WRESTLERS OFF TO V. M. I. WHILE BOXERS RESTING

Tar Heel Matmen Take on Cadet Grapplers in Lexington Tonight.

BOXERS AT FLORIDA NEXT

Close Matches Expected in Wrestling Meet Tonight; Both Teams Have Scored Decisive Victories over State.

While the Carolina boxing team is suffering a week-end layoff due to Washington and Lee's action in disbanding their leatherpushers, the Tar Heel grapplers will be the hosts to the V. M. I. wrestling team at Lexington, Virginia, tonight. The team left for the Virginia city via bus yesterday morning.

With Rowe's men experiencing a two week's rest before taking on the University of Florida crew there in the last match of the season, February 25, the All-Southern candidates should be in top form for the Floridians. The lay over is also fortunate for Captain Ed Butler, because it will give a broken rib he received in his go with the Georgia fighter, in the bout of last Saturday night, a chance to heal. The Tar Heels were in action at home for the last time against Georgia. After the Florida meet, Coach Rowe and his men journey to Charlottesville, Virginia, for the Southern Conference tournament to be held there March 2 and 3.

The Carolina wrestlers suffered their worst defeat in history at the hands of the powerful Duke aggregation last Saturday evening. When they take on the Lexington crew today they will be out for blood, and nothing else. The defeat at the hands of Duke followed on the heels of a brilliant victory over the State College team, which V. M. I. has whipped by a substantial score also.

Besides their victory over State the Virginians have several brilliant victories to their credit from other Virginia schools. Performances this year rate the two teams on a par, however, so the matches should be close and interesting.

The same team that lost to Duke will take the mat for Carolina in all probability; except in one instance. D. Moore will more than likely replace Albano in the 158 division. The remainder of the lineup will show R. Moore in the 115; Thompson in the 125; Wood in the 135; Abbott in the 145; D. Moore in the 158; Twiford in the 175; and Houghton in the unlimited division.

VIRGINIA MEETS GA. TECH TODAY

Fictitious Teams on Carolina Winter Squad Play in Stadium This Afternoon.

The "Golden Tornado" locks horns with the "Cavaliers" this afternoon in Kenan Stadium in another of the bi-weekly meetings of the teams on the winter football squad. Both teams are almost evenly matched, for "Virginia" was barely nosed out by "South Carolina" in the closing minutes of their game last week, while Tech held the "Gamecocks" to a lone touchdown in the meeting between these two teams ten days ago.

"Virginia" boasts only one monogram man, but in Magner and Eareckson they possess two of the best backs on the squad. Whisnant is the varsity man, while Maus, a product of the 1926 freshman eleven, showed up well against the powerful "South Carolina" aggregation. In the line are several men who did good work on the squad last fall and two of Coach Belding's 1927 freshman team. "Georgia Tech" has Foad, Ward, and Farris from the Varsity eleven and several of last year's substitutes to match the "Cavalier" line-up.

Woodhouse to Speak Over Radio Monday

Mr. E. J. Woodhouse, Director of the Bureau of Municipal and Country Governments of the University Extension Division, will address the radio followers of the station WPTF, Raleigh, on Monday during the regular University program which is broadcast from that station between 5 and 6 in the evening.

Howard M. Jones To Read New Play

Howard Mumford Jones will read his new play, Autumn Twilight, in the Playmaker Theatre Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock, it is announced from the Playmaker office.

Former readings by this professor have met with a cordial reception from the student body, and this new play is expected to draw a good number of persons to the theatre tomorrow night.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED AMONG STUDENTS

Rumors That Republicans Will Combine to Fight Political Foes.

As a result of the political interest which is being aroused on the campus by certain agitators, through the literary societies and local publications, a call has been issued to the Democrats to meet Tuesday night at 8:30 in Gerrard hall to form a society on the campus for the furtherance of the principles and purposes of the Democratic party. At this meeting a head will be selected for the organization, and an advisory committee created to direct the movements of the club. The sponsors of the society ask all Democrats, whether by choice or inheritance, regardless of whether they are of voting age, to be present at this convention, and to take an active part in the support of their party. Taylor Bledsoe, arch-enemy of all Republicans, in charge of the preparations for the making of the club, and will preside over the meeting Tuesday.

