

Best Dressed

The Carolina Best Dressed Contest sponsored by Stetson "D" and the Carolina Theatre resulted in the selection of Sam Pettus (above) as the best dressed student on the campus.

Hoyt Pritchett received the second highest number of votes, and John White the third highest. The winner will receive as first prize a new suit and a season's pass to the Carolina Theatre, and a theatre party will be tendered him by the same theatre.

JEFF FORDHAM IS NEW LAW REVIEW EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

Faculty Editor Announces Appointment of Greensboro Man To High Position.

Jefferson B. Fordham of Greensboro has been selected by a faculty committee of the law school to be Editor-in-Chief of the North Carolina Law Review for next year, it was announced yesterday by Professor R. H. Wettach, the faculty editor of the Magazine.

While in the college of Liberal Arts he was a very active student, being a member of the football and track teams, and took part in numerous student activities.

The editors of the Law Review are chosen each year by the law school faculty for their excellence in scholarship.

ENGLISH STUDENTS TO PRESENT PLAYS

6 Productions Will Be Staged Monday and Tuesday Night.

The class of play production, English 36, will produce six plays on Monday and Tuesday nights, May 28 and 29. These productions are to be presented in the Playmakers Theatre.

On Monday night the three following plays will be shown: "The Impertinence of the Creature," "Cocaine," and "Brothers in Arms."

On the following night, Tuesday, the remaining three will be staged: "The Constant Lover," "The Mirror," and "Francis' Luck."

As there will be no admission charged, every student should avail himself of the opportunity to see the six plays.

Search for landing places occupies pedestrians and aviators alike.—Wall Street Journal.

LAST UNIVERSITY CONCERT SUNDAY

Orchestra and Choir Will Appear for Last Time Tomorrow Afternoon.

The last University concert of the term will be given by the University Orchestra and the Chapel Hill A Cappella Choir in Memorial Hall at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

This will be the second appearance of the choir this year. The first presentation was "The Crucifixion" during Holy Week. The choir is composed of mixed voices picked from the faculty, students, and townspeople.

Two of the four groups of selections will be presented by the University Orchestra, conducted by T. Smith McCorkle. The orchestra is a forty piece affair, including practically all the instruments used in symphonic orchestras.

Both sections of the Capella program have interesting backgrounds; the first section being three numbers from the old Russian Church Liturgy. The second three are by the first English sacred composer, a French nineteenth century writer, and the last number a modern sacred piece by Lutkin, dean of the school of music at Northwestern University.

The program for the concert tomorrow afternoon is as follows:

- The A Capella Choir
I
Salvation Is Created Tschernokoff
O Gladsome Light Gretchaninoff
The Day of Judgment Rekhangelaky
II
Hear the Voice of Prayer
By Babylon's Wave Thomas Tallis
The Lord Bless You and Keep You Gounod
Lutkin
The University Orchestra
I
Overture in D Gretry
Andante Movement from G Major Haydn
(Surprise Symphony)
II
Gavotte Gluck
Passe-Pied Gillet
Hungarian Dance No. 5 Brahms
March of the Boyards Halvorsen

Annual "Capers" To Be Staged Tonight

Playmakers Will Frolic at Expense of Each Other.

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the Playmakers Building, the Playmakers hold their annual "Caper". On this occasion everybody connected with the Playmakers, in the past or the present, is invited to attend this gala occasion.

Burlesques are given on the various members composing the personnel of this group. The program begins with a group of sketches written by Al Kahn; Lorretto Carroll Bailey; and Margaret Vale.

The following skits are to be presented:

- "Here Comes the Show Bus."
"Jube Pluvius Quits Reigning."
"Shadows" (a black face act).
"Them Blue Cups."
"Ten Nights in a Bar Room."
"Forguv but not Forgot."
"A Boy an' a Banjo."
"War on the Half Shell."
"Collegiana."
"A Strange Interlude in Itself."
"The Wilting Sister." (A burlesque sister act.)
"On the Sidewalks of New York."
"Blighted Scandals."
"Hill Hypnotism."
"Bats in the Belfry." (A folk Opera.)

The following dances will be presented by Kisser Kerman and her dancers: Forest Moods and Dance Russe.

Special Rates Given For Richmond Opera

Special rates for the Richmond opera week will be given to the Chapel Hill party, according to a letter recently received by the music department from the management of the Mosque Theatre.

Interest in Chapel Hill as a musical center, was aroused in that city as the result of the appearance of the University glee club in the interstate contest held there several weeks ago.

Several Chapel Hill residents have already signified their intentions of attending some of the Richmond operas. Anyone interested can receive further details from the head of the University music department.

FOR RENT

For the summer. A two room house with bath at 300 Franklin Avenue. Phone or see John D. Watson, 106 Old West.

Send the TAR HEEL home

PENCIL LOST. LOST: A green Sheaffer's Pencil. Reward. Young M. Smith, 302 Old East.

Weekly Style Hint For The Well Dressed Man

A Linen Suit is the natural solution to the well dressed man's problem of how to keep coolly immaculate in hot weather. We have them in accepted styles. Plain white and stripes.

A fancy double-breast linen vest gives snap to the complete effect.

Establishment of

Clothes—Made for You Washington Duke Hotel

Advertisement for The Book Lovers' Shop, featuring the text 'He Who Reads Knows, and He Who Knows Must Read' and 'The Book Lovers' Shop'.

AHOSKIE HI GIRL WINS MATH PRIZE

The Ahoskie High School, with the paper submitted by Levie Dilday, has been declared the winner of the third annual mathematics contest for North Carolina high schools this year.

The annual mathematics contest is conducted under the auspices of the Mathematics Department and the Extension Division of the University.

Reviewer Finds Make-Up of Buccaneer Good

(Continued from page one)

secured the following data: there were thirty-nine which dwelt on sex interests and some of them were humorous, nine on drink, most of them "all wet," twelve on love, and ten on campus incidents (if we include the one under the editor's picture), and forty-seven, in "all others." Political jokes also ran.

Quite a number of the sex jokes are "cheap and tawdry," yet some of them are clever. Quite a bit of obtainable campus humor was evidently left out of the issue, but the editor stated that he "did not choose to run" names. Some of the longer material in the number offers the Buccaneer an excellent opportunity to compete ably with True Stories and other like publications.

The make-up of the book is excellent, and the cuts are well-placed. Bill Chadwick's three drawings feature the art work of the number.

"Brown Derby" is, as usual, very cleverly written. We notice a new section—"Yells from Collegia"—which we like. The title was chosen by the editor of the comic, and he coined the very suitable word, "Collegia." This page includes exchanges from the college comics, and the cut at the heading of the page is well done.

We congratulate the editor on his make-up and the staff on their ability to write ten jokes which are concerned with campus interests for the book.

LOST

One pair of shell rimmed glasses between Phillips hall and town. Finder please return to G. F. Horney, Sigma Delta house, 3 Fraternity Row.

Large advertisement for PRINCE ALBERT tobacco, featuring a portrait of a man smoking and the text 'P.A. wins on every count' and 'PRINCE ALBERT - no other tobacco is like it!'.