

Carolina Basketball Artists Play Last Game on the Local Court Tonight against V. M. I.

Dope Favors Ashmore's Men to Win Tonight; Leave for Atlanta Thursday.

Tonight the Tar Heels will close their regular season's play when they meet the V. M. I. Cadets in the Tin Can. This game will afford Carolina followers their last chance to see Coach Ashmore's proteges in action before they depart for Atlanta and the Southern Conference Tournament.

All this week the Tar Heels have been hard at work smoothing out their attack in preparation for last night's fray with Davidson and tonight's battle with the Cadets. While the Virginians have a strong aggregation, the Heels are favored to win. Incidentally this game will be of added importance since it will bring the Carolina team into contact with a conference foe. A win tonight would help the Heels' standing in the pre-tournament rating among the conference members.

Ashmore will have three full days next week in which to bring his cagers into top form before they swing into the heat of tournament play. A new ruling which goes into effect this year allows each team to take ten players to the tournament instead of the usual eight. It is not yet known which men will make the trip. The team leaves next Thursday afternoon.

On a basis of their showing for the season the Heels are strong favorites to finish in top place in the tournament or at least near that position.

"GEORGIA" AND SOUTH CAROLINA BATTLE TO DRAW

"Georgia Tech" and "Virginia" Still in Lead in Winter Football Loop.

"Georgia" and "South Carolina," fighting for third place in the winter-football league, battled to a draw Wednesday afternoon on freshman field. Both teams were handicapped by a muddy field and unusually cold weather.

"South Carolina" staged the greater part of the offensive playing and narrowly missed scoring twice. However both times the "Georgia" line held and the "Techmen" afterwards brought the ball into neutral territory.

Spaulding's interference and defensive work, and Slusser's running were outstanding through-out the game. Nash gained ground consistently for "Georgia," while Blackwood played excellently in the line until his removal because of injury to his knee.

The standing:

Team	W	L	T
"Virginia"	2	0	0
"South Carolina"	0	2	1
"Georgia"	0	2	1

Track Aspirants Are Hard at Work

Carolina track aspirants are hard at work conditioning themselves for the indoor meet which is to be held in the Tin Can on the first of March. Having discarded the cinder track for the time being, the runners are having their daily work-outs in the Tin Can so that their flying feet may be accustomed to the wooden track when the starter fires his gun on the night of the meet.

Several entries have already been received, and the track authorities expect a good many more to come in during the coming week.

This meet will offer students their first opportunity of showing their interest in track. Football, basketball, boxing, and wrestling have all shared the athletic spotlight since the opening of school last fall, and with the state championship clinched in the first three, Carolina will send forth the pick of her track material in the effort to gain still more athletic laurels.

Coach Dale Ranson urges all track candidates who wish to enter the meet next week to be at the Tin Can every day, either at 3:00 or 5:30 o'clock.

At least two of the sophomores on the Tar Heel boxing team appear to have excellent chances at Southern Conference titles in their first season of varsity fighting. They are young Evan Vaughn, hard hitting bantamweight, and the weaving Noah Goodridge, lightweight from New York.

Dance by Candle Light Stirs up Rumpus at N. C. State College

As a result of a dance held by the Sigma Pi fraternity in the State college gymnasium Saturday night with only candle light, wild rumors have been set flying and Dr. E. C. Brooks, president, states that the college authorities have started an investigation into the students' conduct at the dance. The Student Council has been holding meetings, but their purpose has not been revealed.

It was reported Monday night that four students had withdrawn from the college. Dean E. L. Cloyd said that only one man had withdrawn. Tuesday morning Dr. Brooks stated that four men had withdrawn so that their conduct would not be investigated; this, he stated, ended the matter as far as the college was concerned. However, he said Tuesday night that an investigation had just begun.

When newspaper men questioned Dean Cloyd he refused to give out the names of the four men.

There was trouble in the wiring system of the gymnasium and it had not been fixed by the time of the dance Saturday. Candle light was used instead. Prof. A. F. G. Walker, who with his wife was among the chaperons at the dance said that it was no worse than any other college dance. He said that he saw only three drunks there and two of these were not college students.

Nothing definite could be obtained from President Brooks about the matter when newspaper men talked with him. He asked, "Why not wait until something happens that can be given out?"

