

COMPLETE SCHEDULE OF CLASSES

Recreation Institute

HAROLD D. MEYER, Director

9:00 a. m.—Club Life in the School Miss Louise Hollands
212 Alumni Building
10:00 a. m.—Advanced Games Miss Jane Fox
Gymnasium
11:00 a. m.—Dennison Art Lecture Mrs. Kimball
Law Building
12:00 a. m.—Elementary Games Miss Jane Fox
Gymnasium

Afternoons

Swimming Lessons and Demonstrations C. C. Nixon
3:00-4:00—For women
4:00-5:00—For men
5:00-6:00—For women
Gymnasium
2:00-5:00—Dennison Art Demonstrations Mrs. Kimball
Law Building
5:00-6:00—Girls Club Demonstrations Miss Hollands

School for Social Workers

DR. H. W. ODUM, Director

9:00 a. m.—The Citizen and His Town E. J. Woodhouse
Room 102 Alumni Building
10:00 a. m.—Modern Social Problems Lee M. Brooks
Room 102 Alumni Building
11:00 a. m.—Know North Carolina S. H. Hobbs, Jr.
110 Saunders

Evening Programs

7:00-8:00—Social Textile Workers' Round Table
8:00-9:00—Social Programs
Room 215 Alumni

WALLACE THE MAGICIAN BE HERE NEXT WEEK

Program of Magic Is Added to the Summer School Program.

As an added attraction to the program of summer entertainments sponsored by the Summer School, Wallace The Magician, is giving his program of mystery and fun here August 25 in Memorial Hall.

Wallace comes to Chapel Hill with an enviable reputation as a wonder worker and entertainer. Rabbits, ducks, flags, pigeons, trunks, boxes and lamps are all used by the master magician in his program.

In the old days one thought a sleight-of-hand performer sort of a seventh wonder when he could produce a live rabbit from a borrowed hat, but Wallace rolls up his sleeves and the pigeons come flying, apparently from the air. And it is a beautiful act, poetic in conception, marvellously mystifying in execution, and charmingly entertaining all the way through.

Wallace's performance is different from all other magical entertainments. He carries a stageful of beautiful paraphernalia, a lot of live birds and animals, a genial personality, a brainful of droll wit and the knack of putting over his humor in a way that makes friends for him everywhere. His finale is remarkable, introducing one of the most spectacular illusions ever seen, called the "Super-Vanish Extraordinary." In this effect a miniature aviary and menagerie of animals and birds and a beautiful lamp, all disappear in the twinkling of an eye. The tables upon which were placed are then taken apart for examination and not a trace of the pretty birds and animals can be seen.

In the French chamber, knives are being sharpened and gun barrels cleaned up and oiled. This confirms the general belief that the situation in France has been stabilized.—New York Times.

SUNDAY!

Dr. Percy Scott Flippin, of Mercer University, will talk to the Interdenominational Young Peoples' Union Sunday night at 7:00 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Howard Bailey, of Bessemer, will sing a solo on the same program.

PEELE DELIVERS 2ND SERMON OF UNION SERVICES

Durham Minister Decries Lack of Respect for Laws of Character—"Live at Random."

"One of the most serious troubles of this scientific age is that we have such respect for the laws of science and such low regard for the laws of character," said Dr. W. W. Peele, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, Durham, delivering the second of the union services in the Methodist church here Sunday morning. "Purposeless lives" was Dr. Peele's theme.

"We study chemistry and astronomy with zest," said Dr. Peele, "because we feel that there is a precision about them, but when we turn from them to religion we feel that we have entered a field of guess work where laws are elastic and where one man's opinions are just as good as another's. We should be much more concerned about the foundations upon which our children are to grow their lives than about the foundation upon which our material buildings are built. Yet we pay enormous salaries for the services of good engineers upon which we build our skyscraper buildings, and are unwilling to do so to get the best teachers to make sure the foundation upon which character is built.

"Too many of us live at random," continued Dr. Peele. "We are not steady, we do not discipline ourselves, we do not live with regularity. We seem not to realize that each one of us was born for a purpose; that first of all each life is a divine thought. It is our task to find this purpose and move towards its accomplishment with the same precision as characterizes the stars of the heavens."

Occupying the pulpit during the evening sermon, Dr. Peele, using as his text Matthew VI 23, asked the question, "What is religion doing for us?" and pointed out that in America we see religion uttering itself in bitterness and intolerance, tearing people apart who might else be brotherly, and thus becoming darkness rather than light.

