

Tar Heel Trackmen Out for Seventh Title

"Big Five" Teams Rebellious Against Carolina; Big Meet Is To Be Held in Greensboro

250 Athletes Meeting at Greensboro for State Title Meet Friday and Saturday

The Tar Heel track team will attempt to win its seventh consecutive State Championship in the State Intercollegiate meet to be held at the World War Memorial Stadium in Greensboro, Saturday, May 5. For the last six years Carolina has dominated the state track realm, running roughshod over the members of the "Big Five" in all previous meets.

Next Saturday, the other state institutions will present the greatest strength ever mustered against Carolina. State, Duke, Davidson, Wake Forest, and the "Little Five" teams are in a rebellious state against the Tar Heels and a great fight is predicted for Saturday.

Against the Tar Heels will be pitted such men as Currie and Whittle of Davidson, Bruton and Erwin of Duke, and Young, Vinson and McDowell of State. In last year's meet Currie ran the 100 yard dash in 8.6 seconds, coming within one-tenth of a second of the world's record. Whittle has shown up well in this year's meets. He is an excellent sprinter and a good hurdler. Bruton and Erwin are fairly good sprinters and will give the other sprinters a rush for their money. State presents three good field event men in Young, McDowell, and Vinson. Young is an excellent performer in the broad jump and javelin, and his teammate Vinson is an able second in these events. Jack McDowell is State's star broad and high jump artist.

Comparative times and distances virtually concede the edge to the Blue Devils, Techmen, and Wildcats in the sprints, the jumps, and possibly the javelin and shot put. Carolina is left to depend for victory on its brilliant distance men and three or four stars in the pole vault, the hurdles, and the discus.

In the 440, Carolina will depend on Dave Nims, who recently left his crutches to defeat the Conference champion in this event. Barkley, Evans, and Horney have consistently won three places in the half-mile and the Tar Heels expect them to repeat this performance Saturday. Galen Elliott and June Fisher, star milers, have finished first and second in the mile in every meet this season and last Saturday along with Pritchett and Barkley won the four-mile relay championship of America in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia. Captain Hoyt Pritchett, Conference two-mile champion, is expected to win the two-mile and possibly lower his own record. Johnnie Pearson, star hurdler and high-jumper, will attempt to hold up his end in the hurdles and may possibly best Jack McDowell of State in the high jump. Lacy Harper and Vernon Cowper will probably be Carolina's mainstays in the discus and pole vault, respectively. J. K. Smith will run against Currie, Whittle, and Bruton in the sprints. On the above named men Coach Bob Fetzler places Carolina's chances for another state championship.

The teams entering the meet are Carolina, Davidson, Duke, State, Wake Forest, High Point, Guilford, Atlantic Christian, and Lenoir-Rhyne. These teams will enter approximately 250 athletes in the competition. The preliminaries will be run off Friday and the finals Saturday.

Only one change has been made in the meet this year. The mile relay will be classed as an event, and points will be credited to the winning team.

One of the features of the meet is the fact that Greensboro College girls will turn out "en masse" and that many of the N. C. C. W. girls will attend the meet. The N. C. girls are having a field day of their own and this will prevent many of them from attending the state meet.

In last year's meet only 3 records remained unbroken, those in the javelin and hurdles. In that meet 11 records fell and indications are that many will fall again in Saturday's meet.

Handsome medals will be presented the individual winners and a beautiful trophy will be awarded to the team scoring the highest number of points. Last year the Tar Heels won the trophy, but they have to win it three years in succession before they gain permanent possession of it.

Miss Fannie Aiken of Brunswick, Ga., has been the guest of Miss Mela Royal this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Underwood of Asheboro were the guests of their daughter Miss Henrietta Underwood Sunday.

HEEL PRINTS by Yarborough

The victory of the Tar Heel 4-mile relay team brings to the south some of the honor that has long been due southern athletes. Occasionally, southern trackmen would get recognition by national experts, but most of the time the phenomenal time of southerners would be put down as a "flash in the pan." However, the great triumph of the four men representing Carolina was not a mere "flash in the pan," but a real triumph. The Heels won that race, and they won it with room to spare. In fact Galen Elliott outran Bill Cox, Penn's great miler, so decisively that the eastern news writers could write of little else except Elliott when writing of the 4-mile relay race. Cox is Intercollegiate champion too. Congratulations are due to Coaches Fetzler and Ranson, and to Pritchett, Fisher, Barkley, and Elliott.

