

Eating Revel For Two Days; Drug Stores Vend Liniment

Campus Heroicly Attacks Problem of Disposing of Hundred Cakes and Brings Campaign to Successful Conclusion.

An orgy of cake eating descended upon certain fortunate sections of the campus Tuesday and Wednesday following the victorious return of the winning Cake Racers to their rooms laden with the spoils of the race. As the victorious runners more or less unwillingly played the part of the not so genial host to his friends, many were the prodigious tales told of the subterfuges resorted to by entrants in the race imbued with the lust to partake of cake, but doubtful of their ability to win one in the manner prescribed by the Intra Mural authorities, to accomplish their ends.

The Cake Race was the subject of practically all the bull sessions, which were even more gargantuan than usual. June Fisher's victory was a popular one. The redhead was in a rather bad way when he staggered in behind Barkley last year after a game fight, and he "passed out" for several minutes. His comeback to win first place in record time this year was hailed with popular acclaim.

One story widely circulated at the bull sessions was concerned with a brilliant plan said to have been conceived and executed by one of the men among the first few to finish in the race. He is a freshman, and was therefore unknown to Dale Ranson and Luther Byrd, who checked the men in at the start of the race. One of his friends checked in his name, and ran the first half of the course. Then the friend dropped out, and the first man, who had been waiting at that point, slipped in the straggling ranks of the racers unnoticed and galloped in to the finish line with ease.

Another was that the hundredth man, thinking that far more than a hundred men had already come in, turned aside at the finish and failed to go by for his number for his cake. The official who was handing the numbers out had his attention momentarily diverted, and several more men had come in before he turned back to the track. One of the also-rans, seeing the number still remaining in the official's hand, dashed up, loudly proclaimed that he was the hundredth finisher, grabbed the number, and hurried away to the line where the cakes were being given out, where he proudly received the cake that another man had won.

Several of the winners with more speed than endurance were alleged to have started out at a very speedy pace, and to have maintained it until they began to become tired, when they stopped and rested for a few moments. Then they resumed their race, and continued it until they tired again, when they once more stopped to rest. This procedure was repeated several times, but they were said to have overhauled a number of those who maintained a steady pace.

Several men who would have been among the first hundred fell out within fifty of a hundred yards of the finish line, thinking that they were lagging behind too far to come in among the fortunate hundred.

The local drug stores reported an enormous increase in the sale of liniment after the race as well as remedies for indigestion. Wednesday there was a pronounced hesitancy in the gait of a number of students, and a good many pronounced limps were discernible.

Many High Schools Enter Football Race

Forty-two high schools have entered the annual state high school football contest for this season of the North Carolina High School Athletic Association, it was announced yesterday by E. R. Rankin, secretary of the association.

Included in the list of contenders are the following high schools: Asheville, Candor, Charlotte, Concord, Dunn, Durham, Ellerbe, Fremont, Gastonia, Goldsboro, Greensboro, Greenville, Hamlet, High Point, King's Mountain, LaGrange, Laurinburg, Leaksville, Lexington, Lincolnton, Lumberton, Monroe, Mount Airy, Mount Olive, New Bern, Oxford, Raeford, Raleigh, Reidsville, Rockingham, Salisbury, Sanford, Scotland Neck, Shelby, Troutman, Wadesboro, Warsaw, Washington, Weldon, Whiteville, Wilmington, and Winston-Salem.

The schedule of the eastern championship series will be arranged at a conference of eastern faculty managers, which was held at Raleigh yesterday, and the schedule of the western championship series will be drawn up at the conference of western faculty managers, which will be held at Salisbury today.

OLDER BOYS OF STATE MEET HERE CHRISTMAS

The State-wide Conference for Older Boys conducted each year by the state Y. M. C. A., will be held in Chapel Hill during the Christmas holidays, it is learned through the local "Y." The date for the convention is not definitely known. Between 700 and 800 boys representing the entire state are expected to be present at this time.

Cast Is Chosen for Burlesque

provide a background for the show as is seldom seen here. All of the following men are at least six feet four inches in height, with ability and voice in proportion, according to the director: Bill Downs, D. C. Wood, J. A. Metz, and F. M. Brickman, Jr. Just why such extraordinary stature is requisite for this unit is not known yet, but speculation is rife. Suggestions have been made, only to be discounted as worthless, that moonplucking or some other strange antic was to be a feature of the performance.

