

Tar Heel Rushing Defeats Gamecocks

Score Fails To Tell True Story As Revamped Squad Takes 21-6 Win

North Carolina faced South Carolina last Saturday with seven new members on the starting line-up and still managed to crush the Gamecocks 21-6. The score was far from indicative of the game.

Scoring shortly after the opening kickoff, the Tar Heels were never seriously in the hole, and continued to romp all over the field. Once again, however, that final scoring punch was lacking, and at least four other scoring possibilities were muffed.

Spencer Coeds Still Unbeaten In Mural Play

All-Campus Team Set for Dook Game

Hockey intramurals are drawing to a close, finding Spencer, Chi Omega, and Pi Phi leading the scoring in games. Spencer, sparked by Brubaker, Turner, and Brewster, has again romped through competition in the Red League undefeated. In the Blue League, Roper and Wideman have piled up scores for the Pi Phis while Foster and Oldham did the same for Chi O.

The four sororities, with the weatherman's permission, will play Wednesday, November 10, at 2:30; Tri Delt against A. D. Pi, and Pi Phi battling with Chi O for the leading position in the League. On Thursday, November 11, the final game will be played between the winner of the Pi Phi-Chi O game and Spencer. On November 19, the All-Carolina Varsity in Hockey will journey to Durham to take on the Dook girls.

Soccer Murals

Soccer intramurals started Tuesday, November 9. These games are to be played every Tuesday and every Friday at 2:45 in Kenan Stadium. Winner of the tournament will be determined, as in Hockey, by a contest between winners of Red and Blue Leagues. The Volley Ball Tournament finds Spencer again on the top, with the possibility of playing either Alderman or Tri Delt in the final game.

On Friday, December 3, at 2:30, the Athletic Association is holding an open house at Field Day. There will be scheduled exhibition games in Hockey, Soccer, and Volleyball—an Awards Tea in the new WAA room, and a Dance Demonstration presented by Miss Ruth Franck.

Basketball

Coach Lange urges all those interested in trying out for the basketball team to report at five o'clock in the Gymnasium.

Band Practice

There will be a regular band practice tonight at 7:30 in Hill Hall. Any new students interested in playing in the band are asked to attend.

Gamecock Tally

The only Gamecock tally was a result of one of the Tar Heels' common intercepted passes. Striking at the gates of a probable score late in the second period, the Chapel Hill crew attempted a pass to Grimes which was intercepted by Joe Shaw on the Gamecock 20 and run 80 yards for the losers' lone marker.

Coach Young's revamped aggregation didn't gamble with aerials for any appreciable time, however, as one glance at the statistics will prove. It was strictly a rushing contest for the North Carolina eleven, which ran through more than 300 yards on the ground. The passes that did connect were few and dshort, giving the winners a full 15 yards gained via the air.

Revamped Squad

The substitutions from the Carolina bench were strange to a varsity fan, but the scoring was reflective of the Tar Heel squad previous to the Navy shtake-up. It was Eddie Teague who broke away for 43 yards and the opening touchdown, and Hosea Rodgers who took Georgie Grimes' lateral in the second period and ran 32 yards for the second tally, adding to this the Tar Heels' final touchdown of the day, when he smashed over from the 1 yard line, late in the third quarter.

All eyes were, of course, on the new material, for while Duke was moping up over in Raleigh, with a depleted Blue Devil squad, Coach Young was testing his charges for the all-important posts in the all-important classic due November 20.

Next Week

Next week's opponents from the University of Pennsylvania were, in the meanwhile, taking a defeat at the hands of Navy and may be expected to bounce back with vengeance.

Toward the goal of winning their next game, the Tar Heels were seen to have held back all possible tricks and break-away plays against the Gamecocks. It may be truly said that any Duke or Penn scout lurking in the stands went home sadly disappointed.

Swimming

Coach Jamerson urged all prospective swimmers interested in going out for the team, to report at the Bowman Gray Memorial Pool this afternoon at 5:15 and the "more the merrier," he says.

Blue Dolphins Prepare for Title Defense

With a brilliant record of four Southern Conference titles behind them, the Blue Dolphin squad, under Coach Dick Jamerson, opened practice last Monday afternoon, with many of the last year's swimming stalwarts returning to bolster hopes in defending the Mermen's title during the season ahead.

Determined in his actions, Coach Jamerson immediately guided his squad through a series of routine drills, working out the raggedness showing up in early workouts.

Hopes of keeping the team's rating among the first ten ranking swimming squads in the nation, will hang on the shoulders of the 22 prospective candidates reporting for the opening call.

Heading the list were captain-elect Denny Hammond, the standout star for the Dolphin team of '42 and holder of the new national collegiate breaststroke record. Hammond is also ranked high among the backstroke performers in the country and has shown effectiveness in the 220 freestyle and one leg of the 400 relay.

Buddy Crone

Buddy Crone, six-times holder of the Carolina AAU diving crown and ranked fourth in the country during his freshman year. He is expected to be Carolina's top performer in this division. Percy Mallison, who was rated No. 1 in the nation on the 100 will add strength in this event.

