

RULES GOVERNING DANCES ISSUED BY GERMAN CLUB

Full Social Program Causes Organization to Print By-Laws in Full.

In order to familiarize the new men who have entered school here for the first time this year with the workings of the German Club, and in accordance with its policy, the Executive Committee takes this opportunity to publish a complete list of the by-laws by which dances in Chapel Hill, under the jurisdiction of the University, are regulated. The members of the Executive Committee for the current year are: Bowman Gray, President; June Adams, Vice-President; W. L. Marshall, Secretary-Treasurer; C. E. Waddell, Chairman of the Executive Committee; R. L. Zealy, Secretary of the Executive Committee; Vernon Cowper, Mac Gray, and Nelson Woodson, Members of the Committee. The Faculty Committee on Dances which works in conjunction with the Executive Committee is as follows: Dr. W. S. Bernard, Chairman; Dr. W. M. Dey, and Dr. R. E. Coker.

Every spring in Chapel Hill the number of dances and social entertainments is greater than at any other time during the whole school year. This spring is no exception. However, in spite of the unusual number of entertainments, the Executive Committee of the German Club has not had a proportionate increase in the number of infractions of the rules and regulations. This is evidence of a commendable spirit on the part of those who attend dances here in Chapel Hill.

The by-laws of the German Club are as follows:

The members of the University of North Carolina German Club, in regular session assembled, do adopt, in joint agreement with the Faculty Committee on Dances, in accordance with the Constitution, the following by-laws:

I. The Executive Committee of the German Club shall act as a committee for the purpose of keeping order at all dances given under the auspices of the German Club. The leaders of each dance shall act as temporary members of this committee. With the advice of the Executive Committee, the President of the German Club may appoint other members of the Club to serve at any dance or set of dances as temporary members of this committee.

II. For the control of dances given at other times than those specified in the Constitution by fraternities, clubs, or individual students of the University, the following regulations shall apply in addition:

1. Permission to hold such dances must be obtained from the Faculty Committee on Dances.

2. Every such dance must be under the auspices and regulations of the German Club.

3. Such dances may be held only on Friday evening and Saturday evening, except by special permission of the Faculty Committee on Dances.

4. Any organization, fraternity, or club giving such a dance shall select three of its members, and individual students whose names shall be given to the Faculty Committee on Dances, and to the Chairman of the Executive Committee of the German Club. These three members shall thereupon become temporary members of the Executive Committee of the German Club, and shall be held responsible, for the time and occasion of that dance only, in the same way that members of that Committee are held responsible, for the conduct of that particular dance, and said Committee shall convene with the Executive Committee of the German Club at the next meeting after their dance. Penalty for failure in this last duty: Automatic suspension from giving dances or receptions, etc., for a period of two (2) years.

III. Chaperones for all dances given under the auspices of the German Club shall be selected subject to the approval of the Chairman of the Board of Chaperones, or the Dean of Women.

IV. (Omitted).

V. (Omitted).

VI. Any organization giving a dance which in the judgment of the Executive Committee of the German Club is not up to German Club standards, shall not be allowed to give a dance for a period of time to be fixed

The Executive council of the alumni loyalty fund met in President Chase's office Saturday morning to discuss plans for the first year's work on the fund. Routine matter was discussed and plans made for securing the personnel to work on the program.

An active program has been started by the University to secure financial aid from private sources. This will be used for two purposes; for the construction of large units that the University needs such as a gymnasium, auditorium, completion of Graham Memorial. Contributions from a large number of people will be sought to be deposited in a general fund to be used for enriching University life and adding those things not provided for in the state appropriations.

This is part of a big program started for the maintenance of relations between the University and its students all through life. It is being pointed out that not only does the alumnus owe something to his University but the University owes him something in providing such things as vocational bureaus and employment agencies, to keep contact on through life. The reciprocal relation starts with matriculation and continues until death.

HANCOCK ACT IS EDUCATION BOON

Increased Equalization Fund Will Be of Great Aid, It Is Pointed Out.

The Hancock school act will be a great boon to rural education, because the doubled State support, $6,500,000, will go to aiding the poorer counties maintain schools comparable with the wealthier counties, according to a research paper presented before the North Carolina Club of the University here last Monday night by Marion R. Alexander, University senior from Asheville.

"There are the most disparaging inequalities between rural schools and urban schools of the State," according to findings presented in the paper, "and without State aid equal school advantages are impossible, since the taxable wealth per pupil varies from $27,202 in one county to $1,223 in another."

Mr. Alexander in his paper, the subject of which was "Rural Education in North Carolina," further showed that by the doubled State aid the Legislature definitely recognized State responsibility for support of all schools and broke ground for an 8-month minimum term at the next session of the legislature.

Schwenning Talks On Business Management

Textile Troubles in West Causes Postponement of Meeting in Charlotte.

Speaking before the fourth regular meeting of the University of North Carolina Chapter of the Taylor Society Tuesday evening, Dr. G. T. Schwenning, of the Department of Economics and Commerce, outlined the four elementary principles of business management as stated by Mr. Taylor and also presented a short discussion of eight fundamental aims of scientific business management.

In beginning his talk, Dr. Schwenning stated that the meeting of the Taylor Society which was to have met at Charlotte had been postponed because of the present labor troubles in the textile industry in that region. The strikes are not the result of scientific management, but rather the product of unscientific management stated the speaker.

The four principles of scientific management, for the study of which the society was organized, are: the development of an exact science of management, the scientific selection of workers, the scientific training and promotion of workers, and the development of cooperation and harmony between the management and the workers. Later in his talk Dr. Schwenning gave eight aims of business management and discussed each of these aims briefly.

At the next meeting of the society, which will be held May 15 in the auditorium of Bingham Hall, H. S. Person, managing director of the Taylor Society, will deliver an address. After the address by Mr. Person, the local chapter will have a short business meeting to elect officers for next year.

The chapter of the Society at the University of North Carolina is one of four such college chapters in the United States, and it is the only one in the entire South.