It is rumored around that the Republicans have plans toward a like combination to protect the welfare and interests of their party, and will make a hard fight to convince the students of the wisdom of supporting the candidate put forward by the G. O. P.

Several speakers of note have been invited to speak on the campus in the near future. Mayor Jimmy Walker, who will be in the state to speak in Winston-Salem, has been wired an invitation to come to the Hill under the auspices of the yet unformed Democratic club. Senator Jim Reed, of Missouri, has been asked by the Dialectic Senate to make a visit here soon. Senator Copeland was recently asked to come here, but was unable to accept.

Tentative plans call for an election after the contest to determine by a straw vote which party, or candidate, has the greater following among the students.

Fire Yesterday in Building Department Does Little Damage

A fire in the basement of the building department yesterday morning about 8:30 was discovered and extinguished before it had assumed proportions of seriousness. The blaze started where the paints, varnishes and like materials are stored. There had been some leakage on the floor from some of the containers, and the mixture of the different substances caused the trouble from spontaneous combustion, according to employees of the department.

Smoke pouring from the cellar gave warning of the conflagration, and the fire department was called. The use of chemicals soon stopped the burning, limiting the damage to one metal door destroyed, and a general smoking up and charring of the entire basement. Unofficial estimates of the harm done put the cost at several hundred dollars.

Randolph County Club Elects New Officers

The elections of officers for the new school year featured the meeting of the Randolph County Club Tuesday night in the Y.M.C.A. social rooms. H. J. Fox was chosen president for the coming year, while R. L. Forrester was selected as new secretary and treasurer.

Plans were begun at this meeting for a social gathering of Randolph county college students to be held in Asheboro next Christmas. Refreshments were served at the Tuesday night meeting.

TAR HEELS PLAY DEACONS MONDAY IN CHAPEL HILL

Last Game Before Five Goes to Atlanta to Enter Championship Tournament.

FROSH TEAMS ALSO PLAY

Wake Forest Quint Has Not Won from 'Big Five' This Season; Ashmore Squad in Good Condition.

In the last game before their departure for Atlanta to enter the Southern Conference championship tournament, the Tar Heels take on the Demon Deacons in the Tin Can here Monday night at eight-thirty.

Wake Forest finished last season tied with the Phantoms for the state title, but this year have failed to win a game from any of the Big Five; so that unless they take the contest Monday, they will end up on the bottom this year, and their cosharers of last honors will have the place undisputed, since they have won every game they have played in the state.

Wake Forest created a surprise by coming very close to handing Duke a defeat in Raleigh this week. Duke had not lost but two games this season, both to the Heels, and was expected to annihilate Wake Forest again as in the former game between those colleges, but the Deacons, making a determined fight, were in the lead at the end of the half, and finished 37-34 not far behind their conquerors.

Rivalry between Carolina and Wake Forest has been intense for some years, and if the black clothed tossers can, they will certainly mar the record of the Carolinians, which shows no losses so far in their regular schedule.

All the members of Coach Ashmore's squad are in good condition and anticipate no trouble with the Baptists. The regular line-up probably will begin the game. This leaves on reserve both Billy Vanstory and Red Price. Price is good at either guard or forward, and Vanstory has showed up well at all three places.

Coach Belding will send his first year hopefuls in against the younger parsons in a preliminary tilt, beginning at seven-thirty.

University Helps Parental Institute

For the past three days the services of the Extension Division of the University have been directed toward the success of a conference called the State-Wide Institute of Parental Education. This conference was not sponsored by the University or any part of it, but the Social Research Department and the Extension Division were very active in the planning of the programs and in their being carried out.

Coach Bob Fetzer Decries Lack Of Interest Among Students in Athletics; Says Sports Suffer

"In spite of the urgent calls for candidates for the many branches of varsity and freshman athletics, and the splendid opportunity afforded by a well organized Intra-Mural program, there are still about fifty per cent of our students who are not competing in any form of competitive games," stated Coach Bob Fetzer in an interview recently.

