

Intramural Dedication Contest Will Be Entirely New Type of Campus Athletic Competition

WILL BEGIN TODAY

Is Competition of Individual Against Existing Records And His Own Best Marks

"Just how good an athlete are you?" University of North Carolina students will have an opportunity to answer that question for themselves during the next few days by competing in the first annual Intramural Decathlon Contest, which will begin today and last through the early part of next week.

This decathlon is something new under the sun on the Tar Heel campus, but is as old as the Olympic Games in Greece in the world of sports. It is an all-round competition—not competition between individuals or teams in special events—but a competition of each individual against the existing records and against his own best marks.

The competition consists of ten track events as follows: 100 yard dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump, 440 yard dash, 120 yard low hurdles (at standard distances), discus throw, pole vault, javelin throw, and the one mile run.

That seems a hard program, but the ten events are split up into two days of competition to make it easier.

And now about the scoring, which is done on the basis of the University records. The competitor is given 1000 points for equalling or bettering a University record, and points below that are scored in proportion.

Just to give an instance: Suppose John Smith is entered in the competition. He runs the 100 yard dash in 11 seconds flat, and since the record is 9 4/5 seconds he will score 880 points. He broad jumps 19 feet, and since the record is 22 feet 5 inches he scores 836 points. He runs the 440 yard dash in 56 seconds, and since the record is 50.2 seconds he scores 904 points.

Suppose though he only clears 6 feet in the pole vault, while the record is 11 feet 9 inches. Then he will still score 552 points. And so the scoring goes. Where John Smith may be good in one or two events, someone else may be good in other events. Just because a man is a star pole vaulter or quarter-miler does not mean he can win the decathlon.

It of course would be possible to score 10,000 points, but more than likely the winner will register about 6,000 points. This decathlon will be run in two sections, one Open Section for any student in the University including track lettermen, and one Novice Section for non-lettermen.

The Open Section will be started this afternoon with an entry list that includes Johnnie Pearson, Stafford, "Mac" Gray, Roy Lowry, C. W. Hadley, Harry Pearson, Bill Dry, Winslow Smith, George Bagby and "Ookey" Neiman. Others may enter by merely coming down to Emerson Field at 4:30 today.

Five events will be run this afternoon, including the 100 yard dash, the broad jump, the shot put, the high jump, and the 440 yard dash. The score standing for these five events will be published in Saturday's Tar Heel, and the final five events will be run Monday afternoon.

Then on Tuesday afternoon the Novice Section will be run for the non-lettermen.

STUDENTS MAY GET Y CARDS AT OFFICE

Membership Cards May Be Secured Any Time Before Commencement

According to a recent announcement by Mr. Comer, of the Y.M.C.A., all students desiring "Y" membership cards for bill folders may secure them at the information office on the first floor of the Y.M.C.A. building any time before commencement.

These cards, to one of which every student is entitled as a member of the "Y," while they have no actual money value, are helpful in summer traveling as means of introduction and identification. On the back of the card is printed a statement of its meaning, as follows:

1. It indicates that you endorse the general purpose of the Y.M.C.A., and are supporting its program operative at the University.
2. It identifies you as a bona fide student of the University of North Carolina.
3. It entitles you to the courtesies of every Y.M.C.A. in the world.
4. It entitles you to the privileges of a visiting member in practically all city associations, the extent of privileges being determined by regulations of the local association visited.

M'CARTHY WILL DIRECT GEOLOGY FIELD COURSES

Trip Will be Through Mountains of West Virginia and Western Virginia

The third annual field course in geology will begin on or about June 18, and will last for five weeks, it was announced yesterday. This course, offered each year by the department of geology, combines a summer outing with practical experience in field geology and geography. This year the trip will be mainly through the scenic region of the mountains of eastern West Virginia and western Virginia and through the Piedmont region of the latter state. The party will travel by automobile, camping equipment being carried in a trailer, and several extended stops will be made at points of scenic and geological interest.

Among the more interesting things which will be seen are the West Virginia coal fields, where mines and breakers will be visited, and the "Narrows," a deep gorge where the New River breaks through the Allegheny Mountains. The West Virginia portion of the trip is entirely in the more mountainous portion of the state. Natural Bridge, Virginia will be visited, and a chance to go through some of the famous caves of this state will be had. Many mines, quarries and smelters will be seen, and collections of minerals and fossils will be made.

In Virginia, the route followed includes the cities of Roanoke, Lexington, Lynchburg, Staunton, Charlottesville, etc., cities of historic as well as geological interest. The origin and development of the Appalachian Mountains and of the valleys and streams which traverse them will be studied, the origin of each scenic spot pointed out.

This summer trip is required of all students majoring in geology, but is open to any one who has taken courses in the subject, not only in the University of North Carolina, but in other colleges. Students from several other colleges have already registered for the trip.