Practice Courses Are New Features of the Law School

(Continued from page one) verdict. He will observe the function of court and jury, and distinguish their respective provinces; he will be called upon to apply his background in law in drafting instructions in his own behalf, and criticizing those of his opponent. He will consider the jury's deliberation, and its delivery of the verdict; the manner and form of verdict, whether general, special, or special interrogatories. Analysis of these elements will enable him to impeach the verdict for cause, move for a new trial, and attend the entry of judgment.

In all these steps, the course in Trial Practice undertakes to illustrate the "how" while it explains the "why."

Law Clubs

In the fall term here 1927-28 the first year student will investigate authorities, prepare briefs, and argue cases in Law Clubs organized as Appellate Courts. These cases will be framed by members of the faculty and the arguments will be presided over by a court consisting of one faculty member acting as Chief Justice, and two-third year students acting as Association Justices. At the end of the year the winners in these preliminary arguments will argue the final case of the year before members of the Bench of North Carolina.

In the spring term the Law Clubs will operate as law offices which will introduce first year students to the important work of drafting the simpler papers which come in the ordinary courts or practices.

This is a new feature of the work which is expected to have fine results.

Law School Continues Along Line of Progress and Growth

(Continued from page one) Coates, Professor of Law.

Aim of the School
The aim of the school is to develop competent lawyers and not merely prepare students for the bar examination. The course extends over three years, and subjects are offered in what sequence. Students are required to follow the order of the curriculum and one who stops before completing it will not have a comprehensive or adequate legal education.

While no particular attention is paid to preparing men for the bar examination University students have been successful in passing. Indeed, no one, after graduating from this school, has failed, so far as those now administering the school are aware, to pass the bar examination of this state on his first attempt.

Reading Courses
In addition to the regular class-work and collateral reading, it is the aim of the school to develop the habit among the students of frequent informal conferences with faculty members, over the difficulties and problems which are encountered in their studies. It is believed that this personal contact between student and teacher, which is no longer possible in the larger schools, is of inestimable value and will foster some of the professional spirit which was engendered by the former association between lawyer and student in the days when legal instruction was secured in law offices. To this end a Reading Course has been introduced for first-year students. This course consists solely of the reading of books designed to acquaint the student at the outset with some of the history, general ideas, outstanding personalities and rich literature of the law. The students are divided into small groups, each of which is assigned to a different professor as advisor, with whom individual conferences on the readings are held.

Students
The Law School enjoys a varied student body in that it usually has men not only from

North Carolina but from states all over the union. Last year there were fourteen other states and one foreign country represented in the gathering of students. These were distributed as follows:

Alabama 1, District of Columbia 1, Florida 3, Georgia 1, Japan 1, Louisiana 1, Mississippi 1, North Carolina 116, New Jersey 1, New York 2, Oklahoma 1, South Carolina 7, Tennessee 2, Texas 1, Virginia 6.

This gave the school a total registration of 145 students. These were divided into 68 first year men; 22 second year men; 16 third year men; 6 specials; 65 first term of the Summer School; and 61 second term of the Summer School. This makes a total of 238 registrations but the total number of students was only 145 for there were 93 duplications.

The Library

The law library, which is housed in the Law Building is an extensive one of about 12,500 volumes. With books ordered and to be ordered during the current year this will be increased to about 14,000. It comprises the reports of the courts of last resort of all the states, either in official volumes or the National Reporter System, The United States Supreme Court Reports, The Federal Reporter, The New York Supplement, Illinois Appellate Reports, The English Reports Reprint, The Law Reports (English), the local, Federal and English Statutes, and a comprehensive selection of digests, encyclopedias, text books and law periodicals.

The Law School Review
The North Carolina Law Review, issued quarterly, is published by the Law School. It is devoted to the discussion of general and local legal problems and new cases, especially those of interest to North Carolina lawyers. The notes on recent cases are prepared by the Student Editors, in consultation with faculty advisers. Selection of the student editors is made by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, and membership on the Editorial Board is the highest scholastic honor attainable by a law student before graduation.

The editorial board for the Review during the past year was headed by S. A. Vest, editor-in-chief; other members were: R. H. Wettach, faculty advisor; C. R. Jonas, Assistant editor; W. H. Abernathy, J. L. Cantwell, Jr., F. B. Gummey, C. W. Hall, J. C. Kesler, J. G. Legrand, T. B. Livingston, Jr., M. P. Myer, P. J. Ranson, George Rountree, Jr., Jon Wiig, and Hill Yarborough.

