

Matmen Battle Duke Tonight in Title Meet

Will Be Most Important Meet of Season for the Carolina Grappling Squad

Captain Gene Thompson and Peyton Abbott Depended Upon to Bring Home Victories.

The Carolina and Duke wrestling teams are getting their final instructions today in preparation for the state title meet in Durham tonight. The matches will be held in the Duke gymnasium.

The meet will not only decide the state title, but will have a tremendous bearing on the southern conference championship race. Both Duke and Carolina have defeated all other conference teams to date, including V. P. I., thrice conference champs. Carolina is also to meet V. M. I. here next Saturday night. Should the Tar Heels defeat both the Blue Devils and Cadets their claim to the southern conference title will be undisputed.

Interest centers around the heavy-weight scrap, but both teams will present strong contenders in the lighter weights.

The Tar Heels are banking on Clyde McKinney, 250 pound sophomore, to give Captain Okie Jones a merry time in the unlimited bout, but Coaches Quinlan and Molsinger realize that victories must be won in other bouts to clinch the meet.

The tiny Stallings, sophomore 115 pound star of the Tar Heels, draws a tough assignment in the opening bout. He meets Applewhite, Duke's lightest mat star, who has dropped only two tough bouts in two seasons. Stallings' only defeat this season was on a time decision to Pryor, Virginia bantam star.

Bill Woodard, 135 pound speed demon, is another Tar Heel who draws a tough bout. He meets Ralph Starnes, undefeated in Blue Devil meets for two full seasons. Woodard has not lost a bout this year, chalking up wins over several hitherto undefeated stars. He recently defeated Captain Graves, Virginia Cavalier, who had not lost in three seasons.

In addition to these three sophomores carded for feature bouts, the Tar Heels will present a pair of veteran favorites, doped to win. Captain Gene Thompson and Peyton Abbott will handle the 125 pound and 145 pound berths.

The complete Tar Heel lineup due to start the meet will likely include Stallings, 115 pounds; Capt. Thompson, 125 pounds; Woodard, 135 pounds; Abbott, 145 pounds; Moore, 155 pounds; Cowper, 165 pounds; Ferguson or Stone, 175 pounds; and McKinney, heavyweight.

Rifle Team Shoots New York Stock, X And Narist College

The Carolina rifle team held its first match of the year Friday night in the gallery under Memorial hall. The match was a double one and Narist College of Atlanta, Georgia, and the New York Stock Exchange were shot against. These matches are held under the regulations of the National Rifle Association and are subject to any rulings that the Association may pass.

The matches held last Friday night were telegraphic matches and the results of the other teams have not been wired to the manager and the outcome is not yet known. The team here shot exceptionally well and it is possible that it will score a victory because a higher score was turned in to the N. R. A. offices than any other one score turned in all last year. Apparently the team has improved since last year.

The following schedule of matches has been made for the team:

Week beginning Feb. 23—Sacramento Junior College, Atlanta, Ga., and The New York Stock Exchange.

Week beginning March 2—Cleveland Tech, N. C. State Freshmen vs. U. N. C. Frosh, and N. C. State (pending).

Week beginning March 9—Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., and University of Southern California.

Week beginning March 16—University of Cincinnati.

Manager Miles is now negotiating with several more rifle teams but no definite dates have been arranged.

Miss Katherine Batts, East Rosemary Street, had the misfortune to have her Chevrolet coupé stolen Monday night. The thief, however, abandoned the car at Carrboro, where it was recovered Tuesday.

COLLEGE BOXERS FROM ALL SOUTH ENTER TOURNEY

Tar Heels Are Strong Favorites To Win Southern Conference Title.

With the state championship already in the bag, the University of North Carolina boxers now turn their attention to the annual Southern Conference tournament which will take place next Friday and Saturday at the University of Virginia.

The Tar Heels will defend their conference championship in the meet this week against a strong array of southern ring teams. With Clemson, Florida, Georgia, Virginia, V.P.I., Duke, and North Carolina already entered in the tournament, and Washington and Lee, Tulane, and Virginia Military Institute all likely to send teams, the meet promises to be the greatest competition between college boxers in the entire United States this year.

