

Charlotte Returns to Take High School Track Meet

Queen City Team Barely Manages to Nose out Wilmington 34 1-2 to 33 1-2.

Charlotte returned yesterday to take back to the "Queen City" the state track title after allowing it to be held by Greensboro for one year. Charlotte clearly proved themselves champions of the North Carolina High Schools, for in winning the title they fought off the winning stride of the flying feet from Eastern North Carolina. Wilmington, winner of two state titles this season, sought a third. But it was not to be for the well-roundedness of the Charlotte lads gave them the title by one point. The final score found "Doc" Barret's trackmen leading Wilmington 34 1-2 to 33 1-2.

Only one record fell before the onslaught of the high school athletes. Martin copped that with a heave of 170 feet 7 1-2 inches to break the old record by six feet one half inch. Martin's record compares favorably with the throws of the college athletes in the state.

"Doc" Barret brought a well-rounded team up from Charlotte for it was their second and third places that won the meet for them. In only two events did the Charlotte boys win first—the discus and the 440 yard run. Mitchener took the 440 in an almost blanket finish with Evans of Charlotte, Lynch of Wilmington, and Robinson of Wilmington. The race was so close that it was difficult to pick the winner at the finish. To Robinson, winner of fourth place in the 440 yard run go individual honors of the day, for the plucky Eastern lad came back less than thirty minutes after the finish of the quarter and took second to Rankin of Wilmington in the half mile.

Wilmington's remarkable feat of taking second place in the meet was accomplished mainly through the efforts of five men—Hancock, winner of the two sprints, Rankin, winner of the 880, E. Smith, winner of the low hurdles, Robinson, and Bennett. Others participated in the scoring but these five scored 26 points between them.

However, to Doc Barret, mentor of the Charlotte team, goes the credit of having one of the best high school teams seen in a long while in the state. While Wilmington and other teams were piling up first places the Charlotte boys were scoring steadily with seconds, thirds, and fourths.

Both Coach Barrett, and Sinclair have developed outstanding teams in Charlotte and Wilmington. Charlotte has won consistently for six years with only a break last year when Greensboro won, while Wilmington has taken second place by one point two years straight. Dave Sinclair, Coach of Wilmington, is a former captain of Carolina track and while coaching at Wilmington discovered Farmer, star freshman sprinter. He has another star, Hancock, developing rapidly.

Sikes of Edward Best high school captured the pole vault and tied for first in high jump to score eight points for his team.

Captain Henderson

Captain Johnny Henderson, veteran cross-countryman and miler, will be one of the strongholds of defense for the Tar Heels in their meet Saturday at Atlanta with Georgia Tech. Henderson is the holder of the Conference two-mile record, having set a time of 9 minutes 38 seconds in this event in a meet with Duke last season.

HARPER, NEIMAN, ADKINS CRUMBLE CINDER RECORDS

Cowper Breaks University Vault Record in Indoor Meet.

Four University track records have crumbled this season under the onslaught of a quartet of Tar Heel cinder stars. Cowper started the ball rolling in the early season by smashing the then existing pole vault record with a lead of 12 ft. 1 1-4 in. This new record was made in the Indoor Invitational meet held early in the spring. The world record in this event is held by Carr of Yale with a height of 14 ft. 1 in.

In the first outdoor competition that the Tar Heels met on the track this season, a dual meet with V.P.I., Adkins and Harper hurled the shot and discus to establish a new University mark in these two events. Harper broke his own record by tossing the discus 135 ft. 7 in. Adkins heaved the shot for a distance of 42 ft. 5-8 in. and a new record.

In the recent meet with Washington and Lee last Saturday, Neiman surpassed all of the preceding Carolina track skill in the broad jump with a leap of 22 ft. 5 1-4 in. The world record in this event is held by Hamm of Georgia Tech with a jump of 25 ft. 11 1-8 in.

Tar Babies Conquer State Yearlings on Track Last Thursday

The Tar Babies came through with a win for the second time this season when they defeated the State Freshmen track team on Emerson Field last Thursday to the tune of 85 to 41.

