STADIUM WILL BE READY FAR AHEAD OF SCHEDULE TIME

Only Few More Seats Are to be Poured. Grass Planted in Arena.

Barring any accidents, the contractors expect that the pouring of concrete for the seat stands of the Kenan Memorial stadium will be complete by Saturday night. Only four more sections of seat stands remain to be poured.

This means that the stadium will be completed a good while ahead of the schedule. Last week the playing field was harrowed, the soil prepared and grass was sown. Two tons of vigoro, an extra-efficient fertilizer, were spread over the ground. Only the central part of the arena is now planted, but the space around the ends and sides will soon be ready for the same treatment. The grass will probably be sprouting within the next ten days.

The exact date on which the first football game will be played in the stadium and the structure dedicated has not been determined.

Work on the dressing and storage house at the south end of the stadium is now progressing rapidly. It is expected that this will be completed by the first week in September.

The news that the stadium nears completion having spread abroad, University alumni and other visitors are coming every day to see it, some of them from great distances. One feature that attracts much attention is the Governor's Box at the top of the center of the completed east stand. Directly across from this, at the corresponding position on the west stand, will be the Press Box.

Walker and Griffin Leave for Educational Meeting in Canada

Dean N. W. Walker, Director of Summer School, and Professor I. C. Griffin, Director of the Normal Division, left for New York yesterday afternoon. From New York they go to Toronto, by way of Boston, to attend the World Conference on Education, which convenes August 7 to 12. The return trip will be made by Montreal.

The World Conference on Education is held biennially. It is a federation of all the educational associations of the world. Every educational association in existence will be represented at the conference. Many thousands are expected to attend. England alone will be represented by over 400 delegates.

Dean Walker and Professor Griffin expect to be away for about 12 days.

Kiwanis Clubs of Sanford and Durham Meet Here.

The Durham Kiwanis club and the Sanford Kiwanis club will hold a joint meeting at the Carolina Inn this evening at 7 o'clock. A joint program has been arranged by the two clubs.

The purpose of this joint meeting is to promote better relations and understanding between Sanford and Durham.

Misses Emma and Ruth Dobbins of Mount Airy visited friends here during the past week-end.

STAFF OF U. N. C. COACHING SCHOOL HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Coaches Fetzner, Ashmore, Belding, Quinlan, Ellinwood and Jernigan to Give Instruction.

Announcement was made today of the members of the staff of instruction of the University of North Carolina's annual coaching school for high school athletic directors, which will extend from August 22 through September 3.

Courses will be offered at the coaching school both in the theory and the practice of the coaching of football, basketball, baseball, track, tennis, soccer, boxing and wrestling, and in the training and conditioning of athletes. Monday, August 22, will be registration day, and the regular class work proper of the school will start at 8:00 o'clock on Tuesday morning, August 23.

The football course will be handled by Mr. Robert A. Fetzner, director of athletics in the University, who will be assisted by Mr. James N. Ashmore and Mr. Lester C. Belding. This course will deal with such fundamentals of football as punting, passing, blocking, tackling and different styles of offense and defense, training and equipment, and a study of the rules. There will also be field practice and demonstrations. Special attention will be given to the coaching of individual positions.

The basketball course will be handled by Mr. James N. Ashmore, head coach of basketball and baseball in the University, who will be assisted by Mr. Lester C. Belding, of the University's coaching staff. This course will deal with the fundamentals

NEGRO GLEE CLUB HERE TOMORROW

Durham Singers in Concert at Memorial Hall Friday Evening at 8 O'clock.

The North Carolina Mutual Glee Club, a chorus of twenty negro singers of Durham, will render a concert of negro spirituals Friday evening in Memorial Hall at 8:00 o'clock. The concert is given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., and a slight charge for admission will be made to defray the expense of the bringing the organization here.

