

YACKETY YACK TO BE NEW IMPROVED BOOK THIS ISSUE

Annual Will Be Larger; No
Humor Section But Larger Panels.

The University of North Carolina will have a very outstanding publication this year in the 1929 Yackety Yack. The book will appear in the latter part of May and will be immediately distributed to all students of the University and to the others who are entitled to them. Each number of the editorial and business staffs is cooperating in order to make this effort one which will do credit to the institution.

There are many improvements which are to be made this year and which will make the annual superior to any published in recent years. First, the book will be larger in size. There will be more space provided for advertisements and for pictures. Due to the increased size of the book there will be six individual pictures on each page of the Senior Section, but the cuts will be no smaller. As usual there will be only ten Junior pictures on each page of the Junior section.

Statistics Again

The statistics of each Junior and Senior will be published under their names according to last year's plan, and also continuing last year's policy there will be no writeups for each Senior. This was discontinued last year as a result of the fact that there were too many writeups of the same nature, and that it was unnecessary. There will be no comic section in this year's publication, which will relieve the readers of the task of reading the customary slapstick comedy which has been injected into the publication in former years.

There will be no sponsor section this year inasmuch as that also was considered by the staff as being unnecessary. The Vanity Fair section will be continued, but the most beautiful girls will be selected by the Yackety Yack staff members, and the task will not be referred this year to Florenz Ziegfeld or to any other famous connoisseur of beauty.

The publishing cost of this year's Yackety Yack will be extremely high, and the Publications Union has spared no expense in order to make this book the best that has hitherto been

SCOUT SEMINAR SPONSORED BY U.

Science Department Members
Address Boy Scout Executives on Pure Sciences.

The first of a series of three seminars which are being sponsored by the University for the executives of the sixteen districts of the Boy Scouts of America in North Carolina was held here last Friday and Saturday.

The meeting convened last Friday afternoon and was officially opened by Professor H. D. Meyers of the sociology department. Topics dealing with the pure sciences were discussed. Dr. R. E. Coker of the biology department and Dr. H. R. Totten of the botany department gave short talks on their respective fields. The evening session was turned over to Dr. Collier Cobb of the geology department who set forth the advantages of geology.

The morning session on Saturday was in charge of Dr. J. M. Bell of the Chemistry department and Dr. Otto Stuhlman of the physics department who also gave brief talks. During the afternoon, the executives were the guests of the Athletic Association at the Carolina-Georgia Tech foot ball game.

Each executive expressed his desire to have the seminars continued in the future. The delegates to the meeting spoke highly of the University professors who made the seminars possible.

It has been the custom of the University in the past years to offer some service to the Boy Scouts to show its interest in the Scout movement. Two years ago a camp was held on Emerson Field for all patrol leaders in North Carolina. Last year an Extension Service was offered to all scout masters.

The next seminar will be in Chapel Hill, February 22 and 23 and social science will be discussed. The third seminar will be early in April and the Professional School will have charge of the discussion.

Potter Will Read

Bull's Head Readings Commence
This Afternoon at 4:30.

This afternoon from 4:30 to 5:30 o'clock the Bull's Head will inaugurate their season of readings which they have given once each week during the past two college years. Dr. Potter will offer the first readings which will be from the works of James Stevens, the Irish writer. Only interesting and easily understandable readings will be given.

Following the Christmas holidays Howard Mumford Jones will continue the work for a similar period. All of the readings will be given in the Bull's Head shop, 215 Murphey.

The meetings are to be strictly informal. Smoking will be in order, there will be no discussions or lectures, nor will the meetings ever take the form of an organization with dues and officers.

Committee Wants Larger Gymnasium

Credit for Two Years Compulsory Physical Training Urged.

D. D. Carroll, chairman of the special University committee on Physical Education, has reported to the president that the committee feels that one of the most urgent needs of the University at the present time is an adequate gymnasium.

After an extensive survey of the subject the group recommends that official approval be made of supervised physical training during freshman and sophomore years and that the work be given the same academic credit as laboratory work. They also suggest that such training be made compulsory for a Bachelor's degree.

