

Tar Heel Cinder Stars Defeat Generals in A Fast Dual Track Meet

Retain Seven Years Record Despite Absence of Captain Henderson.

While the Tar Babies were entering the southern spotlight at the Georgia Tech Relays last Saturday afternoon, a crippled Carolina cinder team succeeded in amassing their reserve strength to the extent of a 72 1-2 to 53 1-2 victory over the Generals from Washington and Lee. This victory in the face of threatening defeat allows the Tar Heels to hold fast to their record of seven years' dual competition on the track without an adverse score.

W. and L. as predicted, asserted her strength in the dashes and shorter runs. Leaving behind them the speedy time of 9 4-5 seconds, Grant and Sandifer gained possession of first and second places in the 100-yard dash. In the same order and with a time of 21 3-5 seconds they tucked away honors in the 220. The quarter also gave a first and second to W. and L. as Shepard and Dickey sprinted past Harrison in the last twenty yards. Captain Backus captured two firsts in the half and mile races. In the javelin throw the Generals gathered in three places with a distance of 159 feet 9 inches.

Carolina displayed her superiority in the remaining events, gaining five out of six places in the mile and two mile in spite of the fact that Captain Henderson and three of his cohorts were entered in the Tech Relays at Atlanta. Adkins and Neiman smashed two university records in the shot and broad jump events. Adkins heaved the shot 42 feet 5-8 in. to establish a new mark and give the Tar Heels a lead in the first events of the day. When Neiman leaped 22 feet 5 1-4 in. in the broad jump event, a five-year old university record fell crumbling from its pinnacle.

Woolen Expert at The Book Exchange

That our local retailers are progressive there is no doubt. The most recent illustration on the part of stores to serve their trade and this community to the utmost is given by The Book Exchange. Announcement is made that this institution has, by special arrangement with the Kahn Tailoring Company of Indianapolis, secured the services of one of their woolen and style experts.

This gentleman we understand is to give a tailoring exhibit at the Book Exchange. Domestic and imported Kahn woolens are to be shown and authoritative style information is to be given to all those who seek it. The event is part of a huge national program sponsored by Kahn Tailoring Company in order to make men and young men better acquainted with the worth of custom tailored clothes, and to advise them as to correct styles and what woolens and colors they should select in order to be smartly attired. That clothes can, and do express the individuality and personality of their owners is an established fact.

The manager of the Book Exchange is on record as having said that in all his experience he has never before been privileged to present through the courtesies of the Kahn Tailoring Company such an unusual display of woolens and offer such a splendid service to the men of this town.

The tailoring exhibit will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 15th, 16th and 17th.

Rifle Club To Meet

Important meeting of the Rifle Club will be held in Gerrard Hall, Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. All old men and any new candidates who wish to try out for the team are urged to be present for this meeting, as plans for the future will be discussed and practices for coming meets will be arranged.

UNIVERSITY TO SPONSOR ANNUAL GEOLOGY TOUR

Trip Will Cover Points of Geological Interest in Four States.

Announcement of the fifth annual Summer Travel Course in Geology was made here today by the University of North Carolina.

The trip will begin on June 17 and last until about July 20. The course is offered each year by the Department of Geology. It combines a summer outing with practical experience in field geology and geography.

The trip is to be conducted again this year by Dr. Gerald R. McCarthy, of the University Department of Geology. Two full course credits will be granted to students completing the work.

The tour will be mainly through the scenic region of the mountains of Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and New York, and members of the party will travel by automobiles and camp out nights.

Members will study the structure, physical geography and stratigraphy of the Appalachians; will visit quarries, mines and other features of economic and engineering interest; and will give especial attention to the glacial phenomena of Southern New York.

There will be opportunity to collect fossils and mineral specimens, it was announced, and several of the large eastern museums, notably those in Washington, will be visited. Points of especial interest will be the coal mining regions of Pennsylvania and the beautiful Finger Lake District of New York.

The expense is relatively small, and several of the 20 places to which the course is limited have already been filed. Complete information regarding the tour may be had from the University Extension Division here, which cooperates with the Geology Department in staging the field course each year.

For Track Fans

Below is a list of the best records made by American college men in track while they were undergraduates or since they have left college. These records have been passed upon and accepted by the National Collegiate Athletic Association Records Committee. With few exceptions the holders of the world's records were college athletes. Events indicated with star (*) are best college records only; all others are world records. This list should assist the Carolina track fans in determining just how the Tar Heel cindermen stack up against the standing records.

BASEBALL SQUAD FACES HARD WEEK

V. M. I., V. P. I. and Maryland To Be Played.

The University of North Carolina baseball squad faces this week one of the hardest five day's play on its whole schedule.

Games with V. M. I., and V. P. I., will follow in rapid succession on Tuesday and Wednesday as the Tar Heels swing through the last lap of their annual Northern invasion that began with engagements last week with Virginia and Maryland.

And then, after the trip home and a brief two day's rest, the Tar Heels will play their fourth game of the week, going up against the strong V. M. I. aggregation on Emerson Field here on Saturday afternoon.

Four games in one week is a strenuous schedule for a college club. But Coach Ashmore's rookie pitchers have been coming through steadily and with the whole club slugging at a terrific clip, there is good possibility that the Tar Heels may keep up the splendid winning streak with which they opened the season.

