

TAR HEELS CLOSE BASEBALL SEASON IN RALEIGH TODAY

Carolina Battles State in Final "Big Five" Game

Today the Tar Heel baseball team will meet the State College team in Raleigh for the last game of the season. This game was scheduled to be played last Monday, but on account of rain it was postponed until today. The Carolina team will undoubtedly try to make up for the defeat suffered at the hands of Lanning and the Wake Forest Deacons last Wednesday. That day was indisputably an off day for the Tar Heels, and they are sure to come back today to defeat State for the second time this year.

The first time that Carolina met the Wolf Pack, they beat them 6-5. The game was probably the most thrilling one witnessed on Emerson field this year. It was a ten inning affair with both teams playing excellent baseball. State was compelled to use three pitchers, while Carolina used two.

Although State is not looked upon as a strong opponent, due to their low standing in the Big Five League, the game today will be a hard-fought one. State will be trying to avenge the former defeat, while the Tar Heels will be trying to prevent them from doing it. State will, in all probability, use Captain Allgood on the mound. Allgood started against the Heels in the last game, but their hard-hitting team soon knocked him to the show-ers. He is the best State has, though, and is a formidable pitcher. Although the Carolina boxman has not been announced, it is thought that Wright will get the assignment.

To date the Tar Heels have not lost a game in the Tri-State League, the championship of which they clinched two weeks ago. They have played nine in the League. State is the only obstacle that stands in their way to a perfect record.

Coach Ashmore has been far from satisfied with the work of several of his players in recent games, either because they had slumped in their batting averages or because of costly errors they made. One would not be surprised to note one or two changes in the line-up that faces State, for the Carolina squad is determined to win that game and thereby keep the Tri-State slate clean.

Bob Warren Takes Position at V. P. I. As Athletic Coach

It is a long jump from a college football star to a college athletic coach, but Bob Warren, football captain at State College last fall, and a member of State's Southern Conference championship basketball team, did just that. He has been appointed varsity basketball coach and athletic trainer at Virginia Polytechnical Institute. He is to report for duty September 1. Warren is one of the best all-around athletes in this state of recent years, and his coaching will be watched with interest by many North Carolina fans.

Rifle Club To Hold Try-Outs for Medals

Tryouts for marksmen, sharpshooter, and expert rifleman medals will be held this afternoon at two o'clock on the range of the Carolina rifle club, which is located about two miles southeast of Chapel Hill. All men are eligible and those who wish to try out are welcome.

COX PLAYS LAST GAME

Tom Coxe will end his career as a Tar Heel today in the game with State College. This is the third consecutive season that Coxe has worn a Carolina uniform. During this time he has played some very good baseball both as an infielder and in the outfield. He made his debut at second base in 1927 but near the middle of the schedule he was shifted to the outfield. Last season he took over Son Hatley's position in the center garden and has continued to hold it for the past two seasons. Coxe has always been a terror when on the bases and his speed has been a distinct asset to the Heel attack. During his first two campaigns Tom hit over three hundred and fifty. This spring, however, he has been in a slump and has failed to hit up to usual form. As a defensive player Coxe has been outstanding, his speed enabling him to cover much more than his share of the outer garden. He will be greatly missed next year.

Tar Heel Advertisers offer you the best classes of merchandise.

Nims

Dave Nims, star trackman for the past two years, will probably lead the strongest track team ever to represent the University on the cinders next year. Besides himself, Captain-elect Nims will have practically all of this year's team back for further competition and several star freshmen. Nims ran the four-forty last spring and came back to turn in the fastest half mile in the state this year. Every event will have strong men in it next spring. In the sprints there will be Farmer, Gay, Slusser, Smith, and Case; in the middle distances there will be Captain Nims, Garrett, Weil, Roy Brown, Barkley, Hamer, and Medford; in the distance runs Barkley, Lowery, Baucom, Phoenix, Pierce, and Farris; in the hurdles, Perry, Stafford, Reid, Slusser, Lowery, Skinner, Yarborough, and Goodwin; in the jumps Neiman, Arnold, Dry, Smith, Parsons, Bagby, Reeves, Mebane, Hadley, and McAllister; in the weights, Adkins, Dameron, Ruble, Thompson, Theron Brown, McAllister, Remsen, Gilbreath, and Harper.

