

SONGS AND DANCES TO BE PRESENTED HERE THURSDAY

Program of European Folk Entertainment to Be Given by Visiting Ladies.

A program of Eastern European folk songs and dances will be given by Misses Eleanor Cook and Eugenia Polliard in Memorial Hall at eight-thirty Thursday night.

This program of entirely unique folk material from Russia, the Balkans, India, and other parts of the East, is being given here under the sponsorship of Phi Mu Simfonia, the local musical fraternity. This type of program is almost entirely new in the local entertainment field and is rich in the characteristics, moods, expression, and revelation of the countries whose music and dances are given.

The entire presentation of dances and songs is given in costumes gathered in these countries and brought to America by Miss Cook. This young artist has made several trips to Eastern Europe to gather material, inspiration, and costumes for her programs. The program to be used here on Thursday night is made up of material gathered by Miss Cook while on her trip to Europe last summer, at which time she was requested to give the performance for H. M. Queen Marie of Roumania.

Besides the charm of far away countries and customs, the program carries an additional charm of the young ladies who are presenting it. Both are natives of Connecticut and attended Miss Porter's school, where they were classmates of a local young lady, Dr. Patterson's daughter. They are both talented musicians and dancers, gifted with rare personality and charm, and are both members of the Junior League, under whose auspices they have appeared in a number of Southern cities.

The music and performances of the artists have received a great deal of praise all over the country. A few quotations from the press will serve to show the esteem in which their work is held in various parts of the country: A Buffalo paper describes the program as, "A glimpse of flashing beauty of color and design that was inspiring"; a Scranton paper says, "One of the loveliest pictures that has ever graced the Century Club stage"; and the Miami Herald critic declares, "The songs are what folk songs should be—fragile bits taken from life."

ENGINEERS HAVE DELIGHTFUL BALL

Two Week-end Dances Furnish Amusement for Visiting High School Students.

The Grail Dance Saturday night topped off a busy week-end for the University's dancers as well as for visiting high school athletes. Although the Engineering School's ball was open to an unlimited number of couples, and to a limited number of stags.

The Engineers used the Carolina Inn Ballroom for their ball. The room was appropriately decorated with Carolina colors and emblems representing the three branches of engineering taught at the University. The pins of the two engineering societies were also prominently placed.

The Carolina Buccaneers played for the Ball at the Inn, and just before intermission a special number was presented by two members of the school. The duo introduced the new song "Lonely" to the Hill for the first time.

The Buccaneers also furnished the music for the Grail Dance.

Family and Sexual Education Course Offered Seniors

Ed Hudgins, Jr., president of the senior class, announced late yesterday afternoon that arrangements had been completed with the Sociology department for the offering in the spring quarter of Sociology 11. This course will be given by Dr. E. R. Groves and is a course dealing with the family and sex education.

The course has been planned especially for the male members of the senior class. However, undergraduates who are not returning to school next year may arrange to take the course by applying to Dr. Meyer of the sociology department.

Dr. Groves is one of the best authorities in America on family life and sex education. Those taking this Sociology 11 course will be given private interviews, if asked for, and he will deal with the subject of sex in a frank, open-minded way.

The class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from four to six o'clock. Anyone wishing further information about the course should see Dr. Meyer in Alumni building.

Miss Dorothy Jones of Charlotte who has been spending several days with her sister, Miss Minnie B. Jones, returned home Monday.

Miss Rebecca Graham has returned from Durham where she visited her aunt, Mrs. Paul Graham over the week-end.

First Big Event of 1928 Track Season Takes Place Here This Afternoon; Everyone Eligible.

The annual Winter Track and Field Carnival of the Intramural Athletic Department, carded for Emerson Field this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock, will be the first big event on Carolina's 1928 cinder calendar. The Intramural authorities are hoping for a record number of contestants in all the events.

The largest schedule of events ever featured in an Intramural meet will be run off this afternoon. Special features will be two relays open to any dormitory or fraternity team—one of the relays being the quarter mile event with each man running 110 yards, the other a half-mile race with each of the team quartet running 220 yards—and still another outstanding race will be the "Varsity Handicap Mile" which bids fair to rival even the Hahn-Peltzer-Conger struggle that was dubbed the "Mile of the Century."