This year the trip will be conducted by Prof. G. R. McCarthy, assisted by Mr. I. L. Martin. Two full course credits are granted to those students completing the work.

Gamma Sigma Tau Will Be Installed As National Soon

A thirty-second national fraternity will make its appearance on the campus in the near future when Sigma Zeta installs here, June the ninth, with the local chapter Gamma Sigma Tau. The local fraternity was administered the national pledge last week-end when a delegation from Carolina attended the spring formal at the University of Pennsylvania.

The installation ceremonies will come to a climax with a banquet to be held at the Carolina Inn on the evening of June the ninth. The installation ball characteristic of the Carolina campus will be held soon after school opens in the fall.

The chapter at Carolina will be the first of Sigma Zeta south of the Mason-Dixon line, stated president Bull Gardner yesterday. The strongest chapters are located at the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Michigan.

Room Reservations Must Be Made Now

The business office requests the announcement that students living on the campus must make their reservations for next fall quarter before May 26, which is Saturday of this week, if they desire to retain their same room for next year. No one will be allowed to reserve any room other than the one which he now occupies until after the above date, at which time all rooms not reserved will be assigned to other applicants in the order in which the application is received. Any student may file application at any time for any room he desires. A reservation fee of five dollars will be charged at the time reservation is made.

NET TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD FRIDAY

State College Meet to Complete Matches Postponed Because of Rain

The North Carolina Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament, rained out when first scheduled the middle of April, will be resumed on the University Courts tomorrow. These matches will in no way determine the team championship of the state, but will decide the singles and doubles champions of North Carolina collegiate tennis circles.

Play in both doubles and singles progressed to the semi-final rounds before rain and wet courts forced postponement. Singles players and doubles pairs representing four of the state's "Big Five" will convene here Friday to play off the championship matches. Carolina, Duke, Davidson, and Wake Forest have one singles entry still in the running, while Carolina, Davidson, and Wake Forest will have doubles teams in the final rounds.

In the doubles division, Helms and King, Wake Forest's stellar combination, have already played their semi-final match and will meet the winner of the other bracket for the state title. Wilson and Waddell of Carolina are to meet Roddy and Caro, Davidson racketeers, in the upper draw. Davidson's doubles team annexed laurels in their department last year.

Captain Charles Waddell of Carolina, Captain Stuart Rogers of Duke, John Roddy of Davidson, and Helms of Wake Forest, are among the outstanding contenders for the singles title won by Whisnant of Duke last spring. However, before semi-finals play, Rogers must meet Merritt of Carolina, and Waddell must oppose his teammate, Wilson, in further elimination.

The Tar Heels will miss the flashy playing of Covington, who has been declared ineligible for further participation this season. He had survived the singles eliminations; and, paired with Merritt, he was still in the doubles competition. His absence will throw one of Carolina's remaining doubles teams out of championship play.

Semi-finals matches in both departments will be played tomorrow, and it is possible that the finals of the doubles will be run off in the afternoon. In that case the singles finals will be played Saturday morning.

Governor McLean To Address Seniors

erson will give instruction as to how Seniors will walk in procession to receive diplomas on Graduation Day.

At 3:30 P. M. the Mangum Medal Contest will take place in Gerrard Hall. Four Speakers, who are said to be exceptionally excellent, will compete in the finals for the Mangum Medal. This medal is awarded each year to the member of the Senior Class who delivers the best oration at Commencement. It is given in memory of Willie Person Mangum by his granddaughter, Mrs. Stephen B. Weeks, and Mr. Julian Turner.

President Chase will receive the guests and families of the seniors at an informal reception from 5:30 to 6:30 on the lawn of the President's House, and the visitors will be introduced to Dr. Chase by Ed Hudgins, President of the Class of '28.

At 7:00 P. M. Class Day will come to a climax with the last formal gathering of the Senior Class as undergraduates. This occasion will be the Senior Banquet, one of the most brilliant affairs of Commencement Week. An election of permanent class officers will be held as a feature of this event. Governor Angus W. McLean, introduced by Dr. Chase, will speak to the seniors at the banquet. This is the first time in a number of years that the Governor has been procured for this occasion. Dean Bradshaw will also speak at this time. The Senior Banquet is always one of the most memorable events of Commencement, since it is the last formal gathering of the class as undergraduates.

A school for women workers in industry was conducted at Sweet Briar College, Va., during the past summer. The enrollment of 26 included students from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, and Tennessee. Arrangements for the school were made by a committee composed of five trade-unionists.

By recent order of the Czechoslovak ministry of education, maternity leave of absence for three months may be granted to married women teachers. Further leave may be allowed, but without pay, and the time of such leave will not be credited toward promotion to a higher grade nor toward service requirement for pension.—Emmanuel V. Ashmore's Ball Tossers Have Had Fairly Successful Season With 12 Games Won to 9 Lost

The University of North Carolina baseball team, having won thirteen and lost nine of the twenty-two games played, closed its 1928 season with the State game last Tuesday on Emerson Field. Although this is not a very imposing array of games won and lost, the Tar Heels have, nevertheless, gotten their share of diamond laurels during the two months just past.

