

TAR HEELS RETAIN SUPREMACY ON TRACK FOR EIGHTH YEAR

SIX OLD MARKS TUMBLE BEFORE 1929 TRACKMEN

Davidson Wildcats Follow Heels While State and Duke Take Third and Fourth Places.

Another trophy, symbolic of Carolina's athletic prowess, was added to the collection Saturday afternoon when the Heels captured their eighth straight state track and field title in Greensboro. Rolling up a score of 65.8 points the Heels were well ahead of the other teams. Davidson was second with 30.5 points, State third with 28.5, Duke fourth with 28.3, and Wake Forest fifth with 11.9 points.

Six records fell during the course of the meet. However, two of these were freshman relay races and only one was a running event. The sprint medley relay record and the half mile relay record were the two freshman records to fall, while the half mile was the only running event to find a new mark. McGinn of State set the pace in this event with a 1:58-3-5 performance. He barely nipped out Nims of Carolina and Woodward of Carolina to win. Both Nims and Woodward have travelled the distance in better time than the old record.

Harper led the procession of field event champions with his heave of 136 feet 3 inches to topple his old mark of 131 feet 7 inches set in 1927. The big Carolina boy reached his stride again after falling down against Duke two weeks ago. Jeff Fordham's mark in the javelin throw fell when Dupree of Wake Forest tossed the spear 185 feet 3 inches. Dupree and Kinsey scored all of the Deacons' points, each breaking a record. Kinsey's leap of 23 feet 1-2 in. of Friday afternoon was good for Saturday afternoon's performances.

Carolina captured five first places to win the meet. Gay with first in the century and 220 races led the Heels in their score-setting pace. Other Heels to win first were Cowper in the pole vault and Harper in the Discus. The mile relay was the other first place.

However, it was the well balanced team that the Carolina coaches carried to Greensboro that brought home victory. In only one event, the javelin, did Carolina fail to place a man. The Heels took first and third in the 100, first and a tie for fourth in the 220, second and fourth in the 440, second and fourth in the 880, second and fourth in the mile, third and fourth in the two mile, second and fourth in the high hurdles, second and third in the 220 low hurdles, all but 2-3 of a point in the pole vault, fourth in the shot put, second and fourth in the broad jump, and first and second in the discus throw to pile up its impressive lead.

Deacons Battle Heels At Wake Forest Today

Tar Baby Track Team Meets Duke

The Carolina freshmen will meet the Duke yearlings on Emerson Field in their annual dual track meet this afternoon. The meet promises fast competition and may settle the state freshman championship. Neither team has been defeated this season.

Charlie Farmer, McAllister, and Slusser will lead the Tar Babies; "Kid" Brewer, weight-heaver and jumper, will be the center of strength for the Duke frosh.

Carolina Freshmen Win First Big Five Game Last Saturday

The Carolina freshmen won their first game among the big five first year men on Saturday when they defeated the Wake Forest yearlings on Emerson Field by the score of 4 to 3. Earlier victories had been over high and prep school opponents. Belton's double in the eighth followed by a single by Waterhouse proved to be the deciding run of the game.

Both teams played ragged ball; six errors being chalked up against each team. Belton with a double and a single and Waterhouse with a brace of singles led the Tar Baby attack. None of the Baby Deacons hit more than once.

Annual Prep School Cinder Meet To Be Held Here May 17

On May 17 and 18 the third annual Southern Prep School Track meet will be held on Emerson field. The Department of Athletics has issued a large number of invitations and a record number of entries is expected. Plans are under way to make this meet the best that has been held during the three year period. During the past week acceptances to enter the meet have been coming in regularly, so the large number of entries is practically assured.

Many prep schools over the south have developed a large amount of excellent track talent, so a fast meet is practically assured.

Oldest University Graduate Passes

News comes from Florida of the death of William Marshall Richardson at Raiford, Florida, in the 98th year of his age. He graduated at the University of North Carolina in the class of 1831 and later at the Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia. To the day of his death he was devoted to the University and to his native State.

