TAR BABIES WIN WHILE VARSITY LOSES TO V. M. I.

Freshman Wrestlers Show Excellent Form to Beat Cadet Frosh 14-13.

MATCHES IN LEXINGTON

Thompson Only Carolina Grappler to Win Match; Abbott and Houghton Matches Go to Draws.

After the Carolina freshmen had polished off the V. M. I. first year men 14 to 13 in a preliminary to the varsity wrestling affair, the Cadets retaliated with a substantial 21 to 6 victory in the wind-up at Lexington, Virginia, Saturday night. The win for the Flying Cadets marked their sixth of the season.

The Cadets ran up their score on three falls, one decision, and two draws. The Tar Heels counted on the two draws and one decision.

Barwick, replacing R. Moore of Carolina in the 115 division, was pinned by Woodard, V. M. I., in exactly 2 minutes and thirty seconds. This was the shortest fight of the evening and one of the best. Thompson met Thompson in the 125 hook-up. The Carolina Thompson was victorious by a wide margin, the advantage time being 7 minutes and 29 seconds. The 135 go resulted in a fall for the Virginians, when Field threw Stone of the Tar Heels in 4 minutes and 40 seconds. Abbott, Tar Heel, and Preston, V. M. I., tussled two extra periods to a draw in the 145 section. The second Cadet fall came in the 158 pound class when McCrary threw Moore of Carolina after 8 minutes and 2 seconds. "Swampy" Twiford lost on a 7 minute and 59 second time advantage to Hasse, the Flying Cadet football luminary, in the 175 go. The curtain act witnessed an interesting struggle between Houghton of the Tar Heels and Stone, Virginia unlimited. Although outweighed by several pounds the Heel forced the bout to two extra periods to a draw.

The Carolina frosh grapplers won out in their second match of the season by a 14 to 13 margin. Stallings, the Carolina 115 pounder, after weakening himself in an effort to get down to weight for the State go, came back to prove his merit against the Cadet low weight man, when he pinned this grappler in a pretty bout. Frosh Pugilists to Meet Reynolds Hi In Winston-Salem

The University of North Carolina freshmen will journey to Winston-Salem Saturday to meet the Richard J. Reynolds fighters in the high school gymnasium.

Boxing and wrestling was introduced in the schools of North Carolina's metropolis two years ago and met with an immediate and astounding success. It is reported that this form of athletics is drawing the biggest houses of any athletic event in Winston now.

The boxing team of that city won over the Greensboro highs last week by a 6 to 1 count and have taken the measure of several independent and high school aggregations. They are unbeaten in high school circles and are reported to have a wonderful collection of maulers.

The Carolina frosh themselves throw up a mean front. They are undefeated in frosh collegiate circles, boasting victories over V. M. I., and V. P. I. Although doped to win over their more inexperienced rivals, the high school boys might throw a surprise in the Tar Heel camp.

One of the varsity reserves or "Piggy" Jarrell will accompany the first year men, who will leave by bus Saturday.

President Chase to Address Graduate Club

President Chase will address the February meeting of the Graduate Club in the Episcopal Parish House Friday evening at 7:30. This will be the first time this year that the graduate students of the University have had an opportunity to hear Dr. Chase.

The meeting is looked forward to as the most important of the year and the Graduate Club extends a cordial invitation to all members of the Graduate Faculty of Carolina to attend this assembly.

Carolina Will Meet Louisiana State Friday in Atlanta as the First on Tournament Schedule

Carolina's first opponent in the Southern Conference tournament in Atlanta will be Louisiana State University on Friday according to the announcement of the matchings sent out by the tournament committee from Atlanta Sunday.

N. C. State is also entered, and will meet the University of Mississippi in its premier appearance.

Fifteen of the twenty-two Conference institutions have entered the race this year. Vanderbilt, last year's champion, did not sign up, having had a rather poor season for 1928. Maryland is also among those not present, since the officials there overlooked the dates of tournament, and have several games on the schedule yet to be played. The other schools not taking part this year are Tennessee, V. P. I., Alabama, Tulane, and Sewanee.

The committee in charge of the tournament, overseeing the divisions and bracketing, is composed of Herman Steffman, of Georgia; Bill Alexander, Georgia Tech; Daniel McGuinn, of Vanderbilt; R. A. Smith, Washington and Lee; and W. C. Smith of Tulane.

There will be seven games Friday,

four Saturday, semi-finals Monday, and finals Tuesday night.

