Council Takes Stand On Examination Conduct

Legislature Grants Voice To Students In Council Elections

Council Bill Amended Prior To Passage

Holdovers To Stay Until Spring

By Jerry Davidoff

Lacking three votes of a unanimous decision, the Student Legislature passed, on Thursday night, a bill to amend the Constitution so as to provide for the election of members of the Men's Honor Council. However, the bill was not in the form that was presented in the Tar Heel in Tuesday's issue.

After the Legislature had gone into a Committee of the Whole and many opinions had been heard on the original bill, Idrienne Levy of the law school presented amendments to three of the articles of the bill. These amendments which were passed provide for a 15 man Council, six of whose members shall be elected by the campus in November in the ratio of one Marine, two V-12, one ROTC, and two civilian, and further provides that the other six members shall be elected by the Council from its present membership, and that these six hold-over members shall hold office until the spring elections of 1945, at which time the six positions will become open for campus election.

The ratio of the holdover members will be the same as the ratio of members elected in November. Council members shall hold office for one year from the date of their election whether they be elected in May or November. This was done so that at no time would the Council consist of inexperienced members. An amendment also provided for a freshman member of the council and two upper class members in the civilian contingent, and also that in the military group one trimester's residence was a requirement for membership. The last amendment was presented by John Morgan.

As the situation stands now, six members of the Council will be elected in November. The Legislature also passed an amendment to the Elections Bill, which permits candidates to have printing done outside of Chapel Hill. The limit of expenditures of candidates is $12.50 for Student Body President, Legislature Speaker, Tar Heel Editor, Yack Editor and Carolina Mag Editor, and a limit of $5.00 on all other candidates.

Allan Pannell, Emily Alitron and Thomas Slaton were chosen holdover members of the Legislature.

The Student Council's recommendations of John H. Booth, an undergraduate, and Robert L. Gavin, a law student, as replacement members of the Student Council were confirmed by the Legislature.

The three legislators voting against the Student Council election bill were Representatives Allen, ROTC; Mallard, V-12; and Cathy, Kenan dorm.

Veterans of World War II Plan Organization At Meet

Veterans of World War II enrolled here at the University held their first group meeting on Wednesday evening, October 4, in the Horace Williams lounge of Graham Memorial and discussed the possibility of setting up a permanent organization at Chapel Hill.

Of the 65 medically discharged veterans now enrolled here, 40 attended the meeting including some students who had attended the school prior to the passage of the GI bill which provides for payment of tuition and maintenance during the period of one year.

Motions to appoint committees to draw charters or constitutions and motions for election of officers were voted down when the men pointed out that they had met for the first time that evening and did not feel prepared to commit themselves so quickly. They further stated that they hesitated to commit the men who would come after them at Carolina without considering seriously their obligations and their good.

The men present introduced themselves individually by name and division, but each omitted length of service, place of duty and rank.

The veterans were welcomed by administrative officials Dean R. B. House, Dean F. F. Bradshaw, Dr. Guy Phillips, Mr. W. H. Plemmons, Dean E. L. Mackie, Mr. Ed Lanier, Dr. Perry and Mr. J. A. Williams who attended the meeting informally. Further action was postponed for one week to allow the men to discuss further the kind of organization needed and its purpose, meanwhile it was accepted as a fact that they would start some kind of veteran group at Chapel Hill.

Council Probes Navy Men Case

President pro-tem of the Student Council Bill McNeely announced that the Council was investigating claims that rumored a student proctor's involvement in a recent case involving two Naval V-12 men who were shipped recently.

McNeely stated that although the Council heard many rumors about almost every case heard, the rumors in this instance came from an extremely reliable source. Further announcements are expected with new developments.

Cril Discusses Social Actions

Meeting in the basement of the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday night, 40 campus leaders discussed plans for the integration of community social action through the Social Action Committee of the Council for Religion in Life.

David Andrews, President of the CRIL, opened the meeting by explaining the organization's purpose. He was followed by Maureen Bennett, CRIL vice president, and Bill Poteat, Assistant "Y" Secretary, who discussed the proposals from the CRIL.

