Squad Will Travel Monday To Meet Semi-Pro Team

The 1945 Tar Heel baseball team, coached by veteran Bunn Hearn, will make its official debut of the season Monday when it travels to Sanford to engage the Edwards Co., semi-pro nine in a Red Cross benefit game.

Seven Matches Are Listed On Tennis Slate Netters Launch Season In April

Seven matches have been listed on the schedule for the University of North Carolina tennis team this spring, it was announced today by R. A. Fetzer, Director of Athletics at the University. The Tar Heel netters open the season with William and Mary's Indians at Williamsburg April 14, and a match is scheduled for each of the six succeeding Saturday afternoons. There is a possibility that one more match will be added to the slate later

Workouts To Run For Eight Weeks

By Irvin Smallwood Spring football drills for potential Carolina gridiron stars will officially open Monday afternoon, according to an announcement made yesterday by Head Coach Carl Snavely, former UNC mentor who returns to Chapel Hill this season after several years absence to again pilot the Tar Heel eleven.

Assisting Coach Snavely will be Russ Murphy and Max Reed, both of whom came with him from Cornell, and Chief Specialist Gill. Murphy will spend the majority of his time helping the backfield, Reed will concentrate on the line, and Gill will work especially with the centers and ends and "We expect to have a nine-game slate," Coach Snavely said, "and it will be a tough one at that. It would be a tough schedule for any club, and especially for a new one like ours." Last year the Carolinians turned in their worst record with a mark of four wins and three defeats, and not a single letterman is returning from that squad.

Most promising candidates this spring are Cliff Tuttle, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who was a reserve on the 1943 team, and has returned to school, and Duke Wilder, a newcomer from Paris, Tenn. These two boys will scrap it out for the first two positions, while the remaining berths are wide open.
