Liberty Has Almost Vanished, Says Congressman Abernathy In Armistice Day Speech Here

New Bern Legislator Says University Students and Legion Face Great Task of Promoting Peace and Goodwill—Services Held Under Joint Auspices of Legion and University.

"Today the foul breath of war is spreading itself over the nations of Europe, and liberty under the law has almost disappeared," Hon. Charles Laban Abernathy of New Bern, Congressman from the third district, asserted yesterday in the address which featured the University's services in Memorial Hall commemorating the ninth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice between the Allies and Germany.

The services were held under the auspices of the Chapel Hill post of the American Legion and the University. J. O. Harmon, commander of the Chapel Hill post, read the roll of the American Legion dead, while Dean Addison Hibbard read the names of the University dead. Rev. J. S. Lawrence read the invocation, and Dr. Moss pronounced the benediction. "The people of the world," Mr. Abernathy continued, "need to have more faith and trust in the Prince of Peace and Love. God hasten the day and the hour of fulfillment of the promise made in the Bible that the day of peace and liberty for all nations will come!

U. S. Regarded as Shylock
"The University students and the members of the Legion have a great mission to perform today—one just as great as that which faced the members of the Legion when they smashed the Hindenburg line. That mission is the promotion of peace and goodwill on earth. The enthusiasm among the Allied nations which greeted America's entry into the World War and the staving of the ideals which prompted that entry by President Wilson has given way to a condition that is to be highly deplored. America is looked upon as a nation of Shylocks by the people of Europe because they were reminded of the enormous war debt they owed to this country, which they had made no attempt to pay back. How different is the attitude of France toward America today from that existing when we went into the World War!

"There are three ways in which government is carried on," Mr. Abernathy said. "It may be by a monarchy (by one man), or aristocracy

FRESHMEN NEED SECOND ELECTION

Two Highest for Each Office Must Run over Again Early Next Week.

After a hard and hurried campaign, a busy day at the polls, and a careful counting of the ballots in the freshman election, it was announced yesterday afternoon that a second election would be necessary, due to the fact that no candidate received a sufficient majority for his election.

The polls were opened at nine o'clock on Friday morning. From that time until two-thirty, which was designated as closing time, approximately four hundred and fifty ballots were cast. Thirty-seven of these were unsigned, and were thrown out. At two-thirty, the polls were closed and the ballot counted, the results being as follows:

For President:
Strudwick Nash	141
Worth Helms	114
Alston Watkins	85
Ed Ferrell	92
O. B. Hobbs	3
For Vice-President:
Ned Lipscomb	192
Henry Baggs	89
Stanley Moore	57
Sonny Jordan	35
C. R. Baucorn	33
Alex Yarborough	25
For Secretary:
Mayne Albright	145
Bill Carbine	133
Joe Pemberton	112
I. H. Manning	31
For Treasurer:
Bill Bateman	177
Clyde Dunn	131
Paul Wimbish	63
Elwood Goodson	23
Norman Bryan	28

The two candidates having the highest count in each office will be retained on the ballot for the second election which will be held early next week.

Rumor That Half of Varsity Is Ineligible Declared Unfounded

Circulating rumors to the effect that over half of the members of the varsity football squad were ineligible to play in the Davidson game today were stoutly denied yesterday by coaches.

There are only three of four men who received unsatisfactory mid-term grades and these men have a week in which to work these condition grades off, Coach Cerney informed a Tar Heel reporter Friday morning.

A few members of the freshman football squad, however, are ineligible to participate in games after mid-term reports.

QUARTERS SCARCE FOR TURKEY DAY

Students Searching Vainly in Village for Lodging for Girls and Relatives.

A man walked up to the desk at the Carolina Inn yesterday and asked the manager to reserve him a room for Thanksgiving. "For more than a year," responded Mr. Gattman, "every room in the Inn has been engaged; and we are now getting requests for reservations for Thanksgiving two years hence. In fact, most of the rooms have already been bespoken for 1929."

The hotels in Durham are also filled, and students are scurrying hither and yon around the village in the effort to find lodgings for their best girls, families, and friends who are planning to come here for the Virginia-Carolina game.