In the first bracket is the following arrangement:

N. C. State vs. Ole Miss at 1:30 p.m.

Kentucky vs. South Carolina at 2:30 p.m.

Georgia vs. V.M.I. at 7:00 p.m.

Carolina vs. Louisiana State at 8:00 p.m.

The second bracket has:

Mississippi A. and M. vs. Washington and Lee at 3:30 p.m.

Auburn vs. Clemson at 4:30 p.m.

Georgia Tech vs. Florida at 9:00 p.m.

Virginia holds a rest ticket for the first go-round, but meets one of the winners of the second group Saturday.

The first time that the Heels lost out in the tourney was at the hands of Ole Miss, State's opponents for the beginning set. It is not a bit unlikely that the two will meet in Saturday's struggles. Carolina could not meet Georgia, the cause of the Phantoms' elimination last year, except in the finals as they are in different sections.

DEMOCRATS WILL GATHER TONIGHT

Meet to Form Political Club; Republicans Expected to Follow Suit.

A call has been issued to the Democrats of the University Campus to meet in Gerrard Hall tomorrow night at eight-thirty o'clock for the purpose of organizing a club to foster the ideals and principles of the Democratic party. The promoters of this group urge that all men whether of voting age or not assemble at this time.

Quite a bit of agitation has been stirred up on the campus recently by the literary societies and the local publications with regard to politics. The two parties of the campus are quite opposed in their views and are creating unceasing turmoil. Taylor Bledsoe, widely known gentleman of the campus and foe of anything Republican will have charge of the preparations for this initial meeting, and will preside until a president is elected to head the band.

Rumor has it that the Republicans will combine in an effort to combat the opposition and to protect the welfare of their party. The G. O. P.'s pinning all faith in the ideals and wisdom of whatever candidate their group puts forward, will probably contest the plausibility of the argument and propaganda hurled forward by their enemies.

The campus is, undoubtedly, destined to behold an outburst of political strife and warfare. Several speakers of note and men of prominence have been extended invitations to speak here. Probably the most outstanding of these is Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, whose possibility as a Presidential candidate is causing a bit of comment and speculation over the country. Senator Copeland was recently asked to speak here, but he was unable to accept at the time.

Boxing Coach Asks Reserves to Remain On Squad for Meets

Coach Crayton Rowe, University boxing mentor, requests that in view of the fact that there yet remains on the boxing schedule a trip to the University of Florida this week-end and the Southern Conference tournament at Charlottesville the second and third of next month, the men who have been coming out for the squad stay out for the rest of the present season.

Looking forward to next year, he further suggests that two, and possibly three, of the varsity berths will be vacated by the graduation of Captain Ed Butler and "Ox" Shuford in the spring. Naturally, the men who receive the greatest amount of training this season, will have a far greater chance to step in a varsity position in '29.

TAR HEEL QUINT LEAVES THURSDAY

Regarded as Favorites in Southern Basketball Tourney in Atlanta.

Regarded as favorites, the Tar Heels will leave Thursday night for Atlanta to enter the seventh annual basketball tournament which will begin the 24th and continue through the following Tuesday.

Of the six tournaments held so far, Carolina has been the winner of four, taking the first three and the fifth. The first one lost by the Phantoms was won by the University of Mississippi, which institution defeated Carolina in the last round of play to take the cup. Last year Georgia eliminated the Heels in the semi-finals and lost in the finals to Vanderbilt. In a game earlier in the season, Georgia lost to the Hillians by a six point margin the same as the difference between the two in their game this year.

The team entering the tournament last year was composed of men who had but little experience in varsity basketball. The whole team, with the exception of one man, is the outfit that goes after the trophy again this season. With the knowledge and experience of two seasons behind them, and the advantage of two years instruction from Coach Ashmore, supported by an impressive record for the season showing but one loss, and that by a single point, the Carolinians are rated by sport dopesters and attend.

Buccaneer Just Another Slice Of Clumsy Wit but Quite Hot And Collegiate, Says Reviewer

By GOLLYWOG

The last word in thankless tasks is reviewing the Buccaneer. Reviewing of any sort is bad enough; if one man claps his hands or hisses it's still not news. However, there are more readers of Mr. Anderson's Magazine critiques than there are of the Magazine itself, and a Playmaker review is always sure of a careful perusal by Mr. Koch. Attempted comment on the Kampus Kutup is quite another story. Local credo concerning the Buccaneer has two divisions: 1. It's hot, and therefore collegiate. 2. We're all collegiate, so what the hell? No man should waste time throwing bricks at a credo, especially a credo that involves Young America's risibilities, but reviews have become a necessary evil. In this case the Buccaneer is evil and the review utterly without purpose.