The Heels defeated their ancient rivals, the Virginia Cavaliers, in two of the three contests this year, and thereby annexed the annual series. This in itself is no small feat, and is one which every Carolina team strives to accomplish.

In the state title race, however, the Tar Heels did not fare so well. They placed third in the standing with three victories and two reverses. North Carolina State College won the title this year with the Duke Blue Devils in second place. Carolina stood one place higher in the Tri-state League, being runner-up to the University of Virginia for top honors.

The Tar Heels hit at a fast clip and ended the season with a team average, of the first ten regulars not including pitchers, of .314. They led the Tri-state League in this department. Among the individual hitters Lufty and Mackie were first, each with a .400 average. The batting averages of the first ten regulars follow:

Lufty	.400
Mackie	.400
Magner	.350
Coxe	.342
Satterfield	.315
Jessup	.309
Barnhardt	.308
Maus	.249
Burt	.218
Jackson	.178

Tar Babies End A Successful Season By Defeating State

On Tuesday afternoon Coach Cerney's Tar Babies ended a very successful season by defeating the State College freshmen 8-7. This game cinched the state championship for Carolina. Averett was on the mound for the Techlets for the second time this season against the Carolina freshmen. Hurt continued his winning streak and turned in a fine exhibition.

Averette pitched a good game, but errors by his teammates at crucial times gave Carolina several unearned runs. Though Hurt allowed one more hit than Averette, his teammates fielded almost perfectly and cut off many hits by fine catches.

Until the seventh game was close and each team held the lead temporarily. In that inning, however, the Tar Babies bunched three hits with a walk and a fielder's choice to score four runs and sew up the game. Not willing to be counted out of the running the State freshmen came back to score two runs in the eighth on an error, a single, a hit batter, and a walk. This ended the scoring for both teams.

The State freshmen hit safely in all but two innings but in most cases were unable to produce the punch needed to drive in runs. The Tar Babies scored in every inning in which they were able to hit safely. Pete Wyrick was the high light in Carolina's attack with three hits out of five times up. Crouch hit twice and was the only Tar Baby besides Wyrick to solve Averette's delivery more than once. Glickman replaced Allen at first base in this game and got Carolina's only extra base hit: a double in the second inning. This hit drove in Whitehead, who had previously been walked, with Carolina's first run. Kerr with three hits out of four times up led State's attack. Hargrove and Brake also hit well for the Techlets.

Hurt was the fielding star of the game, handling eight assists without an error. The whole Carolina team fielded well to keep down State's scoring by presenting a tight defense in the pinches.

State Authorities Cancel Final Game

Due to the fact that Commencement at the University comes one week later than that at State College, the annual Carolina-State commencement ball games that for the last several years have been a feature of the Alumni Day programs at the two institutions will not be played this year.

The athletic authorities at State deemed it unwise to try to keep the squad on the campus for a week after Commencement in order to play the post-season game.

Man Riled by Rivals' Time Claims

Rutherford, N. J.
March 9, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:
I sure get some riled when I see where some fellow is crowing over the fact that being older, and having run into Edgeworth sooner than his less fortunate compatriots, he challenges the world as the champion long-time member of the Edgeworth Club.

He doesn't deserve any medals. He got his reward in the enjoyment of his smoking for the added number of years. He was just lucky in starting sooner, that's all.

However, if you care to delve into ancient history, look up when they first started to pull down the old Grand Central Station in New York, then add at least six months to that, and you will arrive at the approximate time when I first joined the club.

I have smoked at least one pipeful of every other tobacco I have seen advertised, sometimes through necessity, but most of the time to prove to myself that I have been right in sticking to the old blue tin.

Yours truly,
H. M. Wittridge

HIGH SCHOOLS TO PLAY HERE FOR BASEBALL TITLE

Whiteville and Forest City Battle for State Championship Here Saturday

The Whiteville high school baseball team, eastern champions, and the Forest City high school baseball team, western champions, will play for the state high school baseball championship for this season on Emerson field Saturday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Both the Forest City and the Whiteville high school baseball teams come to the final state title encounter with splendid records. It is expected that the state championship game on Saturday afternoon will be closely contested without and will be well attended.

Sixty high schools entered the competition in the annual state high school baseball championship contest for this season. The opening round of games was played in various sections of the state on April 27. Keen interest has been displayed in the race this year.

The annual high school baseball contest is a contest of the High School Athletic Association of North Carolina. A trophy cup will be presented by the association to the high school which wins Saturday's game.

Opposing pitchers in Saturday's encounter are expected to be John Barry of the Whiteville high school team, and Tim McKeithan of the Forest City high school team. Admission to the game will be fifty cents.