The Tar Heels met Washington and Lee in Lexington, Va., Monday, with already one victory over the Virginia club this year, played on the Tar Heels' field.

The other teams are more or less unknown quantities, but both are Southern Conference and Tri-State League opponents, and will probably keep the Tar Heels fighting all the way. The V. M. I. game will come in Lexington, Va., Tuesday; the V. M. I. struggle in Blacksburg, Va., Wednesday; and the final battle with V. M. I. will be on Emerson Field here Saturday afternoon.

Coach Ashmore carried a squad of 14 players on this Northern invasion: Captain Nap Luffy, Marshall Rand, Burgess Whitehead, and Henry Satterfield, infielders; Jim Barnhart, Tom Cox, Bob Jessup, and Phil Jackson, outfielders; Jim Maus and Henry House, catchers; and Jim Ball, Jim Magner, Frank Fleming, and Auburn Wright, pitchers.

POUR CONCRETE IN DUKE'S NEW BOWL

Stadium Begins to Take Shape; Will Be Ready for Pitt Game in October.

Durham, April 15—After months of grading, excavating and assembling materials, first work was started yesterday on the pouring of concrete for Duke University's new football stadium.

Situated in a natural woodland amphitheatre, the finished grading on the large stadium now permits a full conception of its great size and shape. Though the stadium will be built so that it can be enlarged at any time, it will seat 35,000 persons upon its completion this fall.

According to A. C. Lee, chief engineer of the Duke Construction Company, the stadium will be completed in ample time for the opening game on October 5 this fall when the University of Pittsburgh comes to meet the Duke eleven.

To Be Easily Reached
Rigsbee Road, which leads from West Chapel Hill Street into the Duke campus, will be paved and put in readiness for the heavy traffic at football events this fall, according to Mr. Lee. The city of Durham will pave up to the campus and from there the University will pave to the stadium and beyond to parking areas. Several miles of roadways on the campus are to be paved this summer, according to the chief engineer.

A new roadbed has been graded on the campus which will extend Rigsbee road to the south of the stadium and link it with a new State highway which crosses the Duke campus and stretches to highway No. 10. The new stadium thus will be easily accessible to autoists attending games.

State Intercollegiate Tennis Tourney

The annual State Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament will be held on the University of North Carolina courts on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 17, 18, 19 and 20. Entries are expected from all "Big Five" institutions.

Farris Is More Than an Athlete

Ray Farris, All-Southern guard who will captain the University of North Carolina football squad next season, is more than an athlete. Farris has been classed as one of the most versatile football players ever seen in the South, often being called the "five-threat guard," and his versatility extends beyond the gridiron. He was elected recently as president of the University's student government.

TAR BABIES WIN HONORS AT TECH RELAY CARNIVAL

Freshmen Make Good Showing at Atlanta.

Five Carolina Tar Babies earned for North Carolina two distinct honors in the Georgia Tech Relay carnival held at Atlanta last Saturday afternoon by setting two new records in the half-mile and mile relays for yearling competitors. Their time in the half-mile was 1 minute 31 3-5 seconds while they registered a 3 minutes 30 seconds time in the mile event. The Tar Babies were only 4-5 seconds slower in their time in the mile relay than the University of Florida aggregation which set a new record for the collegiate mile relay. The five first-year men who made the trip were Farmer, Case, Weil, Slusser and Phoenix.

Honors of the meet were well divided between the various teams of the Southern Conference; first honors went to Auburn and L. S. U. with three first place and one third each. North Carolina secured two victories, while the remaining laurels were scattered among half a dozen competing schools.

Dynamite in large quantities is now used to prospect for oil.

The truly contented man isn't afraid to come home unexpectedly.

Carolina Freshmen Encounter State On Track Today

This afternoon the Tar Babies will meet their second track foe of the season as they stack up against the State College yearlings. It is possible that continued rain may cause a postponement of this meet.

Those first year men who are slated to meet State this afternoon are for the most part the same that met and defeated the combined team from Greensboro and Wilmington Highs. Farmer, Slusser, Weil and Case will be entered in the sprints; Farmer, Houston and Follin in the 440; Phoenix and Gilchrist in the half; Farris, Pierce and Anderson, milers; Reid, McAllister and Myers in the high jump; Reid, Case and Weil in the broad jump; McAllister, Gilbreath, Finkner, Remsen and Parsons in the shot, discus and javelin events; Parsons and Smith, pole vault; Reid and Slusser in the hurdles.

The meet will take place this afternoon if the weather permits at 3 o'clock on Emerson field.

Drink Coca-Cola
Delicious and Refreshing
PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF
ONE SOUL WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT—TO PAUSE AND REFRESH HIMSELF AND NOT EVEN A GLANCE FROM THE STAG LINE
Enough's enough and too much is not necessary. Work hard enough at anything and you've got to stop. That's where Coca-Cola comes in. Happily, there's always a cool and cheerful place around the corner from anywhere. And an ice-cold Coca-Cola, with that delicious taste and cool after-sense of refreshment, leaves no argument about when, where—and how—to pause and refresh yourself.
