

Dumbarton Oaks To Be Discussed Here Tomorrow

Dr. J. C. Russell of the University History Department and Dr. L. O. Kattsof of the Philosophy Department will discuss "Small Nations and the Big Five in the Dumbarton Oaks Organization" on the Carolina Roundtable to be broadcast Sunday, May 6, from 1 to 1:30 o'clock over Station WRAL in Raleigh.

Other University Studio programs this week include "Great Names in Music," featuring the works of Franz Schubert over Station WDNC in Durham Saturday, May 5, from 12:45 to 1 o'clock and the Carolina Workshop, featuring a radio drama, over Stations WDNC and WRAL Saturday from 2:30 to 3 p.m.

Selections on the Franz Schubert program include "Du bist die Ruh," by Betty Don Sweat, University student from Corinth, Miss., a soprano, accompanied by Charles Stevens of Mount Gilead; a piano solo, "Sonata Op. 120," by Mary Louise Emery, music instructor, and choral works by the Women's Glee Club under the direction of Prof. Paul Young.

The play to be presented on the Workshop program is "One Wish to Keep," a fantasy written by Elizabeth LaR. Taylor of Cocoa, Fla., and Kit King, Bristol, Tenn., both University students.

RESEARCH

ity; and Dr. D. C. Allen of Johns Hopkins University.

Others are Dr. Avery Craven, professor of History at University of Chicago; Hon. J. M. Broughton, ex-governor of North Carolina; David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority; and Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of War.

Thursday morning the general topic for discussion will be "Research in the South," while the afternoon session will feature "Nutrition and Public Health." In the evening the theme will be "The Humanities and Social Sciences." Daytime meetings of the conference are to be held in Gerrard Hall and evening sessions in Hill Hall.

Friday the group will consider "The Physical Sciences and Industry," and "The Biological Sciences." That evening's theme is to be "Research, the Foundation of the Future." The conference will close with an informal reception at 10 o'clock in Carolina Inn.

GLEE CLUB

sleep in WAC or Women Reserves barracks.

The touring group is expected to return to the campus late Saturday afternoon, May 12.

The program to be presented by Mr. Young's glee club will open with three musical comedy numbers, "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" from "Oklahoma," "Summer Time" from "Porgy and Bess," and "Deep in My Heart." These will be followed by a group of folk songs. A group of three popular arrangements by Fred Waring, "I Heard You Cried Last Night," "When the Lights Go on Again," and "There Are Such Things" will conclude the program.

A group of modern dances representing what the GI Joe will see all over the world, will be presented by a group of choreographers, accompanied by Bill Sasser. Betty Lou Cypert will then sing, in her own inimitable fashion, "Nobody Wants Me" and "I Wanna Get Married."

Date Of 'Calliope' Showing Changed

The dates for the Playmakers' original major production, "Calliope," have been changed to May 12, 14, 15 (Saturday, Monday and Tuesday) due to a University schedule mix-up. Seats should be reserved in advance at 209 Phillips Hall or Ledbetter-Pickard.

Seniors Wanting Jobs Should See Miss Blair

Miss Marian Blair, vocational director, announces that two interviewers will be on campus next week to speak with seniors concerning prospective jobs.

Lt. Matson of the Signal Corps will interview students on Tuesday, May 8 from 10 until 4 o'clock concerning positions with the Signal Corps in Arlington, Va.

Mr. Glen Dooley of the TVA will be available on Thursday, May 10 to talk with students interested in training as cartographic aides. No previous technical training is needed for this work. Applicants will be given aptitude tests and those who qualify will be given an offer of employment.

Students wishing to make appointments for interviews should contact the vocational office, 301 South.

OBSERVATORY

love entered the picture. General Smith Atkins, the commanding officer, was so taken with President Swain's daughter Ellie that he forced the lucky finders to disgorge their spoils. Miss Swain and General Atkins eventually married and thus furnished a happy ending to the tale.

Little was heard of the instruments until Dr. Collier Cobb, former head of the Geology department, was visiting in Pennsylvania. His host claimed that he had a lens taken from the University of North Carolina in the Civil War. The man offered to return the lens but Cobb disclaimed it. No trace of the missing lens can now be found.

Dr. Fussler recently had an inquiry about the observatory and the equipment used in it that is still preserved from a man who is writing a book on the question of whether this was really the first observatory. Probably the question will never really be solved to the satisfaction of all concerned. But if it is decided that the University of North Carolina claims are legitimate, Dr. Fussler would like to see some Senior Class erect a marker on the spot where the historic building once stood.

