NORTH CAROLINA CLUB HAS FINAL MEETING MONDAY

Professor Forster, of State College, Will Speak on "Taxation of Farm Lands"

Professor G. W. Forster of North Carolina State College will address the North Carolina Club at its regular meeting Monday night in 112 Saunders at 7:30 on "Taxation of Farm Lands," it was announced by P. M. Wager, Secretary of the Club, yesterday afternoon.

This will be the last meeting of the club this year, and officials urged yesterday that all students and faculty members interested in the economic and political problems of the state attend. The club, which meets every other Monday night, makes a study of the problems peculiar to this state.

The program of the club this year has been taken up with a study of the tax problem in the state. A number of the foremost authorities on taxation problems in the state have spoken before the club, in addition to a number of students who have prepared papers and presented them at the club meetings.

Professor Forster is head of the survey council of farm lands of North Carolina. This council has recently completed some extensive research on the subject of farm land taxation. Professor Forster himself has compiled some extensive statistics on the relation of taxation to the farm income. Judson Ashby, president of the club, stated recently that he expected a large attendance at the meeting, since Professor Forster is expected to give an excellent lecture and the meeting is the last of the year.

PLANS MADE FOR FINAL GERMAN DANCES

Total of Six Dances Arranged For Commencement Week by the German Club.

Plans for the final set of dances to be given under the auspices of the German Club have been definitely made, and all things point to the best Finals in years, according to officials of the club. They will be held in Swain Hall, which is the largest and the coolest place in Chapel Hill.

The first dance will be on Monday evening, June 11, from ten till one. This will be the Commencement Ball. The following day, June 12, will be featured by three dances, the first of which will be held from eleven till one in the morning, the second from four till six in the afternoon, and the third from ten-thirty till one in the evening. There will be only two dances on Wednesday, the first from eleven till one in the morning, and the German Club Ball from ten till two in the evening. This makes a total of six dances, and it is said that they should be unusually good due to the fact that the plans have been carefully worked out and gone over.

Doyle, prominent florist of Durham, has been engaged to decorate Swain Hall. A color scheme of green and yellow will be carried out in a very unusual way. Rope festoons arranged in a wave effect will run the length of the hall, with palms, flowers, and Japanese lanterns adding to the effect. Doyle has decorated Swain Hall several times in the last few years, and it is expected that he will do a good job. Another feature is that attractive favors for each girl have been ordered from a reliable firm.

The Secretary and Treasurer announces that there are only thirty vacancies left in the German Club, and all who wish to join must mail an application with a $15 check to Baron Holmes, P. O. Box 906, by May 23. These applications will be voted on by a committee of the Club, and after the quota of thirty is filled, other checks will be returned. The initiation fee is $10, and the charge for the set of dances is $5.

There will be house-parties at the S. A. E., Phi Sigma Kappa, D. K. E., Zeta Psi and Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity houses, and a very large crowd of girls and visitors is expected. If all members of the German Club will co-operate by paying their dues promptly to Baron Holmes, this should be the finest set of dances in years, he declared yesterday.

Air postage rates are now reduced.

Band Will Appear In Open Air Concert Sunday Afternoon

The University band will give an open air concert in front of Alumni building from 4 until 4:45 Sunday afternoon.

No definite program will be followed, but selections from the most successful program used by the band in its concert tours will be played. The concert Sunday afternoon will mark the last appearance of the organization in public this quarter, and is one of the few local appearances it has made.

The organization has done a great deal of concert work in various parts of the state during the school year and has also appeared in programs sponsored by the University.

Arrangements are being made to have a concert group play during commencement, in accordance with the custom for the last few years.

CHI PSI TAKES IN LOCAL ALPHA CHI

National Fraternity Grants Charter to Local Social—Installation June 2

The Chi Psi fraternity has granted to the local fraternity of Alpha Chi a charter to revive its chapter which existed at the University prior to the Civil War. The installation will take place on the week-end of June 2.

Chi Psi was the sixth fraternity to be established at the University when in 1855 the Alpha Sigma chapter was formed. The chapter thrived until 1861 when the call to colors throughout the South forced it into dormancy. All but two of the eleven fraternities established before the Civil War became dormant in the same year; these two ceased to exist in 1868.

