

North Carolina Collegiate Track Meet Closes This Afternoon at Greensboro; Freshmen to Stage Three Relay Races

CAROLINA FAVORED

Over 250 College Trackmen Participating in Meet; Preliminaries Held Yesterday

The University of North Carolina led the entire field in number of men qualifying for the finals of the North Carolina Collegiate Track and Field meet which began in Greensboro yesterday. In fact the Tar Heels qualified more men than all the other teams together.

The finals of the high jump were held yesterday. Young of State won this event with a leap of 5 feet 7 7/8 inches. No Carolina man placed and other places were not available.

Currie of Davidson and Woodward of Duke were the outstanding men in their events. The former won his heat in the century in 10 seconds. The latter came within one-fifth of a second of tying his own state record in the half mile run when he stepped the distance in 2 minutes and 1-5 seconds.

Carolina qualified men in every event, Smith and Harrison placing in the hundred; Smith and Nims in the 220; Nims and Harrison in the 440; Elliott, Horney and Barkley in the 880; Perry, Glenn, Smith and Pearson in the high hurdles, Stafford and Port in the low hurdles; Adkins in the shot; and Harper and Adkins in the discus.

Harrison's time of 51 4-10 seconds in the 440 yard dash was the low mark of the day, while Harper's throw of 121 feet led the discus men. Nims stepped the 220 yard dash in 23 1-5 seconds besides qualifying in the 440 yard dash.

The finals are scheduled to start this afternoon with the freshman sprint medley relay races. The field events will get under way at two o'clock and the running events a few minutes later.

The three freshman relay races are added as features of the meet this year. A sprint medley opens the meet about midway the 880 yard relay will be run off, and just before the final event—the varsity mile relay the freshman distance medley will be run off.

Coaches Ranson and Belding are taking eleven freshmen to Greensboro for the relay events. These are: Baucom, Carbine, deRosset, Ferrel, Fisher, Gay, Goodwin, Medford, Parks, Skinner, and Yarborough. Baucom, Fisher, Ferrel, and Gay are the outstanding men among the freshman runners this year. Baucom and Fisher have been able to handle the best frosh two-milers in the state, while Ferrel was captain of the freshman cross country team, and is outstanding in the 880 this spring. Gay is the newly elected captain of the frosh and is yet to bow to a freshman or high school sprinter in North Carolina.

The two mile run is expected to be one of the feature events of the afternoon. Tuttle, Duke star, bested Hoyt Pritchett, captain of the Tar Heels, in the first meet of the season, but Pritchett has shown considerable improvement since that time and the race should be an extremely close one.

Galen Elliott and Red Fisher will handle the mile assignment for the Heels. With their record of first and second in every race to-date behind them, they are expected to capture the same places this afternoon.

The Tar Heel mile relay team will probably be composed of Dave Nims, Horney, Evans, and Harrison.

Gold medals will be awarded to winners of first places, silver medals to second place men, and bronze medals to third place winners. A handsome trophy will be awarded the high point scorer of the meet, while the team trophy, which is in possession of the Tar Heels, will go to the winning team.

Trophies will be given the winning freshman relay teams, and medals to the individual performers. Points will count as follows: first place, 5 points; second, 3; third, 2; and fourth, 1.

Rifle Club Match Today is Important

The rifle club will hold an important match on its outdoor range starting at 2:00 this afternoon, according to club officials. The seven high score men will go to the national intercollegiate rifle matches at Annapolis next week. If it is impossible to complete the match today, it will be finished tomorrow afternoon. "Come on men! Show some spirit! Let's have everybody help out," B. S. Colburn, president of the club, urged yesterday afternoon. "Every member of the club is urged to come out today."

NETMEN TOURING SOUTH; TO ENTER S. I. C. MATCHES

Tar Heels to Play Georgia Tech Today, University of Alabama Monday

Carolina netmen are in the midst of a stiff southern campaign, upon the success of which will hinge their hopes for southern championship laurels for this season.

After a victorious series of appearances with colleges in the state, Captain Waddell is leading a group of confident racketeers into the fray on foreign ground. Coach Kenfield's coaching has wrought evident improvements in the speed and accuracy of the Tar Heels' game, and the team is in fine shape to show their wares to best advantage. The stamina of the Carolina team will receive a final test in the Southern Conference Tournament, New Orleans, at the end of the ten day tour. All the net luminaries of the south are expected at this meet, and no team will have an easy time on its march to victory. The record of the Tar Heels for the season thus far warrants their recognition as formidable foes by all other entrants.

The Carolina players making the trip South, playing in order, are Captain Waddell, Covington, Wilson, Merritt, Dalrymple, Scott, and Norwood. The doubles combinations will probably be Waddell-Wilson, Covington-Merritt, and Scott-Norwood.