LEGISLATURE

Carolina Magazine, was granted the courtesy of the floor to discuss a plan for a Student Committee for National Publicity and to ask for an appropriation of $82 to defray expenses of such a committee for a year. Questions from the floor were raised, but more complete discussion will take place at the next meeting when the motion for such a committee will be presented in the form of a bill.

Another bill that was passed unanimously provided for a recording of the acts of the Student Legislature in a statute book.

Charlie Warren introduced a bill to establish a permanent committee to correct mistakes in any bills which come before the Legislature and to codify all acts of the Legislature.

Routine committee reports were heard. Warren, chairman of the Rules committee, read attendance regulations and announced that absences at the two previous meetings of the new Legislature will be discounted.

THE RAM SEES

master; Carroll Poplin, corresponding secretary.

Headline news from Carr is Jay Ray's unlimited excursion to Washington for reasons best known to herself, and a couple thousand others. And no "whispering grass" is to blame for revealing the "secret."

Rameses sees that Katie Boling's temporary change of address from Carr to the Infirmary has had no effect upon the promptness of her favorite serenader. The Ram hopes that he'll soon be back outside Carr sending forth the lilting strains of the entrancing ballad "K-K-K-Katie."

Big news from the fraternity rows is word of the exciting Neophyte Party to be held next weekend! Hosts for the occasion will be DKE, SAE, Beta, and Zeta.

Junior-Seniors at the "Pre-Flight School for Angels" (St. Mary's) this week-end will draw quite a crowd of Carolina gentlemen. The wings will be quite intact, as the altitude will be extremely high.

Tri Delt Mary Allott is anxiously awaiting a "surprise visit" from her Ohio "Deke friend," supposedly on his way home after a visit to the continent. Sitting on pins and needles, she is.

Anniversaries took the spotlight this week as Mavis Mann celebrated two years of engaged life Sunday. Another romance birthday found Evan Farbar and Babs Schuster partying at Danziger's commemorating their six months of "friendship" . . . complete with cake bearing a half of a candle, and "1/2" iced on top. On Cupid's arrow, we dash along . . .

24 Below Club Offers New Show

The Twenty-four Below Club will be open tonight as usual from 9 until 12 o'clock in Graham Memorial. A floor show will be presented by a group of performers from Sound and Fury. Cold drinks and other refreshments will be sold.

Scientific Society

The Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society will hold its 441 meeting Tuesday, May 8, in 206 Phillips Hall.

S. B. Knight will talk on "pH and Indicator Constants in Mixed Solvents." Also G. C. Kyker will speak on "Photodecomposition of Quinine and its Antimalarial Activity." All visitors are welcome.

from the mothers of Brent Woodson and Chuck Henry this week. The former even managed to get her mother up onto Lightning, favorite nag of the stables . . . and the results being not too disastrous.

Left over from last week-end . . . too priceless to be ignored . . . according to Sim Smith, imports may be classified as following: Sophisticates from Sweet Briar, Dignitaries from Randolph-Macon, and Eager Beavers from St. Mary's.

Puzzle of the week: A Leatherneck speaking to his "best girl" . . . "November 11 didn't mean an armistice for me, but fireworks. That was the day I met you." Sparks fall where they may. Any Beta can give the solution to this puzzle.

This takes the form of a wedding announcement: Helen Gore will pledge her wedding vows before the flower-banked altar of the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon. Lt. Blake Anderson, USMC, is the groom . . . attendants will be Betty Lou Thrush and Betty Jean Fortune.

Famous Son Returns To Carolina Campus

Howard Richardson, UNC alumnus and author of "Dark of the Moon" a current hit on Broadway, visited the campus last week, mingled with the students and laughed and joked with his friends in his favorite old hang-outs.

Mr. Richardson said that coming back to Carolina made him feel like a student all over again. Students and faculty alike enjoyed his cheerful disposition and somewhat shy manner as he unfolded one amusing tale after another about the inner circles on Broadway.

Mr. Richardson attended classes in the Playmaker Theatre, talked about the difficulties of professional productions, and offered to give a hand to any student who needed help in New York.

He received his AB in Dramatic Art from the University in 1938 and his MA in 1940. While he was here, he wrote a one-act play, "The Hidden Heart," which was produced in the Bill of Experimentals.

Combat wire moving up in a hurry!

Every unit ties in by telephone to report on contact between companies, and to discuss the next move.

That means combat telephone wires must be laid down with every forward push. And communications crews must work continuously repairing the breaks in lines torn by tanks and amphibians and blasted by artillery and mortars.

Our Armed Forces still have urgent need for huge quantities of communications equipment of all kinds. That's why there is a wait for home telephone service.