Chi Psi was founded at Union College in 1841 and was the fifth fraternity founded at this college, which is commonly called the "mother of Green-letter fraternities." It is one of the most conservative national fraternities and the re-establishment here at the university will make only its 25th chapter.

There are at the present time five undergraduate Chi Psis on the campus and four Chi Psis who are members of the university faculty.

Alpha Chi, the local fraternity which has received the Chi Psi charter, has been petitioning Chi Psi since its organization in 1924. It is the oldest local social fraternity on the campus at the present time, and after the installation of Chi Psi in June only four locals will remain.

Dr. Pittman Speaks to Med School Tonight

"Surgery of the Prostate" is the subject that Dr. R. L. Pittman of Fayetteville will present to the Medical Society tonight at 7:30 in Caldwell Hall.

Dr. Pittman has given a number of interesting lectures to the Medical Society recently and it is believed that he will have a very worthwhile message for the future physicians tonight. Pre-medical students as well as others are invited to hear Dr. Pittman tonight.

University Women From Six States Organize National Branch in Meeting Here

Representatives of state and local chapters of the American Association of University Women from six southern states gathered yesterday at the Carolina Inn for the purpose of forming a South Atlantic sectional branch of the organization. The meeting will continue thru today with discussions on the possibilities of a fellowship fund on which Dr. Esther Caukin, International Educational secretary, will talk at 12 o'clock, and President Chase will address the luncheon meeting at 1:30. In the afternoon there will be a tea in Spencer Hall.

The meeting is being attended by delegates from North and South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia and Florida. The North Carolina branch meets today after the organization of the sectional branch has been perfected.

Among the prominent speakers yesterday were Dr. Lois Hayden Meek of Washington, D. C., national educa-

GRAIL TONIGHT IS LAST THIS YEAR

Both Grail and Pi Kappa Phi Dances Are Booked For Tonight.

The week-end will close tonight with the last Grail dance of the year, which will be immediately preceded by a twilight dance given by the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity at the Carolina Inn. The Buccaneers will play for both occasions.

Extensive plans have been made for the Pi Kappa Phi dance, and it is expected to be fine. It will start at 6 P. M., and the music will stop at 9, immediately before the Grail dance in Bynum Gymnasium.

The new officers of the order will have charge of the dance and they promise a fine time to all present. Stag tickets will be put on sale at 8:30 at the rear door of the gym, and all who want them are urged by Grail officials to be prompt in getting them as only a limited number will be sold.

Pipe Organist Will Give a Recital at Chapel of Cross

Harold D. Phillips, who comes to Chapel Hill from Southern Pines, will give a pipe organ recital at the Chapel of the Cross Sunday afternoon at five o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

The University concert announced for Sunday afternoon has been postponed until the twenty-seventh. These two musical offerings are the last of the school year, and these arrangements have been made so that everyone will have a chance to hear both, according to the officials in charge of the programs.

The program for the recital is as follows:
Fantasia and Fuge in G
Minor Bach
The Fountain Fletcher
Barcarolle Bennett
The Voice of the
Chimes Luigini
Evangeline Banks

Y Cabinets to Hold An Open-air Meeting

The annual hillside meeting of the old and new Y. M. C. A. cabinets and the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will be held tomorrow afternoon in Kehan Memorial stadium. According to a circular letter recently sent out by the officers of the "Y" to cabinet members, this meeting will be the most important of the year and all cabinet members are expected to be present.

Dr. H. W. Chase and all other members of the board of directors, as well as the several ministers of the community and their assistants, will be in attendance.

Officers of the Y. M. C. A. urge that all men who have had any affiliations with the "Y," and who expect to enter "Y" work, be present. All men who expect to attend the Blue Ridge Conference are also requested to be present.

Miss Mary Eliason of Statesville is the week-end guest of her sister, Miss Nancy Eliason.

Critics in State Papers Defend Playmaker Production Against Attack of Charlotte Ministers

Several Critics Ridicule Ministers' Charge That "A Shot Gun Splicin'" has Tendency to "Destroy the Finer Sensibilities Which Safeguard Pure Manhood and Womanhood."

