

SENATOR BURTON UNABLE TO SPEAK HERE WEDNESDAY

Republican Club Now Negotiating with Another National Figure for Appearance Here.

Senator Thomas E. Burton, who was to speak here tomorrow night, will be unable to fill his engagement, according to an announcement made late yesterday by A. L. Butler, who is in charge of arrangements for the Republican Club.

Senator Burton has found it necessary to take an early train out of Raleigh in order to be in Washington early Thursday morning. The Senator is the principal speaker at the Republican State Convention in Raleigh tomorrow, where he is expected to sound the key-note for the Republican party. He had accepted an invitation to speak here in Memorial Hall following his address in Raleigh.

The Republican Club is at present negotiating with a figure of national prominence who is expected to fill Senator Burton's engagement at some later time. It is understood that the speaker will be an unusually interesting and important man.

BASEBALL TEAM ON ANNUAL TOUR

Tar Heels Will Play V. P. I., V. M. I., Maryland, W. and L., and Cavaliers.

The Tar Heels left Sunday evening for Salisbury, where they met Davidson College yesterday in the first game of their Easter Week trip. Today they meet V. P. I. in Blacksburg, tomorrow and Thursday they move on to Lexington where V. M. I. and Washington and Lee are to be played.

V. P. I. has already lost several games, one of which was the Davidson fracas. The Heels, on the other hand, have had fair success in their early games, defeating Elon, Maryland, and Penn, while they have lost to Pennsylvania and Washington and Lee.

The game tomorrow will be the first in an athletic contest this spring. The Cadets and the Heels have established a keen rivalry and Coach Ashmore's aggregation will be pushed hard to win over the Lexington team. The contest with Washington and Lee will give the Heels a chance to avenge the 6-4 defeat the Generals handed them Saturday.

Friday, the Carolina team moves to College Park, Md., for the third contest with Maryland. The first game with Greasy Neale's Cavalier crew will be played at Charlottesville, Saturday. The next meeting of the Heels with the Virginians will be on Emerson field May 11, while the third contest will be in Greensboro May 12.

Coach Ashmore's line-up in the games will probably be: Maus, catcher; Mackie, first base; Ed Burt, second; Satterfield, short; Luffy, third; and Barnharde, Coxe and Jessup, outfielders. Captain Joe Westmoreland, Ellison, Ball, Fulcher, and Bost will probably do the hurling for the Heels.

GENERALS LOSE TO HEEL GOLFERS, 12-6

Washington and Lee Team is Easy Victim for Carolina Drivers; Davidson Here Thursday.

The Tar Heel golfers handed the Generals of Washington and Lee a 12-6 defeat over the Hope Valley course Friday. The matches were started Friday morning and closed that afternoon. In the morning rounds the Heels went out in front, but the afternoon matches favored the golfers from Virginia.

The Carolina golf team is composed of Beverly Mason, June Adams, L. C. Steward and Tom Royster. Mason is club champion of the Biltmore Forest club and is number one man of the Heel's team.

Steward captured low score honors with a total of 77 for the 18 holes. In the single matches in the morning Mason and Chandler both shot 78's, but the Tar Heels won the match two up. June Adams and Eicholtz also had the same total score, but, in this

ELECTION EXTRA

An Election Extra of the Tar Heel will be published right after the election returns have been completed and the stories set up and run off. Only 1,000 copies will be printed and the extra will be only two sheets consisting entirely of election news. Copies will be on sale immediately after the edition comes off the presses at the Smoke Shop and at Sutton and Alderman's and copies will be sent through the dormitories to be sold at the price of five cents each. This must be done to assist in defraying the expenses of the extra. Glenn Holder and Andy Anderson will manage the issue. They expect the edition to be off the presses about eleven o'clock.

36 STUDENTS GET ATHLETIC AWARDS

Eight Monograms Awarded for Major Sports; Freshmen Given 1931 Numerals by Council.

Thirty six members of varsity and freshman athletic teams at the University have just been awarded monograms, stars or numerals for services during the basketball, boxing and wrestling seasons.

The awards were made by the University Athletic Council and were announced Saturday. They go to eight Tar Heel basketball players, seven of the varsity boxing team that won the Southern Conference Championship, to four varsity wrestlers and to seventeen members of the freshman boxing and wrestling squads.

The full major sports "NC" was awarded to the eight varsity basketball players, with stars to denote number of previous years of service. Those receiving letters were as follows: W. A. Dodderer, Hendersonville, letter and three stars; W. A. Vanstony, Greensboro, letter and two stars; Captain W. W. Morris, Charlotte, letter and one star; Captain-elect R. R. Hackney, Durham, letter and one star; C. R. Purser, Charlotte, letter and one star; J. C. Price, Elberle, letter and one star; H. C. Satterfield, Durham, letter; and George Cathey, Candler, letter.