Another recommendation the committee makes is that every student in the University be required to undergo physical examinations once yearly. It also desires the University to offer formal courses in gymnasium work.

The members of the committee who have sought to raise the standard of physical training here are: D. D. Carroll, chairman; C. A. Hibbard, A. W. Hobbs, I. H. Manning, F. F. Bradshaw, R. B. House, and N. W. Walker, associate members.

Elizabeth City Boys Organized As Club

O. H. Boettcher was elected president, J. C. Abbott vice president, and W. K. Saunders secretary and treasurer at the meeting of the Elizabeth City Club Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the county club room of the Y. M. C. A. building.

In speaking before the club Saunders explained the reason for the organization. "This club was organized for a three-fold purpose," stated Saunders, "firstly, to keep in touch with the high school boys in Elizabeth City, to encourage them to attend Carolina after their being graduated; secondly, to financially assist any boy from Elizabeth City to attend the University who would not be able otherwise; thirdly, to entertain all Elizabeth City high school boys who come to Chapel Hill on debating or athletic teams."

UNIVERSITY RECEIVES LAUDATORY COMMENT

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for the presidency of the United States, and who addressed the students and faculty of the University on October 2, in Memorial Hall, comments in very complimentary terms on his speaking engagement here in The New Leader, a socialist newspaper:

"One of the most enlightened universities in the country," writes Mr. Thomas, "is the State University of North Carolina, where I had a most delightful visit and addressed a large audience, the meeting of which was arranged by The Tar Heel, the student publication."

Addition Made to Law Library Reading Room

The addition to the Law Library reading room will be completed this week. Books will be shelved for the students to use. The reading room has been overcrowded for the past two years; the enlarged quarters will be welcomed by all the members of the school. The new reading room is one floor below the old one, and while it is as large as the old one three offices are being partitioned off for the use of the Dean, the Librarian, and the Law Review.

Playmakers Object to Publicity

To the Editor of THE TAR HEEL:

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am sorry that THE TAR HEEL saw fit to give so much prominence to the announcement of certain invitations that have come to The Playmakers for broadcasting and recording some of their plays in New York.

The fact is that The Playmakers have been invited to broadcast some of their plays at the time of their performances at Columbia University, and there is a possibility of a Vitaphone reproduction, also.

The references to a summer tour are misleading. No plans have yet been considered for accepting any such invitations.

I appreciate the interest of THE TAR HEEL in our work, but I regret that the facts in the case have been over-stated.

Yours faithfully,

FREDERICK H. KOCH, Director.

Dean Carroll Talks To the Y Officials

Head of Commerce School Delivers
Forceful Address at Joint Session.

In a few well directed remarks Dean D. D. Carroll last Monday night delivered one of the most forceful addresses ever heard in a Y Cabinet meeting. His talk dealt chiefly with God, man's ideas of God, and the changing conception of the Supreme Being.

As this was the monthly joint meeting of all the cabinets of the Y, including the Freshman Friendship Council, reports were heard from the various presidents and secretaries.

Acting Secretary Aubrey Perkins states that the Y extends to the students of the University a cordial invitation to link up with one of the Cabinets and thus become more closely bound to the work and activities of the Y. M. C. A. Meetings are held once every week in the Y Building at 7:15 p. m. Monday night.

UNIVERSITY HAS FOUR DEBATES ON CALENDAR

The weekly meeting of the University debate class last Thursday night was called for the purpose of discussing the faults displayed in the tryouts which were held the night before for the clash with the English debaters next week. Mr. G. M. McKie and Mr. William Olsen took charge of the discussion.

Beside the debate next week, debates with the teams of Emory, Princeton, and Virginia have been scheduled. It is also expected that the Carolina men will take part in a triangular debate with Alabama and Tulane, as was done last year.

Hungarian Law School To Be Doubled in Size

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Oct. 21.—Due to protests made by the bourgeoisie of Hungary the Klenbalsburg has agreed to double the enrollment of the law school of the University of Budapest.

The Klenbalsburg, or diet, of the country here, reduced arbitrarily the number of students that could attend the university last July, but are now retrenching from this policy.

