

EDITORIALS:

- Budgets and Elections
- Nasty Games
- Veterans Viewpoint

The Tar Heel

NEWS ITEMS:

- Registration Rules
- Civil Air Patrol
- NROTC Beauty

Serving Civilian and Military Students at UNC

VOLUME LIII—SW

Business and Circulation: 8641

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1944

Editorial: F-3141, News: F-3146, F-3147

NUMBER SW—8

Military Officials Highlight UNC Birthday

About 300 Students Turn Out For First Organization Meet Of Civil Air Patrol Squadron

Highlighted by the appointment of Dean F. F. Bradshaw as acting squadron commander of the Chapel Hill squadron, the inauguration of the University's Civil Air Patrol squadron got under way last night in Gerrard Hall when 300 air-minded students from the University and Chapel Hill high school turned out for enrollment.

Lt. Col. Frank E. Dawson, Wing Commander of the CAP in North Carolina, outlined the program for Chapel Hill. No quota has as yet been set for University membership, although the national quota is 250,000 CAP cadets. Dawson pointed out that the CAP cadet program is open to all students between 15 and 17, and that a senior CAP organization has been organized to offer aviation opportunities to all over 18.

Stressing the fact that CAP is an entirely voluntary organization from the instructors to the cadets, Dawson explained that enrollment in the CAP involves no military commitments whatsoever, but serves as an intensive preparatory medium for later meteorology, radio communication, navigation, mechanics and complete ground school instruction in the armed forces.

Ten days in camp each summer is offered to all students enrolled in the CAP program. Col. Dawson also stated that the CAP program will be perpetuated upon the completion of the war.

The first meeting of the newly-organized squadron will be held on Tuesday night at 8:00 in Gerrard Hall.

Dean Bradshaw pointed out that J. A. Williams is now negotiating for a flight instructor who will follow up the CAP Pre-Flight program with flight instruction at the student's expense.

Minor Violations Feature Rushing

Only minor infractions of fraternity rushing rules occurred during the recent rush period according to the findings of the interfraternity council which met last Monday night to investigate the various charges of alleged violations.

Gid Gilliam, president of the council, disclosed that only two fines were levied for illegal rushing and both concerned the sending of telegrams to rushees.

The council also attended to various routine matters of business including the election of a new secretary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Nelson Hendrix. The newly elected secretary is Dan Williamson, a member of the NROTC unit.

War Chest Drive Postponed Until November 7

The Campus War Chest Drive which was originally scheduled to begin this Saturday has been postponed until November 7.

After conferring a committee of the War Coordination Board decided to change the date since other campus activities would interfere with a successful campaign.

The drive was originally planned to coincide with the faculty campaign but since examinations and autumn vacation come during this period it was considered advantageous to begin later.

IRC Meets Monday

There will be an important business meeting of the International Relations club next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Grail room of Graham memorial.

NROTC Plans Crowning Of Catapult Beauty

Climaxing a weekend of fun for the members of the NROTC Unit and their dates, the fifth annual "Ball" being held tonight in the armory will feature the presentation and crowning of Miss Joanne Van Cott, the winner of the recent beauty contest sponsored by The Catapult, as the "NROTC Beauty Queen."

Miss Van Cott, a native of Bronxville, New York, will be crowned by Capt. Edward E. Hazlett, Jr. in a colorful and impressive ceremony amid a military setting. Her escort for the evening will be John Dickson.

Registration For Trimester Starts Monday

Students Given Week To Register

The week of October 16-21, beginning 9:00 a.m. October 16 and ending noon October 21, has been designated as the pre-registration period to provide two additional days for the autumn vacation.

All students now enrolled in the University who expect to return for the winter semester must register during this week; students in doubt about returning should, nevertheless, register also.

Each civilian student must first get a registration permit from the information desk, 1st floor, South Building. The daily registration hours throughout the University will be from 9:00 to 1:00 in the morning and 2:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon. General college students will register with their advisers; juniors, seniors and graduate students will clear with their departmental advisers and then report to their deans' offices for registration. All students, after registering with their advisers or deans, will go through the check-out line in Memorial Hall.

