UNIVERSITY HAS COLLECTION OF RARE OLD BOOKS

Many First Editions of Pamphlets Printed in North Carolina.

There is in the possession of the University Library a collection of rare and first edition books. First editions are very valuable and the Library officials are in no position to release accounts of these books but there is another group known as the North Carolina Collection which is very interesting.

The most outstanding book of this collection is the first book that was printed in North Carolina. A Collection of All the Public Acts of the Assembly, of the Province of North Carolina was printed by James Davis at New Bern, N. C. in 1751. The first press in this State was the one set up in New Bern by James Davis, who was aided by the state legislature and it passed an act encouraging printing in this state. The act allowed Davis an annual salary and gave a copyright to print all legislative journals and proceedings, the laws, proclamations and other acts of government for the use of public officials and members of the Assembly.

Another outstanding book is A Collection of All the Acts of the Assembly of the Province of North Carolina, which was also printed by James Davis, official printer for the state, in 1764. This book is the rarest collection of the early North Carolina laws.

The University recently acquired this book by purchasing it from a famous private collector. It is considered the rarest of early revisions. There are several other revisions in this group; Davis, 1765; Davis, 1773; Iredell, 1791; and Martin, 1804.

Chapel Hill Rotary Club Entertains

Affair Is Gala Event; Featured by Various Forms of Entertainment.

At one of the most brilliant affairs of the season, the Chapel Hill Rotary Club entertained Wednesday evening from 7 till 12 at a banquet and dance in the ball room of the Carolina Inn in celebration of Ladies Night. Dr. Eric Abernethy, president of the Club, presided at the affair, assisted by E. Carrington Smith, manager of the Carolina Theatre and chairman of the program committee.

Honor guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woolen, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Marr of Raleigh and Dr. and Mrs. Chase. Dr. Chase, president of the University, is also honorary president of the Rotary Club.

The entertainers for the affair included a number of students from the University. Carl Griggs, a freshman here from Winston-Salem, perhaps created the greatest sensation. He arrived, accompanied by Donald Wood, Junior here, impersonating Mr. Wood's sister, teacher of aesthetic dancing at Vassar College. Professors fell for this girl with appeal, and their wives were right there to see that no Vassarite would alienate affections. Mr. Griggs, in an extremely feminine voice sang several numbers, accompanied at the piano by Donald Wood. Then, at a request from the Club did a solo dance with Dr. Abernethy.

Jack Wardlaw and His Banjo Boys appeared next and performed the famous Eddie Peabody stunt, now released over Vitaphone. Pat Brown, real old-time vaudeville headliner, was present and gave a burlesque black face act. He was accompanied on the piano by Bill Abernethy, also a student in the University, now playing with Alex Mendelhall and His Tar Heel Boys Orchestra.

After dinner speeches emphasizing the value of Rotary International were given by Messrs. Charlie Ketchum of Greensboro, and Wade Marr of Raleigh. Their talks, short and to the point, were well delivered and were features on the program.

Music during the banquet and for the dance which followed immediately after was rendered by the Carolina Theatre Orchestra, directed by Allen Boren of Greensboro. The program of dance and concert prepared especially for the occasion was snappily played and much enjoyed by those present. About sixty-five couples were present for the affair.

Coach Collins

Coach Chuck Collins, who will run a much crippled team out on Kenan Field today to battle with the South Carolina Gamecocks. Several of his men have been taking light workouts this week, and it is probable that they will see action.

Second Grail Dance of Year Tonight in Bynum Gymnasium

The second Grail dance of the year will be held tonight at nine o'clock in Bynum Gymnasium. The music will be furnished by the Carolina Buccaneers, who plan to present an original selection of pieces. The decorations will be quite different from those of the other dance given by the order this year, and the lights will be regulated so that their effect will harmonize with the music.

All who plan to attend as stags are urged to buy their tickets at eight-thirty in the back of the gymnasium, since there will be only a limited number of people admitted to the floor and no tickets will be sold after the dance begins. The usual rules in respect to conduct will be enforced, and no freshmen or spectators will be admitted. No girl who leaves the floor while the dance is in progress will be readmitted. The dance will end at twelve o'clock.

