

EDITORIALS:

- Tar and Feathers
- Snavelly's Team
- The Ram Sees

The Tar Heel

NEWS:

- Yack on Way
- Men's Glee Club
- Battle to Speak

VOLUME LIII—SW

Business and Circulation: 9641

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1945

Editorial: F-3141, News: F-3146, F-3147

NUMBER SW—58

CPU Discusses All Problems Of Conference

Roundtable Views State Department

By Roy Thompson

Recent developments in the San Francisco conference were discussed at the regular meeting of the Carolina Political Union Sunday night.

A group of interested visitors took part in the open discussion which soon centered around specific problems which the conference members had considered during the last three weeks and potential problems of the future.

One of the leading points of discussion was the present policy of our State Department and its head, Stettinius. Many members of the Union expressed opinions which indicated that they were afraid that lack of experience of some of our delegates to San Francisco might eventually result in the United States being subordinated in importance to Britain and Russia in the world security organization.

Many people present expressed the fear that the American press with its anti-Russian slanting of the news would continue to present a real problem to those trying to establish friendly relations between the major Allied powers.

Various sides of the question of allowing Argentina a seat in the conference were discussed as many members stated the belief that Stettinius was too hasty in pushing this question when Russia was asking for time to consider its advisability.

Before adjourning the Union agreed to discuss war crimes and the punishments of offenders at its next regular meeting in the Grail Room of Graham Memorial next Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

Campus-Wide Ball Planned By Three Service Groups

The second Triad Ball this year will be featured in Woollen Gymnasium Friday night, sponsored by the NROTC, V-12, and Marine units on campus. Music will be furnished by the Pre-Flight orchestra.

The first dance, held last February sponsored by Navy Welfare funds, had Clyde Lucas and his orchestra for the occasion.

All civilian students and the faculty are invited as guests of the military personnel for the evening.

The dance is financed with the money from the welfare fund, which includes proceeds from the Scuttlebutt while it was under Navy supervision.

The chairmen of the three entertainment committees working together are Don Reese, NROTC; Howard Dietz, Navy V-12; and Bill McKee, Marine V-12. In addition, four men from each unit have been selected to assist the chairmen. Advisors are Lt. W. E. Durin, Lt. C. O. Reynolds, and Capt. P. S. Marchant.

WGA Head Thinks 'Early Bird Gets Worm'

Sailor's Picture Appears In Room

At least one coed on the Carolina campus, this land renowned for its noon-day risers, defies tradition by getting up at 6 o'clock in the morning. And she doesn't have to, either.

She is Ruth Duncan, new president of the Woman's Government Association and one of the most recently tapped members of Valkyries, highest honorary coed organization on campus.

This wonder woman of the campus often gets up at 6 o'clock in the morning to read, write letters or (attention, professors!) to study.

From then on, she keeps busy and "happy," she says. Besides her many duties and responsibilities as WGA President, she is active in the YWCA, Women's Glee Club and is a Tri Delt.

Although she has tried to become a Carolina hillbilly and confidentially claims she is a "Yankee at heart," having been born in New Jersey, this flower from Florida calls St. Petersburg home.

Ruth declares that she prefers no main "type" of man. Her main re-

Yack May Hit Campus Late This Year

Men's Glee Club To Sing Today

Kemp Battle, UNC Alumnus, To Deliver Finals Address

Kemp Davis Battle, grandson of the Kemp Plummer Battle who wrote "Battle's History," and long standing member of the University board of trustees, will deliver the commencement address to the senior class in Kenan Stadium Monday night, June 25, at 6:30 o'clock.

When the well known Rocky Mount attorney was first approached, he told the trustees that he preferred that they ask Jimmy Byrnes, the late President Roosevelt's right-hand man, to speak. Mr. Byrnes declined, saying he was too busy. The trustees again asked Mr. Battle to speak, and he accepted the invitation.

Mr. Battle graduated with honors from the University in 1909. He studied law here and at the University of Denver. In 1911 Frank Winslow and he formed the law firm of Battle and Winslow. From 1918 to 1920, Battle served as judge of the Rocky Mount Recorder's Court.

Member of State Bar
Mr. Battle is vice president and director of the Rocky Mount Mills and a member of the State Bar Association. He was president of the association in 1932-33, and a member of the association's council from 1933 to 1941. He is trustee of the public schools and of the Parkview Hospital of Rocky Mount.

Beginning with senior class day exercises Saturday, June 23, commencement exercises will continue through the Baccalaureate sermon Sunday, June 24, an evening program to be presented by the Chapel Hill Choral Club, a farewell meeting of the senior class Monday morning. The faculty will entertain at a reception honoring degree candidates. Following the annual alumni luncheon, the Carolina Playmakers will give two afternoon performances. The concluding ceremonies will begin with the formation of the academic procession and its march to Kenan Stadium at 6:30 o'clock Monday night.

German Club To Book Name Band For Dance

The German Club, with its newly-elected slate of officers headed by President Charlie LaMotte, announces that plans are underway for a mammoth all-campus dance to be held sometime before the middle of June.

