

EARL PARDUE got the United Party nomination for the top post of Student body president in Monday's meeting. Pardue, an NROTC V-12er, is a senior and old-time SP campaigner.

E. O. BROGDEN, AS, V-12, USNR, will run as the United Party's candidate for Speaker of the Legislature. His opposition is Reid Thompson, V-12, and Marine Private Harris Knight.

MISS KAT HILL was the first fall candidate to receive a double nomination, when the United Party seconded the University Party's choice of the coed for Editor of the Tar Heel.

JIMMY WALLACE is the choice of the Carolina Party for Editor of the Tar Heel. For the Physics major it will be the second try at taking the editorship. Wallace is one of the four candidates of the new CP.

IRC Moves Up Date Of Grew Speech To Tomorrow

Diplomat's Talk Will Take Up Far East Moves

By Barbara Swift

The speech of ex-ambassador Joseph C. Grew was moved up last week from October 8 to Thursday, October 7. Mr. Grew, speaking "off the record" under International Relations Club auspices, will take as his topic, "Our War With Japan."

The diplomat stated that he will "touch on post-war policies, although my subject will center mainly around ten years' experience in Tokyo and present activity in the Far East."

Dean Robert B. House will introduce the speaker.

Experience

Grew will bring with him, "by way of credentials," State department experience that dates back to the first World War. His recent book, "Report from Tokyo," has been hailed as the outstanding work on the Japanese, their years of preparation and "undeclared" wars.

When the friction arose between the two nations, Grew was one of the first to warn about Jap treachery. Unfortunately, his cables during the summer and fall of 1941 were not heeded; they were substantiated on December 7 of that year.

Book Proceeds

Characteristically, he refused to accept proceeds from the sale of his book. Instead, the money is going to the Red Cross for war prisoners and American civilians interned in the Far East.

Grew is tall, slender and athletic, though well over sixty, with keen eyes under bushy eyebrows and with greying hair and mustache. He is always immaculately dressed. Diplomatic circles know him as the "Dean of Tokyo Men" and an ardent and skilled poker player.

Extemporaneous Speech

Clyde Rollins, President of the IRC, emphasized that this talk will be extemporaneous. Grew himself requested this provision since it will give him greater freedom of expression. The ambassador will submit to a question period afterward.

Following the talk the IRC will give a reception for Grew in Graham Memorial Lounge. The public is invited.

Informal Dinner

At 6 there will be an informal dinner at the Carolina Inn at which IRC

Y-Y Men To Take Final Pictures Of Lower Classes

Karl Bishopric, editor of the Yackety Yack, urged all civilian, co-ed, and V-12 sophomores to be on the steps of South Building on Friday between the hours of 11:15 and 1:15 to have their pictures made for the yearbook.

Saturday morning between 10:30 and 11:30, all freshmen who have not had their pictures taken in a group will have them made on the steps of South Building.

Those persons in V-12 and civilian students who wish to have their names engraved on the Yackety Yack should contact the Y-Y office by Monday of next week. The deadline for this service is 4 o'clock.

All fraternities which wish to have group pictures in the yearbook should contact Robert Cozart or the Y-Y office.

Dr. Dodds Heads Full List Of Anniversary Speakers

Governor Broughton Will Preside Over October 12 Morning Program

Old East dormitory, oldest state University building in the country, will celebrate its 150th birthday on October 12 when the annual "University Day" celebration will be held.

Speaker for the sesquicentennial program will be Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton University. Dodds, "one of the outstanding educators in America," was chosen to speak because men who played the most important role in the founding of the University were connected with Princeton.

Governor Broughton

Presiding over the platform events will be Governor J. Melville Broughton, who will be introduced by Dean House.

The day's proceedings will begin with a convocation at 10:15 and the faculty, attired in academic regalia, will assemble at South building at 10:30. The procession, headed by marshal William M. Dey, will be led by the University band. Dr. Frank P. Graham, president of the University will introduce Dodds. R. B. House, dean of Administration, will conduct an "In Memoriam" for members of the University who have died during the last year.

Playmaker Pageant

A Carolina Playmaker pageant, written by Ruth Oncley will be staged on a platform at the corner of Old East. Fifteen characters will participate, including those representing William R. Davie, "Father of the University,"

BROUGHTON

Reverend Samuel E. McCorkle, who delivered the address 150 years ago, and James Patterson, contractor for the building. A choir under the direction of John E. Toms will provide background music.