Among the numbers to be rendered by the glee club are the following: "Swing Low," "Steal Away," "Old Black Joe," "Go Down Moses," "Wheel in a Wheel," "Couldn't Hear Nobody Pray," "Lord I Want to Be a Christian," "Aint Going to Study War No More," "Going to Shout All Over God's Heaven," and "Every Time I Feel the Spirit—I Pray." Other numbers will be given also.

The Mutual Glee Club is an organization, sponsored by the Mutual Life Insurance company of Durham. It is recognized as the best choral group in the state, probably in the south. The club appeared in Chapel Hill, Sunday evening, June 10, at the invitation of the Epworth League and sang in the main auditorium of the Methodist church, which was packed. Besie Whitted is director of the group.

Chapel Hill to Have A New Automatic Telephone System

It has been announced that Chapel Hill and the University will have an automatic telephone system, which will probably be ready for use before Christmas. The switchboard and other equipment for the new system have already been ordered.

The inefficiency of the present system has given considerable annoyance and dissatisfaction for quite awhile, and the announcement that a modern, efficient system is to be installed as soon as preparations are completed is welcomed by all the patrons of the telephone company, which is owned and operated by the University Consolidated Service Plants. When the new installation is completed there will be no trouble about getting connections promptly.

Of course the change will bring some increase in the rates. This always accompanies the installation of an automatic system because of the greater cost of the plant. It is thought the increase in Chapel Hill will not be considerable.

A new building for the central office is under construction on Rosemary lane opposite the rear of the Presbyterian church.

The Chapel Hill telephone company was acquired two years ago by the University, and since then the telephone service has been one branch of the activities of the Consolidated Service Plants.

Anybody who has used a telephone in Durham within the last year or so knows how the automatic device works. With each instrument there is a little dial, and simply by turning this the subscriber gets into connection with whomever he wants to call.

One of the conditions laid down by the aldermen, and agreed to by the Consolidated Service Plants, is that a thoroughly efficient police alarm and fire alarm arrangement shall be maintained at no cost to the town. The mechanism is to be so adjusted that the person who wants to turn in a fire alarm may not only set off the siren at fire headquarters but may also ring the telephones at the homes of several of the firemen. And the police may be called from any telephone instrument in the village.

The regular switchboard operator will be unnecessary when the automatic system is installed, but there will be a service man on duty to look out for repairs and attend to other duties of an emergency character.

It is likely that additional wires will be run from here to Durham and that all long distance calls will be handled by the Durham central.

Mrs. Turrentine, at 81, Broadcasts

The greatest personal triumph won by any artist from station WNRC was that one recently accorded Mrs. A. F. Turrentine, 81-year-old lady of Chapel Hill who for an hour and a half delighted listeners with a program of piano solos largely composed of the music of 50 and 60 years ago.

There were 100 or more telephone calls from Greensboro, Burlington, High Point, Hillsboro and other places, and not a call but what was laudatory of the aged Chapel Hill woman. Sitting before the grand piano, her frail form propped up to it with pillows, Mrs. Turrentine played with all the dash and fervor of her younger days. Many of the men and women calling, said they had known her 30, 40 and 50 years ago and declared she played as well as she ever had. Without a note of music before her, Mrs. Turrentine went through the arduous program and then gave many of the old-time numbers which had been requested by listeners. One of the last numbers was the Oak Dale March which she herself composed 50 years ago.

SOIL OF N. C. IS ADAPTED FOR THE GROWTH OF MINT

Prof. Vernon Kyser Returns After Making a Survey of Volatile Oils Production.

North Carolina soil and climate are better adapted to the cultivation of mint than that of Indiana and Michigan, where virtually all of the peppermint and spearmint grown in the country are found today, according to Prof. Vernon Kyser of the University of North Carolina School of Pharmacy, who has just returned from the eastern part of the state where he made a complete survey of the conditions for growing mints for the production of volatile oils.