Dialectic Senate For Full Publicity To Be Given Graham Work

Members of Senate Speak Eloquenty for an Intensive Drive To Complete the Work on the Long Delayed Memorial.

In recognition of the entire Senate's ignorance of the rules of order, President Fox asked Senator McPherson to read a general sketch of rules on procedure. The senator explained and illustrated the rules.

Senator Kincaid moved that the Senate extend an invitation for men interested in the work of the Senate to join the body.

Dungan Offers Resolution

The Senate debated at length on the resolution offered by Senator Dungan: "Be it resolved that the Di Senate go on record as favoring an immediate completion of the Graham Memorial." In speaking for the resolution Senator Dungan stated that the Memorial was begun ten years ago and that the longer time that is taken to complete it, the smaller the respect it will symbolize for Dr. Edward Kidder Graham. He further stated that the Memorial is for the use of all students and will include a lounging room, a barber shop, committee rooms, publications offices,

Green in Germany

Paul Green, former Carolina student and teacher, is spending the school year in Europe on work in connection with the Guggenheim Foundation. Mr. Green, whose play "In Abraham's Bosom" won the Pulitzer Prize for 1927, is devoting the year to an extensive study of European theater and plays. He and his family are now in Berlin and will remain there until Christmas when they will go to Paris.

Mr. Green is well pleased with the German theater. He writes that during his stay in Berlin he has been in constant attendance at the theater. Despite his handicap of not knowing the language, he says that he has no difficulty whatever in following all plays, because of the excellent diction and the superbly enacted pantomime. He writes: "I have just seen a production of Tolstoy's 'The Living Corpse' at der olksbuhne (Peoples Theater). The audience was composed of Berlin working people who followed this long play with the utmost intensity and appreciation. It was marvelous and I am fast revising my theories of the theater." He further states that in the two weeks in the German theater he has seen more real sincere art than in his entire experience in New York.

It has been reported that Mr. Green is contemplating writing a long novel which will be an epic of the Carolinas.

Saunders To Speak

Elizabeth City Man Here Tonight under Auspices of Democrats.

Hon. W. O. Saunders, noted North Carolina writer and author, will speak tonight in Gerard Hall at seven-thirty, instead of seven o'clock as announced in Tuesday's Tar Heel.

He comes to the University under the auspices of the Democratic Club, student political organization.

Mr. Saunders is widely known as a vigorous and independent writer and speaker. He is editor of the Elizabeth City Independent, and has gained nation-wide fame as a contributor to the American Magazine.

Mr. Saunders is outspoken in championing Alfred E. Smith for the presidency, and is now making a number of speeches throughout the state in behalf of the New York governor's candidacy. Last Monday night he spoke at the city auditorium in Durham. Only the day before Rev. M. F. Ham, widely known evangelist, who is crusading against Smith had preached a sermon from the same rostrum.

The speaking is also being advertised at Duke University, according to Philip R. Whitley, president of the Democratic Club, who stated that Mr. Saunders had indicated that he would say something of interest to the Duke students.

STUDENT NIGHT IS ROTARY CLUB PLAN

Twelve Musicians Invited To Display
Talent before Group.

Several students from the University are among the outstanding entertainers who will be featured by the Chapel Hill Rotary club at their seasonal Ladies Night banquet in the ball room of the Carolina Inn next Wednesday evening.

Elwood Holmes, a sophomore, will present a program of standard and semi-classical songs, and will be accompanied on the piano by Donald Wood. Holmes has sung at a number of University affairs recently, and has broadcasted from WPTF several times. The University quartet will present a program of negro spirituals and popular numbers. The quartet is composed of C. C. Cornwall, bass, Elwood Holmes, baritone, Graham Poynér, second tenor, and Professor Le Roy Smith, first tenor. It has broadcasted from the Raleigh station several times and has received scores of applause cards from listeners throughout the South.

The Carolina Theatre Orchestra composed of the most musical students on the campus, will furnish the dance music for the affair. This orchestra is composed of Allen Boren, director and violinist; J. C. Farhan, trombone; Brandon James, piano; Frank Householder, trumpet; Carl Wessel, drums; William Stringfellow, saxophone.