Coach Laval

"Billy" Laval, coach of the South Carolina Gamecocks, has made quite a name for himself in Southern football by turning out several outstanding teams at Furman. This year, his first at the South Carolina University, he has made good and has startled the South with his team's victories over Chicago, Virginia, and Maryland.

Annual High School Debate Will Be Held At the University

Secretary E. R. Rankin of the Central committee of the North Carolina High School Debating League has announced that the annual debating contest staged by some two hundred high schools from practically every county in the state will be climaxed by finals at the University this spring on Thursday and Friday April 18th and 19th.

The subject that has been suggested for the forensic contest this year is, "Resolved: That the United States Should Join the World Court of Arbitration."

Last year two hundred high school students came to the University to contest for their schools in the debating championship of the state. They won the right to compete here after eliminating six hundred other students. The state championship was awarded to Washington Collegiate of Washington, N. C. They will compete again this spring in an endeavor to hold the Aycock Memorial trophy which is given each year to the winning team. At the end of ten years the cup will be given permanently to the school that has been successful in winning it the greatest number of times.

Faculty members will judge the contests this year as they have in the past.

THIEVES INVADE TWO FRAT HOUSES

Unusual Robberies Cause Much Speculation Among Students.

Chapel Hill was recently invaded by a thief or thieves who escaped with quite a valuable amount of booty. Several of the fraternity houses here were invaded but none of the private residences were entered. Evidently the thieves possessed some motive for choosing the Greekmen as victims.

The Sigma Epsilon fraternity on McAuley street sustained the heaviest losses. One overcoat, two tuxedos of which one had never been worn, one pair of shoes, and six shirts were missing from this house after the robbery.

The Theta Kappa Psi fraternity which is next door to the Sigma Epsilon house also reports a loss of several articles of clothing. One top coat and a suit were taken from this house. The Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity reports the loss of three tuxedo shirts.

The thieves not satisfied with this invaded Steele dormitory and ran off with a tuxedo, two suits of clothes, and one sweater.

Robberies are very unusual for Chapel Hill and this one has caused quite a bit of commotion and speculation among the students and townspeople.

Five Debates Are Planned for the Winter Quarter

Officials of the Debate Council have not scheduled any more debates for this quarter. Probably as many as five contests will take place, however, during the Winter and Spring quarters. Three of these are expected to be with Emory University, University of Alabama, and the University of Virginia.

Mr. George McKie, executive secretary of the Debate Council has mapped out a program of lectures and discussions which will take place before the class begins working on the next query. The first lecture will deal with the scientific phase of organizing facts, or methods of using the mind. Officials of the class hope to secure Dr. Bell of the Department of Chemistry for this lecture.

The second lecture will deal with debating from the standpoint of a historian. The speaker chosen for this discussion will show how historians investigate a situation and arrive at their conclusions.

The problem of delivering the third lecture will fall to some lawyer, who has not been selected as yet. The speaker will tell the class how the legal mind behaves in the presence of facts.

Sigma Zeta Fraternity announces the pledging of James L. Coley of Wilmington and Leo Brown Skeen of Biscoe, sophomores, and Elmer Wallace Owens of Leaksville, freshman.

Herbert Hoover is National Choice of College Students

Tabulation of Straw Vote in All The Colleges of the Nation Shows That the Republican Candidate Carried Thirty-Eight.

MAJORITY IS 3 TO 1
Smith Carries Two More States Than He Did In the National Election.

Herbert Hoover received a two to one vote over Smith in the straw ballot conducted in 1,104 American colleges by student publications and other organizations before the national election on the sixth. Hoover carried thirty eight states and the District of Columbia while Smith carried only ten states in the colleges, two more than he actually carried in the election.

There were 544,585 students in colleges at the beginning of September; of these 195,462 were men and 348,123 were girls. Politicians see in this army of young voters the hope of America. Most of them have never voted before.

In the East Hoover carried Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. He received the largest vote in Connecticut, nine to one. Smith made his best showing in New York where the vote was four to five for Hoover. The total vote of the eastern states gave Hoover a three to one majority.