Birds Build Nests In Instructors' Cabinet

(Continued from page one)

the back of the pigeon hole, and is closed at the front except for a small hole about the size of a quarter. This is not the first time that wrens have chosen a University office for their nesting place. Last spring a pair nested in the office of M. S. Breckenridge, and there raised a brood of four small birds. This year a pair nested in the very same place and raised a family of five. Mr. Breckenridge stated that the birds grew very rapidly and soon flew out of the window of his room.

Whether the birds who nested in this office this spring are the same that lived there last spring is a matter of speculation, but as wrens raise two or three broods a year, it is possible that those who have usurped the pigeon hole in Murphy are the same ones that have already nested in Mr. Breckenridge's office. Mr. Breckenridge said that he was going over to see the birds in the English office to determine if they are the same pair who were his guests earlier in the season.

All last spring while the wrens stayed in Manning Hall, a window was left open for them, and the same thing is now being done in Murphey. Tom Madden, said to be the humanitarian of the group of English instructors started the idea of leaving the window and cabinet open, and now the janitor has been instructed never to close it.

The only complaint against the birds comes from Hill Shine, who has files for his set of papers just under the place the birds have chosen for their home. His objections, which are only slight ones, are overcome by the spirit of the others using the room, who are very interested in seeing whether they can be as successful in having a brood of young wrens in their office as Mr. Breckenridge did earlier in the spring.

Notice Faculty and Graduate Students

Copy for Research in Progress for the year 1928-29 is now due and must be submitted before June 15, according to an announcement by the Graduate office. All graduate students and members of the faculty who wish to contribute to the new issue are requested by the Graduate Office to turn in their work to the office as soon as possible.

BELDING RESIGNS AS FROSH COACH

Crayton Rowe Returns to Take Over Boxing Team; Quinlan Will Spend Full Time With Wrestling.

Coming as a surprise to many people, both in the University and town, is the announcement of the resignation of Lester C. Belding, coach of freshman athletics, to accept a position as coach of athletics at Greensboro High School. Mr. Belding was graduated from the University of Iowa and accepted a position as coach at Clinton, Iowa, high school, where his teams made noteworthy performances in all contests. Mr. Belding then came to the University of North Carolina as freshman coach, and while here, his teams have made a most enviable reputation in all sports. During the current year, the freshman football team won the South Atlantic Championship, the basketball team was runner-up for the State Championship, and the track team was the undisputed State Champions. It is with regret that we see him go, but it is greatly to Greensboro's advantage for having been able to obtain him, and we are sure that his past success will continue with his future teams at Greensboro.

Crayton Rowe, of Charlotte, who coached the Tar Heel boxers to a Southern Conference title in 1928, has signed a contract to take over the coaching reigns again next winter after being away for a year. He will fill the role of Coach Chuck Quinlan, who led the team to the Conference championship this year. Quinlan is kept busy by coaching wrestling and with acting as trainer in other sports, and the University athletic department is glad that Rowe is coming back.

TAR BABIES LOSE TO STATE FROSH

Carolina First Yearmen Now in Tie With Wake Forest in State Rating.

The Tar Babies lost a close game yesterday to the State College freshmen by the narrow margin of 2 to 1. This was the last game for both teams and the loss by the Tar Babies shoved them back into a tie with Wake Forest in the state freshman race.

The Wolflets put over the winning run in the ninth inning when Wilkie singled, moved up on an error, and scored on Moore's safety. The Tar Babies were unable to score in their half of the ninth.

The State yearlings pushed over their first run in the fourth, but the Tar Babies scored one in the fifth to tie the count.