The minor sports "wNCT" goes to the seven regulars on the Southern championship boxing team. These awards were as follows: Captain J. E. Butler, Glen Alpine, letter and two stars; E. G. Shuford, Lincolnton, letter and two stars; Captain-elect Charles Brown, Charleston, S. C., letter and one star; Rufus White, Hertford, letter; A. T. Allen, Raleigh, letter; C. G. Coley, Raleigh, letter; and C. O. Sapp, Winston-Salem, letter.

The minor sports "wNCT" will go to the four leading members of the Tar Heel varsity wrestling team. Those receiving letters follow; E. G. Thompson, Roxboro, letter and star; D. L. Moore, Stokes, letter; P. B. Abbott, Winston-Salem, letter; and C. W. Twiford, Norfolk, Va., letter.

MEN WANTED FOR HEELER CONTEST

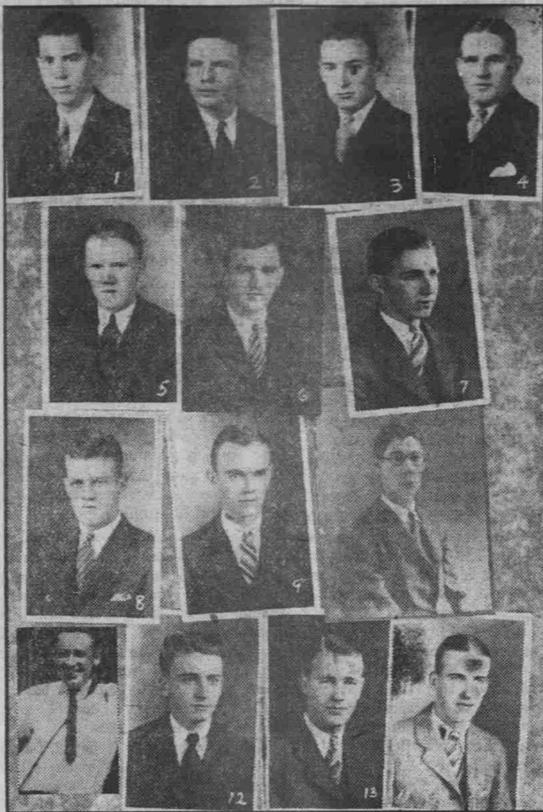

Assignments Made Last Night to Those Who Reported to Tar Heel.

The Heeler contest to select the new reporters for the Tar Heel started last night when several men met at the office of the publication and were given assignments.

The contest will last for one week and the new men will be selected entirely on a competitive basis. Anyone who was unable to attend the meeting last night and would like to enter the contest is requested to cover the elections with a human interest story that should be in the office by Wednesday night. A story on the freshman baseball game with Greensboro high school should be in the Tar Heel office by Friday night. The third assignment for the new men is to cover chapel exercises Friday morning.

This story must be turned in by Friday night. These three stories will be judged by the board of editors and the most capable men selected for the new staff. Anyone desiring further information concerning the tryouts drop by the Tar Heel office about two o'clock this afternoon.

JUNIOR PROM IS WELL ATTENDED

Gymnasium Attractively Decorated For Occasion; Many Girls and Uncrowded Floor Make Enjoyable Dance.

The Junior Prom, held in Bynum Gymnasium Friday night, proved to be one of the outstanding social events of the season.

It was well attended by all those juniors who did not go home for the week-end. Nor was the attendance limited to juniors, for it was augmented by numerous seniors, sophomores, and freshmen who called themselves juniors for the night.

The Gymnasium, attractively decorated in the school colors of blue and white, accommodated the crowd more comfortably than is usual at dances in the Gym.

The figure was led by Charley Burns of Wadesboro with Miss Fay Cox of Rockingham, Walter Brown of Burlington with Miss Emily McClelland of Chapel Hill, and Walter Spearman of Charlotte with Miss Emma Cothran of Charlotte.

Tar Babies Win Track Meet from Charlotte

Gay, Ferrel, and Neiman Score Ten Points Each Against High School Visitors.

The Tar Baby trackmen won from Charlotte High, on a muddy track Saturday, 67 to 51 in the first year men's second meet of the week. The high school boys pushed the yearling trackmen most of the way through, but fell behind in the last few events.

Reid, Charlotte hurdler and jumper, led the scoring in the meet with two firsts and a tie for a first. The Charlotte boy tied for first in the high jump, ran away with the high hurdles, and then won the lows to top off a day's work.

Gay, Ferrel, and Neiman of the freshmen and Mullis of Charlotte were runners-up in the scoring with ten points each. Gay captured the two sprints in easy fashion, Ferrel annexed the quarter and the 880, and Neiman won the pole vault and the broad jump. The former Charlotte star jumped 21 feet 1 3/4 inches for the most noteworthy performance of the afternoon.

