Coach Rowe Takes Nine Men To Charlottesville for Southern Boxing Tournament of Weekend

Captain Butler and "Ox" Shuford Expected to Retain Southern Crowns, While Other Fugs Have Good Chances Against Conference Fighters

Nine men compose the list of leath-ers that are representing the University of North Carolina at the Southern Conference Tournament at the University of Virginia in Charlottesville, Virginia, yesterday and today.

The nine roped arena artists, Coach Crayton Rowe, and Manager Henry Lay left by bus Thursday morning for the Cavalier stronghold. They arrived there Thursday night in order to get in plenty of sleep before engaging in any of the rounds of the opening day.

Excellent championship prospects are the lot of the Tar Heels as they enter competition in the meet for the third consecutive year. Last season the Virginians themselves snatched the honors from the Rowe proteges by winning 4 to 3. Early in the collegiate season the Hillians had walloped the Cavaliers by a 5 to 2 count, so the local stars were doped to win the Conference laurels at the last meet. However, when the Virginians invited the Heels into their own backyard to fight it out the decision was reversed, but only after Captain "Ox" Shuford's cohorts had gotten in some terrific fighting.

Of the seven men who faced fire in the Tournament of last year, remain to carry the Carolina colors this season. Captain Ed Butler, "Ox" Shuford, and Charlie Brown are the veterans in question. Captain Butler and Shuford of the remaining trio won out in their fights last season, both continuing an unbroken string of collegiate victories in their battling experience. The now famous Ad Warren, heavyweight champion of the Carolinas, was the other Heel winner in their second quest for Southern honors. Charlie Brown was ousted from the race in the semi-finals in this meet but his entrance into the squared circle this year bodes ill for any opponent, for the fighting youngster will be battling the last time under Carolina colors.

The four rookies that go to make up the Carolina team are rookies in name only. They were members of the freshman aggregation of last season and varsity reserves. This year they have all been fighting like veterans (Continued on page four) evening, the Order of the Brail is giving a dance tonight in Bynum Gymnasium.

The ballroom has been decorated for the occasion, while the music will be furnished by the Buccaneers orchestra. Dancing will begin at nine o'clock and last until the midnight hour.

In keeping with a previous custom, the number of stags will be limited proportionately to the number of girls who attend, so that over-crowded conditions will not result. The sale of tickets will begin at eight-thirty at the rear entrance to the gym, where stags are admitted. Couples will enter by the front door.

This is the last Grail dance of the quarter, and, in fact, completes the mild flurry of social activities for the winter season. With exams so close at hand, no other hops have been planned before the spring holidays. The spring, however, is expected to be one long string of dancing week-ends.

Try-Outs Tuesday For Spring Drama

Shakespeare's "Tempest" Will Be Forest Theatre Play.

Try-outs for parts in Shakespeare's "The Tempest" will be held in the Playmaker Theatre on Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The "Tempest" is to be the Forest Theatre production of the Carolina Playmakers to be presented in the spring quarter. The play will be cast and work will begin at once.

Regular Meeting of University Women Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the American Association of University Women will be held at the parish house Tuesday, March 6 at 4:30 P. M. Mesdames N. B. Adams, J. C. Bynum and R. H. Wettach will be the hostesses.

Heavy Champ

"Ox" Shuford is at present holder of the Southern Conference unlimited boxing championship, and is in Charlottesville, Virginia, now to defend his title against other collegiate entrants. He has had a perfect record in college boxing, having won all of his bouts, most of them by knock-outs. The Southern conference bouts, in which he is now entered, mark his last appearance in the ring under Carolina colors.

Josephine Sharkey Will Give Sunday Playmaker Reading

Miss Josephine Sharkey will give the Playmaker reading for March on Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Playmaker Theatre. She will read selections of Irish poetry, folk-lore, and "The Travelling Man," a play by Lady Gregory.

In addition to the reading Mrs. Miriam Hilton will sing a number of Irish folk songs. The program is well balanced and varied and a large attendance is expected.

Brooks Will Discuss The Future of the Home

L. M. Brooks, a member of the faculty of the Sociology Department and a teacher in Extension Classes, has accepted an invitation to speak before the members of the Methodist Epworth League at their regular meeting Sunday evening at 7:00 P. M. Mr. Brooks has chosen his subject as "The Future Home."

"Herbert Hoover for President," Is Cry Of Di and Phi Societies as They Vote Overwhelming Majority for Republican

"After a mature consideration we are of the unanimous opinion that Herbert Hoover is the best qualified active candidate for the presidency put forward by either party by reason of his character, training, experience, and cosmopolitan attack on national and international problems. We endorse him as our choice for nomination and election." Carol Holmes, member of the Phi Society, quoting the passage from the Scripps-Howard newspapers, sounded the keynote in the joint meeting of the Di and Phi Tuesday night when the societies favored Hoover by an overwhelming majority.