This particular issue falls exactly in line with popular sentiment. It's mildly warm, a trifle careless of moral turpitude and about as collegiate as one of Mr. Kyser's Cheerios. There are jokes that suggest that sex is no longer a shrouded secret. There are smart cracks about corn and gin and other major intoxicants. There are pitiful puns and putrid poetry.

FORENSIC STARS OF VIRGINIA AND CAROLINA MEET

Debate Relations Resumed When Teams Meet in Gerrard Hall Tomorrow Night.

ARGUE FEDERAL POWER

Has Increased Power of Government Been a Wise Tendency? Bledsoe and Hudgins Uphold Negative.

For the first time in many years, Virginia comes to the Hill to oppose Carolina in a forensic contest, when representatives of the two rival universities meet in Gerrard Hall Wednesday night at 8:30 to argue on the question "Resolved that the increased power of the federal government as shown in this country in the last decade indicates a wise tendency."

Virginia, upholding the affirmative, will bring a team composed of Messrs. Al Cook and L. H. Hoover. Taking the negative side of the matter will be D. Ed. Hudgins and L. Taylor Bledsoe for Carolina. Mr. Bledsoe has had considerable experience on the stage in such activities before, opposing other institutions. This will be the initial appearance of Mr. Hudgins in an intercollegiate meet. However, he has taken part in many debates among different societies on the campus, and his work as president of the senior class stands him in good as a public speaker.

The query was offered by Virginia, and Carolina had the choice of the sides. The debate will be presided over by R. B. House, executive secretary. Professor McKie will be the secretary. The judges will be Professors E. W. Knight, O. J. Coffin, and William Olsen.

Virginia has been sending delegations every year to Chapel Hill to defend the honor of the Cavaliers in different sports, but the contest tomorrow night marks the resumption of their struggle intellectually. These debates will likely take place annually. A triangle may be formed later with Johns Hopkins or Princeton making up the third party.

After the debate, the participants therein and the officers, as well as former Carolina debaters, will be entertained at a smoker at the Episcopal parish house.

Water-way Demonstration For Engineers Friday

A demonstration on methods of conducting surveys of waste in water distribution systems will be given in the hydraulic laboratory of the engineering school next Friday by Mr. Hough, district representative of the Pitometer Company. This firm is now conducting a water-way survey of Raleigh. All sophomore and senior students are especially urged to attend.

Set of Five Midwinter Dances Brought to End Saturday Night; Many Girls Present for Hops

Phi to Continue President Topic

The Phi Assembly, at their regular meeting tonight at 7:00 p. m. in New East building will discuss again the question, "Resolved, that Al Smith will make a better man for President than Herbert Hoover." This meeting will be final in its decision as to whether the Phi Assembly cares to go on record as favoring the Democratic or Republican presidential possibilities. All present or prospective members who are interested in this question of political importance are expected to be present.

PITCHING STAFF STARTS PRACTICE

Battery Candidates in Baseball Report for Indoor Winter Training.

With the close of basketball just a week off, candidates for the Tar Heel baseball team are beginning to limber up. Coach Ashmore sent out a call for all candidates for the pitching and catching staff to report in the Tin Can Saturday morning. At the meeting plans were made for regular daily work-outs.

Captain Joe Westmoreland headed the group of pitchers which included Fulcher, varsity reserve for the past two years; Stewart and Bost, from the 1927 freshman aggregation; and Lambert and Shuler, two men out for the first time. "Red" Ellison, Coach Ashmore's only other varsity pitcher, did not report, but he is expected to be out in a short while. These two veterans will have a veteran team behind them, as only two places are vacant this year: catcher and third base.

Jimmy Maus, captain of the 1927 freshman nine, is the leading candidate for Bill Sharpe's position. However, Roy Alexander is expected to show up well in this position.

The battery candidates will work out in the Tin Can until weather conditions are such that outdoor work is advisable. By allowing his pitchers to get an early start, Coach Ashmore plans to speed up baseball practice when regular work-outs begin. The Carolina nine faces a heavy schedule this year and the baseball mentor plans to have his team in excellent condition when the season officially opens.

GA. TECH BEATS VIRGINIA ELEVEN

Dope Upset When "Tornado" Blows "Cavaliers" Over; Score 9-0.