In spite of the cold there were many exciting races although at no time was the outcome doubtful. Reid, of Carolina, came through as the high scorer of the meet with three firsts and a tie for second. He took both the hurdle races, as usual, and nosed out Houston, also of Carolina, in the broad jump, also tying for first in the high jump with Johnson, of Carolina. Worth McAllister and Charles Farmer vied with each other for second honors in scoring. McAllister won both the discus and javelin, while Farmer took both the 100 and 220 yard sprints. Phoenix, of Carolina, finished well in the lead in the mile, leading Brock, of State, by a good twenty yards.

Five hundred Mexican families now in the cotton and truck garden fields of Texas will be taken back to Mexico to colonize the San Martin project of 150,000 acres.

Hickory, fourth. Distance 170 feet 7 1-2 inches. New Record.

Pole vault—Sikes, Edward Best, first; James, Hickory, Goodwin, Greensboro, and Earp, Edward Best, all tied for second. Height 10 ft. 9 in.

GOLF TEAM MEETS GA TECH TODAY ON SEDGEFIELD LINKS

Heavy Schedule Faces Kenfield's Team in Spring Campaign.

Golf has assumed a major role among minor sports at the University. Entering upon its second—the most trying—year of official competition, the old Scotch game has received a ready recognition of worth as an intercollegiate athletic contest.

Kenfield, University tennis coach during the 1928 season, has been recently appointed to supervise golf in connection with his direction of tennis. Kenfield is a man of long experience with the game, and should prove as capable coach of golf as he has shown himself to be in tennis. The appointment of a special coach for golf is the reward for the splendid showing of University golfers in annexing state championship honors last year.

The University golf team, for want of a full eighteen hole golf course nearby, is using the Kenan stadium as a practice links. The more than 150 yards of clean cut grass furnishes fine space for practice shots with the irons, and the smooth turf offers no obstacles to putting. Coach Kenfield has his squad working there daily this spring. Carolina's home course in intercollegiate competition is the Hope Valley Country Club links.

A ladder has been arranged whereby an accurate rating of players might be arranged. Each player might advance up the ladder by challenging and defeating any player formerly ahead of him in the ranking. A number of University golfers have been contesting for playing positions on the team. At present, the ladder stands as follows: Meade Willis, No. 1; Charles Chatham, No. 2; June Adams, No. 3; Luther Stewart, No. 4; Dave Craig, No. 5; Willis Henderson, No. 6.

Carolina's campaign on the course this year has been quite successful. A decisive victory was scored over a flashy Davidson team, an engagement in somewhat the status of preliminary to the state inter-collegiate tournament at Sedgefield last week-end. In the Sedgefield tournament, Carolina added new laurels to the championship crown won last year by romping roughshod over select opposition to win state championship honors again. In this play, Carolina completely avenged its early defeat by Duke, which trailed far behind in the tournament. Meade Willis won individual honors in annexing the state championship title in the Sedgefield tournament.

The University golfers meet representatives of Georgia Tech today on the Sedgefield Country Club course at Greensboro. Athletic officials have arranged an excellent schedule for the Carolina links team, with meets carded for May with Sewanee, Washington and Lee, and a return engagement with Duke. North Carolina will be a strong contender for sectional honors when its representative golfers enter the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament, which will be played in Asheville next month.

Carolina Makes Strong Showing in Big Five Tennis Competition.

North Carolina's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament will be concluded this afternoon when final matches are to be played on the University courts to determine state championships for 1929 in singles and doubles. Of the five schools represented at the opening of play in Wednesday's elimination, but three sent men into semi-final competition yesterday.

The University racketeers were well out in front in the third round of play yesterday. Carolina's courtmen sent two men, Ed Yoemans and Morton Shapiro, into the semi-final singles. Yoemans met Johnston, of Davidson, in the upper bracket; and Shapiro faced Frank, of Duke, in the lower draw. Both Yoemans and Shapiro are sophomores in the University, playing their first year of varsity tennis.