At the first of the meeting there was a short discussion of the value of political machines to the University campus. Senator Bledsoe of the Di opened the argument with a firm speech in favor of the campus frame-ups and common tactics for soliciting votes. Ralph Noe, Phi, pointed out the ideal method of campus elections and proved that from their start the frame-ups were not working for the best interests of the student body.

Things Get Started At this point the discussion seemed to lack the proper fire and pep. A vote was called for and then another resolution which read: "Resolved, that the Di and Phi in joint session go on record as favoring the election of Herbert Hoover rather than Al

OLYMPIC TRYOUTS FOR TWO STATES HERE NEXT WEEK

Wrestlers of North and South Carolina To Meet in Tin Can.

MOTSINGER WILL ENTER

Hank Culp, Duke Unlimited, Thought to Be Likely Contestant; Outstanding Wrestlers of Carolinas Expected.

Carolina students will be treated to a lively grappling card when North and South Carolina tryouts for the American Olympic wrestling team are held here next Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10.

The University has been selected by the American Olympic committee as the base of operations for the neck-twisters of North and South Carolina. Any amateur in these two states is eligible for competition, so some of the South's outstanding matmen are expected to exhibit their wares in the meet beginning next Friday. The rules governing the contests will be in accordance with the American Athletic Union's policy. These rules are somewhat more moderate than those governing the Southern Conference competition, in that the so-called "torture holds" ruled out of college matches are permitted to a certain degree.

The try-outs will draw contestants from the colleges of the Carolinas, independent Y. M. C. A. aggregations, and from unaffiliated individuals. The winners in the Carolina bracket will meet the winners of another bracket and proceed thence to the finals. The eventual finalists, of course to represent the United States in the Olympic contests in Europe next summer.

Two North Carolina contestants look good to go a long way in the elimination series. They are Hank (Continued on page four)

Bridge Tournament To Promote Social Feeling in Ruffin

Ruffin Dormitory will sponsor the first bridge tournament held on the local campus with the aim of promoting the growth of a social atmosphere, and of furthering acquaintances in the building, Edwin Zagora, secretary of the dormitory, announced today. The contest will begin Monday, March 5.

There will be instructors to teach those who are unable to play. Prizes will be awarded the winners at the end of the tournament. This is probably the first time such a contest has been held in the dormitories, and it is hoped that the majority of the students rooming in Ruffin will take a part in it.

Smith," was introduced before the Hall.

Immediately after the first reading of the resolution, Mr. Wilkinson of the Phi rose to his feet praising the work of Mr. Hoover and showing the qualification of the Secretary of Commerce. The last words of the speaker were the most significant. "Hoover is a truly ideal politician and statesman," concluded the representative of the Phi.

No sooner had the man taken his seat than Senator Henry Brown, Di, was on the floor clamoring for an opportunity to introduce a man who was the outstanding politician of Tammany Hall. A man who was a representative of all classes was introduced as Alfred E. Smith of New York. "We are looking for a man who will carry the standards of the Democratic Party and a man who will give the people of this country a fair deal. Alfred E. Smith is the logical man for the presidency and his election will mean an era of prosperity and social advancement," stated the speaker as he was being called for time.

Mr. Mewburn, Phi, came to the defense of the "notorious wet." The inferences to Tammany Hall were combated with the remark that Gov. Smith had cleaned up the old Hall of scandal and that now Tammany was the cleanest place in the political life (Continued on page three)

New Classroom Building to Be Rising Soon, Building Committee Decides; Approve Plans Submitted by Architect

Leaving for Europe

CHARLES T. WOOLLEN

Charles T. Woollen, business manager and graduate manager of athletics for the University of North Carolina, together with Mrs. Woollen, is leaving today for a trip to Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Woollen plan to spend three days in New York and then sail for Havre on the French liner, Rochambeau, next Wednesday. With 72 days at their disposal, between landing at Havre and sailing from Liverpool for the return trip, they are going to try to make a complete tour of Europe but will concentrate on France and England. Their return voyage will begin May 26 and they will be back in Chapel Hill in time for commencement.

The friends of the University's business manager have been wondering when he would get away for a real rest. The summer vacation period has been no vacation for him; not for many years has he been away from his office more than a few days at a time.

During the Woollen's absence their children and their home will be under the charge of Mrs. Woollen's mother and sister, Mrs. Robertson and Miss Nellie Robertson.

ART EXHIBITION IN PERSON HALL

William Steene, New York Portrait Painter, Has Twelve Works.

Portraits painted by William Steene, New York artist of international reputation, are to be placed on exhibition in 8 Person Hall for three afternoons, beginning today, it was announced last night. The hours of exhibition are from three to six, and the exhibit is open to all students and faculty members.

Mr. Steene, with his wife and children, have resided in Chapel Hill since last fall, and most of the portraits have been painted since he came here. Several portraits of men well-known on the campus, including Judge Winston and others, are numbered among the group of twelve works. The value of the exhibit is placed at around $25,000.

