

CAROLINA TRACK STARS PREPARE FOR STATE MEET

Coaches Smooth Out Wrinkles In Last Few Days of Practice.

The flying heels of North Carolina's best trackmen will meet in Greensboro this week-end to contest for the State track title. Seven times in a row Coach Bob's cinder artists from the Hill have copped the title and Friday and Saturday they will be out to gain their eighth title.

However, they will find the competition harder this year. Old Carolina stars are gone and new ones have appeared at other institutions. Davidson, Duke, and State are all boasting crack outfits this year. Duke with its crack distance runners, State with its fine field event men, and Davidson with its speedy sprinters and hurdlers will give Carolina trouble. But the Carolina coaches are banking on second places to count in the Tar Heel column.

Preliminaries in the sprints, the quarter and half mile, the hurdles, and the field events will be held Friday. Saturday afternoon the finals in all events will be held. Also freshman relay races will be held that afternoon.

With Gay in the sprints, Harrison in the quarter, Nims in the half, Barkley in the mile, Henderson and Baucum in the two mile, Perry and Stafford in the hurdles, Adkins in the shot, Dameron and Harper in the Discus, Bagby in the high jump, Cowper and Neiman in the pole vault, and Neiman and Stafford in the broad jump Carolina is expecting to present a well rounded team. Davidson has Whittle in the sprints and hurdles, Currie in the sprints and Goodykoontz in the quarter. Duke boasts a well rounded distance aggregation in Doxey and Woodward; in the field events, they have Brummitt and Candler. State places its greatest hopes in Captain Hank Young who handles practically all of the field events in fine style.

HEELS TO PLAY SIX MORE GAMES

All Big Five Teams to Be Met in Return Battles.

Six games remain on the Carolina schedule. All of these are with members of the "Big Five" Collegiate circle except the two games with the University of Virginia.

After playing at top speed since the opening of the season, the Heels will welcome the more-than-a week's rest. Saturday's contest with Duke was the last one for Carolina until the first game with Wake Forest May 7. This rest will enable the Heels to reorganize the infield, for since the injury to Marshall Rand, snappy sophomore second baseman, Jackson has been playing second. The rest will be welcome to the hurling staff. Last week-end all members of the corps saw action against V. P. I. and Duke. Frank Fleming hurled the latter half of both contests.

Opening with Wake Forest May 7, the Heels finish their schedule in quick order. Following the Deacon contest Virginia will invade the State for two games with Carolina. The Cavaliers play the first game of the series here May 10 and journey to Greensboro the following afternoon for the final game.

Duke comes to Emerson Field May 17 for the second game between the two teams. May 20 the Heels play State College for the second time, while the season ends with Wake Forest here May 22.

Freshman Ball Team Loses to Greensboro

The North Carolina Tar Baby nine dropped a ball game to Greensboro High last Saturday with a score of 2 to 1. Sack's wild pitching featured in the entertainment of the afternoon.

The freshmen won a forfeit game from the Wildkittens of Davidson College last Friday afternoon when the opposition failed to make its appearance.

Duke Debaters Set An Unusual Record

Duke University's debating team, composed of Everett Weatherspoon, of Durham; Spruill Thornton, of Winston-Salem; and Jennings King of Laurinburg, has returned from its eastern tour after having established a record for the season of seven wins and one defeat out of nine debates. One was a no-decision contest.

U. N. C. CLINCHES TRI-STATE TITLE

With Eight Won and None Lost, No Other Team is Threatening Heels.

Winning two ten-inning games last week to boost its record to eight wins and no defeats, the University of North Carolina baseball nine has practically won the Tri-State League pennant of the Southern conference.

This week North Carolina makes a swing in Maryland and Virginia and will play Maryland on Monday, University of Virginia on Tuesday; Virginia Military Institute Wednesday, Washington and Lee Thursday, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute Friday. The University of Virginia is scheduled to play Maryland on the latter's grounds Saturday.

The Tri-State League season extends through May 30.

Club standings follow:

Team	W	L
Carolina	8	0
V. M. I.	2	2
Maryland	3	3
N. C. State	3	2
Virginia	2	4
V. P. I.	2	4
Washington and Lee	0	5

North Carolina has only two more games scheduled, exclusive of the two games which were rained out with Washington and Lee and with V. M. I. on Carolina's jaunt north early in April.