The Tar Heels, boasting wins over such teams as Virginia, V.M.I., V.P.I., Florida, Washington and Lee, and last of all, Duke, which has one of the best teams in the South, are easily the favorites to win the tournament. However Coaches Quinlan and Butler are sending their proteges against the best that has ever been seen in the South when they enter the annual mix-up next Friday and Saturday.

A great deal depends on the showing of such sophomore stars as Vaughn, Sheffield, Goodridge, Davis, and Warren. Of course the veterans, Captain Brown and Allen, are expected to raise a lot of racket in the meet just as they have done in the past. Brown was the conference middleweight champion last year and he stands a good chance to retain the title again this year. Evan Vaughn, Carolina bantam, with a win over Ted Miller, Florida fighter who won the bantam championship last year, will put in a strong claim for the title in that division this year. In the last few meets Sheffield has shown a wicked punch which has landed with disastrous effect on his opponents, and together with Goodridge should make a good showing at the Tournament.

The annual tournament was first held in 1927. The University of Virginia won the first title and the Tar Heels the second. This year the number of teams competing will be doubled and the meet promises to be a great success. College boxing is growing in popularity by leaps and bounds. Evidence of this growth can be seen as the number of teams in the South has grown from two in 1922 until at present there are around a score of college boxing teams.

DATE OF TRACK MEET CHANGED

First Annual Track and Field Carnival Will Be Held Here Saturday.

On account of the enthusiastic reception given the announcement of the first annual Mid-Winter Indoor Track Carnival, University of North Carolina athletic authorities decided today to change the date of the meet from Friday, March 1, to Saturday night, March 2, to suit the convenience of the competing institutions, a number of whom have indicated their preference for the Saturday date.

It is to be an open invitation meet, with events for varsity, freshman, and high and preparatory school teams. The meet will start at 6:45 o'clock.

Already Coaches R. A. Fetzer and Dale Ranson, in charge of track activities at the University, have received tentative entries from members of the State's Big Five and a number of institutions in the South Atlantic states.

The meet will be divided into three sections, the first devoted to varsity events, the second to freshman events, and the third to inter-scholastic events. All events will be run according to the rules laid down by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for the government of indoor meets.

The varsity events, ten in number, will include a 60-yard dash, a 60-yard high hurdles, a 440-yard dash, an 880-yard run, a mile run, a two-mile run, a one-mile relay, the pole vault, the high jump, and the shot put. The freshman program will include the 60-yard dash, the 60-yard high hurdles, a one-mile run and a one-mile relay. The special inter-scholastic events are to be the 60-yard dash, the 60-yard low hurdles, an 880-yard run, a half-mile sprint relay, a running high jump, and shot put. The last two events were added to the program at the request of a number of schools in this division.

The inter-scholastic events will be open to both high schools and preparatory schools.

There will be a special 500-yard novice race which will be open to any athlete who has not won a race in college competition. It will now, however, count in the scoring in any division.

An effort is being made to induce Galen Elliott, former University star distance runner, who recently competed in the Milrose games, to come to Chapel Hill to compete in a feature race against selected opposition.

The University has excellent accommodations for the meet in the huge Tin Can here. The track provides for only ten laps to the mile for the track events, and the field events will be run off in specially constructed sawdust pits, giving almost the same conditions for the pole vault and high jump that would prevail outdoors.

Entry blanks may be secured from the University's Athletic Director.

Annual Intramural Track and Field Carnival is Carded for The Tin Can Tomorrow Night

Everybody Eligible Except Varsity Letter Men; Large Number of Entries

The annual intramural track carnival will be held in the Tin Can tomorrow night, February 27, beginning at 7:00 o'clock. This meet, ordinarily an indoor affair, was held in the open last season, but this year the weather again forces the track and field men indoors. Letters have already been sent to the individual fraternity and dormitory managers, urging them to put a full-strength team on the field. Preparations have been made in the University's gigantic indoor athletic garden to accommodate all comers, so a large number of participants are expected.

