

Heel Cindermen Begin Work For S. I. C. Track Meet

Following State Meet Chances of Carolina Appear Brighter for Title.

Strenuous work-outs last week coupled with time trials Saturday afternoon marked the last hard work before the Carolina track team leaves for the annual Southern Conference track and field meet at Birmingham May 17 and 18. About 20 men will be taken to the big meet this year, for Carolina has one of the best rounded teams of recent years.

After the showing of the Heels in the state meet indications are that Carolina will make a strong bid for honors in the tests at Birmingham. While not boasting the great individual stars of recent years, Carolina still has great strength in second and third places.

Although those to make the trip have not been definitely selected, it is likely that the following men will go to Birmingham: Gay and Smith in the sprints, Harrison and Garret in the 440, Nims in the 880, Barkley, Fisher, and Wrenn in the mile, Henderson and Baucom in the two mile, Stafford and Perry in the hurdles, Neiman and Cowper in the pole vault, Adkins, Harper, and Dameron in the weights, and Bagby in the high jump.

Perry and Stafford have both been showing good form in the hurdle races and should pick up points in the events at Birmingham. Stafford also performs in the broad jump along with Neiman. Gay handles the sprints along with Smith. Smith also runs the 440 and it is likely that he will compete in the longer race this week-end.

Harrison and Garret placed in the state meet in the quarter. Nims is the class of the Heels' half milers. Running close to record time throughout the race he was barely nosed out by McGinn of State in the race at the state meet. All three milers have shown consistent form, but none have approached the mark set by Elliott in his three years of competition here.

Captain Johnny Henderson has a capable understudy in the two mile in Baucom, sophomore runner.

With Cowper performing consistently and with Neiman showing good heights in the pole vault on occasions, Carolina is expecting to score in this event at the meet. Harper and Dameron both toss the discus around 130 feet, which is just about as good as any in the South can do. Adkins has reached forty-two feet in the shot and with a good afternoon should do the same at Birmingham. With a jump of five ten in the high jump Bagby has chances of placing in the meet Saturday.

Carolina should carry one of the best mile relay teams to the meet in the South. Nims, Harrison, Smith, Hamer, Barkley, and Garret form the group from which the team will be selected.

CAROLINA MEETS DUKE SATURDAY

Heels Battle Devils for Second Time This Season on Emerson Field Saturday.

After succeeding in defeating the Virginia Cavaliers in a two game series played last Friday and Saturday, the Tar Heel nine will remain idle until Friday when the Heels meet the Blue Devils on Emerson Field.

The Devils, with "Lefty" Jenkins doing the hurling, submerged the Heels to the tune of 9-6 when the old rivals met in Durham and gave Coach Ashmore's charges their first defeat in "Big Five" circles.

As before, the Tar Heels expect to win over the Devils by superior batting. The entire team has an average of over .300, including the pitchers. Henry House, sophomore, is leading in the batting with an average of .400. However, he has played in only seven games. Bob Jessup is leading the regulars with a .387 average while Jim Barnhart and Phil Sher are close behind with averages of .373 and .370, respectively. Burgess Whithead is batting .340 and Jim Maus .321.

Duke also has its hitters. Kistler, giant first baseman is leading the club with an average of .413 and Captain Deane closely follows with an average of .383. Werber is third with .379. The squad batting average is .294. Kistler is outstanding in distance blows having secured eight doubles and five home runs.

It is likely that Ernie Jenkins will oppose the Heels again while Fleming will probably be selected to hurl against the Devils.

The Committee on the summer school dances announces that W. L. Carbine has been appointed as floor-leader for the dances, and M. E. Woodard and W. L. Harper have been appointed as assistants.

Jessup

Bob Jessup was one of the chief reasons why the Heels were able to make a clean sweep of their three-game series with Virginia. His biggest contribution to the Carolina attack came Saturday when he started off the rally in the sixth inning with a slashing drive which went for a home run.

PREP SCHOOLS TO SEND CINDERMEN HERE ON MAY 18

Fifteen Schools Already Entered in Third Annual Track And Field Meet To Be Held Here Saturday.

All is in readiness for the third annual Southern Prep School Track and Field Meet which is to be held on Emerson Field Saturday 18th. The Prep schools of the South have enthusiastically responded to the meet and new entries are being received all the time. To date there are fifteen prep schools entered into the affair and more are expected before Saturday. For the past two years the Order of the Grail has awarded the winner of this meet a plaque which has been won once by Monroe A. & M. School, Monroe, Ga., and once by the Asheville School for Boys. This year both of these schools are sending strong teams into action in an effort to win the Grail Award again, but they will be opposed by thirteen other strong teams from such institutions as: Woodberry Forest, Virginia Episcopal School, Blackstone Military School, Greenbrier Military School, Hargrave Military Academy, Fishburne Military Academy, Augusta Military Academy, Fork Union Military School, Staunton Military School, Georgia Military Academy, Richmond Military Academy, Alabama Military Institute, McCallie School and Blue Ridge School.