The meet this afternoon opens strictly at 4:00 o'clock, and all events will be run off according to the time schedule printed below. Managers of dormitory and fraternity teams are asked to turn in their complete team roster as early as possible before the meet. This entrance blank should be turned in to the "Meet Registrar" who will be stationed near the main entrance gate.

Non-fraternity men who room out in town will run unattached, their points not counting for any team, and they will have to register and draw their competing number before the meet begins. There are quite a number of these athletes who will be running under their colors, and they may prove potent factors in the scoring.

Religion School To Hear Rabbi Ellis

Rabbi Milton Ellis of Temple Emanuel, Greensboro, will lecture on "Pharisaism" at eight o'clock tonight on the second floor of the Methodist church. This lecture is the last but one in a series of special lectures planned by the school of religion on the general subject of "Christianity in the Apostolic Age."

All members of the Carolina Jewish society are especially invited to attend this lecture, but the invitation is also extended to all students and faculty members who are interested in the subject under discussion.

According to the reports of Professor M. T. Workman, dean of the school of religion, the special Tuesday night course has proved widely popular both with students and townspeople. A similar course, following the same arrangement in general lines, but pursuing a different subject, will be given during the spring quarter on Tuesday nights.

ORCHESTRA GIVES SUNDAY CONCERT

Balanced and Varied Program Is Given in Memorial Hall under Direction of McCorkle.

The University orchestra under the direction of T. Smith McCorkle rendered a thoroughly enjoyable program Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in Memorial hall.

The favor and appreciation which these Sunday afternoon concerts have found on the campus and in the community was evidenced by the unusually large crowd which practically filled the concert hall.

The arrangement of musical numbers was well balanced and varied. The first number, "Slavonic Dance," by Dvorak was rendered well and was marked by exceptional rhythm and a direct sympathy between the director and his musicians.

Nelson O. Kennedy, pianist, played two group selections with his usual grace of technique and accurate interpretation. These were "Prelude" and "Caprice" from Carnival Mignon by Schutt; "Ballade in D Minor" by Brahms and Scherzino by Schumann. "Romance" by Wrangell, among the last group of orchestra selections, was played with delightful expression and spirit. The "Wanderer" by Jensen was also well rendered.

The program included the following numbers:

Slavonic Dance	Dvorak
Carnival Mignon	Schutt
Prelude
Caprice
Ballade in D minor	Brahms
Scherzino	Schumann
Ballet Music No. 2, from "Rosamunde"	Schubert
The Wanderer (Op. 17, No. 2)	Jensen
Romance	Wrangell
Ballet Music from "The Bartered Bride"	Smetana

Miss Sharkey Gives Playmaker Reading

Program of Irish Material Proves to Be One of Best Given This Year.

The Playmaker reading for March proved to be one of the most delightful readings given during the year. The program was varied and with the singing of the Irish folk-songs, it held the interest of the audience throughout the evening.

The program consisted entirely of Irish material. Poetry, folk-lore, Irish folk-songs, and a play, "The Traveling Man," by Lady Gregory, made up the evening's program.

Miss Josephine Sharkey read with a complete understanding of her material and the folk-songs sung by Mrs. Miriam Hilton, with Miss Anita Darling at the piano, were well received.

Three Tar Heels Fight Way To Southern Conference Honors

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR BALL TEAM

Nine Lettermen Back as a Nucleus for University Baseball Squad; Practice Underway.

With the advent of warm weather, Coach Ashmore has started regular baseball practice for candidates for the 1928 Tar Heel nine. Indications are that the diamond aggregation this year will be as strong as the 1927 state champions, for no less than nine letter men are back from last year's team and these are supplemented by a host of freshmen.

The veterans are headed by Captain Joe Westmoreland, whose mound duty last year earned him the captaincy of this year's team. "Red" Ellison has had a year's experience with the varsity and should go well when called to the mound. Coach Ashmore has only one infield position to fill, third base. Tom Young, Burt, and Satterfield are back for the other three positions.

In the outfield, Mackie and Tom Coxe are back for duty, and as Bill Dodderer is also eligible for the sport, three experienced fly chasers are insured for the coming season. The Tar Heel mentor will have to find a catcher to take Bill Sharpe's shoes, but Jimmie Maus, captain of the 1927 freshman nine, has had several years of experience behind the bat and should relieve the coach's worries as to that position. Luftie, who was ineligible last year, proved to be a capable infielder while playing with the reserves and may play third this year.