The state is neglecting the opportunity of diversifying its crops and at the same time adding to its total farm wealth, Professor Kyser says, "for the average return from the peppermint crop exceeds that from other crops." The annual value of the peppermint crop in the United States is approximately $2,000,000, and North Carolina's share of this is hardly a drop in the bucket. The United States furnishes about three-fifths of the world's supply of peppermint oil which is widely in demand as a flavoring agent in confections and as a medicament.

Professor Kyser's survey of conditions in this state was made possible by a grant from the research fund of the American Pharmaceutical Association. He has also made a study of other volatile oil plants grown in this country.

Advantages in this State

As the result of his study of conditions in eastern North Carolina he is convinced that peppermint may be grown with good profit on any of the muck land in that section. He was

UNION SERVICES BEGIN AUGUST 7

Drs. B. R. Lacy, E. M. Poteat and W. W. Peel Will Preach Sermons.

Dr. Benjamin R. Lacy, Jr., President of the Union Seminary, Richmond, Va., Dr. E. M. Poteat, former President of Furman University, and Dr. W. W. Peel, of the Trinity church, Durham, will deliver the sermons at the second annual union services of the Chapel Hill churches to be held during the month of August, according to announcement made yesterday by Harry F. Comer, University Y. M. C. A. Secretary.

The union services will begin Sunday, August 7, and will be held every Sunday morning and evening during the month. Dr. Poteat will open the services. Dr. Peel will occupy the pulpit for the second week to be followed by Dr. Poteat and Dr. Lacy will deliver the sermons for the final week.

The union service plan was put into effect for the first time last year, and provided the pastors of the various churches with a month's vacation, bringing to Chapel Hill, at the same time, speakers of note. The success with which the experiment met has resulted in its repetition this year.

The services will be held in the Methodist church.

KARL JANSEN TO APPEAR TONIGHT IN MEMORIAL HALL

Swedish Humorist to Offer Variety Program as Second Summer Attraction.

The second number of the summer attractions will be given this evening in Memorial Hall at 8:30 o'clock when Karl Jansen, the Swedish humorist and entertainer, will give an entertainment covering a broad field in the line of education and amusement.

Those who have purchased season tickets will be admitted without further charge. Season tickets for the three remaining attractions may be bought at the door this evening. A substantial saving will be realized by those who purchase a ticket to all the other attractions.

Karl Jansen, born in Sweden, has entertained American audiences for the last twelve years most successfully. His program is selected from the following: description with songs and stories of Sweden and Norway, impersonation of humorous characters, foreign and native, scenes from Tennyson's "Enoch Arden," and Longfellow's "Evangeline," recitations from James Whitcomb Riley and Eugene Field and other authors, demonstrations of the Swedish system of physical culture and fencing, and imitation of prominent American public speakers. Fifteen minutes of the program will be devoted to the rendition of scenes from some of Shakespeare's plays, some of which are given in costume.

This is not the first visit of Mr. Jansen to the University summer school. In the past he has delighted summer school audiences here with his humor and impersonation of humorous characters in foreign and native dialects.

Dr. Louis R. Wilson to Direct Southern Library Institute

Dr. Louis R. Wilson, University of North Carolina librarian, has gone to Atlanta to direct the Library Institute for the Southeastern States being held there this and next week under the auspices of the American Library Association and the Carnegie Library of Atlanta.

The Institute continues through August 6 and deals primarily with library administration and book selection. Dean C. A. Hibbard, of the University College of Liberal Arts, is a member of the staff in charge of the Institute.

While in Georgia, Dr. Wilson, representing the American Association, will visit the summer library school of the University of Georgia.

HEFFNER IN HOSPITAL; GREEN SUBSTITUTES

Hubert Heffner, business manager and assistant-director of the Carolina Playmakers, is in the McPherson hospital at Durham as the result of an infected eye. Although physicians in attendance state that there is no longer any danger of losing the eye, they are advocating a prolonged rest.

During Mr. Heffner's absence, Paul Green has charge of his classes in play production and playwriting, and the direction of the Playmaker productions is in the hands of William Norment Cox.