There will be a general college table on the court in front of Gerrard hall if the weather permits, or in the YMCA if the weather is inclement. General college students should report to this table on Friday and Saturday, October 13 and 14 to sign for registration appointments.

Dean Johnson cautions students not to sign for an appointment at a time which will conflict with classes, physical education or laboratories.

Students who fail to register during the pre-registration period must return to the campus to register on November 3 or 4. Registration offices will close at 12:00 noon Saturday, Nov. 4, after which a late registration fee of $2.00 will be charged.

Classwork for the winter semester begins Monday morning, Nov. 6.

Phi Delta Chi Pledges

The following men have been pledged by the Phi Delta Chi fraternity: John Dees, William Hooks, Graham Clark, Henry Thomas, Charles Campbell, John Horton, Reeves Hawkins, Charles Creech, Paul McNeill, William Griffin, William McDaniel and Sam Cavanaugh.

Football Supplement

A weekly four-page football supplement to the monthly Alumni Review, complete with photographs and statistics, thoroughly covers each Carolina football game, and is being mailed out each Wednesday to all dues-paying UNC alumni. The supplement, in its twelfth year of publication, is edited by J. Maryon Saunders, secretary of the Alumni Association.

Music for the dance will be provided by the Pre-Flight "Cloudbusters" and attendance is limited to members of the NROTC and their dates.

The dance arrangements were made by the unit dance committee which is composed of: Joe Banks, Wally Barrett, Tom Campbell, Francis Caufield, Dick Elliot, Bill Ellis, Jesse Greenbaum, Charlie Jacobs, Fred Kanter, Wayman Leftwich, Nelson McGinley, Phil Moskowitz, Dick Robinson and Al Jacobson.

Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota will be the featured speaker in the Religious Emphasis Program November 19, 20, and 21 at the University. The announcement was made by the YMCA and the YWCA cabinets who make up the sponsoring committee for the series of forums on religious topics.

Mr. Harry F. Comer, general secretary of the YMCA here, made the announcement of Dr. Judd's acceptance and declared that the committee was "most fortunate in securing this outstanding speaker." In addition to Dr. Judd there will be eight or ten guest leaders who will conduct discussion groups and conduct interviews.

The Religious Emphasis Program will open on Sunday morning, November 19 with a guest minister in each of the local pulpits. Following the sermons will be the union service mass meeting Sunday evening. Special mass meetings on Monday and Tuesday evenings will be held in addition to the three days of special forums.

Congressman Judd is a native of

CONGRESSMAN JUDD

Minnesota. He is a medical doctor, and after finishing his internship worked for a while at the famous Mayo Clinic. As a medical missionary he went to China under authority of the Federal Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. In China he was supervisor of hospitals and did much practice work at the same time. Dr. Judd was in China until 1938 when the Japanese restrictions made it impossible for him to continue operations. Upon his return to the states he toured the country as a lecturer on the "China situation." It was his purpose to try to build up a lobbying wave sufficient to bring about an embargo on the sale and shipment of war materials and scrap iron to Japan. He retired in 1941 to private practice of medicine in his home state of Minnesota, but his lecturing and public-spiritedness so attracted the attention of the state populace that they ran him for Congress and sent him to Washington in 1942. Almost immediately he became a daring new voice on the floor of the House of Representatives. Dr. Walter Judd is a power in matters pertaining to the Orient as well as honest and progressive governmental policies here at home.

Dean House Presides Over Mass Ceremony

Vandegrift Gives Principal Speech At Memorial Hall

Lieut. General A. A. Vandegrift, Commandant of the Marine Corps, told a packed house in Memorial hall in the main feature of the program commemorating the 151st University Day celebration that "the armed forces have not been lulled . . . and the American people must not be lulled by the relative weakness of the Japanese sea and airpower opposition."

Delivering the principal address at the 151st anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of Old East, first state university building in the nation, General Vandegrift asserted that "we must constantly increase our power to be ready to meet any sudden strike."

