

ALL INTRAMURAL FIVE IS PICKED

Nap Luffy Selects All-Fraternity and Dormitory Loopers.

(By Wallace Shelton)

Nap Luffy, ace of Luther Byrd's staff of intramural basketball referees, and third baseman on "Pop" Ashmore's University of North Carolina baseball squad, certainly knows his basketball players, if you take it from us.

Nap has had, oh, ever so much experience in handling the spherical leather, and in handling handlers of said leather. He played at Greensboro High three or four years and captained the quint once, no more than he did. He stuck around on Lester Bolding's Freshman five last year on the list of ineligible, and this year took a shot at the Varsity squad until the intramural season rolled around and he became an arbiter in his own right. With this as a background, Luther Byrd, the big bat and ball man of the intramural department, put upon the willing shoulders of the Bonaparte the task of selecting a few honor teams for the campus. And he did.

In making these selections Luffy said he kept the following facts before him: (1) Scoring ability, (2) floor work, (3) defensive ability, and (4) team work. So here are the teams selected by our sage and the men who, he thinks, measure up to the requirements set by him:

All Dormitory
Right forward, Wallace, New Dorms
Left forward, Alexander, New Dorms
Center — Mann, New Dorms
Right guard — Choate, New Dorms
Left guard — Rape, New Dorms

All Fraternity
Right forward, Shepherd, Kappa Sigma

Left forward, Chatham, D. K. E.
Center — Craig, D. K. E.
Right guard, Gordon Gray, D. K. E.
Left guard, Hudgins, Kappa Sigma

All Campus
Left forward, Wallace, New Dorms
Center — Craig, D. K. E.
Right guard, Hudgins, Kappa Sigma
Left guard — Choate, New Dorms

The honorable mention list:
All Dormitory—forward, Connelly (New Dorms), Lingerfelt (Carr), Easley (Carr); center, Crane (Carr); guards, Rhyne (G), Zimmerman (J).

All Fraternity—forward, Miller (Tau Epsilon Phi), Plumley (Beta Theta Pi), Webb (Kappa Sigma), Galloway (Beta Theta Pi), Scott (Pi Kappa Phi); centers, O'Neill (Sigma Alpha Epsilon), Waddell (Beta Theta Pi); guards, Evans (Tau Epsilon Phi).

All Campus—forward, Webb (Kappa Sigma), Miller (Tau Epsilon Phi), Chatham (Delta Kappa Epsilon); centers, Mann (New Dorms), Waddell (Beta Theta Pi); guards, Rape (New Dorms), Gordon Gray (Delta Kappa Epsilon).

One unique feature of the picks is the fact that the entire New Dorms team was picked for the All-Dormitory honor roll. The Confederate Dormitory crew galloped through the entire season undefeated, it will be remembered, and won the dormitory title and then the campus crown by trouncing "Bo" Shepherd's Kappa Sigma crew in one of the most thrilling contests ever witnessed in the Tin Can. Every man on the New Dorms squad and on Nap's Dormitory selection played a great brand of ball to bring the title home and every one of them more than deserves the honor conferred upon them. Nap said it looked like there was something "fishy" in picking the entire New Dorms team for the honor posts but he tried and could find no way out of it. Carr fared best in the pick for honorable mention berths. That crew poled three men. New Dorms, J, and G got one each.

The Dekes secured three places on the All-Frat pick, while Kappa Sigma got two. The Dekes were runners-up to the Kappa Sigs for the cup in the fraternity league. The Dekes were represented in the league by four former Woodberry Forest monogram wearers and three of these won out in the picks. Gordon Gray, Chatham and Craig are the tossers in question. "Bo" Shepherd, the Army flash, and Ed Hudgins are the other post winners. Hudgins played center all season but because of his great defensive ability Luffy places him at a guard post. Ed's opponents amassed the astonishing sum of eight points over a

BASKETBALL NOTICE

All men expecting to go out for varsity basketball next year are requested to report for spring practice this year. Practice began April 4th and will be every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoon at 4:00 P. M. in the Tin Can. Men wanting equipment should report early.

"The Crucifixion" To Be Sung Again Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow night Sir John Stainer's "The Crucifixion" will be sung at the Episcopal church at seven-thirty.

"The Crucifixion" was sung by the Chapel Hill Capella choir last Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church and is being repeated since the church was not large enough to accommodate the numbers wishing to hear this famous passion composition of Easter music. The composition itself is one of the foremost of sacred Easter compositions and is a favorite especially adapted for Good Friday. Every year, on Good Friday evening, "The Crucifixion" is heard all over the Christian world.

The soloists for "The Crucifixion" are: Spencer C. Schorr, tenor; Wesley Beans, baritone; and Mrs. A. S. Wheeler, organist.

Schedule Announced By Debate Council

The Debate Council announces the scheduling of a triangle debate with Johns Hopkins University and Washington and Lee University and a freshman debate with Davidson College, both on the query, Resolved, that the United States should cease to intervene with armed force in Latin America. Four teams in all will be selected, two varsity, and two freshman. The final debates will come about May 15. The squad discussions, including both freshmen and sophomores, will begin tonight at 7:30 in 201 Murphey, will some member of the faculty who is familiar with the subject as a part of his field leading the discussion. All those who are interested in trying for one of these teams should register with Professor George McKie as soon as possible and begin attending the discussions.