The press of the state is still concerned with the controversy begun last week when the Charlotte Ministerial Association protested to the University and to the "sovereign people of the state" that "A Shot-Gun Splicin'," one of the plays presented on the just completed 20th annual tour of the Playmakers, "has the tendency to de-guar-d pure womanhood and manhood." A number of critics have made light of the resolution passed by the Charlotte ministers in censure of the play, which was written by Mrs. Oscar Coffin, wife of the head of the University Journalism department.

"Role of Adulteress"
"We do not believe," said the resolution, "that a young woman should be trained at the state university to play the role of an adulteress and the mother of a bastard child whose stage father is another student, a young man playing the part of her seducer." According to the Rev. Albea Godbold, secretary of the Association, a copy of the resolutions has been sent to the authorities of the Universities. This denunciation from the ministers will do more to popularize and advertise the Playmakers than the publicity department of the Players could have possibly achieved, members of the organization believe. The ministers in their resolution praised the artistic work of the Playmakers, but as for "The Shot-Gun Splicin'"—thumbs down; it has the "tendency to destroy the finer sensibilities which safeguard pure womanhood and manhood."

The complete resolution follows:
"As is well known, under the leadership of Professor Koch, the students of the dramatic section of the English department of the University of North Carolina have in the last ten years made such achievements in playwriting, staging and acting, as to gain widespread recognition and distinguished commendation. Indeed the artistic merit of the productions of the Carolina Playmakers is such as to be patent to the public generally.

"On the fifth day of May in the Central High School auditorium, the Playmakers presented their plays; 'Mountain Magic'; 'Job's Kinsfolks'; and 'A Shot-Gun Splicin'; which in our opinion sustained the reputation of the organization for dramatic ability. But, while we acknowledge the artistic merit, we also declare that in our opinion, one play, 'A Shot-Gun Splicin,' seriously violated the proprieties.

"Before stating further our complaint against the play, let it be said that it was clean in the sense that it manifested no tendency or purpose to excite sex impulses. Nevertheless we believe that it menaced morals, especially of the young, in that it could not but wound and tend to destroy the finer sensibilities which safeguard pure womanhood and manhood.

"We do not believe that tragic violations of the most sacred processes of life are fit subjects for comedy.

"We do not believe that the effort of an outraged father to force marriage between his daughter and her seducer, presumably to secure legitimacy for the child born of the illicit union and some rights for the wronged woman, is a suitable subject to be shown in a high school auditorium for the consideration of an audience composed in a large measure of school children.

Gene Loses Bloomers But Is Not Perturbed; Songs May Be Hit of the Show.

(By Andy Anderson)
Everything's rosy in Memorial Hall every night. That is, it was until recently. Gene Erwin, coach of dancing and songs, says somebody has gone and swiped some of his new silk bloomers—swiped 'em right off the set and two pairs! But this doesn't perturb Gene in the least, he goes on with the show; and what a show! Really, the guy who started off calling "Whoops M'Dear" a musical comedy must have been drinking shoe-polish because it's a revue in the first, last, and middle connotation. And again, what a revue!

The writer ambled around the other night to where the troop is working out and witnessed what promises to be one of, if not the best, revue or comedy the Wigwe and Masque has ever produced. No kiddin'. And the gal-chiles are going through their parts just like those on the legit. The entire thing is taking on a professional air and what with this and the airs the bunch are singing, well, you orta hear 'em.

Only one popular piece is being given in the show when Al Kahn and Lois Warden sing "Collegiana." And at that 'tis quite a number. The rest of the music is, as known in show parlance, a wow. There's "Some Day" being sung by Tarasa Graham and Gene Erwin. This is the nifty song and dance assisted by the ensemble and Gene and Tarasa gea off some right mean gestures, which is all right but the song is the thing.

Then there's the "Helen of Troy" song skit in which Lib Davis hauls off and gives us a tiny bit of the meanest blues singing we've heard in quite a while. It's a historical surprise and sure to go over. And another song, "How Can A Boy?" with Mrs. Learn-

Cheerleader Will Be Elected Wednesday

The annual election of cheerleader will be held next Wednesday, May 23, with Bill Chandler and Guy Fulp running for the position. There will be only one poll, at the Y.M.C.A., to be open between the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 6 p. m., it was announced by Ed Hudgins, president of the Student Body last night.