Size and Beauty to Be Feature Of the New Library Building

Long and Careful Planning of Architects and Committee to be Rewarded by Largest and Most Beautiful of Buildings on University Campus; Will Cost $625,000 and Re- quire Fifteen Months to Complete It.

(By R. W. Madry)

The long needed and much talked of new Library for the University is soon to be a reality.

Final plans that were submitted by the University trustees and faculty committees have been approved by Governor Angus McLean, Director of the Budget, and, barring unforeseen obstacles, work on the new structure, which is to be the first unit of a larger building, will be pushed forward without delay. Estimates are that the construction will require fifteen months, which means that it may be completed by next summer.

The plans call for the largest and most beautiful building on the University campus. The cost is to be $625,000, this sum having been appropriated by the last General Assembly. The site is on the south side of the campus, closing up the quadrangle of which South building makes the opposite end and Steele, Saunders, and Murphey one side. Plans for the future development of that part of the campus call for a set of buildings that will form the other side and complete the quadrangle figure. The new Library is to be 844 feet south of South Building and at the southern end of the campus, the rear being about 140 feet from the south road. The building is to face north.

Designed by Atwood and Nash
The building was designed by Atwood and Nash, Inc., University architects and engineers, with the firm of McKim, Mead, and White, of New York, as consulting architects. T. C. Thompson and Brothers are the contractors.

To Have Limestone Front
The front of the building is 208 feet

MARIE SIMPSON LIKES CAROLINA

"Those Cute Squirrels" and Campus Surroundings Fascinate Hood College Student.

The horde of squirrels that scamper about over the campus assisted materially in gaining an ardent feminine protagonist for the University during the sessions of the Dramatic Association last week. Miss Marie Simpson, who represented Hood College, expressed herself as fascinated by "those cute squirrels" and by the natural beauty of the campus and its surroundings.

Miss Simpson was surprised and delighted by the fact that a University campus could attract such a host of squirrels because of its stately old trees and its comparative serenity. She stated that she had considered the vaunted Southern friendliness and hospitality more or less of a myth until she came here last week, when she saw them exemplified.

Last fall the Playmakers presented "The Scuffletown Outlaws," "On Dixon's Porch," and "Fixin's" at Frederick, Maryland, where Hood College is located, and the University troupe made so deep an impression that a Hood student was inspired to write a historical folk play modeled along the same lines which created quite a sensation in the Old Line state. Miss Simpson is the president of the Marionettes, the Hood College dramatic organization, and it was through the impression that the Playmakers made that the organization decided to send her to the Dramatic Association convention here.

The comments upon the University made by Miss Simpson were highly favorable. "Chapel Hill exemplifies my ideal of a picturesque old Southern University town," she asserted to the TAR HEEL reporter. "The new buildings blend perfectly with the charming old ones; and the impression the whole creates is that of a beautiful old seat of learning steeped in romance and history. My impression of the University and of its students could not have been better."

Hood College and Frederick are surrounded by a number of old traditions, according to Miss Simpson. Barbara Frietchie accomplished her fa-

Jackson Wins in the Final Play Contest

Catawba College Defeats Atlantic Christian College for State Hon- ors in College Group

The Carolina Dramatic Session closed its annual meeting here Saturday night with the presentation of shields and awards at the Carolina Playmaker Theatre. President Chase of the University presented the awards to the winning dramatic clubs.

The Catawba College group of Salisbury under the direction of Mrs. John C. Busby won out over Atlantic Christian College of Wilson for the State Championship among college clubs. The Catawba players presented "Figureheads" and the Easterners presented, "Thank You, Doctor."

The Jackson Community Dramatic Club under the direction of Miss Ruby Long presented "The Man Who Died at Twelve O'clock" to defeat the Goldsboro Community Club who presented the play "Two Crooks and a Lady."

The delegates and players of the groups throughout the state were guests of the Carolina Playmakers and the Extension Division at a Masquerade Ball at the Carolina Inn following the presentation of awards.

TWO GAMES ARE ON FROSH CARD FOR THIS WEEK

Former Tar Heel Regulars to Bring Teams Here to Play Thursday and Saturday.

Two games remain on the card for the Carolina Freshman baseball team this week. Coach Homer Coletrane will bring his Greensboro High School nine down for a contest on Thursday, while the freshmen play host to Bob Sides' Mount Airy High School nine on Saturday.

While the Carolina varsity is off on their annual invasion of Virginia territory which extends over a period of six days and six games, these two games will serve to give some line on the freshman aggregation and their chances for copping the State Freshman Title. This pair of contests, along with the Oak Ridge clash of yesterday, are the only ones played so far with representative squads, and this opening week of play calls for three games with three of the strongest teams that the proteges of Coach Bill Cerney will be called on to work against this season.