The program will be rebroadcast See BROUGHTON, page 4

V-12 Leaves Probably Start On October 25

Failures May Get Four Day Pass

By Roland Giduz

According to latest reports available at TAR HEEL deadline all members of the V-12 unit stationed here will probably be granted leave sometime Monday, October 25. Executive officer Lt. Hill recently stated that, "leave will be granted as soon as possible after the marks are received from the University and will expire at 2400, October 31."

In regard to failures Captain Popham said, "It is problematical whether those who may be separated from the V-12 program because of academic failures will receive leave or not. The chances are such men will receive about 3 or 4 days leave."

An indexed list of all failures will be turned into the V-12 headquarters by 1:00 P. M., Saturday, October 23. Instructors have been asked to line up prospective failures before examinations and to grade their papers first in order to speed up the process, according to academic coordinator William Wells. Leave will start as soon as all members of the unit have been cleared through the office.

Class Committees To Meet Tomorrow

The Junior and Senior dance committees and the Senior Week committee will hold a joint meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock in the North room of Graham Memorial.

Golden Fleece Holds Tapping Rites Sunday

The formal tapping of the Order of the Golden Fleece, highest honorary organization on campus, will be held Sunday night at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall.

The ceremony will be the fortieth one conducted since the organization was founded in 1903 by Horace Williams, professor of philosophy. Student members of the Fleece now on campus are Walter Damtoft, Denny Hammond, John Robinson and Terrell Webster. In the four decades of its history the Fleece has tapped 384 men.

The Fleece tapping is traditionally the most impressive ceremony of the year. Memorial Hall will be darkened except for a spotlight on the emblem of the Fleece, as organ music is played.

Captain Marshall To Drill Students In Revived CVTC

The Carolina Volunteer Training Corps, plans for which were shelved during the summer, has been revived "because of the large amount of freshman interest."

First drill practice of the year will be held tomorrow, October 7, from 4:15 to 5:15 p. m. The CVTC will use the old Pre-Meteorology drill field in back of Memorial Hall, Dr. S. T. Emory, civilian corps director, announced.

Captain Marshall, executive officer of the Marine V-12 unit and two of his non-commissioned officers who are experienced drillmasters will have complete charge of the corps on the field.

Thus far 35 students have volunteered for service with the unit. "All others interested are urged to report for the first drill," Emory said. For the present, no uniform will be worn.

Drill will be held regularly every Tuesday and Thursday for the remainder of the quarter.

The organization will carry no college credit, and members of the corps will not be exempt in any way from physical education classes.

Military Science 41 will be offered this quarter, beginning next week, on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturdays at either 10 or 12 o'clock, and will be taught by Dr. Samuel Selden of the Dramatics Department.

Third Faction Challenges UP and Augmented-SP Sway

CP Ticket Has Two Civilians And Two V-12

Three-party politics made its first appearance on the Carolina campus in four years when a new Carolina Party put up candidates for Student body president, speaker of the legislature, editors of the TAR HEEL and Carolina Magazine at Monday's nominations meeting.

Last time that a group challenged the entrenched University and Student parties was in 1939, when an independent organization failed to make any appreciable electoral gains.

Anderson

CP man for President is George Anderson, AS, V-12, USNR. Marine private Harris Knight was chosen to run for speaker. TAR HEEL Editor candidate is Jimmy Wallace; while the Carolina Mag decision took on the form of a double nomination, United's Lois Ribelin getting CP approval.

Immediately before the Tar Heel

to press this morning, George Anderson, AS USNR, announced that he had withdrawn as the Carolina party candidate for president of the student body and made the following statement: "After serious consideration dealing with the coming election, I have decided to withdraw my name as candidate for president of the student body. I do not intend to throw my support for either of my opponents, but do intend to support the remaining candidates of the Carolina party." (Editor's note: This announcement will obviously modify somewhat the editorial comment on page two which was written prior to receipt of this announcement.)

Speaker nominee Knight is also new to Carolina, arriving here for the first time in July. In high school he was active in "social organizations." Before joining the Marine Corps, Knight attended Kent State university in Ohio where he was advertising manager for the campus magazine. His college major was administrative-personnel management. After service on the Marine publication "Leatherneck," he was sent here as the one man selected from his district to enter the V-12 program. At UNC he confined his activities to the publications, serving at present as Yackety Yack business manager.

CP man for the TAR HEEL post, civilian Wallace, is a senior major in Physics. At high school, in Jamesville, North Carolina, he was valedictorian of his graduating class. Since coming to school here, he has served on the TAR HEEL, contributed to the Carolina Mag and Yackety Yack, in addition to being a member of the Caro-

Pardue Will Run For Presidency Of Student Body

The United party, formed from the core of the old Student party augmented by new strength, served notice to the campus that it is very much in the political running when party officials presented a full slate of candidates, including two V-12ers and two coeds, Monday afternoon in Memorial hall.