WEAVER TALKS TO GRADUATES' CLUB

Music Professor Explains Work of His Department in Lecture

A talk on the work of the Music department and the value of musical education was given by P. J. Weaver at the regular meeting of the graduate club in Person Hall last night.

Mr. Weaver's talk was one of the series on the work of the departments of the University, which is being conducted by the graduate club. The speaker dealt first with the vocational value of Music department and then gave its use avocationally. The latter part of his address was devoted to the brief presentation of a recent investigation of the extent of musical education in colleges; this report was drawn from a mass of material recently gathered by Mr. Weaver.

Following the lecture Messrs. Kennedy and McCorkle each played a series of selections. Mr. Kennedy's two groups were as follows:
Carnival Mignon Schmitt
Prelude
Harlequin's Serenade
Columbine's Lament
Caprice

Mr. McCorkle, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. McCorkle, played two violin groups:
Oriental
Jubilee Song
La Media Noche
Humoresque
Nuit de Mai
Mazurka
Cui
White
Stoessel
Tor Aulin

LAST DEBATE OF YEAR CANCELLED BY JOHNS HOPKINS

No Reason Given for Breaking of Contract for Contest Scheduled for Last Night

Professor George McKie, faculty head of the Debate Council, announced yesterday afternoon that Johns Hopkins University had cancelled the debate scheduled to be held in Gerard Hall last night with the University debating team. He stated that the Debate Council received a telegram from the Johns Hopkins authorities Thursday informing them that the contract with the University debating team would not be filled. No reason was given for breaking the contract.

This was the last debate scheduled for this year, and it is probable that no other forensic contest will be arranged because of the proximity of examinations, according to Dr. McKie. John Wilkinson and John Mewborne were selected to represent the University in the debate in tryouts held last Friday night. The query that was to have been debated was: Resolved, That the United States should cease to intervene with armed force in Latin America. The Carolina team was to uphold the negative side of the query.

This year the University teams have had one of the most successful seasons of their career, winning a large majority of their contests. A number of excellent debaters have been developed, according to forensic authorities here.

The plan of having a debating squad to meet together under one man, which was inaugurated this year, has proven very successful, according to Dr. McKie, under whose direction the squad has worked. He has stated that the plan will probably be continued next year.

LAST ISSUE WILL BE GOOD--EDITOR

Many Cuts, Much Copy, and Excellent Cover Will Make Best Buccaneer of Year

The last issue of the Buccaneer that was slated to appear on the campus the fifteenth of this month was necessarily held up by a delay in several of the ads and the local comic will not appear until about the 25th of this month, according to Andy Anderson, retiring editor of the humorous sheet.

When questioned about the last issue last night, Andy said that the number would be very much the same as others in content but that, on the whole, he believed it would be the best number of the year. He and his staff spent two months on this issue and as a result compiled quite a bit of excellent material.

"The cover," Andy said, "was done by Browning of the North State Engraving company, the same man that did the cover for the Girls' Issue, and it surpasses that cover by far. I think it is the best cover that has been bound about the Buccaneer this year. Then there's the matter of jokes and such. They're no worse or better than usual. I printed a few that might be termed over the border line by some of the conservatives on the campus but they are good and clever; therefore I think they warrant printing."

The editor says he is using a slightly different makeup which he believes will make a better looking magazine of the Buccaneer; and an abundance of cuts is running. Andy says he spent quite a bit of time on the last issue and is really sorry that what he considers to be the best issue of the volume should be the last to appear.

"The issue is dedicated," he said as he made preparations to move off, "to women in general—those kind that take every damned thing a man has and give nothing in return. The dedication really doesn't mean anything but then it might. Anyway I know what I said about the tribe is true." And he walked away.

Baron Holmes, secretary and treasurer of the German Club, announces that any fraternity or other organization wishing to give a tea darce on either Monday afternoon, June 11, or Wednesday, June 13, will please get in touch with him at the S. A. E. House as soon as possible.