The celebration also commemorated Carolina's vast contributions to the war effort, which began with a war training program 20 months before Pearl Harbor.

Seated on the platform with General Vandegrift were a number of high ranking military and civil leaders, including Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, who introduced the General; Brigadier General L. G. Merritt, Commanding Officer at Cherry Point; Brigadier General John P. Kennedy, Commanding Officer at Fort Bragg; and Brigadier General Kenneth Royall, of Goldsboro, recently returned from a mission overseas, and Lt. Col. Herbert M. Poole, Commanding Officer of Camp Butler.

In introducing the speaker, Mr. Daniels, one-time Commander of the Marine Corps, said "it is appropriate that the most distinguished Marine General should come to this historic anniversary of the University presided over by the greatest private who ever wore the Marine uniform."

The University Day observance this year was a feature of the sesquicentennial celebration of the opening of the University which is to continue through 1945. Chartered in 1789, the cornerstone of the University's first building was laid in 1793, and the institution was the first state university in the country to open its doors to students, in 1795.

Administrative Dean Robert B. House of the University presided over the exercises and conducted a responsive reading. Rev. Emmet Gribbin of the Chapel of the Cross gave the invocation, and following a minute of silence in memory of those alumni who have died since last University Day, General Vandegrift gave the principal address.

Among the special guests, in addition to those mentioned were Lt. Col. Thurston J. Davies of Washington, who is in charge of the Marine College Training Program throughout the country; Lt. Col. A. D. Reid, of Raleigh, head of the Southeastern Sector of the Eastern Defense Command; Captain J. R. Bennett, Aide to General Kennedy; Captain Charles P. McFeaters, Commanding Officer of the Duke V-12 program; and Warrant Officer J. E. Blanchard, in charge of the Marine unit at Duke University.

General Vandegrift reviewed the Navy V-12 unit, which includes a Marine contingent, and the Navy Pre-Flight cadets in Kenan Stadium, and later, he, along with the special guests, witnessed the regular bi-weekly sports program of the Pre-Flight cadets on Fetzer Field.

"Actually, the enemy faces a classic dilemma," he asserted. "If he fights at sea now, he stands the risk of losing all his naval strength at the most crucial moment."

See UNIVERSITY DAY, page 3

Debate Set For Tuesday

Four students were selected this week to participate in a public debate which will be held in the lounge of Graham Memorial Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Topic for the debate is resolved: That Franklin D. Roosevelt, instead of Thomas E. Dewey, should be elected in the November elections.

In the debate squad meeting Wednesday night, nine students, including one V-12, gave four minute formal speeches on either the negative or affirmative side of the resolution. After the speeches, participants retired and the debate squad and Debate Council members voted on best ones to engage in the scheduled debate.

Robert Morrisson and Charles Nice were selected to debate the affirmative and Bill Mackie and Bill Crisp were selected to debate the negative.

René Bernard, Executive Secretary of the Debate Council, announced that the University has scheduled a dual debate with the University of Georgia for November. Topic for the debate will be resolved: That a fourth term is justifiable.

Tryouts for this debate will be held next Tuesday night in the Grail room immediately following the debate which will be held in Graham Memorial lounge. All civilian and military students may try out for all debates. The affirmative team which is selected will travel to Athens, Ga. The negative will debate the University of Georgia here.

Hospital Saving Starts Campaign

It has been announced from the Executive Offices of the Hospital Saving Association that an enrollment campaign will be conducted for University employees and their families October 15 to October 31, 1944.

The Hospital Saving Association is one of the Blue Cross plans sponsored by the American Hospital Association and its Home Office is located here in Chapel Hill.

Both hospitalization and surgical memberships are offered and enrollment is through groups only. Information may be obtained from the local office. After this campaign is closed no applications from the University will be accepted until April.

Dr. Katsoff Plans Discussion Forum Of World Events

In an attempt to assist the campus and community in interpreting world events and happenings the Philosophy department will once again sponsor a series of panel forums beginning sometime in November. Dr. L. O. Katsoff announced yesterday.