Nominated for the top job of student body president was Earl Pardue, V-12. E. O. Brogden, V-12, received the United party candidacy nomination for speaker of the student legislature. A double nomination was given Kat Hill, previously named by the University party as candidate for editor of the TAR HEEL, and Lois Ribelin was named as candidate for the editorship of the Carolina Magazine.

In making United's nominations, Sue Brubaker announced that the nominees would run on a platform of "retaining and streamlining student government for the duration."

Pardue

Pardue, a commerce major, has just finished a term in the legislature as a representative from the V-12 unit. A senior from Elkin, he is president of the Sigma Chi fraternity, and has served on the Interfraternity council and as president of the senior ring committee. During his sophomore year he was chairman of the class finance committee and during his junior year he was a member of the freshman orientation committee, president of Old West dormitory, member of the interdormitory council and Student War Advisory committee—working on the problems facing student government during wartime.

Brogden

A junior from Raleigh, Brogden is at present a holdover member of the Legislature where he has held a seat since his freshman year. His experience on the student legislature includes the chairmanship of the finance committee and membership on the Rules committee and the Ways and Means committee. Acting as secretary of the Debate council last year, he was elected president of the council last week. In addition he served as speaker of the Phi assembly last year, and is now a member of the Carolina Political Union.

Miss Ribelin, nominee for editor of the Mag, holds posts on both the TAR HEEL and the Mag. She was literary editor of the Lander College before coming here. She is working as a member of the News Bureau staff, doing news and feature stories. A native of Greenwood, S. C., she is an active ADPI, and was a coed adviser to the new women earlier in the fall.

Hammond Releases Rulings On Fraternity Rush Period

By Bob Killefer

The Interfraternity Council yesterday released rushing regulations for the year, through council head Denny Hammond, AS, V-12.

These rules are posted on campus and in all dormitories, and "freshmen are responsible for knowing and following the rushing regulations."

"Freshmen are to go to Dean Parker's office on Sunday at two p. m. and list their choices of fraternities. Parker, who is faculty adviser to the council, will check to see if the man has a bid. If he has, the first year man may pay a one dollar fee and proceed to the fraternity's house and receive his pledge pin."

Council head Denny Hammond warned that no freshman can be asked to join a fraternity before Tuesday, October 5.

Rushing Defined

Rushing is defined as "social conversation, except formal salutations, in any form, direct or indirect."

Hammond also included a revised list of fraternity locations: ATO, Manning building, Henderson street; Beta Theta Pi, Beta cottage, behind V-12 Beta house; Chi Phi, no location given; Chi Psi, North Room, Graham Memorial; DKE, Staff Room, University Library; Delta Psi, Delta Psi annex, Pittsboro street; Kappa Alpha, Wettach building, Franklin street; Kappa Sigma, Patterson place; Phi Alpha, no location given; Phi Delta Theta, Phi Delta Theta house, 302 Pittsboro street; Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Gamma Delta house, 213 McCauley street; Phi Kappa Sigma, 109 Cameron avenue; Pi Kappa Alpha, Strowd building, Franklin street; Pi Lambda Phi, Blue room, YMCA; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Horace Williams Lounge, Graham Memorial; Sigma Chi, 106 Cameron avenue; Sigma Nu, Sigma Nu cabin, next to Porthole; Tau Epsilon Phi, no location given; Zeta Beta Tau, Strowd building, Franklin street; Zeta Psi, Cabin behind Sigma Nu cabin.

Pan-American Cooperation . . .

Chilean Journalist To Speak Here on Friday

By Ray Rothschild

America's hopes for post-war cooperation will receive "expert consideration" next Friday, 8:30 p. m. in the main lounge of Graham Memorial, when Senor Ernesto Montenegro, noted Chilean journalist and author, expert on Inter-American affairs will speak on "Cultural Currents and Practical Co-operation with Latin America."

Montenegro, who has been lecturing under the auspices of the Institute of International Education is presented in Chapel Hill by the History department.

In 1931, he wrote a collection of short stories, "Mi tio ventura," which won him the annual prize of the University of Concepcion. Other books by the Chilean include "Cuentos norte americanos," and "Puritania: fantasias y cronicas norte americanas," both published in 1934. In addition, Montenegro has translated into Spanish and edited short stories and novels by Mark Twain, Ambrose Bierce, Ernest Hemingway, D. H. Lawrence, H. G. Wells, and other English and American authors.

He also worked on the editorial staff of "La Nacion" in Santiago, and contributed to such magazines and newspapers as the "New York Times," "Current History," "The Nation," and the "American Mercury."