State Championship Meet at Greensboro

The State Intercollegiate championship meet at Greensboro promises to be the greatest state meet ever held. Several teams are threatening to break Carolina's supremacy on the cinders. According to news reports, Duke has aspirations for the championship, held by the Tar Heels for seven consecutive years. Davidson and State may have the same aspirations, but they aren't publishing them quite as promiscuously as the Blue Devils. Perhaps the Duke trackmen will upset the Heels this year. But as we see it, the Heels are due to repeat this year. The meet this weekend will be closer than it was last year or for several years past if every one comes through as expected. But we pick the Tar Heels to win.

Duke's Chances

The Blue Devils are placing their hopes in the hands, or rather in the feet, of a couple of distance runners and one or two sprinters. Woodward and Tuttle are their best bets. Woodward won the half mile last year and the Devils are counting on him to repeat Saturday. Evidently they reckon with Minor Barkley. Minor has been stepping the half mile in good time this year and we believe he is capable of doing even better. Then, too, Elliott may step in and take a hand in the half. Elliott was barely beaten by the Duke Star last year, and the Tar Heel had already run the mile in 4:26.6 that day. Either of these Carolina men will give the Duke Star a good race, and second and third places add up as fast as first places.

Tuttle is another of the Devils who is expected to win. He won from Hoyt Pritchett early in the season, but Hoyt has improved a lot since then. Something is going to happen to the state record for the two-mile run when Pritchett and Tuttle begin the race.

We hardly think that anyone will dispute Carolina's probable victory in the mile run. Nor will Duke dispute Fisher's very probable second place in that event.

Duke is also expecting to pick up places in the sprints. What about J. K. Smith? Bruton won the 100, but we think that a Tar Heel sprinter won first in the 220. Currie is due to take first place in both dashes. Duke should score in both of these events but so will Carolina.

Mule Versus Bicycle

John Harmon, president of the class of 1923, and John Purser, president of the class of 1924, are going to have their bizarre race on Emerson Field on Alumni Day, June 9. This comes during commencement week. They have agreed that John H. will steer an unruly mule while John P. will pilot a bicycle.

Some real cheering will be there, as the alumni of both classes are going to back their Johns to the finish. The rules are John H. must at all times remain of his long-eared animal; the mule must also remain on the track. No short cuts will be allowed. John P. does not have such an unruly vehicle, so he only has to pedal the bicycle over the cinders. Violations of the rules will result in disqualification from the race. The race will be a quarter of a mile affair. Although no prizes have yet been offered, both contestants are ready to fight for the honor of their classes to the finish.

GOLF TEAM WINS FROM DUKE 16-2

Victory Gives Tar Heels Clean Slate Against North Carolina Teams

The Tar Heels scored their second victory over Duke University golfers Tuesday when they played a brilliant match over the Hope Valley Country Club course to hang up a 16 to 2 win. Carolina played far the superior game and from the first the outcome was almost evident. This decisive victory chalks up the Carolinians' third success against North Carolina colleges and leave their slate clean of any mark of defeat.

In the individual matches, the Carolina players won three of their four engagements. Playing in the order of their rank, Mason (Carolina) defeated Jennings (Duke) 3 and 2; Beveacqua (Duke) defeated Steward (Carolina) 3 and 2; Vanstony (Carolina) defeated Hester (Duke), 7 and 6; Royster (Carolina) defeated Seapart (Duke), 6 and 4.

Duke's foursome play was somewhat erratic and the Carolina outfit was easily able to considerably increase their lead in this department of play.

The meet with Duke on Tuesday marks the end of match play for the Tar Heels this season. The team will enter the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament in Nashville, Tenn., May 14, 11, and 12.