Coach Jamerson also plans to use Ben Ward, a star sprinter from Goldsboro, who aided Carolina to take the CAAU meet at Tarboro in the 300 meter individual medley, while George Whitner, a stalwart in the 800 meter freestyle has broken the tape at 11:36.6, as compared with the old record of 11:40. Snooky Proctor, middle distance man from Rocky Mount, is expected to move up to a varsity berth.

Stevens will offer Crone a lot of competition in diving for the campaign. Jesse Greenbaum is up to his standards on the backstroke and is expected to hold down that event with Hammond. Roy Little and Bill Herr are Carolina's top notchers in the 50 and 100. They will also team up with another couple in the 400 relay. Hexler, Perry, Abrahamson, Huse, Kaufman, are the other swimmers with valuable experience from last year and are to be counted on heavily on the Mermen squad for the coming campaign.

Meets on the incomplete schedule are as follows:
Jan. 8 Duke—there.
Jan. 15 Georgia Tech—there.
Jan. 22 Navy—there.
Jan. 29 Georgia Tech—here.
Feb. 12 Duke—here.

Veterans and Transfer Stars Spark First Day of Basketball As Phantoms Face '43 Season

NROTC Takes Scoring Leads In Sports Play

NROTC's "Bainbridge Aces" and Alex Howard, of the "Admirals," were leading the field in the University's intramural sports activity Friday as the new program neared its first semester's end, and winners were scheduled to be decided in final games Monday and Tuesday.

Howard held his reigning spot among individual stars as a result of Ensign Dick Bennett's transfer to a new Navy base. Bennett had been leading with 305 points, while Howard has 285. All scores are as of Friday, Nov. 5.

The "Aces"

With a total of 3,440, the "Aces" held a precarious monopoly on the top rung last Friday. Pushing them were the Admirals who were behind by 20 points with a total of 3,420. In third place were the V-12 "Pre-fleeters," who had 2,625 points.

Final results of the program, first all-campus event of its kind, will be announced in next week's Tar Heel.

Winner's Plaque

To the winning combination will go a plaque, while cups will be awarded the three highest-ranking individual stars in the program. Medals will go to seven other individual scorers. Another medal will be awarded the manager of the winning team.

Looking to the new semester, Walter Rabb, director of the program, held a meeting Monday night of managers and mapped plans for winter intramurals. Included in the list of activities will be basketball, wrestling, volleyball, and water polo. Basketball will start Nov. 15, with games getting under way at 7:15 on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights.

Points in the program now ending were acquired according to set rules. For every game in which a student played, he received 10 points if his team won. If it lost, he received five points. Members of championship teams were awarded an additional 25 points.

The list of top scores through last Friday follows:

Bainbridge Aces (NROTC)	3,440
Admirals (NROTC)	3,420
Pre-fleeters (V-12, Branch Hall)	2,625
Medics (V-12)	2,425
Vultures V-12, of Flagler Hall)	2,205

Individual High Scorers

Dick Bennett, Admirals	305
Alex Howard, Admirals	285
Dick Elliot, Admirals	285
Bill Stevens, Bainbridge Aces	230
Bruce Winslow, Bainbridge Aces	225
Paul Trueblood, Bainbridge Aces	220
Bill Parker, Bainbridge Aces	215
John Temple, Bainbridge Aces	210
K. O. Underwood, Bainbridge Aces	210
C. F. Green, Medics	200

Sideline Seats Available to All Via Grid-Graph

The Carolina-Pennsylvania game this Saturday afternoon will be presented via play-by-play direct wire from the Philadelphia field. All Carolina Coeds and Gentlemen who expect to follow the Tar Heels in their coming battle with the Quakers had better be in Memorial Hall or they'll have to get the facts from the newspapers when the news is stale.

Sponsored by the University club, the grid-graph will preside as usual for the benefit of Tar Heel fans. The mechanical contraption consists of a great board with lots of pretty lights. These lights, by some absolutely uncanny means, show the position of each player on each play.

In case football followers and Carolina boosters are planning to sit by the fireside and listen to the game over the radio Saturday afternoon, it might be in order to note that there will be no broadcast. So come deposit a mere twenty-five cents in the little box at Memorial Hall at 2:00 p. m. and watch the Blue and White roll on to victory.

CAA Offers V-12 Season Tickets

All Carolina V-12 students who are interested in the winter sports program from the spectators' point of view may procure season tickets at the Carolina Athletic Association office in Woollen gymnasium.

These ducats are currently on sale at a modest $2.00, which would actually figure only a few cents per contest considering the fact that basketball, swimming, boxing and wrestling are included in winter sports. Furthermore, this pass will entitle bearer to admission the forthcoming Duke-Carolina football fracas.

Box office officials state that sales have not been as numerous as expected but this can probably be attributed to the fact that few V-12ers knew about the situation.

Game schedules have not been announced but will be made public in the near future.

Duke Slaughter Upsets 'Experts' In Grid-Forecast

A civilian and a Navy man took the prizes in last week's VARSITY football predictions contest. AS, V-12, H. Carroll Botten, 1 Hewes Hall was first and will collect the five dollar prize prize provided by the Varsity shop. $2.50 prize winner is Ed H. Levy, 300 S. Columbia Street.