Dr. Richardson was born in Brunswick county, North Carolina, and was raised in Anson county where many relatives still reside. Before the War Between the States he moved to Alabama and served under General Bragg in the 44th Alabama Regiment. He was a pioneer in developing the production of oranges on a large scale in Florida. The last seven years of his life were spent in total blindness, a friend writes: "He remained bright and cheerful and his interest covered every topic of the day. He was beloved by all. A devout Methodist, he was long spiritual leader of his community. He was profoundly spiritual and a ripe scholar."

A son, James Purdie Richardson, of Miami, and two daughters, Mrs. Louise Price, of West Palm Beach, and Mrs. Ella R. Bouvier, of Raiford, Florida, survive him.

Jim Ball

Jim Ball, southpaw ace on Carolina's Tri-State League championship team, will probably receive the call from Coach Jim Ashmore this afternoon in the baseball game with Wake Forest there. Ball has turned in a perfect record so far this season, and is expected to turn in several more wins ere the season closes.

Besides pitching the game tomorrow, Ball will no doubt receive the call in one of the contests with Virginia this week-end, and will probably hurl the game in Greensboro's War Memorial Stadium. Carolina has defeated Virginia once this season and must annex one of these games to cinch the series.

Ball is the only veteran on the pitching staff this year, and he has held up the veteran hurler post very well indeed.

VALUE OF LITTLE THEATRE MOVEMENT TOLD BY SMITH

R. C. Robinson, Goldsboro; Pearl Setzer, Lenoir-Rhyme College and Grace Everett, Fayetteville high school, were named new members. Prof. Koch was elected honorary president of the association in view of his work as founder and guiding spirit.

Three plays were presented this afternoon and tonight. The Wayne Community Players of Goldsboro presented their original play, "The Ghost of Lombrey" by William Royall. The College of the City of Asheville, junior college winners, presented Eugene O'Neill's "Where the Cross is Made." The Carolina Playmakers gave a guest performance of Loretto Carroll Bailey's new play, "Black Water."

Various Contests

Contests were held in costuming, in make-up and also for the best stage model. Greensboro College won the first with a costume from their staging of "The Merchant of Venice" and Swannanoa high was second. Miss Barbara Setzer won the make-up contest for Lenoir-Rhyme with the make-up of a witch from "Macbeth". Greensboro high won the contest for the best stage model.

Awards were presented the winning groups Saturday night by Prof. Koch and the festival was brought to a merry close with a much enjoyed masquerade party and reception in Smith building. Eighteen awards were made in all. The Carolina Dramatic Association pins went to the six winners for the best original plays, Graham Dunlop, Asheville high; Charles H. C. Mills, Charlotte central high; Dorothy Burnette, Swannanoa high; Barbara Setzer, Lenoir-Rhyme College; William Royall, Goldsboro players and Mrs. Herbert Harris, of the Seaboard Community Players. Pins were also given the organizations winning the program and poster contests, Asheville high and Lenoir-Rhyme College, respectively.

Carolina Dramatic Association plaques went as trophies to the winning groups in the seven different classes of play production; Charlotte central high, best high school production of original play; Swannanoa high best county high school production; College of the City of Asheville, best junior college production; Lenoir-Rhyme College, best college production of original play; Reid Players of Reidsville, best community club production and Mayne Community Players of Goldsboro, best community club production of original play.

Three volumes of the Carolina folk plays, given by Margaret Vale, of Chapel Hill, were awarded to Greensboro College, winners of the costuming contest; Lenoir-Rhyme College, winners of the make-up contest and Greensboro high school, winners of the contest for the best stage model.

More than 800 communities in the United States have established public playgrounds under trained leadership.

Carolina Now in Second Position In Big Five Race and Undefeated in Tri State League.