Dr. Eric Abernathy, University physician, is president of the Rotary Club, and Dr. H. W. Chase, president of the University, is honorary president of the club.

Violent Form of Hazing Breaks Out at Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 1.—A very violent form of hazing men who enter the Louisiana State University for the first time has broken out again this year despite having been officially banned from the university since the fall of 1924.

All students are pledged to refrain from cutting and shaving the hair from the freshmen's heads, but the custom seems to have a chance of being revived.

Hawaiian Playmakers Have Been Organized

HONOLULU, Hawaii, Oct. 31.—A play production class patterned after the famous Carolina Playmakers has been included in the curriculum of the University of Hawaii. Miss Florayn Qadwell, of the United States, is director and teacher of the group.

A "little theatre" is being designed and will shortly be executed for the use of the organization.

McGill Says Shy Men Better

MONTREAL, Canada, Nov. 1.—After 35,000 hours of investigation it has been announced by McGill University that the introvert, or awkward and shy student, had a far better chance to succeed in college and in after life. Native intelligence according to the survey that was conducted plays little part in the success or failure of men in college.

GERMAN CLUB TO ENTERTAIN WITH FIVE BIG DANCES

Hops to Be Elaborate; Charles Dernberger and Orchestra Engaged to Play.

The greatly appreciated Thanksgiving dances of the German Club will be given within four weeks. The dances will be November 13 and December first in Bynum gymnasium, where elaborate decorations will almost convert the athletic floor into a ball room.

The music will be furnished by Charles Dernberger and his Orchestra, which comes here highly recommended. They have made records for the Victor Phonograph corporation and recently they broadcasted from a New York radio station.

The plans include a total of five dances, with intermissions between each. Two dances will be Friday and three Saturday of that week end. Those on Friday will last from 4:30 to 6:30 in the afternoon and from ten until one that night. The Saturday dances will be in progress from eleven to one in the morning, from 4:30 to 6:30 in the afternoon and from 9:30 to 12 that night. The hops will be the best ever held here, according to German Club officials.

The members of the club are requested to pay their dues of twelve dollars at once to W. L. Marshall, secretary and treasurer, at the Sigma Nu house, so that plans may advance. All men desiring to join must send their name and a check for ten dollars to the secretary so that they may be voted on. If they are accepted they will be notified, and if not their checks will be returned.

SPEIGHT WINS IN ORATORICAL HERE

Will Represent University in State Contest if He Survives.

As a result of the elimination contest Saturday night in Gerard Hall, W. W. Speight of Spring Hope, N. C. was chosen to represent the University in the preliminaries of the statewide oratorical contest to be held Monday afternoon, November 5. Should he survive this preliminary he will represent the University in the final contest Monday night. J. A. Lang of Carthage was awarded the alternate position.

This contest is being promoted by the American Legion through Kale C. Burgess, a prominent attorney of Raleigh. The finals of the contest will take place just one day before the presidential election. The North Carolina department of the American Legion will present the best speaker with a prize of fifty dollars in gold and an appropriate gold medal. A prize of twenty-five dollars in gold is offered for the second best speech.

Speight is a member of the junior class. Last year he was a member of the Tar Heel staff. At present he is an active member of the Philanthropic Assembly. During his high school career he debated extensively, and he is an able speaker.

MUSIC TOUR OFFERED TO EUROPEAN CENTERS

The Students' Travel Club, semi-professional organization, is offering a tour to the music shrines of Europe and England this next summer supervised by professors from the music departments of colleges in the United States.

The manager of the tour has arranged so that the party will visit the important music centers at times when it can participate in various musical festivals.

Dr. Ernest Keller is in charge of the organization.

BUCCANEER DEADLINE SET FOR NOVEMBER 5

Deadline for copy for the November issue of the Carolina Buccaneer has been set at twelve o'clock Monday night, November 5 by Editor Bill Perry. Material may either be left in the Buccaneer office or it may be left in the editor's room on the third floor of the Y.M.C.A. building, according to Editor Perry.