The teams were fairly evenly matched. Morris pitched for the Wolflets and allowed the Tar Babies but three safe blows. Longest, elongated Tar Baby hurler, allowed six safeties, but he fanned eleven of the State yearlings. Wilkie, Techlet shortstop, and Johnny Branch, Tar Baby infielder, carried off the fielding honors of the day.

Annual Decathlon Contest on Monday

The second annual Intramural Decathlon contest to determine the best all-round track athlete in the University will be run off Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of next week, as previously announced. The contests will be run in two sections, the Open Decathlon which is open to any bona-fide student in the University, and the Novice Decathlon which is open to students only who have not competed in track athletics at the University.

EAST AND WEST MEET FOR HIGH BASEBALL TITLE

The baseball teams from Shelby and Raeford, which will meet on Emerson Field today at 3 o'clock for the State high school baseball title, have arrived on the scene of battle and are all set for the engagement.

Both teams arrived yesterday afternoon, and at the conclusion of light periods of batting and fielding practice both coaches pronounced them "all set" for today's championship game.

There are large delegations with both teams, and with many more supporters expected to come this afternoon, a record crowd is being predicted. Governor Gardner's son Ralph is manager of the Shelby team which won the western championship, and the Governor, it is thought, may lend his prestige and pulling power to the side of the western champions.

Both teams have exceptional records, and prospects are for a battle that will rival in the way of thrills the 10-inning game of last year, in which Forest City won the title from Whiteville by a 2 to 1 margin.

Shelby scored 60 runs to all opponents' 9 in this year's championship games, coming through to the finals by victories over Cliffside, Henrietta, Caroline, Lincolnton, Blackburn, Norwood, and Winston-Salem. Raeford defeated Fayetteville, Laurinburg, New Bern, and Clayton, more than doubling the score on each opponent.

Casey Morris, former star Carolina catcher, is the Shelby coach. W. C. Hodgkin, of Davidson, coaches the Raeford team.

The occupants of Mangum dormitory will be the guests of the Carolina Theatre tonight. All students should be at the door with their president at seven o'clock.

TRACKMEN MEET TO CELEBRATE AT ANNUAL BANQUET

Dave Nims is Chosen to Lead the 1930 Cinder Team; Alexander Will Manager.

The University of North Carolina track team formally closed its 1929 season last Thursday night at a banquet given to the members of the squad. The gathering was more in the form of a spread than that of a banquet; there being very little formality attached to it.

Captain Johnny Henderson acted as toastmaster and ably performed his task. Dr. Laurence, Dr. Harland, Coach Fetzer, and Dr. Caldwell all gave short talks upon varying topics. Members of the team were then called upon to say a few words and in response to such a request Puny Harper, Harrison, Cox, and Brown all rose to their feet and delivered stirring addresses.

Dave Nims was chosen to head the 1930 track team. Nims ran the 440 for the Tar Heels last season and proved himself to be a consistent point gainer. This year he was shifted to the half and has also ran the 220 and the 440. In a recent meet with Duke he lead a fast field in the half mile race and succeeded in topping the state time by a full two seconds. The Heelmen could not have chosen better their leader for 1930.

Johnson Alexander will manage the team next year; as his assistants he will have William Dunn and George Newman.

Following the banquet the members of the squad were guests of the Carolina Theatre.

Support the college newspaper by advertising in the TAR HEEL. Rates furnished on application.

Just another good thing added to the other good things of life

CAMEL

CIGARETTES

WHY CAMELS ARE THE BETTER CIGARETTE

Camels contain such tobaccos and such blending as have never been offered in any other cigarette.

They are made of the choicest Turkish and American tobaccos grown.

Camels are always smooth and mild.

Camel quality is jealously maintained . . . by the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men . . . it never varies.

Smoke Camels as liberally as you choose . . . they will never tire your taste.

Nor do they ever leave an unpleasant after-taste.