Tar Heel Netmen On Southern Trip

Kenfield's Protoges Have Stiff Schedule Closing with Southern Tournament

Coach Kenfield sent six ranking netmen into an extensive southern invasion yesterday. The ten day tour will include matches with teams in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Louisiana and will culminate in the Southern Conference Tournament at New Orleans. The players making the trip, playing in order, are Captain Waddell, Covington, Wilson, Merritt, Dalrymple, Scott, and Norwood. The doubles combinations will probably be Waddell-Wilson, Covington-Merritt, and Scott-Norwood.

The schedule of play on the southern trip follows:
May 3—Furman University, at Greenville, S. C. —
May 4—University of Georgia at Athens, Ga.
May 5—Georgia Tech, at Atlanta, Ga.
May 7—University of Alabama, at Tuscaloosa, Ala.
May 8—Southwestern of Louisiana, at Lafayette, La.
May 9—Louisiana State University, at Baton Rouge, La.
May 10-12—Southern Intercollegiate Tournament, at New Orleans, La.

TAR BABIES CINCH N. C. TRACK TITLE

Victory Over State College Frosh Tuesday Assures Championship

Carolina Freshmen piled up a total of 70 1-3 points to State Freshmen's 55 2-3 to win the meet held on Riddick field at State College May 1. This meet cinched the state frosh track title for the Tar Babies.

Neiman and Gay were the high scorers for the Heels. Stout ran up the greatest number of points for the opposition. Neiman and Gay both scored two firsts.

Baucom, Carolina freshman, took the lead at the start in the two mile run and led the field to the tape by over 200 yards. His time of 10:29 was excellent considering the condition of the track. Roscoe Fisher, brother of the varsity's star miler, won second in this event by outstripping Ash of State on the last 200 yards of the race.

Ed Ferrel also turned in a good performance in the mile run by easily winning the event in the fast time of 4:43.2

Meet Is Postponed

The N. C. State-Carolina track meet which was to have been held here Saturday has been indefinitely postponed. The meet was postponed because of unfavorable weather conditions and a wet track. There is a possibility that this meet will not be held until after the Southern Conference meet, which is to be held at Birmingham, Alabama, May 12.

Carolina Wins Over Deacons on Courts

Heels Win Last Matches Before Southern Tour 8-1

In their last engagement before leaving for their southern tour which will be closed with the Conference meet in New Orleans, the Tar Heel tennis team defeated Wake Forest College 8-1 at Wake Forest, Tuesday afternoon.

The Heels found little trouble in subduing the Deacons and lost only one match. Most of the Carolina wins were by overwhelming scores and the decisive victory gives the Heels a good send-off for the Conference matches.

Captain Charlie Waddell won the first match over Helms of Wake Forest 6-1 6-2. Covington and Wilson also won their matches in two sets, but Covington was forced to go several extra games to take the second set from Padgett. The Deacon racketeers held Carolina's number two man to a 6-3, 9-7 score.

The only Tar Heel defeat came when King of Wake Forest defeated Merritt of the Carolina team 6-1, 7-5. The Heels swept the doubles matches.

Freshman Ball Team Down Deacon Frosh

Tar Babies Take Fourth Contest In State Title Race

The Carolina freshmen are one step nearer the state freshman baseball title today as the result of an 11-5 win over the Wake Forest freshmen on Emerson field Monday.

John Hurt pitched the entire game for the Tar Babies and allowed only seven hits. The Carolina frosh touched Lewis and Mullins for nine safeties and took advantage of six errors to score 11 runs. Hurt kept the Baby Deacons' hits well scattered except for the second inning when Taylor hit a home run with two men on base.

Allen, Tar Baby first sacker continued his hard hitting and got three safeties out of four trips. Crouch of Carolina hit twice in two attempts.

This game was the last one for the Tar Babies before their invasion of Virginia. Monday's win ran their streak to nine straights and gave them their fourth victory in as many games in the state title race.

Score
Wake Forest 030 001 010 5 7 6
Carolina 014 130 02x 11 9 4
Batteries: Lewis, Mullins, and Gillespie; Hurt and House.

GRIDIRON MEN TO GET GOLD CHARMS

Will Be Presented Through Courtesy of T. E. Hinson of Book Exchange.

All letter men of the 1927 football squad have been presented with gold footballs in recognition of their services on the gridiron. These charms were presented through the courtesy of T. E. Hinson of the book exchange.