A planning committee composed of Floyd Gillis, chairman; Bill Poteat, Jean Rankin, Jack Anderson, Rene Bernard and Jerry Davidoff met on Friday night to draw up definite organizational plans for the entire group when it meets for dinner tonight at 6. See CRL, page 3

Sound And Fury Gets Organized

Betty Lou Cypert was elected president of the Sound and Fury in the first meeting this year of that organization held this week.

Other officers elected were the following: Co-business Managers, Nancy Jenkins and Bill Stubbs, and Executive Committee members, Fred Caligan and Marion Gurney.

Before the election of officers was held, Betty Lou as temporary chairman, introduced two former members of Sound and Fury, Marion Gurney and Fred Caligan. Caligan, one of the organization's original members, has performed on Broadway and toured with USO shows as a professional dancer.

New Carolina students interested in staging "all-student productions" are invited to attend the next Sound and Fury meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the North-South room of Graham Memorial. New students are eligible to become associate members with a half vote until they have participated in a Sound and Fury production, at which time they will be granted a full vote.

WPTF To Carry Broadcast Talk From Memorial

It will be the night of nights for the Democrats tonight when Senator Lister Hill, Alabama New Dealer, delivers a political address in Memorial Hall at 7:30 under the auspices of the Carolina Political Union.

Time for the speech was shifted from 8 p. m., as originally announced, in order that it may be broadcast over radio station WPTF, Jimmy Wallace, CPU chairman, explained.

Hill will be introduced by ex-ambassador to Mexico and now editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, Josephus Daniels. Topic of the talk will be "Roosevelt Should Be Re-elected" and will be concluded with a question-and-answer session.

A banquet in honor of the speaker will be held at the Carolina Inn at 6 p. m. to which members of the CPU and University military and civilian administrative officials have been invited. A reception at Graham Memorial, open to everyone, will follow the address.

Democratic Whip in the Senate and New Deal spearhead in the South, Hill has recently been in the national limelight for his sponsorship, along with Senators Ball, Burton and Hatch, of the "B2H2" Resolution for the preservation of world peace through international cooperation.

Prophet of the present war, Hill has been consistent in his farsightedness and perseverance in battling for total military preparation long before Pearl Harbor. A friend of Billy Mitchell, he strove to place air power in a dominant position in the American war machine and came to blows with North Carolina's Bob Reynolds, who, following a tour of Europe, predicted conclusively that there would be no war.

Hill is particularly fitted to speak on Roosevelt, having worked closely with him since his accession to the presidency, and having been the one to nominate him in 1940 for a tradition-shattering third term.

After graduating from the University of Alabama with a Phi Beta Kappa key, an A.B., as well as a Law degree—all in the space of four years instead of the usual six—he went to the Columbia University law school to receive a second LL.B. degree. He returned to Montgomery soon after to become the youngest school board president in the country. He was then 22.

He emerged from the last war as a First Lieutenant, and four years later began his political career with his election to the House of Representatives to fill out an unexpired term. While a congressman he put to use much of his military knowledge and experience as chairman of the military affairs committee.

Dubbed by national publications as "The Patron Saint of TVA," and "The Pre-Roosevelt New-Dealer," Hill's twice-occupied office as "Whip" in the upper house is one which his constituents say requires "tact, patience, good humor and unflinching courtesy," and as such he is acting majority leader in Barkley's absence.

The Marine detachment here will form two single lines in front of Memorial Hall and the academic procession will pass through them. After the faculty and the platform party enter, the Marines will follow and be seated in a place of honor. The exercises will be over by twelve. University Day is the celebration of the laying of the cornerstone of Old East October 12, 1793, one hundred and fifty-one years ago.

At 1:45 all service units will pay military honors and pass in review at Kenan Stadium in honor of General Vandegrift, giving him an opportunity to observe the various naval organizations located here. The Pre-flight School will have its regularly scheduled Wednesday night sports program from 2:45 to 4:15 on Fetzer field. There will be no classes after 9:50, and all students are invited to attend the exercises.