An efficient organization has been arranged to take care of the prep-school's entries, but the entire University is asked to cooperate with the Athletic Association in an effort to make this meet the most successful that has yet been held. Alumni of any of the prep schools are urged to look up their friends and help them in getting around the campus. It is a duty of all the Carolina students to cooperate in showing these students a good time. A list of the entries will be published in Thursday's issue of the Tar Heel to assist the Alumni of these and friends of the entries see what entries their school has made.

Golf Team Returns From Biltmore Meet

The University golf team has returned with honors from the annual Southern Intercollegiate Conference tournament, played this year over the Biltmore Forest Country Club courses near Asheville. In total team scores, Carolina placed fifth among the ten schools represented. Meade Willis, sophomore star, won third flight honors. When consideration is made for the fact that this is the second year of organized varsity golf at the University, the outcome of the Conference Tourney this year is praiseworthy.

Statistics through the Wake Forest game on Tuesday show the entire University squad, pitchers and all, hitting at a .302 gait. The Tar Heels have spanked out 152 hits, including 18 doubles, 7 triples and 13 homers, and many of the blows came with runners on the cushions.

SPRING BOXING PRACTICE ENDED ON PAST FRIDAY

Score of Candidates Train Out During Six Weeks of Workouts.

The spring boxing season ended Friday after six weeks of training. Nearly a score of candidates including the six veterans who will be back next year took advantage of the off-season practices. Coach Quinlan and Butler will have an array of experienced fighters back next year and the team stands a good chance to cop the Southern championship for the third straight time. Despite the fact that the six veterans, Vaughn, Sheffield, Goodridge, Allen, Davis, and Warren, are returning next year, they will face some tough competition from freshmen aspirants. Gray, undefeated in freshman battles, will be out for the 115 pound weight against Vaughn, who made a wonderful record in the bantam division this year. Clark, who was ineligible for the freshman team this year will dispute Sheffield's berth. The 135 pound weight will be ably defended by either Noah Goodridge or Cummings. In the next weight Archie Allen, Captain-elect, looks the best although Webb has shown wonderful improvement in the spring practices. Tom Parsons, a hard hitting freshman, stands a good chance to take over the position left vacant by the graduation of Brown. Obie Davis and Warren are sure of their places though Rosenfelt may cause some trouble. Billy Koenig, husky football star, worked out with the team this spring and shows promise of developing into a good fighter. If the Southern Conference adopts the new ruling of the national association, then a new weight known as the 159 pound division will be created. According to Coach Butler this new weight will greatly help the Carolina team since Allen, Davis, Parsons, or Webb could take care of this division and allow one more member on the team.

TENNIS TEAM TO MEET DUKE TODAY

Tar Heels Send Usual Strong Net Team Into the Final Dual Meet of the Season; Dukemen To Be Met on Local Courts.

The University tennis team is swinging into the "home stretch" of a successful season. Another dual meet with Duke and the annual amateur tournament promoted by the Hope Valley Country Club are the only events left on the schedule for the Tar Heels.

The dual meet with Duke, carded on the University courts here today, is the last of a fine dual season that has yielded eight victories and one defeat. The lone defeat came at the hands of Princeton on a long northern trip recently. Dual victories have been won over strong colleges and country club teams from all over the South Atlantic section.

Carolina's meet with Duke brings together clubs which have met on the courts twice before this season. In the State Intercollegiate Tournament, both Carolina and Duke sent doubles and singles far into the final rounds of play. Merritt and Shapiro, University pair, emerged victorious over Rogers and Frank, of Duke, in the semi-finals. Yeomans, Carolina star, dashed Duke's final hopes by defeating Frank in the final set-off of the tournament to annex the state singles crown for 1929.

Coach Kenfield will probably send the following men into the Duke matches today: Yeomans, No. 1; Shapiro, No. 1; Merritt, No. 3; Waddell, No. 4; Norwood, No. 5; Scott, No. 6. The pairings for the doubles will be as follows: Shapiro and Merritt; Yeomans and Scott; Waddell and Norwood.

Carolina Freshmen Invade Virginia

The Carolina freshmen leave tonight on their annual trip into Virginia. The Tar Babies will meet Woodberry Forest, A. M. A., Virginia frosh, and the V. M. I. first year men on four successive days starting Wednesday. They will return home to play their final game with the State freshmen next Monday. The Tar Babies fourteen strong led by Coach Cerney will make the trip by bus to the old Dominion state. Just who will make the trip is not known, but the team that has started most of the games this season includes Kushner catching, Layton, Greene, Chapman, Sachs, and Shields pitchers, Wall at first, Waterhouse at second, Branch at short, and Moore at third.

FRESHMEN TAKE INVITATION MEET

Charlie Farmer and Ty Reid Are High Scorers for Tar Baby Trackmen in Saturday's Meet.

