Alumnus Honored

LT.-COL. Frank Graham Umstead, 1937, UNC wrestling captain, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal by Admiral Halsey for outstanding service in the South Pacific area. He is here now at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Umstead, Jr. His father is a University trustee.

Di Holds First Summer Meet Tomorrow

Crisp Invites Newcomers

University students will take to the floor in earnest debate tomorrow night when President Bill Crisp calls to order the first meeting of the Dialectic Senate's summer school session. Senate meetings will continue through both summer schools as they did last year.

Subject for debate tomorrow night will be resolved: that State's rights should be maintained. Di Senators hailing from both North and South will have the opportunity to expound their opinions on this bill.

Special welcome is extended to all new students and it is hoped that those interested in debating, oratory, and other forms of public speaking and discussion will attend this first meeting of the Di. Membership is now open and those wishing to apply may do so tomorrow night by filling out the application blanks which will be presented.

A new set of officers will take over tomorrow night. They are: Bill Mackie, President Pro-Temp.; Bob Gurney, critic; Carl Rhinehart, Sgt. at Arms; and Bob Rolnik, clerk. There will be no regular inaugural ceremony.

The Dialectic Senate meets every Wednesday night at 9 o'clock in the Di Hall, third floor, New West. Everyone may participate in the discussions.

Kenneth Ness Serves As Resident Artist And Member of UNC Faculty

Photography Is Hobby of Artist

By Vita Richter

Three years ago the University invited talented, young Kenneth Ness, winner of the Robert Rice Jenkins Memorial Prize, to become its first resident-artist. The Carnegie Foundation allowed him a one year grant, and he has been so successful in the conduct of his flexible program of consultation, advice and informal instruction accorded students that Carnegie extended the grant for an additional year. Since that time, Ness has become a member of the Art Department faculty.

Extraordinarily versatile, Ness has many parallel talents. From his father he inherited an interest in hand-book printing and book binding; he is an expert photographer, and is a writer of the type known as the "stream-of-consciousness" school popularized by Joyce.

As a student at the Art Institute of Chicago, he was awarded the Robert Rice Jenkins Memorial Prize for his "Shipwreck in the Morning." This painting vibrantly portrays his distinguished style, employing expressive lines and vivid coloring.

CPU Brings Senator Lister Hill Here

New Speaker In Prospect As Charlie Vance Goes GI

Legislative Ramrod Has 90 Days' Grace

He Pushed Group To Front During Short Tenure

By Stan Colbert

Legislature-speaker Charlie Vance felt the long arm of Uncle Sam's draft board grasp his civilian clothes and pronounce him physically fit to serve in the armed forces last week. Vance reported to Camp Croft in Spartanburg, for his physical, and was told that he was subject to call to arms within 90 days.

Vance, a junior from Winston-Salem, was recently elected to the office of speaker, and an election of a new speaker of the legislature will be necessary when Vance actually leaves. This new speaker, according to legislative rules, will have to come from the legislature itself, and not from the general student body.

Vance Is BMOC

Charlie Vance is a member of Sigma Nu, and past treasurer of the Interfraternity Council. He is also a member of the Order of the Grail, the Golden Fleece, and the Campus Cabinet. He is chairman of the board of directors of Graham Memorial, and is a Physics major.

A new bill to provide for the replacement of legislators between elections will be presented at the next meeting of the legislature, which will take place immediately following the return of the V-12 unit from their vacation. This bill will provide a 2-3

Domingo Seeks Boggs for Folklore

Dr. Ralph S. Boggs, of the University's Spanish department and an expert on the folklore of the Latin American countries, has been invited by the University of Santo Domingo to establish there this summer a scientific study of folklore.

Dr. Boggs has long been interested in the development of a New World folklore study and is a pioneer in the development of this field. He says that now there is a "great awakening of interest in the New World in its own traditional culture," due mainly to cultural isolation from Europe.

CHARLIE VANCE, energetic speaker of the legislature, has been announced in top condition by Army doctors and will likely be leaving the campus soon.

Interfaith Group Names New Officers

David Andrews Is President

Stepping ahead quickly in its program of reorganization, the Interfaith Council elected officers for the summer and completed tentative plans for activities at its supper meeting last Saturday night. David Andrews, V-12 Pre-Med student, was reelected president of the council.

Plans were laid for the University Sermons, a series of talks by prominent men of all faiths, which will commence sometime in the late summer. Irene Bennett, whose election to the vice-presidency of the Council automatically gave her the chair of the University Sermons Committee, has already started contacting proposed speakers.

Other Officers
Others elected included Barbara Swift, recording secretary; Jerry Davidoff, corresponding secretary; and Irene McCain, treasurer.

Another project of the council is the formation of a council of religion, with faculty members from various departments represented, which would emphasize the importance of religion

Nell Barefoot Plans Activity For Summer

Y Schedules Big Free Programs

In answer to the need for summer school activities, Miss Nell Barefoot of the YMCA has planned free entertainment on the campus for the summer session. The program planned includes various entertainments and is for the V-12ers and civilian students of the University.

Both round and square dances will be held at the court in front of the "Y." Recorded music will be broadcast from the "Y" and will furnish music for the dances. A number of outdoor movies are scheduled for the summer session. They will be shown on the north lawn of Graham Memorial.