Work on the road from Pittsboro is being rushed in order that this new concrete boulevard may be opened for traffic before the 24th. This will give the people from Charlotte, Pinehurst, and intermediate towns a hard-surface route all the way to Chapel Hill. The Hillsboro road has been treated with tar and gravel; so, with three all-weather approaches to the village, there should be no excessive crowding on the Durham road this year.

FROSH PUGILISTS SHOWING PROMISE

Varsity Squad Expected to Report After Thanksgiving.

The daily workouts candidates for the Carolina boxing team have been going through for the last five weeks are beginning to produce results, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Creighton Rowe, boxing coach.

For the past week the pugilistic aspirants have been doing light ring work and sparring and several freshmen have been showing up considerably well.

The new men started work shortly after school opened this fall and have held daily practices in the Tin Can, though boxing season does not open until after Christmas.

At present there are about 40 men out, only a part of which are members of the freshman class. It is not too late for men who are interested in boxing to report, it was made known.

Regular practice for old men will begin immediately after Thanksgiving holidays it was announced by Manager Henry Lay.

No Reserved Seats For Student Body

Students will be admitted to the Kenan stadium through gate number 5, on the south side of the stadium for today's game, announced C. T. Woolen.

There are no reserved seats in the student section, and the regular student pass book is needed for admission.

Freshmen who failed to take their psychological test during Freshman Week at the beginning of the quarter will meet in Murphey Hall auditorium Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

NORTH CAROLINA CLUB WILL HEAR TAXING EXPERT

Hon. A. J. Maxwell Slated to Speak before Club Monday Night.

THIRD OF TAX SERIES

Subject Will Be "Need and Plans for Tax Readjustment in the State"—Maxwell Was Exponent of Income Tax Law in North Carolina.

Hon. A. J. Maxwell of Raleigh, chairman of the State Corporation commission and of the recently created Tax commission, will speak before the North Carolina club Monday night on "The Need and Plans for Tax Readjustment in the State," it was announced by Professor P. W. Wager, secretary of the club, yesterday afternoon.

The talk by Mr. Maxwell will be the third of the series being presented before the North Carolina club in conjunction with the study of the tax problem of the state which constitutes the program of the club for this year. The club, open to all students and members of the faculty of the University, will meet at 7:30 in 112 Saunders, the regular time and place for its fortnightly meetings.

Mr. Maxwell is often referred to by newspaper editors and men prominent in the political life of the state as the man responsible for the application of the Income Tax in this state. He saw the need for it and led the agitation that resulted in its use.

Claimed Deficit
He gained considerable prominence in the state and the South two or three years ago when the famous deficit during the term of Cameron Morrison as governor held the center of the political stage in the state for several months. Governor Morrison claimed that there was no deficit, but Mr. Maxwell held that there most assuredly was, since the state was paying the bills for 1925 out of the revenue for 1926, and thus was spending tax money almost a year before it was collected.

Jud Ashby, editor of the Tar Heel, and president of the North Carolina club, stated yesterday that all students and faculty members interested in the governmental, social and economic problems of the state would be interested.

State Beats Duke 20-18 To Cinch Championship

Jack McDowall Leads Wolfpack In Season's Most Thrilling Game.

PASSES FIGURE IN WIN

Coach Gus Tebell's North Carolina State Wolf Pack practically cinched the football championship of the state Friday afternoon at Durham when they defeated the strong Duke eleven, 20 to 18, in what was probably the most exciting game of football played in the state this season.

The Methodists crossed the State goal in the first few minutes of play to take a lead which they held until the third quarter. In the second period the Blue Devils ran their lead up to a twelve point margin by crossing the Wolf Pack's goal for the second time.

It was at this point that the Tech squad started heaving down the twelve point margin that the Devils held, and with about two minutes remaining of the first half they started a series of passes that netted them a touchdown before the whistle sounded.

In the third quarter the masterful hurling of passes by Jack McDowall, brilliant State back, enabled the Tebell crew to push across the Duke goal again to tie the score, and a perfect drop kick by McDowall gave the Techmen a lead that Duke never overcame.

