

San Francisco Parley Is Roundtable Topic

Under the direction of its new chairman, Bill Crisp, the Carolina Political Union will meet tomorrow night in the Grail room at 8 o'clock. The meeting will be conducted with a review of the steps taken by the United Nations at San Francisco, and a discussion of these steps. The varying opinions of leading newspaper columnists and editorial writers will be considered.

Dick Stern and Myra Sklarey, newly elected treasurer of the Union will give factual reports on the topic.

The public is invited to attend the roundtable session and participate in its discussion.

LETTERS

ophy, art, religion, etc. To the Italians Mussolini is merely a political organizer and rejuvenator, a new Caesar with old dreams of Roman imperialism; to the Germans, however, Hitler is more than an astute politician: he is a new Messiah, a bearer of new messages of racial mysticism. The world at large can no doubt deal much more easily with the former than with the latter."

And those who would make sinister use of this pamphlet have likewise ignored the preface, where the author has stated his motives:

"Out of a sense of love and admiration he has sided with the small nations in their valiant struggle to avoid being crushed by the big powers, and out of a sense of justice and duty he has also defended the cause of the restless Have-Not nations in Europe, namely Italy and Germany. The readers will take these viewpoints for what they are worth; but even if they should not agree with this booklet, they might in the end possibly admit that there is also some justice in the viewpoint of the other party. And to achieve that much in our modern world, filled with suspicions and misunderstandings, would surely be gratifying enough."

And all this in 1938 when we thought freedom of speech a fundamental American liberty!

Only one other of Dr. Friederich's writings is cited, and that in a feeble attempt to read anti-Semitism into a statement of fact concerning post-war German-Jewish literature. All the rest has been ignored, for example, in concluding a book written in German and published in Switzerland in 1939, "The Growth and Development of the U. S. A. in Three Hundred Years," we read (page 267, translation):

"The European too, in spite of the blood soaked soil of his continent should learn to stop living only with his dead past, and instead should share the American faith in a new and better world in which democracy, tolerance, and the dignity of man shall eventually conquer. If this idealism is appealed to, it will again and again be possible to inspire the American people to a crusade, in which it will become a champion for its vision. For not only antiquity, but also the modern age needs again, it would seem, a chosen people, which will lead us all from darkness and skepticism to light and hope. All American superlatives in technology, industry, and finance would be nothing but materialistic and disgusting boasting, if this one firm belief, this one great 'American dream' of a democratic Utopia, did not ennoble and transfigure everything."

And further, but likewise in German, in his "Short History of the German People" (1939), page 98, we read: "The suppression of Jewish and political minorities by the present-day government is arousing in the democratic countries such great indignation that they are less and less willing to make concessions to such a government." Or page 100: "It is principally the Jewish and Socialist novelists who are today fighting even from exile against fanaticism and ruthless nationalism." The accusers of Dr. Friederich are apparently ignorant of these and other writings by him, or, possibly they are unwilling (or even unable!) to read them.

Furthermore, in an article published in various newspapers of the state on August 4, 1940. (we cite the Raleigh News and Observer) under the title "Swiss Military System Called Cause of Safety," Dr. Friederich advocates American preparedness in accordance with the Swiss methods and defends conscription in a democracy thus page 2, column 6: "To say that democracy and military service are incompatible surely cannot be true. The very ideal of democracy and unity and strength in Switzerland could not flourish half so beautifully if it were not for the Swiss Army."

Furthermore, to the definite knowledge of the undersigned, Dr. Friederich became after "Munich" outspokenly opposed to Nazi Germany and all she stood for. In ever, the entire bill and its proposed amendments will be up for further discussion at the next meeting of the Legislature.

VOTE

Brinkley's first proposed amendment was relative to the election of officers to replace vacancies created by turnover of student body. Although the above mentioned amendment did not get as much comment from the floor as the aforementioned second one which concerns expenditures, there was decided interest in the wording of this bill also. The original bill calls for replacement by general campus election. Brinkley's proposal was that unexpired terms should be filled by election within the Student Legislature. Wallace declared the proposal for the student representatives to elect officers to fill vacancies "unconstitutional."

Pannill States Views

Allan Pannill stated that Brinkley's proposal was the only logical procedure because too many general elections would not be effective in placing men in student offices. Speaker Hunt questioned Brinkley's proposal as to the power of recall. Wallace contended that if the student representatives elected a person to fill a vacancy that the student body would no longer possess the power of recall over such an elected officer according to his interpretation of the constitution.

other words he had tried to be fair as long as he possibly could.