"Georgia Tech" upset the dope Saturday afternoon and handed "Virginia" a 9 to 0 set-back. The wet condition of the field slowed up both teams considerably, but it seemed to have affected the "Cavaliers" running attack more than the attack of "Tech."

"Cavaliers" showed little of the power that enabled them to score three touchdowns on the powerful "South Carolina" eleven, while the "Tornado" blew much harder than it did last Wednesday when "Harvard" ran away with an 18-0 victory. Early in the second quarter "Tech" scored two points when Magner, "Cavalier" half-back, was downed behind his goal for a safety. This seemed to give the "Tech" team the necessary punch to score their first victory. However, it was much later in the game before "Tech" could cross the "Virginia" line. Branch, diminutive right half-back for "Tech," slipped off tackle for a score.

Erickson, Magner, and Whisnant played well in the "Cavalier" backfield, but the "Georgia Tech" stars

Decorations Are Declared To Be the Most Gorgeous Ever Seen on Campus.

WERE HELD IN BYNUM GYM

Oliver Naylor's Orchestra Furnished Music for Series; German Ball Saturday Night Closed Set.

The Mid-Winter German Club dances came to a scintillating close Saturday evening in Bynum gymnasium. Gorgeous evening dresses mixed their resplendent finery with the brilliant decorations of the ballroom, while Oliver Naylor's orchestra stimulated the dancing sliver slippers and patent leather pumps.

The decorations were some of the best ever seen on the campus. Shortly after 10 o'clock the dancers assembled under a canopy of snow white festoons. A large, mellow moon floated at one end of the room with several twinkling satellites around it. Large pine trees were ranged around the walls of the gym, and two immense Japanese parasols stood out against the snowy canopy. The electrical effects were especially attractive. At one instant the ballroom was bathed in a flood of white lights, then the brilliance would die away and the room would glow with a deep blue light coming from the edges of the balcony. White confetti descended in showers to form effective snow scenes.

This final hop was the Mid-Winter German Club Ball. The figure was led by Mr. Charles Lipscomb with Miss Louise Daniels, of Greensboro, assisted by Mr. Rufus Little with Miss Nancy Little of Greensboro, and Mr. Buddy Greer with Miss Elizabeth Anderson, of Sumpter, S. C. The German Club Ball brought to an end the set of five hops which took place on the Hill during the week end. The Junior Prom, which was held Friday afternoon, was led by Mr. Charles Grimes with Miss Beryl Jones, of Durham, assisted by Mr. John Anderson with Miss Rachel Highsmith, of Fayetteville, and Mr. Tom Cox with Miss Elizabeth Johnston of Washington, D. C.

Following this dance came the Gordon's Head Ball Friday night in honor of the Gingham. The figure was led by Mr. Bryan Grimes with Miss Charlotte Grimes, of Washington, N. C., assisted by Mr. Carlisle Smith with Miss Hallie Williamson of Fayetteville, and Mr. Fred Johnson with Miss Beck Michael of Talladega, Ala.

Saturday morning the dancing lasted from twelve till two o'clock. The Delta Tau Delta fraternity sponsored the dance, and the figure was led by Mr. Petty Waddill with Miss Ruth Ashmore, of Chapel Hill, assisted by Mr. Bill Sharpe with Miss Frances Woodard of Wilson.

Among the chaperones were Mrs. T. J. Wilson, Jr., Mrs. Charles T. Woolen, Mrs. John M. Booker, Mrs. Harold D. Meyer, Mrs. W. S. Bernard, and Mrs. H. F. Comer.

Among the girls attending the dances were:

Misses Blanche Burnette and Margaret Burnette, of Rocky Mount; Marion Taber of Columbia, S. C.;

Second Place Goes To John Henderson In Indoor Two-Mile

John Henderson, Carolina distance star, won second place in the two mile race of the South Atlantic indoor track meet held at Richmond Friday night. This race was won by Tuttle of Duke, who broke the South Atlantic and his own record by stepping off the distance in 10 minutes and 17 2-5 seconds.

Virginia won the meet and the South Atlantic indoor title by gathering in 22 points. Duke and Maryland tied for second place with 12 points each. Richmond and Washington and Lee each registered 5 points, while Carolina and George Washington each garnered three points. Wake Forest broke into the scoring with one lone point.

Three South Atlantic indoor records were shattered in the meet. Le Bauer, Virginia, hurled the shot 45 feet to break his own record by two feet. Tuttle broke the two-mile record, while his teammate Woodard hung up a new record for the mile when he clipped off the distance in 4 minutes and 45 1-2 seconds.