The Debate Council has offers to enter the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution and the North Carolina Peace Oratorical Contest. A number of men have expressed themselves as wanting to enter both, and all applicants who may be interested should see Professor McKie as soon as possible, so that the preliminaries can be held.

span of eleven games this season. Shepherd, the Kappa Sigma scoring ace, was moved to a forward to make room for Ed.

For his All-Campus team Luffy consolidated and sifted out his first two picks. New Dorms and Kappa Sigma tied for places on this highest honor quint. Each placed two men. Kelly Wallace and Page Choate are the representatives from the "Uptown Dorms," while "Bo" Shepherd and Ed Hudgins are the Kappa Sig winners. Craig, of the Dekes, is the odd man. This five is a powerful one. Each man on it has played several years of prep school ball. Each, also, is a dead shot from any position at any time. Individually it is almost impossible to get a shot off any of them. And it was Kelly Wallace's great shot, one of the prettiest seen this year, that brought the campus title to New Dorms. "Bo" Shepherd was All-Eastern and on the second All-American a couple of seasons ago. Craig played center on the Woodberry Forest club for two seasons. Choate and Hudgins got their early training in high school, Choate at Salisbury and Ed at Marion. Yes, this is a powerful quint and above criticism.

Luffy picks "Bo" Shepherd as the most outstanding intramural cager—and why not? Page Choate, the New Dorms guard sensation, received the nomination for the runner-up most outstanding position.

UNIVERSITY LAW TAR HEELS DOWN SCHOOL GRANTED OLD LINERS 3-2 SIGNIFICANT HONOR

Twelve Innings Necessary for Heels to Get Advantage.

One of the Twenty-six Out of Sixty Standard Law Schools in This Country Given the Order of the Coif.

A chapter of the Order of the Coif, membership in which is one of the most coveted honors that can come to a student in the leading law schools of the country, has been granted to the University Law School, according to advices received by the faculty recently.

The Order of the Coif is an honor society which corresponds in the law schools to Phi Beta Kappa in the Colleges. The Order was founded in 1907 at Northwestern University. To be eligible for a chapter the School must meet certain very rigorous requirements as to faculty, library and student scholarship. In the list of more than sixty standard law schools in this country and Canada, only twenty-six of the best of these have been admitted to the Order.

The name of the Order may be traced to the traditions of the English Bar. From earliest times, the Coif or hood was the distinctive feature of the garb of the highest order of advocates, who were called Serjeants-at-law. The Serjeants were a small and closely knit professional body who held high the ethics and ideals of the legal profession. They had the exclusive privilege to be heard as counsel in the Court of Common Pleas, and only those lawyers who had attained the rank of Serjeant were eligible to be appointed judges. Perhaps the Coif and the habit of calling each other "brother" which obtained among the judges and Serjeants, (which latter pleasant manner of address may still be heard in North Carolina court-houses today, where one lawyer calls his opponent his "learned brother") both date back to the earliest days of the Bar when since only priests could read and write, all lawyers were members of the clergy. The rules of the Serjeants forbade them to remove the Coif even in the presence of the King.

The present-day order of the Coif admits to membership the faculty of the school where the chapter exists and also admits each year the three students (or not to exceed ten per cent of the class) from the graduating class who during their entire law course have attained the highest scholastic standing. All over the country the Key—insignia of The Order of The Coif—may be seen on the watch-chains of lawyers who have done distinguished work in their student days, and as might be expected, these men hold many of the great positions in the profession and in the judiciary.

All of the alumni of the law school who have graduated since it began to require three years for a degree and who ranked among the three highest in their respective classes will be invited to join the Order.

The three chief scholastic honors now attainable by law students are membership of the Editorial board of the Law Review, The Order of the Coif, and the award of a degree "with honors."

TAR HEELS DOWN OLD LINERS 3-2

Twelve Innings Necessary for Heels to Get Advantage.

Twelve innings were necessary before the Tar Heel nine could hand the University of Maryland a 3-2 set back Tuesday afternoon on Emerson field. Monday afternoon the Heels had little trouble with the Old Liners, but Tuesday the visitors with Mace on the mound battled the Carolina nine on more even terms.

Henry Satterfield, diminutive but flashy Carolina shortstop, sent the winning run across the plate in the twelfth inning by singling sharply to left with the bases loaded. This was the fifth successive single for the stellar Tar Heel shortfielder and topped off an afternoon of brilliant work.

Contrary to expectations, the game opened in slow fashion and it was not until the sixth inning that either team was able to score. Mace was holding the Heels in check and the Old Line team was fielding better than they did in the preceding game.

In the sixth, Maryland grabbed a two run lead, on Luffy's error, Radice's single, and Wilson's triple to right. This lead was shortlived, however, for the Heels came back in the seventh and pushed across two runs to even the count. Mackie was given a free pass, Jessup smashed out a triple, and Luffy sent him home with a single.

Neither team scored again until the twelfth. Bob Jessup singled, two infield hits sent him to third; then Satterfield broke the game up by driving out his fifth single to score Jessup and give himself a perfect batting average for the day.