That was the end for him, as he said.

After Pearl Harbor, Dr. Friederich offered his services to the American Army but was rejected on physical grounds.

The work which he was willing to undertake for the OWI in connection with the military occupation of Germany was not sought after, but accepted on request, as in line with his desire to serve the country of which he had become a citizen in 1937. He was eminently fitted for that work. His accusers have done a great disservice to their nation and an immeasurable injustice to a fellow citizen.

Tri Delts Announce Scholarships Open

The Delta Delta Delta sorority has announced that a number of scholarships are available to women students in colleges where there are chapters of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. Applicants may or may not be members of the sorority.

The awards will be made July 1, 1945 and the gifts will be sent at once to the applicants selected. Not more than $200 will be awarded on any one campus.

Applicants should be juniors or seniors, working toward a degree. For additional information and application blanks write Mrs. F. D. Coleman, 3050 Stratford, Lincoln 2, Nebraska.

'Taming Of Shrew' Tryouts Scheduled

First general tryouts for Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew", the annual Forest Theatre production and last major Playmaker show of the year, will be held at 4 o'clock Monday in the Playmaker Theatre. Twenty-four parts are to be cast offering a variety of roles. Sam Selden, director, urges all interested students and professors to attend tryouts.

Copies of the play are on the Dramatic Arts reserve shelf in the library.

THE RAM SEES

Hop, skipping, and jumping up to the Academy for June Week will be Bettie Gaither.

SAE, the hypnotists, are almost masters of the art after much practice. Adam Thorpe, local V-12'er, claims real mastery . . . he hypnotizes himself, and has even Rameses baffled to no end. And it seems as if the good brothers aren't even able to bring him out from under the spell with fire. But brother V-12'ers have mastered the technique of snapping-him-out-of-it with their soothing, hypnotic voices. You coeds know what the Ram means.

Rameses urges one and all to attend the Sound and Fury tryouts Tuesday afternoon at Memorial Hall. If you can shake a wicked hip or send 'em on the ivories, or even be handy with the hammer, turn out Tuesday afternoon. Harvey Auerbach has reported to Great Lakes and will travel on from there to Chi' for radar training.

Back in the social limelight again, Rameses picks up news of Pi Lam parties today and Sunday. Chi O's are entertaining "brothers" of DKE Sunday night, and the Phi Gams are honoring the girls of Pi Beta Phi also on that night.

immediately write to the director of the summer session, indicating the kind of work they desire.

Cost of an eight weeks' term will be $34.75 for tuition and fees, $16.00 per person for a three-girl room in the women's dormitories or $24.00 per person for a two-girl room, $10. per person for room in the men's dormitories, and from $70 to $80 for board.

Special features will include an Institute on Education for Natural and Human Resources, which will be conducted in two sessions, one from June 11 to July 15 and the other from July 17 to August 28. Aspects of sociology, community education, economics, nutrition, and health education will be covered.

Also there will be the third English Institute opening the same time as the summer session. This work will include courses in speech, composition, workshop conferences on problems of teaching composition, and a short graduate course.

MUD-SLINGING

the Tar Heel had libeled the University Press in referring to Friederich's pamphlets which were published by the University Press, as being "subversive." However, Couch said, in contradiction, "I do not deny the fact that Friederich published a pro-Nazi pamphlet." The Press director had said previously, "I'll sign any evidence that can be produced that would convict Friederich of pro-Nazism after Pearl Harbor to keep him from returning to the University."

The protest letter, which was mailed after the meeting of the citizens on April 24, was signed by W. A. Olsen, L. O. Kattsoff, Raymond Adams, Mrs. Milton Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McKinney, Rabbi Schatz, Earl Newcomer, J. E. Adams, C. A. Claudel, George Henry, Phillips Russell, E. E. Ericson and four others whose names were not available at Tar Heel press time.

Several times during the meeting, Ericson was attacked as being the instigator of the citizens' meeting. It was conclusively shown that he did not write the first letter of protest to the OWI.

This member of a Senior Class of that year is fashion-perfect for the occasion. Top-hats were sine-qua-non, and voluminous neckcloths muffled the spotless linen. Co-education was becoming fashionable, too.
That year, 1860, civil war was looming on the country's horizon. College campuses blazed with patriotism. Railway Express was ready, at the first summons, to put its services at the nation's command. Today, America is fighting a world-wide war. So, to help all concerned, please do three simple things with your 1945 home packages and baggage: Pack them securely—address clearly and adequately—avoid abbreviating state names.