Bettering their singles performances, Coach Kenfield's University stars battered their way to three out of four semi-final posts in the doubles. Norwood and Waddell met the only foreign opposition when they contested Rogers and Folk, Duke aces, in the upper section. The lower semi-finals in the doubles was an all-Carolina affair between Scott and Yoemans and Merritt and Shapiro.

In final play this afternoon, singles competition will see the winner of the Yoemans-Johnston match engaging the winner of the Shapiro-Frank affair. In the doubles, the winner of the Norwood-Waddell and Rogers-Folk match will play the winner of the Scott-Yoemans and Merritt-Shapiro settee. Play begins at two o'clock.

TAR HEELS MEET TECH IN ATLANTA

Fourth Cinder Test for Heels This Season.

Nineteen Tar Heel trackmen journeyed southward yesterday to meet Georgia Tech upon the cinder this afternoon. This is the third meet of the season for Coach Bob's charges and the clash today with Tech will undoubtedly be the most dangerous threat to the seven years dual competition record that the Heels have yet encountered this year. The invading Carolina team will be for the most part the same that met Washington and Lee last Saturday. Captain Johnny Henderson and his mile cohorts, following their stab at the Tech relays last week, will again lend their strength to the North Carolina track aggregation.

The men making the trip to Atlanta are as follows: Henderson, Adkins, Bagby, Barkley, Baucom, Brown, Cowper, Garrett, Gay, Hamer, Harrison, Harper, Lowery, Neiman, Nims, Perry, Ruble, J. K. Smith, Stafford, and Gray, manager.

Tar Heels Meet Cadets Today in First Game After Northern Trip

Will Be Sixth Tri-State Game; Heels Have Won Five Straight; Wright Likely to Take Mound.

This afternoon the Tar Heels will meet the cadets from V.M.I. in the last game of a week's schedule which showed four battles. On Monday the bad weather struck Virginia and kept Ashmore's men from playing. Then again on Tuesday the rain made the second game of the week impossible. Wednesday the elements proved somewhat milder and the Heels took the measure of the V.P.I. club on a cold and wet diamond. This fray was marked by good pitching and rather slack fielding on the part of both teams. However, by bunching their hits when they were needed most, the Tar Heels succeeded in winning eight to two.

Starting a rally in the fourth frame, when a hit batsman forced in a run, Carolina ran up four tallies on a double by Rand which cleared the bases. Again in the sixth and in the seventh the Heels drove over runs. The Gobblers were able to make their hits count for runs in the fourth and sixth frames only.

Fleming and Mapp were each stingy with hits, the former allowing only six hits and the latter only seven.

This victory was the fifth straight for the Tar Heels in Tri-State League play. It was also the first game that the Gobblers played in the Tri-State competition.

This afternoon the Flying Cadets from V.M.I. will show their wares on Emerson Field. The cadets have a strong club and the Heels are expecting a stiff battle. Coach Ashmore has either Wright, Ball or Fleming ready to start against V.M.I. This will be the sixth game for the Heels in Southern Conference Tri-State league play.

At present Carolina is tied for first place in the state championship race with the Blue Devils from Duke. Duke has chalked up two wins in Big Five play and the Heels have won the only game they have played, defeating Davidson. Wake Forest seems to have one of the strongest teams in the state and are expected to change the race, which was at first conceded to be between the Heels and Duke, into a three cornered affair. To date the State College aggregation has not showed much strength and if it does not show a reversal of form it will probably not give anyone much trouble. Play between members of the Big Five has not gotten into full swing yet and until it does, the forecasts on the outcome of the race for the title will have to remain largely a matter of conjecture.

Below is the standing of the Big Five at present:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Duke	2	0	1.000
Carolina	1	0	1.000
Wake Forest	1	1	.500
Davidson	0	1	.000
State	0	2	.000

A CORRECTION

The Tar Heel wishes to correct an error made in the last issue which stated that applications for the summer tour for geologists should be made to the Extension Division of the University. The article should have stated that all applications should be addressed directly to Professor Gerald R. MacCarthy, care of the Department of Geology.