The art department of the Community Club is sponsoring the exhibition. Members of the organization will be on hand all three afternoons to point out the interesting features of the portraits and of the career of Mr. Steene.

Parson Moss Resumes Pulpit after Illness

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock Parson Moss will preach on "Deals and Ideals." At the evening services at 7:45 there will be an open forum discussion of the question, "Can We Still Believe in Miracles?"

At 7:00 P. M. Christian Endeavor will be held, at which time Miss Noel Walker will report on the state Students Volunteer Conference which she attended in Durham last week-end.

The campus will be very glad to learn that Parson Moss, who has been ill for the last two weeks, is now very much better, and will be able to resume his pulpit at the Sunday services.

Nelson O. Kennedy and Orchestra Will Give Sunday Concert

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock there will be a joint concert by the University orchestra and Nelson O. Kennedy, pianist, in Memorial Hall.

This concert is the third of the University Sunday afternoon series and marks the first appearance of the orchestra this year. The organization is made up of forty-five pieces, with complete instrumentation and most of the instruments used in the large symphony orchestras. The present orchestra is made up of student and local musicians with T. S. McCorkle as conductor, and has grown from a group of about five musicians to its present size and ability to present the high grade of music which it is playing Sunday.

The program is divided into two groups by the orchestra and a central group of piano solos by Mr. Kennedy of the music department. In detail, the program is as follows:

- I
- Slavonic Dance Dvorak
- The University Orchestra
- II
- Carnival Mignon Schutt
- (a) Prelude
- (b) Caprice
- Ballade in D minor Brahms
- Scherzino Schumann
- Nelson O. Kennedy
- III
- Ballet Music No 2 from "Rosamunde" Schubert
- The Wandered, Op. 17, No. 2 Jensen
- Romance Wrangell
- Ballet Music from "The Bartered Bride" Smetana
- The University Orchestra

Misses Frances McAlister leaves today for a short visit with her sister, Mrs. Pat Petranek of Winston-Salem.

Will Probably Be Used for Commerce School, It Is Reported.

SOUTH OF MURPHEY HALL

Design Now Taken to New York Consultant for Final Touches; Work Expected to Start in "Near Future."

Plans for a new classroom building, to be used, it is expected, by the commerce department, were approved by the building committee here Wednesday. The plans have been carried to New York to the consulting architect, McKim, Mead and White by A. C. Nash of Atwood-Nash, architects who drew up the design.

The building will be south of Murphey Hall, and will have a position in relation to the language building much like that of the Steele dormitory to Saunders Hall. It will be three stories in height, and not unlike Murphey and Saunders in outward appearance. The construction will be of brick and limestone, with the usual fire-resistant construction. There will be but two stairways, effecting a considerable saving in space. These stairs will be located in such a way that they proportionately divide the building at proportionate distances from the ends and center.

On the first floor will be four rooms each 30 1-3 by 20 feet, and one 37 by 38 feet. On this floor will be seminar rooms and the dean's offices. The second floor will have one room 30 1-2 by 48 feet. The third floor will have much the same layout.

The total length will be about 140 feet, and the width around 52 feet. At the rear will be a wing, something like that of the Murphey building, which will be 20 by 41 feet.

The building committee is anxious to get the work started on this structure as soon as feasible. No action was taken by it on the new library, since the bids were not in at that time.

HI CHAMPIONSHIP SETTLED TONIGHT

Charlotte and Wilmington Clash in Tin Can for Basketball Laurels.

The title of state champion in high school basketball will be determined here tonight in the Tin Can when Charlotte meets Wilmington in the last game of a long race for state honors. Both schools have a good record so far. Charlotte has won every game this year, as far as known here, while Wilmington has lost only one.

In 1920 these same two schools met here in the finals of the race and Wilmington was acclaimed winner after the hardest high school game seen on a local court. That was before the days of the well-known Tin Can, the Bynum gymnasium affording the setting for such contests. Playing then were Moore, John Purser, and Abe Neiman for Charlotte, and on the Wilmington outfit were Green and Shepherd among others. Of these, Purser, Neiman, and Green all made names for themselves later as members of Carolina Southern championship teams. The other mentioned players have distinguished themselves on other courts. From that year till this, these two teams have not met in a championship tilt, and probably not in any game at all.

Wilmington has already one state title to its credit this year since that school pushed out Greensboro to win the football cup in the fall. Charlotte has not had a state cup from the Extension Division in several years now.

The New Hanover Wildcats won the eastern title by defeating Ellerbe, a most surprising "dark horse," in Raleigh a few days ago, with the score of 25-16. Previously they overcame, in the elimination series, Fremont, Richlands, South Port and Beulaville. Charlotte comes here by right of a 46-28 win over Candor to represent the west. Preceding wins ended thus: Asheville, 25-17; Mt. Ulla, 29-18; Bessemer, 34-21; Pineville, 46-22; Lincolnton, 56-21.

Both teams arrived in town yesterday evening, and have worked out on the floor of the Tin Can to get (Continued on page four)
