

OUTDOOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Many Men Out Going Through Daily Workouts; Hot Battle Is Expected.

The annual outdoor track and field meet sponsored by the Intramural Athletic department is scheduled for tomorrow, Wednesday, April 10, at 2 o'clock, as previously announced. Many men have been practicing daily since the first announcement of the Intramural meet two weeks ago, with the result that there will be some good meets or events between the various dormitory and fraternity teams.

Already several of the frats have indicated that they will have teams; while all dormitories are supposed to and probably will enter teams. As usual the meet is open to all men who have never won a varsity letter, who have not participated in a meet this season, or all frosh who have not participated in a meet this year. As many as possibly can are urged to turn out for the meet. The varsity meet Saturday showed up weak spots in the Carolina Club. Coaches Fetzner, Ranson, Belding, and Quinlan are searching high and low for new material, so this may mean an opportunity for several to break into a varsity berth, with a little coaching. Carolina's record of never having been defeated in a duel meet in eight years must not be broken, and it might lie in the power of some man who now is an Intramural athlete to keep this slate clean.

In the indoor meet held back in the winter some good records were made in all events, while many of the participants in that meet are now wearing varsity colors. Beta Theta Pi won out in the fraternity section of the meet, while "F" dormitory ran up the highest number of points to take the dorm bunting. These will be defending champions tomorrow.

TAR HEELS PLAY OLD LINERS HERE

Auburn Wright Will Probably Be Ashmore's Choice for Mound Service.

Auburn Wright, a rookie pitcher who hurls a mean brand of right-hand ball, is Coach Jim Ashmore's likely choice to start on the mound against Maryland when the Old Liners and Tar Heels play their first baseball game of the season here this afternoon. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

Frank Fleming, another rookie right-hander, may be sent to the mound in case Wright should need relief.

The game is the first of three Southern Conference Tri-State League games on the Tar Heel cards for the week, for Coach Jim Ashmore will take his charges northward on Thursday night, meeting the Old Liners at College Park, Md., on Friday and returning to meet Virginia in Charlottesville, Va., on Saturday. The Tuesday game, which will be the Tar Heels' last home game in more than a week, means much to the University nine. The Tar Heels have won their opening battle in the Tri-State ranks, whipping Washington and Lee 7 to 5 for a starter. Now they need this game with Maryland to prove they are no flash in the pan.

Fleming and Wright both should be right for work against the Old Liners. Fleming has not worked in more than a week, and Wright's last mound duty was a few innings relief work against Cornell last Wednesday.

The remainder of the Tar Heel line-up will probably show Captain Luffy, first base; Rand, second base; Whitehead, shortstop; Satterfield, third base; Barnhart, left field; Cox, center field; Jessup or Sher, right field; and Maus, catcher.

ROOKIES WIN FOR JIM

Although Coach Jim Ashmore started off the season with prospects for a good hurling staff far from bright, in fact just about zero, two of his rookies have won two games each and lost none of the University of North Carolina nine. Auburn Wright defeated Springfield and Pennsylvania and Frank Fleming turned back Springfield and Penn State.

HEEL VAULTERS GOOD

With Vernon Cowper already topping 12 feet nine inches and Arnold Dry and Neiman clearing good heights, University of North Carolina track coaches are depending on their pole vaulters to furnish many points this season.

FROSH WIN OVER HIGH SCHOOLERS

Defeat Greensboro and Wilmington; Goodwin Loses in 100-Yard Dash.

The Carolina freshmen opened their track season today with a 56 1-2 to 51 1/2 victory over an all-star high school team from Wilmington and Greensboro. The Wilmington stars accounted for 27 1/2 of the high school points, while Greensboro added 24 points. The meet was held as a double header affair with the varsity meet with V. P. I.'s Gobblers.

McAlister took firsts in the high jump, javelin and discus and added a third in the shot put for 16 points and high scoring honors. HEEL TRACKMEN WIN OVER V. P. I.

Hot Weather and Fast Track Brings Good Time in Running Events.

Unrelentless in the face of age, the University of North Carolina trackmen held fast last Saturday afternoon to their record of eight years of dual competition without a defeat, completely subduing the Gobblers from V. P. I. 79 to 47. A mid-summer sun and a fast track came nigh to proving disastrous to the standing records as several of the cinder stars from both schools clipped off speedy times in the running events.

Two Tar Heel youngsters of the sophomore class led the field in scoring honors, each capturing two first places and ten points. Neiman won both the pole vault and the broad jump, while Gay captured the spotlight by winning first place in each of the sprints. All in all the Heelmen left the meet with nine firsts and a tie out of fourteen events. The Gobblers took all three places in the javelin toss, but the Tar Heels quickly retaliated by sweeping in all interests in the pole vault, the two mile and the discus. Captain Henderson led his two teammates, Baucom and Lowry, in the two-mile with a time of 10 minutes 12 2-5 seconds.

"Puny" "Tiny" Harper, Carolina weight astrol, hurled the discus 135 ft. 7 in. to shatter the only record of the day. Harper's own University record was surpassed by this toss by an even two feet, while the state intercollegiate mark fell in the background by fully four feet.

Intramural Baseball To Open on Thursday

The Intramural Baseball season will officially open Thursday, April 11. The original opening date of yesterday was set up because of the fact that there is a varsity baseball game today, there was a frosh game yesterday, and the big Intramural track tournament is scheduled for tomorrow.

The schedule for this year will follow the lines of the one of previous years. There will be a fraternity and dormitory section. These two will work on separate schedule until the end of the season when the two sectional winners meet for the campus title. The usual eligibility rules will be observed. That is, no man who has ever won a varsity letter, or who has participated in a contest this year, or any freshman who has been in a game this year will be eligible.

The schedule will extend over a six-week period with each team playing approximately twelve games, two a week. Play will be daily when weather permits, except when there are varsity baseball games or track meets. All games will be played on the two Intramural diamonds, below the Freshman field.

HEELS HITTING HARD

Sixty-one hits in forty-five innings is the record made so far this season by the University of North Carolina's baseball nine. In the first six games Coach Jim Ashmore's youngsters pounded out five home-runs, 3 triples, nine doubles and 44 singles.