"Music Under the Stars" will be held on the lawn of Graham Memorial during the summer session instead of in Kenan Stadium. Bridge tournaments, campus sings, amateur shows, carnivals and beauty contests will be among the activities sponsored for summer school. All of these activities are free and all students are invited to attend them.

CPU Is Open Now For New Members

Application for membership in the Carolina Political Union may be obtained at the YMCA office during this week, announced Ray Levine, chairman of the membership committee. Applicants will be interviewed in a week and a half.

Hexner Goes To Monetary Conference

Professor Will Represent Czechs

By Jerry Davidoff

The myriad manifestations of post-war international finances have called Dr. Ervin Hexner of the Political Science faculty away from Chapel Hill. Dr. Hexner left yesterday to attend preparatory meetings in Atlantic City, N. J., of the United Nations Monetary and Finance Conference which is to be held in Bretton Woods, N. H., starting July 1st. Dr. Hexner will be one of the five representatives of the Czech Government.

The purpose of the conference is to set up plans for the establishment of an eight billion dollar fund to stabilize currency throughout the world after the war, and to discuss the raising of ten billion dollars for the establishment of an International Bank for long-term credits for nations. Representatives of all the United Nations have been invited.

Dr. E. M. Bernstein of the Carolina economics faculty and the United States Treasury department was one of the principals involved in drawing up the proposals which will be presented to United Nations governments if passed by the Bretton Woods conference. The United States delegation is headed by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury.

Dr. Hexner, who was born in Czechoslovakia, and remained there until the war, has been called away from UNC on international duties before. The last time was two months ago when he attended the International Labor Organization conference in Philadelphia. Dr. Hexner's training as a member of the Czech government and as an expert on international affairs has made his services valuable to both the University and the United Nations.

Guides Freshmen

DR. E. L. MACKIE has been guiding summer school freshmen through an intensive program of orientation for the past week and a half. Dr. Mackie has called another class meeting for tomorrow night.

Frosh Hear Local Bigwigs At Session

Dean Mackie Calls Meeting Tomorrow

Dean Mackie has announced a special meeting of the freshman class for Wednesday night at 7:30 in Gerrard Hall as part of the freshman orientation program.

Speakers at this meeting will be Dean Bradshaw and Dr. Perry. They will discuss the latest information on the war status that is of some concern to college students.

Campus Leaders Speak

Last night at 7:30 in Gerrard Hall, Dean Mackie presented to the onlooking freshmen, many of the leaders of extra-curricular activities on the campus. Prominent men who discussed their various activities were W. Horace Carter, who represented the TAR HEEL; Charlie Vance, speaker of the legislature; Gid Gilliam, president of the Interfraternity Council; Charlie Frank Benbow, president of the student body; Turk Newsome, director of Graham Memorial; Bill Crisp, president of the Dialectic Senate; Harvey White, president of the Carolina Political Union; Ann West, president of the International Relations Club, Nell Barefoot, director of summer school activities, and Hosea Rogers, president of the Athletic Association.

Editor Carter, in his address to the freshmen, emphasized the fact that the TAR HEEL was the paper of the students, and as such, would appreciate any sort of student opinion.

Democratic Whip Coming To Campus

Harvey White Arranges Date For Address

By Bob Rolnik

During a meeting with Carolina Political Union acting-president Harvey White recently, Senator Lister Hill consented to come to Carolina for an address to the student body at the end of July or at the beginning of August, White said last night.

Hill will speak on the highly controversial subject of "Treaty Ratification of the Senate," announced White.

Important
The address will be the first of major importance on the campus since the appearance of Eddie Rickbacker a few months ago under the sponsorship of the International Relations Club and the Pre-Flight school.

Recently reelected with a very large majority by the state of Alabama, Senator Hill has favored more active participation in the formation of foreign policy by the Senate.

Party Whip

Acting as the Democratic majority party whip in the Senate, Hill has been a supporter of the administration. An ardent spokesman for International cooperation after the war, the Senator gained nation-wide attention last year for the co-sponsored "Ball-Bur"

Lefler Scores History Texts

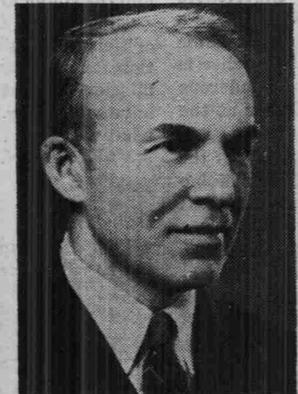

"History textbooks still approach slavery from the sentimental or moral standpoint. No textbook gives adequate treatment of the subject as an economic problem," Dr. Hugh T. Lefler of the University History Department told members of the English Institute and the Social Studies Institute meeting in joint session in Graham Memorial at the University here Saturday afternoon.

The purpose of history is to give an accurate record of the past, and not to develop a sociological study, Dr. Lefler said, and emphasized that the two subjects of history and literature are inseparable in understanding the American scene.

Dr. Harry K. Russell of the University English Department spoke on the relationship between literature and the social studies, and Prof. James S. Tippet of the Education Department led a discussion of both talks.

Miss Lillian Parks of Charlotte, chairman of the English group, expressed appreciation to Dr. George R. Coffman, head of the University English department, and Prof. Earl H. Hartsell for their assistance in making the Institute possible.