It is hoped that there will be just as large an attendance Monday night to listen to and discuss the paper to be presented by Mrs. Brinton. The meeting will be held at 7:30 in Saunders Building, Room 112.

HUDGINS RECEIVES SULLIVAN AWARD

The Honor Was Given at the University for the First Time This Year.

Ed Hudgins, President of the student body, has recently been awarded the Algernon Sydney Sullivan award of the New York Southern Society by a committee composed of R. B. House, executive secretary of the University, Dean Hibbard, and Dean Bradshaw, chairman.

The award consists of a bronze plaque, a suitable engraved certificate, and a volume on the life of Algernon Sydney Sullivan, first President of the Society. It may be bestowed annually upon one man and one woman of the graduating class. Those who receive it shall have demonstrated their worthiness to typify a spirit of brotherly love.

The object of the New York Southern Society establishing this award is to perpetuate the influence of a life that exemplifies the highest type of manhood and to encourage in others these characteristics.

The award is based not upon scholarship, athletics, or other collegiate attainments, but upon that quality which is best described as a desire to be of service, to help men in combating the problems of daily life.

According to Dean Bradshaw the Award Bulletin will be found in the University library, and he suggests that students familiarize themselves with the requirements for eligibility in receiving such recognition.

The University is one of the fifteen American institutions in which the Sullivan Award has been established. The award was made for the first time this year.

POLITICS FOR FLAPPERS

Members of the British Parliament are puzzled as to how flappers in their territories may be taught the first rudiments of politics, so that the young voters will know what to do on election day. One cynic has suggested that the central offices should start by holding beauty contests.

OUT OF STATE STUDENTS ON THE INCREASE

Thirty States Represented; Several from Foreign Soil.

T. J. Wilson, Jr., registrar of the University, announced yesterday afternoon that despite a marked decrease in the total enrollment in the University last year the number and also the percentage of students enrolled in the University from outside the state has shown the biggest increase of any advance made within the past few years. The total enrollment of students from states other than North Carolina is 444 as opposed to 318 last year. Leading the list again this year as it has for several seasons is the state of South Carolina which has eighty-nine students registered here. A close second is New York state which sends eighty-four men, mostly from New York City, Virginia, the state that has sent the greatest number of students over the whole period of the University's history runs a poor third with 31 men in the tabulations of this year.

The tendency of the past four or five years has been a steady increase of enrollment of students from the northern and eastern states, particularly New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. Of interest is the gradual inclusion also of most of the far western states on the lists of the registering students.

That the University of North Carolina has a genuine drawing power is exhibited by the fact that men have come this year from as distant points as Russia, Italy, the Philippines, and Cuba, the last country having two representatives here. Within the United States students have registered from New Mexico, South Dakota, Washington, Colorado, Minnesota, and Oklahoma.

Other states have representatives here as follows: New Jersey, 25; Georgia, 29; Pennsylvania, 18; Tennessee, 17; Florida, 19; Texas, 13; Connecticut, 13; Alabama, 12; Massachusetts, 10; Kentucky, 9; District of Columbia, 9; Maryland, 8; West Virginia, 8; Illinois, 8; Ohio, 11; Mississippi, 5; Louisiana, 4; Wisconsin, 2; Indiana, 2; New Hampshire, 2; Maine, 1; Missouri, 1; and Michigan, 1.

ROYSTER IS U. N. C. DELEGATE TO A.A.U.

To Investigate Claims of Universities As to Eligibility in Organization.

Dean J. F. Royster of the graduate school will serve as the University of North Carolina delegate to the annual meeting of the American Association of Universities to be held November 15, 16, and 17, at the Hotel Chase in St. Louis, Mo.

The Dean was delegated by the Association to tour some of the southern colleges and universities two weeks ago for the purpose of investigating the claims of certain southern universities to eligibility in the American Association of Universities. Membership in the organization is held by but twenty-six universities in the United States and two in Canada, and is purely invitational in recognition of superior scholarship. North Carolina and Virginia are the only two southern universities in the group. Royster will report to the assembled delegates at the convention, his recommendations as to whether any of the other southern colleges should be voted into membership by the association at the St. Louis convention this fall.