The Tar Heels have an unusually hard schedule this year, playing all the Southern Conference teams in North Carolina, Virginia, and Maryland, besides engaging several powerful northern nines. They hung up an enviable record last spring by coping the state championship, but with Wake Forest boasting a greatly improved team, the 1927 champs may find trouble in annexing the title again this year.

TITULAR GAME ON FOR TONIGHT

New Dorms and Kappa Sigma In Cage Finals; New Dorms and Old West to Wrestle Tomorrow.

The Intramural athletic program for the winter quarter will close this week with the finals in the dormitory wrestling tournament and the final championship basketball game between the winners of the titles in the dormitory and fraternity leagues.

It so happens, too, that New Dorms will figure in both of these final events. After winning titles this year in cross-country, football, boxing, and the dormitory crown in basketball, the lads from the Confederate Dorms battled their way to the top in these other two sports.

The New Dorms and Kappa Sigma squads, champions of their respective leagues, will battle tonight in the Tin Can for the campus championship. The game will be called at 8:30 o'clock and will bring together some of the fastest cagers seen on Intramural courts this season.

Following up tonight's contest New Dorms and Old West clash Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock in the finals of the annual dormitory wrestling tournament. New Dorms downed Mangum 6 to 1 in the semifinal round, while Old West won over Old East. Both clubs boast some fine grapplers, and the matches may be hotly contested.

Language Examinations For Graduate Students

The Spring examination covering a reading knowledge of French for those who expect to become candidates for the doctor's degree will be given at ten o'clock on Saturday morning, March 31, 1928, in Murphey 314; the corresponding examination in German will be held at nine-thirty on Saturday morning, April 7, in Murphey 301.

Graduate students who expect to take either or both of these examinations this spring should leave their names at the Graduate Office by March 17.

Virginia Trails Carolina's 20½ Points with 15½ Counters; Shuford, Brown and White Fight Brilliantly.

"Ox" Shuford, Charley Brown, and Rufus White all fought brilliantly to survive the final round of the Southern Conference boxing tournament at the University of Virginia, last Friday and Saturday, and to bring the Southern Conference boxing championship to the University of North Carolina. The University of Virginia, last year's champs, trailed the Tar Heels' 20½ points with a 15½ score, to place second in the meet.

The Heels and the Cavaliers were trailed in order by Florida, Georgia, and V. P. I., the remainder of the Conference representatives in the tournament. While the aforementioned Carolina stars were proving themselves the masters of their division, every one of the remaining Carolina seven won out in at least one of the preliminary rounds to bring the Tar Heel score to winning proportions. The battlers who failed to weather the finals but who won the lower rounds were Coley, Sapp, Allen, and Captain Ed Butler.

The biggest surprise of the meet was Captain Butler's loss to Weed of Virginia. This was the fighting Tar Heel leader's first loss of his career and news of his defeat was received with astonishment here. Butler had a decision from the Virginia bruiser earlier in the season, but the winner staged a great comeback to take the laurels from Butler after the even encounter had gone into an extra period. Captain Butler's long layoff, due to an injury received in the Georgia meet, was a factor attributing to his defeat. In order to be entirely cured for the Southern Conference tournament he had refrained from actual scrimmage for about a month, and in the meantime his punch had lost its time and the famous old weaving attack just wasn't functioning. In a consolation fight the Heel captain won a decision over Shensky of Georgia in three rounds.

Odell Sapp went to the semi-finals before Bobby Hooks of Georgia outpointed him in an extra period. The big Carolina football star had previously won over Cross of Florida to enter the semi-windup affair.

After entering the finals by virtue of a three round decision over Kemp of Georgia and a bye, Cheatem Coley, Carolina bantam star, was outpointed by Miller of Florida after an extra round of furious fighting.

Archie Allen in the lightweight division lost his first fight to Captain Frank Gilmer of Virginia but came back to win over Welker of Virginia in three rounds in the second round of battling.

As to the finalists of the Carolina cohorts, "Ox" Shuford probably showed more stuff than any man in the tournament. Shufe got one of the two K. O.'s of the meet. Miles of Tech got the other knockout when Gibson of Virginia, a natural light-heavyweight, stepped into one of the big Gobbler football captain's right smashes. But Miles met "Ox" in the finals and the local luminary had no trouble in outpointing the V. P. I. representative in regulation time. Marsailles of Georgia was the man who failed to weather the three rounds with Shuford and went down for counts three times before the referee.