Predictions nemesis was the Duke runaway, with the upset victory of Cornell over Penn State also tripping up most of the would-be sages.

Despite the fact that they lost to Navy last Saturday, Pennsylvania is expected to rise again and give Carolina a stiff fight. In an inter-service game, Sampson Naval meets Army and will be up against tough opposition despite Army's loss to Notre Dame. Columbia, with no victories to their credit, meets an up and coming Navy team fresh from their triumph over Pennsylvania.

Although Duke is definitely favored over Virginia, prophets will run up against difficulty in predicting a likely score for this clash. An inconsistent Penn State team will play Temple University; if it's one of their good days they should come out on top.

A generally weak Carolina Pre-Flight eleven faces Camp Lejeune. Georgia Tech trounced Louisiana State last week and will not have too much competition from a fair Tulane team. Having only scored 7 points the entire season Wisconsin can scarcely hope to have much chance against once defeated Michigan. A draft ridden Dartmouth team goes on the field against a Cornell eleven which displayed tremendous power against Penn State.

Blanks for the VARSITY-TAR HEEL predictions contest may be obtained from the front lobby of Graham Memorial, the TAR HEEL office or the Varsity.

To be valid, the entry sheets must be turned in at the Varsity shop before one p. m. on Saturday and must contain predicted scores, not only probable winners. Winners will be announced in next week's TAR HEEL.

Lange Cuts Squad After 80 Report For Practice

By Art Jones

Over eighty men reported for the first basketball practice of the season. Among them were stars of last year's varsity and freshman teams, besides V-12 players from the Southwestern conference.

Coach Bill Lange has already cut the squad to forty men and has started the team on polishing up their defense. He expects to have a well balanced team and has high hopes that some of the V-12's now on the football team will strengthen his team after Thanksgiving.

Veterans

Returning from last year's varsity, which for the first time in Carolina's history weren't invited to the Southern Conference Tournament, are Bob Altemose, star defensive center and a steady player, who received outstanding honors for his spirit on the court. Lou was also captain of last year's baseball nine. Bob and Lou are V-12ers.

Coming up from the freshman team, which last year went through an undefeated season, are "Buster" Stevenson, outstanding guard, and Dick Donnan, high scoring center.

N. C. State's outstanding player, Bernie Mock, who is in the V-12 here, is also out for the team. Last year Bernie, who plays center, scored twenty points in one game against a strong Carolina Pre-flight five. He is expected to be one of the mainstays of the team. Against Carolina he scored 10 points in the first game, sparking his team to a 47-36 victory. He only scored five points in the second game, which we won 45-38.

One of the outstanding civilians on the team is "Soc" Crieticos, who made all-state in South Carolina. "Soc," short for Socrates, scored an average of twenty-two points a game in high school. This is an excellent record considering that he only averaged seven shots per game.

The two men that Coach Lange expects to build his team around are B. Box and J. Dewell. Box hails from West Texas State and was one of their outstanding players on the freshman team. He is six feet three inches tall and is an excellent man on the offense.

Dewell is from Southern Methodist University and played freshman basketball there. Measuring six feet, three inches, he is an outstanding player under the basket.

Both these men are playmakers, but the coach doesn't think that they alone can help Carolina control the boards. Barney and Oliver Poole, now playing on the football team, are expected to join the basketball team. Coach Lange thinks that a tall man, like Barney, is all that is needed to make Carolina a dangerous team.

Barney played freshman basketball at the University of Mississippi. He measures six feet two inches and is an excellent tea man. His cousin Oliver played two years of college football, also at Mississippi U., and is six-three in height. Both boys are in the Marine reserve.

Schedule

Many service teams are scheduled, besides our regular opponents. The opener will be late in November against Camp Butler. To give our team some pre-season practice, the White Phantoms will scrimmage the Pre-flight team often during the next few weeks.

The White Phantoms hope to raise their twenty year percentage of .752, during which they won 358 games and lost 118. This record is one of the most outstanding in the country.

So far there are nineteen men on the first squad, with the rest forming the Junior Varsity. Practicing from five o'clock to six-thirty every evening, the squad is getting into shape slowly with emphasis being put on actual playing rather than conditioning. Coach Lange is of the opinion that intensive playing will aid the player and condition him at the same time.

Lange is not satisfied wholly with the turnout for practice. He thinks there are more men on the campus who can help the team greatly, who have not shown up at practice. Those who are interested are still invited to report for practice.

Boxing Notice

All boys interested in trying out for the varsity boxing squad are asked to meet at 5:00 this afternoon in the Boxing Room at Woollen Gym.

A DURATION DO!

Your shirts are valuable items these days and appreciate special handling.

Turn up your shirt collar before sending it to the laundry. A collar washed flat doesn't fray so easily at the crease.

Have your shirts laundered frequently. A too-soiled shirt requires more scrubbing and consequently wears out more quickly.

Go easy on the starch. Starching stiffens fabric, so that it breaks instead of bending.

When you buy, buy Arrow. Arrow shirts are longer-lasting, better-fitting, and carry the Sanforized label (fabric shrinkage less than 1%).