The Carolinians met Furman University at Greenville, S. C., on Thursday and the University of Georgia at Athens, Ga., yesterday. Today the Tar Heels will engage the Georgia Tech team in Atlanta in an attempt to avenge the defeat handed the Carolina golfers on their recent southern invasion. On Monday the team will proceed to Tuscaloosa, Ala., where they will play netmen acting as hosts for the University of that state. The next day will find the Carolinians in an encounter with Southwestern of Louisiana.

Frosh Nine to Meet Oak Ridge Today

Tar Babies Play Cadets' Return Game at Oak Ridge

As a climax to their Virginia trip, the Tar Babies will play Oak Ridge Saturday at Oak Ridge. This will be the second meeting of the two teams this season and should be a real battle, since the freshmen are determined to avenge the defeat they suffered at the hands of the cadets earlier in the season. This game is the only one in which the Tar Babies have been beaten this season.

In Ball, Hurt, and Edwards Coach Cerney will have three strong hurlers to start against the Ridgers. Either of these will give the cadets something to worry about before the game is over.

On Tuesday the Tar Heel will carry a summary of the games played this week on the Virginia trip and the freshman schedule for the remainder of the season.

So far the Tar Babies have an impressive record and are a far way ahead in the state title race.

Henry Johnston, Jr., of the Department of Vocation, is at Charlotte for the rest of the week for the purpose of getting in touch with openings for seniors, and of visiting some of the men placed last year through the efforts of the department.

ROCKNE'S PUPIL TO AID COACHES

Rex Enright, Former Notre Dame Star, Added To Coaching Staff

ROCKNE'S PUPIL
Rex Enright, former Notre Dame football and basketball star, has been added to the University's coaching staff according to announcements made by the Athletic Department Thursday.

The newcomer to the coaching staff at Carolina will assist in football and basketball. While at Notre Dame he played fullback on the 1925 eleven and guard on the basketball team. The same coaches Collins and Cerney were also playing under Knute Rockne, Notre Dame's football mentor.

The addition of Mr. Enright to the coaching staff gives the Tar Heels three former Notre Dame men as coaches, and five mid-western men. Coaches Collins and Cerney are the two former Great Bend athletes coaching, while Coach Belding, freshman football, basketball, and track mentor, attended Iowa University, and Coach Jim Ashmore is a former Illinois man.

Mr. Enright has been athletic director of an industrial plant at Rockford, Ill., his home town since leaving the Indiana Institution. He is married and has one child, a daughter. The new coach is to be a full time assistant, and will report next September.

Venters Is Elected Frat Council Head

Carl Venters is president of the Inter-fraternity council and Waddell Gholson new secretary-treasurer, as the result of the election of officers by the new council at its first meeting Thursday night. The installation of the body with subsequent election of officers was the principal feature of this joint meeting of the old and new councils.

Billy Ferrell, retiring head, presided over the meeting and announced that most of the business facing the Inter-fraternity council would be left to the new council for decision. The body now has before it petition for admission from a new national fraternity to be installed soon; and will also plan the next freshman rushing season.

The last official act of the old council will be the annual banquet. This is being planned now by the retiring president and a committee, though definite announcements have not been made.

Jeff Fordham And Bledsoe To Speak On Honor System

Two well known students, Jeff Fordham and Taylor Bledsoe, will address the meeting of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church tomorrow evening at 7:00. These students will discuss phases of the honor system. Jeff Fordham, former president of the student body and author of a historical sketch of student government in the University, will give an interpretation of the actual moral responsibility placed on a student by his participating in the honor system.

Following this, Taylor Bledsoe will give his estimate as to how far one can expect the individual to live up to the demands of the theory of self government.

Blue Eyes and Black Hair Mark May Queen For Annual N. C. Fete

Greensboro, May 3, 1928.—(CP).—Gentlemen may prefer blondes, but the fair maidens of N. C. C. W., true to feminine form, don't agree with the gentlemen. For they chose as their May queen, who presides over the annual May Day fete, a brunette of the Irish type, with blue eyes and black hair—and that hair is also bobbed, which is quite a blow to the "growing out" fad.

Another break from the usual procedure—at least of the last few years—was the presentation of the spectacle in Peabody Park rather than on the front campus. A large number of spectators, however, penetrated the wilds of the park in order to view the May queen and her court.

Miss Marilee Shaw has gone to Greensboro for the week-end.

NAP LUFTY TOPS U. N. C. BATTERS

Third Baseman Leads With .444 Percentage; Mackie and Satterfield Next

"Nap" Lufty, rangy Tar Heel third baseman, is leading his teammates at bat with a percentage of .444. He is, however, closely pushed by Mackie and Satterfield for runner-up honors. The former has an average of .435 while the latter is trailing him with .406. Coxe, Jessup, and Barnhardt are also hitting at a fast clip.