Nine first places in fourteen events tells the story of the Tar Babies' victory in the invitation meet held on Emerson field last Saturday afternoon. In addition to its numerous first places Carolina succeeded in piling up enough seconds and thirds to hold a good margin over the nearest competitor. The final score of the meet showed Carolina with 70 points, Duke with 34, and Wake Forest with 22.

Although Brewer of Duke was high scorer of the day the Carolina sprint star, Charlie Farmer, was the outstanding performer of the day. Farmer ran the 100 yard dash in 10 flat, the 220 in 21.4 seconds (within one-fifth of a second of the S. I. C. record), and then ran the 440 in 51.2 seconds, making his total number of points for the day 15. Reid of Carolina also took three places, tying with Farmer for second scoring honors in the meet.

- 100-yard dash: Farmer, Carolina, 10 seconds.
- 220-yard dash: Farmer, Carolina, 21.4 seconds.

- Javelin: McAllister, Carolina, 153 feet 11 inches.
- Pole vault: Turner, Duke, 11 feet.
- High jump: Brewer, Duke, 5 feet 8 1/2 inches.
- Broad jump: Reid, Carolina, 27 feet 4 1/4 inches.

COLLEGE GIRLS URGE HEELS ON

The North Carolina-Virginia annual diamond classic last Saturday in Greensboro was played before one of the most colorful backgrounds that has ever greeted a Carolina ball team. The student bodies from both G. C. and N. C. C. W. bedecked in solid white lent their inspiration equally to the Carolinians and the Virginians. Finding no opposing cheering section, the young ladies vied with the Carolina student body in sending out their cheers across the diamond. A spirited young N. C. C. W. cheer leader led Bill Chandler a merry race for the position of premier yell for the day. Time and again she urged on her cohorts to lend their voices in cheering the Heels on to victory. Not satisfied with merely performing her own task, she completely ousted Bill from his position and placing herself before the spirited Carolina section led the cheers like the veteran that she probably is. It is with regret that Carolina students must acknowledge that no co-ed could perform such a task.

Tar Heels Make it Three in A Row from the Cavaliers

HEELS WIN THIRD GAME OF SERIES

Jim Ball Hurls Heels to Victory; Jessup Swats One Over the Fence.

Before approximately seven thousand spectators, the Carolina Tar Heels collected four runs to win the annual Carolina-Virginia classic at Greensboro 4-2, making the third time that the Heels have bested the Cavaliers this season.

Bob Jessup connected with one of Marshall's benders in the sixth inning for a circuit clout, breaking a 1-1 tie.

In one of the best pitching duels of the season, Jim Ball allowed only eight hits while his Virginia opponent allowed but six. However, their support did not match their pitching as a total of five errors was made by the members of the two teams.

Holland, Sloan, and April starred afield for the Cavaliers. April, Virginia catcher kept the Carolina runners glued to their sacks while Maus for Carolina did as much for the Cavalier runners. Jackson, substitute second baseman, accepted twelve chances at second without an error. Lufty and Coxe, Carolina men, each made a wonderful catch—both catches being line drives.

Carolina took the lead in the third frame. Ball was walked and advanced to third on Whitehead's single, but was caught between third and home when he over-ran the base and stumbled. In the meantime, Whitehead advanced to third and scored on Satterfield's infield out. Virginia tied the count in the fourth when Jessup lost Sloan's high fly in the sun and the latter scored when Byrd singled. Jessup's home run broke the tie in the sixth, and Barnhart likewise scored in that inning when Randolph erred. The Cavaliers scored their second tally in the seventh while the Heels added their fourth in the eighth. Virginia was unable to register in her part of the ninth.

A quartet of outfielders are leading the Tar Heel parade, with Henry House hitting an even .400 in top hole. House, however, has played in just seven games, and Bob Jessup, a Greensboro boy, is in front among players in a dozen or more games. Jessup is clubbing at a .387 rate, followed by Jim Barnhart with .373, and Phil Sher hitting .370.

Satterfield

Henry Satterfield was the big gun in the Tar Heel attack on the Virginia pitcher Friday afternoon. Satterfield collected four safeties out of five tries, two of them going for extra bases. Besides delivering hits when they were needed he also crossed the plate on Jessup's hit to score one of the Heels' runs.

Thin Steel Structure to cut the wind

SPEED is the keynote of the modern game. The Dayton Steel Racquet is the fastest in the world. Thin steel strings in a thin steel frame give it 43% less air resistance and greater strength than any standard wood-and-gut racquet.

That's why a Dayton-driven ball gets over 20% faster. That's why the Dayton gives you the jump on speedier players. You've a right to demand facts. Here's the third question of a series:

Q. How do thinner steel strings affect the life of the ball? A. In any case more than 90% of the wear on a tennis ball is caused by abrasion of the gritty court, not by the racquet. The most delicate laboratory scales revealed no difference whatever in the amount of cover removed from two identical sets of balls given the same number of chop strokes, one set with a gut, one with a Dayton Steel Racquet.