The last quarter opened with the score 13 to 12 and ended 20 to 18, both teams scoring touchdowns but Duke failed to make goal.

Score by quarters:
N. C. State ..... 0 6 7 7—20
Duke ..... 6 6 0 6—18

Kenan Gridiron Will Resound to Cheers and Cleated Feet for First Time as Carolina Meets Davidson

ORDER OF GRAIL AND FRATERNITY DANCES TONIGHT

Chi Phi's Give Tea Dance at Inn Followed by Grail Hop in Swain Hall.

Although the chief center of attraction today is the all-important Davidson-Carolina football game, two organizations have completed their plans to gather up the loose threads of the day and weave them into an attractive finish. Consequently, the conquerors and the conquered of the gridiron and the exultant and the disappointed fans will have an opportunity to rejoice or console themselves at two dances tonight.

The Chi Phi fraternity and the Order of the Grail are the two contributors to the social side of the weekend.

At six o'clock the Chi Phi guests will gather in the ballroom of the Carolina Inn to enjoy two hours of dancing. The hosts have engaged the Buccaneers for the occasion and have left nothing undone to insure a pleasant tea dance.

At eight o'clock the initial affair will be over, and the dancers, after a short intermission, will continue their evening's enjoyment at the Grail dance. Kay Kyser and his Orchestra will begin their syncopation at nine o'clock. The music will come, not from the gymnasium as has been the case with former Grail hops, but from Swain Hall, where a much more commodious dance floor extends a more appealing invitation.

The dance is to be given in recognition of the Monogram Club. The dancing will last until twelve o'clock, and there will be a short intermission during which special entertainment will be afforded. The ballroom will be attractively decorated with gay streamers and soft lights.

The Order of the Grail announces that German Club rules in regard to drinking and the barring of freshmen will be strictly enforced. There will be a special effort to maintain as perfect order as possible so that the hop will be a success in every way.

Dean Carroll before House Committee in Probe of Tax League

Dean D. D. Carroll of the School of Commerce spoke before the ways and means committee of the house in Washington recently as a witness in an effort by the committee to ascertain the backers of the American Taxpayers' League, the newest organization devoted to the campaign for the repeal of the federal estate tax.

Dean Carroll told how, as a student of taxation, he had received the literature of the American Taxpayers' League, and an invitation to serve on the North Carolina state committee. He asserted he could not accept because he did not approve of the League's mission.

He explained it had seemed to him that the literature had tended to conceal the real identity of those behind it, and has contained actual misrepresentations. "It has been chock full of half truths," he added.

He referred to what he called the fallacy of the argument of states' rights, advanced by the various witnesses in support of the demand for the repeal of the tax. If the law was repealed, Dean Carroll argued, the states would not take advantage of that fact to assess levies like inheritance taxes, but on the contrary would repeal those now in operation.

Dean Carroll was called before the committee as a witness after J. A. Arnold, manager of the League, and J. H. Kirby, prominent in the League work, refused to divulge the names of the financial backers. Dean Carroll approved the efforts of some of the committeemen in seeking to ascertain "whose mouthpieces" were the witnesses coming before them.

Senior and Junior Pictures Must Be Taken by Thursday

Photos Will Be Omitted from Year-book if Not Taken Now.

All senior pictures must be made by Thursday, November 17 at the latest. All who fail to have their photographs taken by that time will have their pictures omitted from the annual, the editor announces.

The photographer is in his studio daily from 9 to 5, and all appointments are made at Sutton and Alderman's.

The photographic fee of $1.50 is collected at the studio. The space in the Yackety Yack is paid for when bills are paid at registration. There will be no refund for this space if the picture is not taken, unless the business management of the annual is notified within the next week of the student's intention not to have his picture in the year book.

Members of the Yackety Yack staff are trying to see all seniors especially, but their inability to see all of them will not be accepted as an excuse for the failure of having the pictures made.

All juniors must have their pictures taken by the end of the following week.