TECH GOLF TEAM WINS DUAL MEET

Heels Overcome by Fighting Georgians in Final Rounds of Play.

The University's golf team sustained its first defeat at the hands of a foreign foe this season on Saturday last when representatives of Georgia Tech eeked one a 10 to 8 win over the Carolina club on the Hope Valley Country Club course. After leading the procession throughout the entire morning rounds, the Tar Heel aggregation was overcome by the persistent fighting stride until the final holes had been won.

Playing order of Carolina's golfers in the morning rounds of individual matches was: Meade Willis, No. 1; Charles Chatham, No. 2; June Adams, No. 3; Luther Stewart, No. 4. Captain Adams led his teammates in their early play with the low medal score of 78. In the afternoon's foursome engagements, the combinations of Willis-Chatham and Adams-Stewart were not so successful in keeping the Georgians down in their uphill battle.

The next appearance of the Tar Heels in tournament play will be in the Southern Intercollegiate Golf tournament which will get underway in Asheville on May 8th.

Phi Beta Phis Celebrate Anniversary

The sixty-second anniversary of the founding of the Phi Beta Phi fraternity was celebrated Saturday night at the Carolina Inn at 6:30 by the members of the local chapter and the alumnae in the University and the village.

Miss Maurine Forrester, president, and Miss Katherine Batts, president of the alumnae, presided at the long table seating 35 "fraters." The courses were interspersed with songs and toasts.

North Carolina State Champions in Tennis

Pictured above is the University tennis team that recently won the State Championship in the intercollegiate matches here, winning the crown in both the singles and doubles.

The team left Thursday night on a northern tour which will comprise scheduled matches with Georgetown in Washington, D. C., on Friday last; Catholic University in Washington, D. C., on Saturday last; University of Maryland at College Park, Md., yesterday; Princeton University at Princeton, N. J., today; Rutgers University at New Brunswick, N. J., tomorrow; and New York University in New York City, on Thursday.

This campaign carries two of the Tar Heel stars to their home towns. Ed Yeomans, sophomore state singles champion, hails from Washington, D. C., and will be at home for the Georgetown and Catholic University meets. Morton Shapiro, another sophomore and one of the state doubles champions, lives in Baltimore. Shapiro teamed with Merritt to win the North Carolina doubles title.

CAROLINA LOSES FIRST BIG FIVE GAME TO DEVILS

Home Runs Play Big Part in Day's Scoring; Henry House Leads Tar Heels at Bat.

Smashing out a 10-9 ten inning victory over V. P. I. Friday, Carolina cinched the pennant in the Tri-State league, but dropping a 9-6 game to Duke put them Heels in second place in the State title race. In the Friday contest the Heels came from behind to win, while Saturday the Devils from Duke came from behind to stop the Tar Heels.

Pounding three home runs out of the lot, the Heels scored early and led 6-4 until the last half of the fifth. Here the Dukemen scored four runs to jump into the lead. Carolina had scored its quotient, but the Devils still were to add another run to make the game more secure. They did so in the sixth inning.

House and Jackson put the Heels away to an early lead with home runs in the first, second and third frames. House put one out of sight in the first with one on; Jackson repeated in the second, and House came back in the third to add another with the bases empty. These home runs accounted for five of Carolina's six runs. In the fifth Sher singled and came home on Satterfield's three base blow.

Jenkins held the Heels throughout except when they were hitting, home runs. Ball found the going rough from the first. Fleming handled the Devils well after the fifth frame. House led the Heels, while Bennett and Adams did the heavy hitting for the Dukemen.

$13,000 In School Bonds Issued Here

Last Tuesday in a vote against a registration, the town of Chapel Hill voted to issue $15,000 of school bonds. These bonds were voted on in two different issues of $7,500 each. The first is known as the funding issue and will be used to meet certain unforeseen expenditures of the local school board this year. The money obtained from the second issue, the building bonds, will be used to make improvements on the local high school building, especially on the heating plant.

The town of Chapel Hill is not issuing these bonds itself, stated Town Manager J. M. Foushee yesterday. The school board which will issue the bonds, asked the town to conduct this election to see whether the residents wished the bonds issued for this purpose.
