament for Owen Roe O'Neill" and "The Next Market Day" were the British folk songs rendered. "The Next Market Day" and "Song of the Volga Boatmen" from the Russian selections were also arranged by Professor Weaver.

Two Finnish student songs, "Finnish Lullaby" and "I'm Coming Home" were presented, and the remainder of the program consisted of five love waltzes sung without pause, and the Russian songs, "Fireflies," "Lord, Our God, Have Mercy," and "At Father's Door."

Tennis Tourney Closes

The official tennis tournament of the University summer school came to a close Friday when J. K. Mooney and E. C. Jernigan won the doubles championship, and Hap Whitaker won the men's singles and Miss Fenley took the women's singles.

Further information concerning the tournament and its results was unobtainable, due to some vandal removing the bulletin board and all its posted wares from the doorway of the Y. M. C. A. Sunday. Mr. Comer cannot account for the queer disappearance of the board. No clue has been found to discover the perpetrator of the act.

Party Returns From Second Geological Field Trip Monday

Dr. William F. Prouty, Professor of Geology in the University of North Carolina, and his party of nine University students returned Monday from a month's geological field tour of North Carolina and Tennessee. The tour was the second of its kind given by the University in recent years, and was under the direction of Dr. Prouty, assisted by Dr. G. R. McCarthy, assistant professor of Geology in the University.

The party left Chapel Hill by automobile June 10 and spent more than a month coming into actual contact with and studying at first hand the granite and clay deposits and the various rock strata they had been reading about during the year.

The boys returned browned and hardened from the outdoor life and mountain climbing, and with tales of a trip filled with instruction as well as pleasure. The members of the party were:

Dr. William F. Prouty, Dr. Gerald R. McCarthy, both of the University faculty; Carl Brown and Tom Kesler of Salisbury, J. L. Burd of Darlington, S. C., H. C. Lay of Beaufort, H. R. Johnson of Asheville, W. Y. Pittman of Magnolia, Ark., P. D. Rudd of Minton, C. C. Stokes of Grifton, and C. L. Wyrick of Greensboro.

High School Students Crooked, Says Comer In Coleraine Speech

High school students of today have no clear-cut conception of the difference between right and wrong, Harry F. Comer, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., told Bertie County Kiwanians at Coleraine last Saturday in an address to that organization.

Mr. Comer based his statement on tests showing that 64.4% of the present high school population react to life in a lesser or greater degree of dishonesty, and regarded this lack in character stamina and a tendency to follow the line of least resistance and current popularity as the two biggest obstacles confronting the building of American civilization.

Mr. Comer's address centered around the Kiwanis slogan "We Build," and dwelled particularly on the loose tendencies in character strength evidenced among today's high school pupils.

Another indication of a weakening character pointed out by Mr. Comer is the mania for "passing the buck" and the love of ease and idleness, together with a shifting to the line of least resistance. The slogan the pupils of today are acquiring, he said, is "Learn to get by with it."

Ex-Editor on the Wing

Post cards from J. T. Madry, editor of the TAR HEEL during the past year, state that he is having a great time on his trip through New York, New England, and Southeastern Canada. Mr. Madry intends to attend the second term of the summer school.

Classes for the second term begin tomorrow morning. This session will have two Saturdays with classes, July 21 and 28. The hourly period remains the same during the coming term except that the chapel period between 11 and 11:30 a. m. is eliminated.

With no official estimate as yet obtainable, the number attending the second term of the summer school will probably reach well over one thousand. Last year 822 students were here for the second part of the summer work. Dean Walker, director of summer school, has predicted that registration will exceed a thousand this time.

The three dormitories making up the triangle will not be in use the second term. It has been announced that Mrs. Harvey Boney, chaperon of Old East will serve as head chaperon in Mrs. Stacy's place in the second term.

The full list of chaperons and their respective buildings are as follows:

Mrs. Harvey Boney, Old East; Mrs. W. A. Wiley and Miss Allie Cothran, Old West building; Mrs. A. R. Wilson, Carr building; Mrs. R. E. Moseley and Mrs. E. F. McKinney, Steele building; Mrs. J. T. Hatcher and Mrs. D. P. Whitley, Grimes building; Miss Hester Struthers and Mrs. N. G. Penney, Ruffin building; Mrs. I. F. Lee, Woman's building.

Y. M. C. A. ON JOB FOR THIS TERM

Dances, Vespers and Other Activities Continue During Second Session

Through the second session of summer school the religious and recreational programs of the Y. M. C. A. will continue practically as they have been during the first session. All the activities conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. will provide the same for the students of the second half that those of the first half enjoyed.

The vesper services are still scheduled at 7:00 o'clock each evening except Saturday and Sunday. Formerly these services just after the evening meal have been a greater success during the second session.

Gerrard Hall aided by the services of many large windows and numerous electric fans awaits the weekly Friday evening address. These speeches are educational as well as entertaining.

The Wednesday evening play of this session will be more correctly the daily play of next session, for Prof. H. D. Meyer, director of the special School of Recreation and Physical Education, will provide for the program of games on other evenings.

Also the dance program will continue unchanged. There will be a short dance every Tuesday and Thursday, a long dance every Saturday and each Friday evening before the classless Saturdays. The orchestra has been enlarged to nine pieces. Thus "Ham Whitaker and His Eight Bacons" will make the "peppy" dances "peppier."