Each one of the miniature balls carries the legend "Virginia 13, Carolina 14," which was the score of last seasons Carolina-Virginia football game. The name of the man, to whom the token was presented, and the position he played is also engraved upon the charm. It likewise carries, in raised blue letters, the N. C. monogram. The year 1927 is engraved by these letters.

CAVALIERS LEAD TRI-STATE RACE

Virginians Topple State From Lead; Heels in Second Position

Virginia's Cavaliers are leading the Southern Conference Tri-State league to date with five wins against two losses. The Tar Heels are in second place with five wins and three losses, while Maryland and N. C. State are in third and four places respectively.

The Cavaliers drove State out of first place by defeating them Monday, while State had previously driven the Heels from the top rung of the percentage ladder by defeating them 5-4. However, the Cavaliers are yet to meet State once, Maryland once, and the Heels twice, besides facing contests within their own borders.

The Heel-Cavalier clash here May 11, and in Greensboro May 12 may decide the winner of the handsome trophy to be given the winner of the title.

State's swing through Virginia and Maryland has proven disastrous to the Wolfpack's chances for the trophy, for the Raleigh team dropped their first two games to Maryland and Virginia.

The standing of the teams to-date is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Virginia	5	2	.714
North Carolina	3	2	.600
N. C. State	3	3	.500
W. & L.	2	3	.400
V. P. I.	1	2	.333
V. M. I.	0	0	.000

"SADIE THOMPSON" HAS WELL-ROUNDED CAST

Critics of motion pictures are pointing to the well-rounded cast of "Sadie Thompson," Gloria Swanson's second independent United Artists screen offering, which comes to the Carolina Theatre today, as proof of their contention that elimination of two major handicaps will go a long way toward materially increasing entertainment value of motion pictures.

The first handicap is frequent failure to pay sufficient attention to importance of proper characterization, in the constant effort to attain greater lavishness in production. The second is casting of players in roles for which they are not always suited, rather than permit these actors to draw salaries specified by their contracts, and remain idle.

"Sadie Thompson," based on W. Somerset Maugham's widely discussed short story, "Miss Thompson," and directed by Raoul Walsh, was put into production without being influenced by either of the specified evils.

Miss Swanson and Director Walsh first took steps to assure proper casting, to the end that various characterizations of the story might attain a uniformly high standard. And in selection of the cast they were able to exercise a free hand, without any consideration other than individual merit entering into the matter,—the result being the strongest cast yet assembled in the producer-star's support.

"Sadie Thompson," as interpreted by Miss Swanson, has been recognized wherever it has been seen as the most colorful and most dramatic role of her career. Raoul Walsh, bowing to the unanimous opinion of his associates that he himself should play the Marine, "Sergeant O'Hara," consented to assume the role in addition to his directorial duties. It is his first screen appearance in eight years, since he played "John Wilkes Booth" in D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation." Lionel Barrymore appears in the role of the despotic reformer, "Alfred Atkinson," whose unwavering devotion to duty, as he interprets it, has an entirely unexpected outcome. For the characterization of "Mrs. Atkinson," the reformer's prim wife, Miss Swanson and Director Walsh induced Blanche Frederici to journey from New York to Hollywood because they felt she was the one woman ideally suited to play the part, as a result of her long familiarity with the role on the speaking stage. Charles Lane, one of the best known character men in pictures, was signed to play "Dr. McPhail," and Florence Midgley was selected from a score of candidates as the exact type to portray "Mrs. McPhail."

Lieutenant and Mrs. Russell Duff of Madison Barracks, N. Y., were the dinner guests of Louise Medley Tuesday. Lieutenant and Mrs. Duff have just returned to the States after three years of foreign service in Honolulu, Hawaii. Before returning in April they visited China, Japan, Guam, and the Philippines.

What Shakespeare says about Coca-Cola

"Your name is great in mouths of wisest censure"

Othello had his faults. But we can forgive him everything because he gave us a perfect caption for an opinion the United States Supreme Court was one day to hand down on Coca-Cola:

"The name now characterizes a beverage to be had at almost any soda fountain. It means a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community."