The Harem Girls are the favored of the cast. No knotty masculine muscles adorn their calves, no hirsute embellishments do they disport, but alluring is their grace, adorable their femininity, and captivating their vocation. These charming ladies are Tom Rollins, Booty Uzzell, Bob Hedgecock, Petty Waddill, Pete Wilson, Millard Little, James Turner, John Fulp, Bugs Race, Chas. Hicks, Alec Galloway, E. B. Schlosburg, James Kesler, Dave Thomas, Ed Young, and Bill Goodson.

A group of slave-girls and sailors is to be selected later.

Work Proceeding Rapidly on New Wing of Phillips Hall

eleven by twenty together with two seminar rooms, a fluoroscope and X-Ray room. Access to all these rooms may be had from the old building by a bridge so that instruments may be transferred from one part to another when the need arises.

The basement and first floor are entirely given to the physics department and bring their equipment well up to the standard. The space is much needed and promises to give the department much more scope and efficiency.

The Math department has never before, in the history of the University had a "Home." Heretofore they have had to have a room here and there as they could get it. In the past few years the department has added many courses of higher mathematics and has had an increasing number of students so that the present amount of class room space is entirely inadequate. The third, or top floor, is given over entirely to the math department and satisfies a long felt need.

On this floor there are four class rooms, each twenty-three by twenty, one smaller class room, and four seminar rooms. One of the most unique features of the Math department's addition is a "Model Room," seventeen by twenty feet in size, with large glass cabinets extending the full length of the room, from the floor to the ceiling. In the center of the room there will be a long table about which twenty or more students can sit. This "Model Room" is to contain a great number of very complicated models, showing every conceivable plane and surface that the mathematician has to deal with. Some of the models are to be of glass, some of metal, plaster of paris, others of wire, and steel. Contrary to the usual custom with such valuable models, these will not remain in the cases but may be removed and studied by the students in the seminar and higher math courses. Demonstrations and lectures will be given in this room with the models in use.

This additional housing and the introduction of many new courses meets the growing need for the higher math department above that of any University in the south. This statement has been verified by a comparison with various other catalogues. Our Math department now has the best balanced curriculum and the most adequate equipment of any Southern University.

This addition to Phillips Hall is nearing completion and will be turned over for use in the near future.

TAR HEELS POINT FOR STATE GAME

U. S. Uses Tariff Information in a Selfish Manner

The Tariff Commission was formed in 1917. For the first five years it worked all right, but from that time on it has lost its working facility. Its members are appointed by the president, and the president changes the tariff on the suggestion of the Commission. Two years ago the work of the Commission was almost stopped by a senate investigation of it as a result of trouble within the commission.

At present there is an investigation of the Commission being conducted, which may result in the president losing his power over the tariff and the Commission, a new Commission being formed, or the Commission losing its power altogether.

"Several times one or another of the two political parties has tried to remove or to change members so that they might gain power or change the point of view of the commissioners," Mr. Costigan said. The president would appoint some of the members to higher positions and thus get them off the Commission, and it has had to appeal to Congress on several occasions for freedom from political and individual interference. The Commission knows what should be done, but the president has the power to act or not to act. Therefore experts alone should govern and control the tariff."

"I know Captain Scully is right— Luckies are far superior"

Said Edward F. Keating, noted long distance swimmer, to his friend, James A. Burns, at a Toronto, Canada, beach.

Captain Charles B. Scully, Noted Swimming Coach and Lecturer, writes:

"As Director of The Life Saving Service of The N. Y. American Red Cross I am called on to make frequent speeches and to broadcast weekly. I must always have a clear voice—unirritated, with no chance of coughing. Lucky Strikes, my favorite cigarette, permits me to smoke as much as I choose and still keep my voice in perfect condition. Furthermore, because of their fine flavor, I recommend Lucky Strikes to all the champion swimmers whom I coach."

Capt. Charles Scully

You, too, will find that LUCKY STRIKES give the greatest pleasure—Mild and Mellow, the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. Made of the choicest tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process—"IT'S TOASTED"—no harshness, not a bit of bite.