The series this year is to be organized under the general title of "Basic Factors in the Construction of a Global Culture" and will be conducted by members of the faculty. The first of the discussions will be taken up with the "effects of war on men's minds and their implications for social, political, economic and ideological factors."

The lecture will follow the same pattern as the series held in 1941-42 on "Restoring Order." It is hoped that these discussions will lead to a better understanding for intelligent participation in the changes which the modern world is experiencing.

Additional information and a schedule of the forum will be announced at a later date.

civilian schedule

Classes end—Tues. Oct. 24
Exams—Oct. 25-27 inclusive
Autumn Recess—Oct. 28-Nov. 2 incl.
Registration—Nov. 3-4 incl.
Classes begin—Nov. 6
Class work ends—Dec. 21
Christmas recess—Dec. 22-27 incl.
Classes resumed—Dec. 28

Dr. Godfrey Approves World Organization In Talk At IRC Forum

Setting the pace for the fourth International Relations club forum presentation of the year, Dr. J. L. Godfrey, history professor, struck a pessimistic note last Tuesday night by voicing his approval of a world organization, but disbelief in its ability to permanently stem the tide to war.

"The League wasn't as much a failure as some people think," Godfrey said. "We don't play up the wars we didn't have, and though I don't believe a new League will permanently do away with war, it will most likely prevent some conflicts and postpone another great one."

Holding the opposite stand was Dr. E. H. Newcomer, botanist, who denied that wars are "natural" and therefore inevitable. He spoke for a world organization laid on the remnants of the League structure.

Skeptical of the outlook for continued peace, Dr. J. C. Russell, historian, warned of the menace of increasing imperialism.

Approaching the problem through the principles involved, Rev. C. M. Jones, Pastor of the Presbyterian church, urged that an international union would have a greater task than the prevention of war. It must do something positive in the eradication of the causes for war, Jones said. Com-

See IRC FORUM, page 3

Wac Recruiter On Campus

Cpl. Jane C. Sondley, representative of the Fourth Service Command, Women's Army Corps, will be stationed on the campus at 207 South for the next two weeks to interview WAC applicants and to explain the enlistment plan to women interested in uniformed service with the Army.

The Women's Army Corps is especially anxious to contact coeds soon to graduate. Cpl. Sondley said that there is an acute need for medical technicians and at the present time the medical corps needs 20,000 women to help with wounded patients.

Women who can qualify for jobs such as psychiatric social worker, psychiatric assistant, educational reconditioning personnel, medical, lab and X-ray technicians and occupational therapist will be assigned to an Army hospital caring for returned injured soldiers.

Those interested may contact the representative by calling or coming to room 207 South at any time between two and 4:30 p.m. or at other times by appointment through Friday of this week and throughout the next week.

Coed Senators Discuss Finances

The matter of funds took the front seat in the Coed Senate meeting Tuesday night.

Dixie Jean Bodge presented the treasurer's report while the various organizations under the senate's jurisdiction submitted petitions for finance for the school term.

Controversial discussions arose over the amounts of money different groups want and the senate demanded detailed information before approving tentative budgeting. The reports must be in before November 7, the date of the next meeting, according to Jeanne Parry.

The subsidiary organizations which will receive funds from the senate budget include: Women's Athletic Association, Valkyries, Inter-Dorm Council, CICA, Glee Club, Town Girls Association and the War Coordination Board.

A proposal to give a scholarship to a worthy coed with the surplus funds from the budget was discussed by the group. No action was taken.

The impeachment bill which provides that impeachment proceedings may be

See COED SENATE, page 3

Fall Final Exam Schedule

The schedule of final examinations for the fall term is as follows:

Day	Time	Classes
Wednesday, Oct. 25:	9:00-11:00	all 8:00 o'clock classes
	2:00-4:00	all 9:00 o'clock classes
Thursday, Oct. 26:	9:00-11:00	all 10:00 o'clock classes
	2:00-4:00	all 11:00 o'clock classes
Friday, Oct. 27:	9:00-11:00	all 12:00 o'clock classes
	2:00-4:00	all afternoon classes which do not have morning meetings also, and classes not otherwise arranged for above.