Everyone but varsity letter men is eligible for the meet. All freshmen and non letter-winning varsity men who have a covetous eye glued on a permanent berth either with the freshman or varsity team should be out for the meet. Freshman and varsity coaches will have a watchful eye peeled for likely material for the teams this year, as the track team was thoroughly devastated by graduations last season. This will be a great opportunity for track and field hopefuls to gain the eye of the coaches. Everyone will have a chance in the events, and anyone may come through to victory. Fully half of the varsity track and field men come up from the Intramural ranks each season.

There are eight events listed for the meet. These include a sixty-yard dash, sixty-yard low hurdles, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, an eight-man shuttle relay, and a four-man shuttle relay, while the field men will get their chance in the shot put and high jump.

Sigma Phi Sigma carried off the individual unit honors last year, featuring a one-man track team in the person of the sensational Johnny Fort, who later starred in the broad jump and low hurdles with the varsity. New Dorms won the dormitory honors.

CAROLINA COURT TEAM POINTS FOR SOUTHERN TITLE

Ashmore's Charges Leave for Southern Tournament Friday.

(Special to the Tar Heel)

Atlanta, February 25—Atlanta's annual southern conference basketball tournament opens Friday. Sixteen select teams of conference cagers will meet in the titular games, with a half dozen or more rating an even chance for the year's honors in Dixie.

Meeting on Sunday, the conference basketball committee paired the teams with only Virginia, Sewanee, Florida, V. P. I., Vanderbilt, V. M. I., and South Carolina missing from the competitive list.

North Carolina meets Mississippi A. and M. in the first round of tournament play. The Aggies have previously won the southern title at Atlanta, and are expected to present a fast aggregation this year. Their record for this season, however, does not seem so auspicious, with 8 losses in 13 starts with conference teams.

University of Mississippi, the defending champions, will be called upon to defend its crown in the first game of the meet, the Oxford aggregation being pitted against the University of Maryland.

Opening day pairing and the time of games:

- 1 p. m.—Mississippi University vs. Maryland.
- 2 p. m.—Kentucky vs. Tulane.
- 3 p. m.—Washington and Lee vs. Louisiana State.
- 4 p. m.—North Carolina State vs. Tennessee.
- 5 p. m.—Alabama vs. Duke.
- 7 p. m.—Georgia vs. Auburn.
- 8 p. m. University of North Carolina vs. Mississippi A. and M. 9 p. m.—Georgia Tech vs. Clemson. Washington and Lee. Louisiana State, Mississippi University, Maryland, North Carolina State, Tennessee, Clemson and Georgia Tech comprise the first bracket.

Georgia, Auburn, Kentucky, Tulane, Alabama, Duke, North Carolina and Mississippi A. and M. are the second bracket eight.

In the first bracket, the winner of the Washington and Lee-Louisiana State game will meet the Maryland-Mississippi contest survivors in the second round while the winner of the North Carolina State-Tennessee game will play the Clemson-Georgia Tech winner.

The two teams triumphing in that brush will play for the right to participate in the finale.

Woolen Expert Is At Book "X" Now

That our local retailers are progressive there is no doubt. The most recent illustration on the part of stores to serve their trade and this community to the utmost is given by the Book Exchange. Announcement is made that this institution has, by special arrangement with the Kahn Tailoring Company of Indianapolis, secured the services of one of their woolen and style experts.

This gentleman understands it to give a tailoring exhibit at the Book Exchange. Domestic and imported Kahn woollens are to be shown and authoritative style information is to be given to all those who seek it. The event is part of a huge national program sponsored by Kahn Tailoring Company in order to make men and young men better acquainted with the worth of custom tailored clothes, and to advise them as to correct styles and what woollens and colors they should select in order to be smartly attired. That clothes can, and do express the individuality and personality of their owners is an established fact.

The manager of the Book Exchange is on record as having said that in all his experience he has never before been privileged to present through the courtesies of the Kahn Tailoring Company, such an unusual display of woollens and offer such a splendid service to the men of this town.

The tailoring exhibit will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 25, 26 and 27.—Adv. Reader.