A great deal of the club's success thus far this season has been due to the timely hitting of the aforementioned men. The other members of the team have also been coming through with very opportune hits. Mackie is leading in extra base blows with six doubles, two triples, and a home run. Maus and Barnhardt have also registered homers. The batting averages of the first twelve regulars on the Tar Heel squad follows:

	Ab.	H.	Pct.
Lufty	54	23	.444
Mackie	63	27	.435
Satterfield	64	26	.406
Coxe	52	19	.365
Jessup	52	19	.365
Barnhardt	35	12	.345
Maus	53	14	.264
Burt	58	15	.258
Ball	10	2	.200
Magner	28	5	.179
Westmoreland	14	1	.071
Fulcher	13	0	.000

REVIEWER LIKES KYSER'S CONCERT

Co-ed Frat Sponsors Last Appearance Before Leaving For Cleveland

(By Louise Medley)
The storms of applause and requests for more music, which Kay Kyser and his orchestra received at their Thursday afternoon and evening concerts sponsored by the Chi Omega fraternity at the Pickwick Theatre, is conclusive proof that all prophets are not without honor in their own country.

Playing to full houses and receptive audiences both times, the orchestra was keyed to the right pitch to put across to the home folks a big concert hit of fun and jazz before going to Cleveland next week, where they will be located this summer.

The program included twenty numbers interspersed with dancing acts and vaudeville skits. The glee club arrangement of "Away Down South in Heaven" together with "Too Tired," and "Among my Souvenirs" met merited requests for repetition, while "Alabama Stomp," "Tiger Rag," and "Mississippi Mud" would have brought out the fire department Thursday night except for the large number of wet sympathizers present in the audience of twelve hundred.

"I Don't Care," a new hit recently released, composed by Saxie Dowell of Hal Kemp's orchestra, went across with delightful effect.

Carolina and Duke to Clash On Ball Diamond Here Today

Both Teams Are Ready For Contest Duke Just Back From Virginia Trip

Duke University, just back from a very successful invasion of the North, will meet the Carolina nine on Emerson Field this afternoon. This contest between these ancient rivals should be among the best and most interesting to be played in Big Five circles this season.

Today's game will mark thirty-seven years of baseball rivalry between the two institutions dating back to 1891. During this time the Tar Heels have won fifteen, lost seven, and tied one game. The most memorable battle in this series of long standing was that single deadlocked contest.

This encounter, which ended in a 0-0 decision, was played on Saturday, May 10, 1919 in the Piedmont League park in Durham. It was a pretty pitching duel between "Lefty" Wilson, great Carolina southpaw, and Southard, Trinity ace. These stellar pitchers had the batters so well in hand that only four men reached third base. Just four scattered singles were given by Wilson while Carolina had gathered in seven bingles off Southard's offering when darkness halted the contest in the fifteenth. The same two twirlers met again four days later with Wilson emerging a 3-2 victor.

The Blue Devils have had a rather "in-and-out" season in baseball this year. Their record in the state is not impressive, having been beaten by both State and Wake Forest in recent encounters. On the other hand, they have played brilliant ball against out-of-state aggregations.

On their eastern invasion, the powerful University of Pennsylvania's nine fell before their attack by a 9-1 count.

The Devils also handed the Naval Academy's baseball aggregation their first shut-out of the season. The Dukemen hit timely and captured the contest 5-0. Thursday, they defeated the University of Maryland and yesterday they left for North Carolina territory stopping off long enough to play Washington and Lee.

The Heels have had a week's rest and will be in excellent condition for the Duke game. Coach Ashmore has been drilling the men daily on Emerson Field.

Two of the greatest shortstops ever to play college baseball in North Carolina will vie against each other for honors this afternoon. For Werber of Duke and Satterfield of the Heels have been outstanding in all of their games, and the battle of these youngsters will be watched.

The starting pitchers will probably be Captain Joe Westmoreland for the Heels and either Belue or Jenkins for the Blue Devils. The two Duke hurlers have been unusually successful against opposing teams on the Devil's swing through the East and Virginia, while Westmoreland has been one of the mainstays of the Carolina hurling staff this year. Coach Ashmore may also use either Ball or Fulcher. Red Eljison has not yet completely recovered from the leg trouble that has kept him out of the Carolina line-up for several weeks.

Frosh To Play Imps

Tuesday the Tar Baby baseball team will journey to Durham to tackle the Blue Imps in the second contest of the season between the two teams. In their first encounter the Carolina freshmen experienced little difficulty in defeating their old rivals. With two full days of rest after their most strenuous week of the season the yearlings should easily play the best ball yet.