After a week's rest from regular games, during which Coach Jim Ashmore has been trying to iron out the wrinkles the University baseball squad is facing three of the most important games on its schedule this week.

Virginia is to be met twice, here in Chapel Hill next Friday and in Greensboro on Saturday. Wake Forest is to be met in Wake Forest this afternoon. The first of the Virginia games will figure in Carolina's standing in the Tri-State League, and the Wake Forest engagement will have a bearing on the State championship.

To date the Tar Heels have not lost a game in the Tri-State League and their chances of winning the pennant seem virtually certain. Of 15 games already played, Carolina has lost only two, one to Cornell and one to Duke.

Carolina also still has a chance to win the state title or at least to make it a tie. It all depends on what State, Carolina and Duke do when they meet again.

Coach Ashmore has not lost a Virginia baseball series during the three years he has been tutoring the Tar Heels. His club got off to a good start this year by winning the first leg of the race, the Tar Heels defeating Virginia at Charlottesville during their recent Northern trip. But the score—5 to 4—was too close to give Coach Ashmore much comfort. He and his men realize they will have to fight hard to win the Virginia games to be played in the state next week.

The week of rest from regular games should benefit both the Tar Heel hitters and pitchers. Many of the most dependable siege guns had let down in their batting in late games, and Coach Jim Ashmore welcomed the opportunity to correct little faults. The pitchers, Ball, Fleming and Wright, needed rest too. Both divisions have shown improvement.

All three of the young Carolina hurlers will be ready for duty against the Deacons today, although the chances are that Auburn Wright, Chapel Hill boy, will get his chance at the Deacons. He is likely to find Tom Lanning, Deacon ace, opposing him.

High School Ball Teams Here Soon

The state high school baseball championship is expected to be run off here on Saturday, May 25. Sixty-two schools joined the contest this year. By a process of competitive elimination these have been reduced to eight in the East and eight in the West—each school a district champion.

Those eastern schools still in the running are: Raleigh, Zeb Vance, Clayton, New Bern, Goldsboro, Rae-

Puny Harper

"Puny" Harper, Carolina's giant discus thrower, is the only Carolina man who broke a state record in the State Track Meet at Greensboro on last Saturday. Harper succeeded in breaking his own state record, that was set in 1927, by more than five feet. His new record is 136 ft. 3 in. and is within three and one-fourth inches of the Southern Conference record.

This is Harper's third year on the track team and he has shown superiority in handling the discus during each of these years. It is believed that he will be a strong contender for first place in this event at the conference meet in Birmingham next week-end.

ford, and two others which have not yet been determined.

Those western schools still in the race are: Siler City, Norwood, Charlotte, Shelby, Blackburn and the champions of three other districts which have not yet been learned.

GOLFERS MEET ON BILTMORE LINKS

Carolina Team Will Be a Strong Contender for The Conference Crown

The University golf team is in Asheville engaging in practice preparatory to the Southern Intercollegiate Conference Tournament to be played Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. Negotiations have been successfully completed with Sewanee University whereby the Carolina club will play the southern school in something of a preliminary match before the Southern Tourney.

Carolina representatives in the Conference matches are: Meade Willis, No. 1; Charles Chatham, No. 2; June Adams, No. 3; Luther Stewart, No. 4. The pre-tournament season has yielded a very auspicious record for the University links aggregation. By virtue of having scored victories over Davidson, Washington and Lee, and Georgia Tech in dual competition, and having recently annexed the North Carolina State Intercollegiate championship, the Carolina team enters the Conference Tournament as a real threat to all contenders for Southern honors for 1929.

AT THE CAROLINA

Another premiere showing is scheduled for a picture in Chapel Hill, "A Man's A Man," with William Haines as the featured player is being shown today at the Carolina for the first time anywhere in the South.

It is reported that the picture is replete with thrills, its story based on two chief ingredients of a good picture, action and love interest properly done. The role is the latest to be played by Haines and fits him like the proverbial glove.