With a winter program including varsity and freshman basketball, varsity and freshman track, varsity football training, wrestling, boxing, and a complete Intra-Mural program, the University's director of athletics is at a loss as to means of procuring more men for the athletic teams. Coach Fetzer is extremely anxious to get more men in line in the various athletic activities offered by the University. He further stated that it is the obligation of everyone as a student at the University to support the athletic program worthy of the leading educational institution of the South.

"That athletics should play a greater part in one's life today than ever before is shown by the tendency toward the artificial life," continued Mr. Fetzer, "for today we ride in an automobile, instead of walking or even on horseback, we eat prepared food

Midwinter Dances Lend Color To Season; Three More Hops On German Club Card Today

Junior Prom and Gorgon's Head Ball Featured Yesterday's Program.

DECORATIONS EXCELLENT

Junior Orders Add to Festivity By Giving Dinner Dances; Snow Scene at German Ball Tonight.

The Midwinter dances got off to a flying start yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium, and the revelry lasted into the small hours of the morning. Oliver Naylor's Orchestra sent out its irresistible musical call from the white and red, festooned dance floor about five o'clock, and the dancers assembled shortly after that hour.

This first hop was the Junior Prom which lasted until six-thirty o'clock. The figure was led by Mr. Charles Grimes with Miss Beryl Jones of Durham, assisted by Mr. John Anderson with Miss Rachel Highsmith of Fayetteville, and Mr. Tom Cox with Miss Elizabeth Johnston, of Washington, D. C.

The gym was made into a canopy of white festoons with crimson waves running around the balcony. Japanese parasols were hung from the top, and natural pines were banked around the walls of the building.

After the afternoon hop was over the Junior Order of the Gorgon's Head gave a dinner dance at their lodge from seven until nine o'clock.

The second German Club dance began at ten-thirty o'clock. In addition to the decorations of the afternoon electrical novelties were introduced to give a romantic touch to the nocturnal affair. A mellow moon shone from above and glowing fire-flies winked at the dancers. This dance, which lasted until one o'clock, was given by the Junior Order of the Gorgon's Head. The figure was led by Mr. Bryan Grimes with Miss Charlotte Grimes of Washington, N. C., assisted by Mr. Carlisle Smith with Miss Hallie Williamson, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Fred Johnson with Miss Beck Michael, of Talladega, Alabama.

The dancing will be resumed this morning at eleven-thirty o'clock and will last until two. This afternoon's dance, to be given by the Delta Tau Delta fraternity will begin at four o'clock and last until six-thirty. Early this evening the Junior Order of the Gimghouls will give a dinner dance at their castle from seven till nine o'clock.

The Midwinter German Club will climax these social events from ten till twelve o'clock. The figure will be led by Mr. Charles Lipscomb with Miss Louise Daniels of Greensboro, assisted by Mr. Rufus Little with Miss Elizabeth Anderson, of Sumner, S. C.

The feature of this last hop will be a snow scene produced by white confetti continuously released from among the overhanging festoons.

Varsity Baseball Men Report Today

Coach Ashmore requests that all candidates for the pitching or catching staff of the 1928 varsity baseball team report at 10 o'clock at the Tin Can this morning. It is important that all prospective candidates report at this time as a schedule of daily work-outs will be arranged.

Rev. Harry Lee Canfield of the First Universalist Church of Greensboro will preach the second of the series of University Sermons scheduled for this quarter in Gerrard Hall tomorrow evening at eight-thirty o'clock. Mr. Canfield's subject has not yet been announced.

The first sermon of the winter quarter was made by Rev. Adolph Augustus Berle of Tufts College. These sermons are held each month during the quarter, at which time well-known ministers and speakers present their addresses.

The local churches cooperate with the University officials at the time of these talks, postponing their evening services, and requesting their congregations to attend and take part in the meetings in Gerrard Hall.

