Bradshaw Makes Chapel
Talk on Finding Careers

 the latest report he is a cornet player in an orchestra.
 Mr. Bradshaw then informed the class that vocational discussion groups will be organized later on in the year under the direction of the Bureau of Vocational Information. He urged the freshmen not to put off their vocational decisions until their senior year, but to begin studying the problem now. He told them about the office operated by the Bureau of Vocational Information in 204 South Building, and advised them to go up and talk over their vocational problems with Henry Johnston, who is director of the bureau this year.

DI SENATE BACKS
RIDE BUMMING

Supporters of City Official's Viewpoint Fail to Pass Measure.

Eight new members were added to the Di Senate in its regular meeting Tuesday night in the Law Building. Their formal initiation will not take place until the meeting next Tuesday night. The initiation committee is planning a very impressive and unique reception for these men.

The meeting was then opened for all new business. Senator Holt McPherson discussed the feasibility of the Di Senate's getting a North Carolinian of prominence to make an address in favor of the nomination of Al Smith for the Presidency of the United States in 1928 by the Democratic party. The suggestion was then put in the form of a motion and was passed unanimously by the Senate. Senator McPherson was made chairman of this committee, and he already has under consideration several men of state wide and national prominence who would welcome an opportunity to expound the cause of Al Smith before a Chapel Hill audience.

The much discussed question of bumming rides was given its round on the Senate floor after all business had been dispensed with. The bill read: Resolved, that the Di Senate go on record as approving the City Council in any action it may see fit to curb the bumming of rides. The bill was literally scoffed at by a large majority of the senators, who said the Council should not be sponsored in such an absurd and drastic action. Several, however, argued that from a point of principle and civic pride, the "begging" of rides should rightfully cease. The bill was overwhelmingly voted down.

At the end of the initiation next Tuesday night, a lively discussion in modern politics is looked for. A bill which reads: Resolved, that the Di Senate go on record as favoring the nomination of Al Smith for the Presidency of the United States in 1928 by the Democratic party, is to be discussed.

Grail Dance Saturday

The Order of the Grail will give a dance in Bynum Gymnasium Saturday evening, the fifth of November. The Buccaneer Orchestra has been engaged to play for the occasion.

Coming as the lone social event of a comparatively quiet week-end, the second Grail dance of the quarter is expected to be one of the most enjoyable of the year. Quite a few girls have been invited and a gala event is expected.

Lots of Self-Help Students

The self-help bureau of the Y. M. C. A. announces that there are more students seeking work than ever before. Two men are on duty at the Y. M. C. A. (telephone 86) to answer the calls of persons who desire help.

Athletic authorities declare but one man ever has turned the triple somersault. So we presume that records made while trying to carry an armload of canned fruit down-stairs are unofficial and do not count.—Council Bull's Nonpareil.

ADDRESS POSTPONED

The address by T. A. Wilson, president of the State Federation of Labor, of Winston Salem, which was to be given in 112 Saunders tonight, will be indefinitely postponed due to the speaker being unable to come.

CAROLINA'S ZOO IS MODERNIZED

Caldwell Hall Menagerie Has Been Outfitted With Most Modern Conveniences.

Carolina's zoo is being modernized. Under the direction of Dr. Ferguson and Dr. MacNider, large cages with steam heat, electric light, and the latest appliances for making life easier for worthy animals, are being installed in the basement of the Medical Building. Forty dogs, one hundred rabbits, one hundred guinea pigs, one hundred white rats, three sheep, and an occasional straying cat compose the Med Menagerie.

The new quarters now being built are large and clean. Pipes over each cage admit live steam for cleaning and sterilizing purposes, and steam pipes around the walls keep the animals warm.

The dogs have been removed to a room away from the dormitories, so their barking will not disturb earnest students trying to figure whether they can afford the price of the ticket for the Grail dance. At present there is little or no noise in the dog room, but there are no cats in with them.

Each student in the Immunology department has one animal which is used as a "patient." Painless injections and operations are performed, and the effects noted as part of the work in the course. All operations in the least painful are carried out with anesthetics.

An important innovation in the Medical School is the opening of courses in Bacteriology, Immunology, and Hygiene to non-Medical students. Students may now include these courses in a regular program, without taking the full medical course.

New Telephone System

Work on the new automatic telephone system which has been going on for some time is rapidly nearing completion.

An expert with three assistants is installing the intricate mechanism in the new fireproof building on Rosemary lane.

The telephone poles will be removed from the streets and all of the wires will be placed underground.

New Insurance Agency For Chapel Hill

A new insurance agency has opened offices in the MacRae building.

The new firm is to be known as the Service Insurance Agency. Collier Cobb, Jr., is president, and W. deR. Scott is secretary and treasurer. It is to write fire insurance.

Both officials are alumni of the University. Mr. Scott, who is to be in active charge of the office, was graduated in 1923. He comes here from Graham, where he has been in the insurance business since leaving college.

Law Faculty Passes
New Attendance Rule

A new ruling in regard to class attendance has been passed by the faculty of the law school and goes into effect this quarter, it was announced by Dean C. T. McCormick recently.

This rule provides for a maximum of fifteen percent absence, and no excuses are accepted. The old rule allowed only ten percent unexcused absence, and provided for a system of acceptance of valid excuses.

The system has been established in order to make the work of the faculty more efficient and to insure a better comprehension of the courses by the student, Dean McCormick stated. In creating this plan, he declared that the faculty decided that in order to understand a course well enough to deserve credit, the student must attend classes at least eighty-five percent of the time. On this assumption, and a decision that absence for any reason detracted from the value of the subject, the new attendance rule has been placed into effect, and any student with an excess of absences is automatically dropped from the course carrying these absences.

High School Series

In the elimination series of the state high school football championship last week there occurred two ties, between Mt. Airy and Reidsville in the Western half, and between New Bern and La Grange in the Eastern half. In order to break the tie without playing another game, representatives of the two teams met and drew for the right to continue in the championship race. Mt. Airy won the draw with Reidsville and La Grange won the draw with New Bern; should either of these teams, Mt. Airy or La Grange win the championship, they will have to defeat the team with which they tied before they are proclaimed State Champions.

Professor Ernest R. Groves of the Sociology Department is addressing important national groups Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week. He is speaking before the Parent Council of Philadelphia, The Child Study Association of America, at New York City, and the Lincoln School at Columbia University. The lectures will be on family relationships, parenthood education, and youth.

Professor Groves' most recent volumes are "Social Problems of the Family" and "Wholesome Marriage." They have been receiving unusually favorable reviews.

GLEE CLUB HAS NATIVE TALENT

Fifty-nine of Seventy-five Men Hail from North Carolina; South Carolina Next.

ONLY FEW MEN LEAVE

The University of North Carolina Glee club is composed mostly of native talent this year. Out of the 75 men which make up the club, 59 come from North Carolina, and 17 from other states.

South Carolina furnishes the largest outside number of singers with four. Ohio and New Jersey follow with three each; Virginia and Florida with two each, and Georgia, Mississippi, and Colorado with one each.

The sophomore class furnishes the largest number with 26, followed by the juniors with 18; freshmen 17; seniors seven, and seven special and graduate students. The absence of seniors from the club indicates that the same excellent material will be back next year. With such small number of men graduating the gaps can be easily filled.

Very few men were needed to make up the club's full quota this fall, and yet when try-outs were announced 135 men appeared to compete for the few vacancies. The process of elimination cut the number down to 75. From this group 30 men will be picked to make the regular fall tour of North Carolina.