The publication will be edited by C. R. Jonas, student editor; Prof. Wettach, faculty editor; Professors Breckenridge and Evans, assistant faculty editors; and a staff of students to be selected by the faculty at the beginning of the fall term.

Full Time Secretary
Other improvements in the Law School staff include the addition of Miss Ruby Ross as full time secretary for the School. Miss Ross is a sister to Miss Daisy Ross, who for years has been secretary to C. T. Woollen, business manager of the University.

This addition of Miss Ross will allow Miss Lucile Elliott to devote her full time to the work of Law School Librarian. Previously she has divided her time between the library and the secretarial work.

Playmakers Will Offer Two Plays This Evening

(Continued from page one) off the shoulders of Prof Heffner who has been recovering from a serious eye operation. The first play on the program will be William Cox's "Scuffletown Outlaws." This is one of the most unusual plays, both in setting and theme, in the Playmakers' repertoire. Mr. Cox has a well balanced cast for his play, and even the new members of the Playmakers are going to surprise the audience with their finished performances. Mr. Cox will use during the play some of the same guns that Henry Berry Lowrie and Steve Lowrie used when the Croats were overrunning the Swamps in Robeson county. The gun that Mr. Cox will use has three notches cut in the stock, denoting three white people killed by Henry Berry. People who have seen this play say that no truer picture, nor fairer exposition, of the Croats has been given than in "The Scuffletown Outlaws."

The cast for "Scuffletown Outlaws" is as follows: Henry Berry Lowrie, William Norment Cox; Steve Lowrie, Pendleton Harrison; June Lowrie, Elizabeth Rose; John Sanders, Shepperd Strudwick, Jr.; Luke Locklear, Porter Munn; Rhody Lowrie, Lina Flynt; James McQueen, alias Donoho, A. B. Couch.

The other play, "In Dixon's Kitchen," is in decided contrast to the Cox play. This is a comedy of North Carolina farm life, written by Wilbur Stout, in collaboration with Ellen Lay. The trouble Lem Isley has in making love to his girl gives excellent comedy material and situations. This play promises the audience many hearty laughs during the evening.

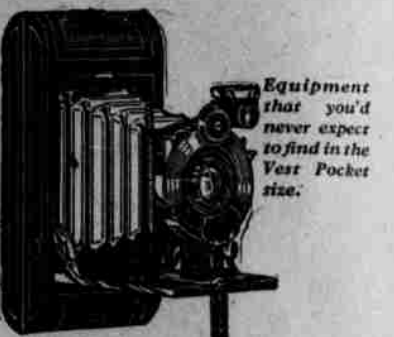

The cast for "In Dixon's Kitchen" is: Ma Dixon, Mrs. W. A. Daniels; Pa Dixon, Shepperd Strudwick, Jr.; Gilmer Dixon, Porter Munn; Annie Lee Dixon, Katherine Register; Jack Dixon, Charles Graham; Lemuel Isley, Howard W. Bailey.

Devereux and Graf Play for Summer School

(Continued from page one) voice, and pantomime gave to the audience a very vivid picture of two people as they traveled the road from vivacious youth to calm settled middle-life and then to tottering old age. And it all made a beautiful story.

Mrs. Irene Lee and Miss Anne Rabie were the guests of Mrs. Kate K. Burgess in Raleigh Sunday.

For best results IN TYPEWRITING See JACK LAZARUS News Bureau Office 207 SOUTH BLDG.

Vest Pocket Kodaks
Series III and Special Series III is supplied with Kodarf.7.9 lens and Kodex shutter or Kodak Anastigmat f.o.3 lens and Diomatic shutter. The Special comes with Diomatic shutter and either Kodak Anastigmat f.5.6 or f.4.5 lens.

Both models take 1 1/4 x 2 1/4 pictures
Prices are $10 to $25
See them today

FOISTER'S

SWIMMING

GYMNASIUM POOL
Every Afternoon until September 3
THREE TO SIX
Special rates to Summer School students
Instruction if you wish Take a swim today!

FANCY ICES SHERBETS
Durham Ice Cream Co., Inc.
"Blue Ribbon Brand"
ICE CREAM
Special Color Schemes for Sororities and Fraternity Affairs
Dial L-963, Durham, North Carolina
BLOCKS PUNCH

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR HOW WONDERFUL IT IS TO COOK WITH THE

Universal Electric Range

Stop in our display room when you're down street and let us show you the latest models which are sold on the easy payment plan.

Electric and Water Division
University Consolidated Service Plants