Mr. Canfield has been in Greensboro only a short time, and he is expected to bring an important message to University students and townspeople.

Noted Psychologist At Epworth League Tomorrow Evening

Dr. William McDougall, professor of psychology at Duke University, will speak at the Epworth League of the Methodist church on "Human Initiative in the Improvement of the Race" tomorrow at 7:00 p. m.

The lecturer's topic will be based along the same trend of thought as that in his article, "Was Darwin Wrong?", which appeared in the February issue of the Forum.

Having completed his University work in England, Dr. McDougall came to Harvard University where he occupied the chair of psychology made famous by William James, and later accepted a position at Duke University. Among the books which he has published recently appear: "Is America Safe for Democracy?"; "Outline of Abnormal Psychology"; "The American Nation—Its Problems and Psychology"; and "The Group Mind."

University students are invited to attend this lecture which is a part of the series of program being offered by the local Epworth League.

The speaker for Monday comes to Chapel Hill with a very good record as a speaker and his messages have been well received in various places.

PHI ASSEMBLY IS FAVORING SMITH BY BARE MARGIN

But Fails to Pass Resolution Opposing Herbert Hoover for President.

LIVELY CAMPAIGN TALKS

Inconsistency of Action on the Two Resolutions Shows Indecisiveness of Results; Is Phi Democratic or Republican?

In the liveliest meeting of the Phi assembly this year, a resolution favoring Al Smith for presidency was passed by a small margin Tuesday night. The debate was based on whether Smith, the Democratic nominee, or Hoover, regarded as the foremost candidate for the Republican nomination, would make the better executive. There was much discussion, carried on by practically every member present.

Fred Parker started the action by offering a resolution to table all routine business and begin on the more important matter at once. After the passage of that bill, Representative Wilkinson got the floor and outlined the many services that Hoover has rendered the nation, and mentioned other qualifications possessed by the Old Guard man. He then predicted the probable troubles that would result from electing Smith. Mr. Parker followed him up, denying that Hoover had done so much for the country, citing the recent Mississippi flood case for example, deprecating the failure to do anything for the stricken people since, and the lack of steps to prevent like occurrences in the future. Another gentleman hastened to brand Smith as being a local man, and not suitable on account of that. This charge was answered by another of Smith's adherents who claimed national prominence for the New Yorker because of his great activity in state affairs since the state constitutional convention in 1915. Being a good governor indicates making a good president, claimed Mr. Aycock. This statement brought the suggestion that other men who have been good governors be supported for the presidency.

The first move for adjournment was overruled due to the request of Mr. Aycock that the Assembly go on record as opposing Hoover. The bill failed to pass, and dissolution of the meeting followed.

S. A. E. HOSTS AT BALL IN DURHAM

Annual Founder's Ball Proves Enjoyable Affair of Winter Season.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity maintained its record of former years in giving enjoyable dances when it gave its annual ball in the Washington Duke ballroom in Durham.

The ball was given by local alumni in commemoration of the founding of the fraternity, and since it has become an annual event it has been classed as one of the high spots of the winter's social season. Invitations were sent to all the visiting girls, and a large crowd was present for the ball.

Maynard's Southern Serenaders of Knoxville, Tenn., a leading orchestra of the south, played for the dance, and from ten until three the ballroom of the Washington Duke Hotel was filled with a joyous group of synopaters. The ballroom was appropriately and beautifully decorated with the fraternity's colors, purple and gold, while at one end of the room was the court-of-arms of the fraternity was blazing from a dark background. At the other end of the room was the name of the fraternity with years 1856 and 1928, the year of the founding of the organization and the year of the commemoration of that event. Standing flowers added to the beauty of the ballroom.

Refreshments made up of the fraternity's colors were served; these consisted of sandwiches, coffee, ices, and cakes. Souvenirs in the form of corsages of yellow roses and sweet peas were presented to the girls.

At eleven thirty the figure began, only members and pledges of the Carolina chapter being in this. Shortly after the figure the orchestra played several of the fraternity's songs, promptly at three the ball ended.