SUTTON BUILDING IS NOW OCCUPIED

Improvements Made in Village Streets.

"As slow as Graham Memorial" was once the term applied to the Sutton building which for years remained only the rough foundations of a structure.

Now the townspeople look on the newly completed building which houses the new Smoke Shop, the Bostonian Boot Shop, and Mrs. Sutton's book and stationery store, as an asset to the beauty and utility of the town. The building was recently opened when Dean Paulsen moved the Smoke Shop to the new quarters. The middle space is now being stocked with shoes and being put in readiness for the opening this week of the Bostonian Shoe Store. This will be the only exclusive boot and shoe store in the city.

Mrs. Sutton plans to open her store sometime in the near future. The only hold-up now is the installation of the fixtures and furniture, and this is being completed with all haste possible.

The space of sidewalk which was formerly unpaved on the north side of Franklin street is now paved and ready for use. The street was recently widened so as to have greater parking facilities and more room for traffic in this congested area. New lamp posts will soon appear to light the way along the street, taking the place of the old hanging lamps now in use. All electric and telephone wires will be removed from overhead to underground.

Statistics Show Carolina Has Edge over Wildcats in Past Years.

GAME IS CALLED AT TWO

Collins Had Team on Sidelines In Durham Yesterday Afternoon to See State Trounce Duke—Davidson Has Won Four Out of Twenty-five Contests.

This afternoon at two o'clock, Kenan Stadium will echo for the first time to the cheers of a great crowd, and will see for the first time, two opposing teams in the center of the field, when the Tar Heels meet the Davidson Wildcats here.

The new stadium has just been completed, and made ready for the game. All indications point to a large crowd for the informal opening of the stadium, which will be dedicated at the Thanksgiving game, between Carolina and Virginia.

Several points make this Carolina-Davidson game more interesting than the other games which have been played here this season, despite the fact that it will almost certainly have no bearing on the state championship. The Wildcats and the Tar Heels are ancient football rivals, this being the twenty-fifth clash between the two. The first game was played in 1897, and in spite of Carolina's long string of victories over Davidson, a high spirit of rivalry still exists which is expected to fill Kenan Stadium with those who are anxious to watch them fight the old, old battle for the twenty-fifth time.

Watch State-Duke Game

Statistics show that 16 of the victories have fallen to the Tar Heels, while the Wildcats have taken four as their share. Four of the games were scoreless ties. One of the Davidson wins came last season, when the Wildcats flashed a brilliant aerial attack before the game was well begun, and scored ten points before the Tar Heels could open their eyes. This fact will add quite a bit of tenseness to the already uncertain prospect of today's game.

Both teams have been preparing steadily for this game today. Until Thursday afternoon, the Tar Heel work-outs had been maintaining a steady weight. Then the coaches cut out the daily scrimmages, and ran the squad through a fast signal drill. Yesterday the Tar Heels went to Durham and watched the Duke-State game, in an effort to take their minds off the task that confronts them today. The Wildcats have also been undergoing rigorous preparation for the past week.

Past Scores

Of probable interest to those who will watch the game today, are the following scores of the previous battles.

TAR BABIES MEET MARYLAND FROSH

Freshman Eleven to College Park, Md.—Twenty-five Men Taken.

Strengthened by a 19 to 0 victory over the State yearlings and a 6-6 score with the Duke Blue Imps, the Tar Baby football squad, twenty-five strong, left Thursday evening for College Park, Md., where they were to play the University of Maryland frosh yesterday.

The team arrived in College Park some time Thursday so as to have a workout that afternoon and get a good night's rest before the game. Coach Belding would not give any definite information as to the line-up but it will probably be the same as started against the State freshmen last week.

Those making the trip are: Schneider, Parsley, Tabb, and Baker—ends; Warren, Dortch, McKenna, and Hester—tackles; Hudson, Blackwood, White and Wilson—guards; Lipscomb—center; Sher, Wyrick and Michael—quarters; Nash, Nelson, Sears, Davis, Howard, and Wolf—halfbacks; House and Fysal—fullbacks; Coach Belding and Manager Cowles.