Tar Baby Grapplers Defeat State Frosh

Last Wednesday afternoon the Tar Baby wrestling team trounced the State yearlings 25 to 11. This is the fourth consecutive victory for the '32 matmen this season. Defeats have been administered to Washington and Lee, Virginia, and Oak Ridge.

The Carolina yearlings won the first three matches by falls. State quickly retaliated by winning the following three scraps with one fall and two time advantages. With the threatening score of 15 to 11 hanging over the team, the Tar Babies gained the final matches with two falls and one time decision.

State Students Boycott Laundry

The North Carolina State College at Raleigh is the scene of a student boycott against the College Laundry and its manager, J. C. Cullins. The embargo against the laundry was instituted Tuesday night after a mass meeting of the entire student body, called by A. B. Holden, vice-president of the student body.

The direct cause of the boycott was an altercation that Cullins had with J. Paul Choplin, president of the junior class, in which Cullins painfully wounded Choplin by striking him over the head with a shotgun. Cullins and the inefficient and high handed service that he has been responsible for have been continual sore-spots at the college, according to students.

The mass meeting went on record as calling for a change in the management of the laundry as well as specifically opposing Cullins.

Plans are already underway to make the boycott effective, and Raleigh laundries have entered into competition for the business. It was stated at the college last night that the alleged violence against the laundry property charged to students by Cullins was merely a vocal demonstration devoid of all physical action.

WRESTLERS HAVE EXCELLENT CHANCE FOR SOUTHERN CONFERENCE CROWN; DUKE IS MOST FORMIDABLE OPPONENT

Track Men Meet At Emerson Today

There will be an important meeting of all track men, both varsity and freshmen, this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Emerson Field. All track men are requested to be present.

Tar Baby Grapplers Beat State 18-14

The Tar Baby wrestling team succeeded in making it two in a row in one week from State, when they added another victory to their credit last Thursday afternoon with an 18 to 14 score. The match was rather slow and void of thrills except in the closeness of the score.

This victory allows the Tar Babies to lay rather uncertain claims upon the state championship, since State recently defeated Duke, and the Carolina freshmen are as yet undefeated.

Summary of the State meet:
115-pound class—Edwards UNC defeated Karig by a fall, 5 minutes.

125-pound class—Allison UNC defeated Saterwhite by fall, divided period, 2 minutes 59 seconds; 1 minute.

135-pound class—Graham, State, defeated Weaver, time advantage, 9 minutes 5 seconds.

145-pound class—Smithwet, State, gained a forfeit when Norwood suffered a broken arm.

155-pound class—Spell, UNC, defeated Lee, time advantage, 6 minutes 50 seconds.

165-pound class—Beard, State, defeated Williamson, time advantage 8 minutes 50 seconds.

175-pound class—Leary, UNC, defeated Black by fall, second period, 1 minute 5 seconds.

Unlimited—Blaylock, State, defeated Howell, time advantage 3 minutes.

Match Tuesday Night Will Have Weighty Bearing on State Title and Conference Crown.

With the Duke meet looming only three days in the distance, Coach Quinlan is smoothing out the remaining wrinkles of the Tar Heel wrestling material in preparation for this state championship struggle. When the Carolinians enter upon the mat Tuesday night, they will have as a background victories over four of the strongest teams of the south. Not only will this meet settle the state championship issue, but it will also allow either Duke or Carolina to make strong bids for the Southern Conference crown. Neither of the two teams have as yet met defeat.

Last year Duke completely subdued Carolina, winning by the overwhelming score of 24 to 3. However, the records of the past three years indicate that the Tar Heels have the slight advantage in scores.

This is Coach Quinlan's fourth year of leadership over Tar Heel wrestling teams. During this period although handicapped each year by the lack of varsity material, he has succeeded in capturing two state championships for Carolina and in building up the present contenders for the southern throne.

The concluding meet will be held next Saturday night when the Tar Heels meet the strong V. M. I. team. The meet Tuesday night against Duke will be at Duke.

The wrestling team this year is fitted out unusually well in so far as managers are concerned. Herman Snell is manager and he has as his assistants Tom Hunter and Billy Betts.

Send the TAR HEEL HOME.