One of the four or five top name bands in the nation will be booked for the occasion. With the lifting of the dance expenditures ban, the club immediately began negotiations with leading bands. Nothing definite has yet been decided.

LaMotte succeeds Bill McKenzie as German Club president. Other officers elected last week are Adam Thorpe, vice president, Guy Andrews, secretary, and Boots Walker, reelected treasurer.

Wettach Plans Summer Term

New Law School Set-Up Planned

Designed to meet the needs of those interested in beginning law study or in shortening their period of study, the summer program of the University Law School will extend from June 18 to August 31. This session will be divided into two terms, one running from June 18 to July 25; the other from July 26 to August 31.

Students wishing to enter the Law School during the summer or fall terms should consult with Dean Robert H. Wettach. He has stated that there will be no difficulty in arranging for eligible students now enrolled in the spring semester of the College to enter the Law School summer session. Those who intend to enter the Law School next fall may arrange programs in the college this summer to facilitate their admission.

All the regular members of the faculty will be teaching this summer. In addition to these, Dean Wettach announced the following visiting professors this summer: Mr. R. J. M. Hobbs, of the School of Commerce, formerly engaged in the practice of law in Greensboro, will offer a course in insurance. Mr. Herbert R. Baer, now acting Dean of the Wake Forest Law School, and for two years chief Price Attorney for the OPA in Raleigh, will give a course in Federal Procedure.

Other courses to be offered this summer include: Conflict of Laws, Constitutional Law, Corporations, Domestic Relations, Municipal Finance, and Personal Property.

Recital Features Colorful Music

Durema Fitzgerald will present a piano recital Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock in Hill Music Hall. The featured work in the recital will be Mousorgsky's colorful "Pictures at an Exhibition." These pictures are the composer's fanciful musical descriptions of a series of paintings he sees on a trip through an art exhibit.

Also on the program is a group of excerpts from Bela Bartok's "Mikroskosmos." In these Bartok, a Hungarian composer, makes piano exercises from his native Magyar folk tunes and rhythms.

The classical part of the program will be made up of Bach's "Italian Concerto" and Mozart's "Fantasia in C," with "Fugue."

Concert Set For Hill Hall At 8 Tonight

Semi-Classics Feature Program

Paul Young, professor of vocal music at the University, will direct the University Men's Glee Club in presentation of their annual spring concert at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Hill Hall. Classical, semi-classical and folk selections will be features of the concert.

The program for the first half of the concert is as follows: Arcadelt's "Ave Maria"; Bach's "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" from "Sleepers, Wake"; Bortniansky's "Cherubim Song"; Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen" from "Judas Maccabeus"; and Vachel Lindsay's poem, "General William Booth Enters Into Heaven," which has been set to music by Philip James.

The concert will continue with arrangements of folk songs: "The Galway Piper," an Irish folk song arranged by Davison; "Hoodah Day," a sea chantey arranged by Bartholomew; "Suabian Folk Song" arranged by Brahms; "What Shall We Do With A Drunken Sailor," a sea chantey arranged by Bartholomew; and "Coronation Scene" from "Boris Godunov" by Moussorgsky.

Charles Stevens, music major, will accompany the glee club. Clyde Wade, pianist, Herbert Long, trumpeter, Monte Howell, organist, Mary Stringfield, pianist, Nat Macon, trombone, and Leland Stegemerton, drummer, will assist with the concert.

Members of the glee club are: First tenor: Jack Behrman, Arthur Brewer, Wayne Brenenger, Rex Coston, Bert Drucker, William Fitzgerald, Burke Fox, Irvin Graham, Pete Pully, Don Robinson, William Sasser, Blount Stewart, W. A. West.

Second tenor: Al Behnke, Mance Bogey, W. E. Brooks, J. A. Daniels, Richard Ford, Clyde Groover, Robert Hedrick, James Lamm, J. W. Marshall, Leonard Medlin, Henry Scarborough, Miles Smith, Donald Shropshire, James Webb, Percy Weeks.

First bass: Jim Booth, Adrian Chappell, John Godchaux, Tom Hinson, Edgar McLean, Dean Matthews, Marvin Morillo, Rufus Norris, George Rankin, Charles Ratcliffe, Norris Timmerman, Clyde Wade, Edward Whitley.

Second bass: Jack Anderson, Dan Coleman, Donald Congdon, A. W. Griffith, Merrill Hilton, Warren Jones, J. W. Lindsay, Walter Little, J. R. Lineweaver, Dean Matthews, Vassar R. Mills, Dave Sobel, Sherman Smith and Harold Suits.

W. W. Pierson Releases Names Of 25 Scholarship Winners

Dean W. W. Pierson of the University graduate school announced that 25 scholarships have been awarded for the year 1945-46. These scholarships bring recipients 400 dollars plus tuition.

Thirteen of the successful applicants for these scholarships were women. All are expected to devote part of their time to teaching or other duties such as research work in addition to their work towards degrees.

The 25 successful applicants for the teaching fellowships and the departments to which they are assigned are as follows:

Chemistry — Roger Arnold Hines, John Howard Anderson, Frederick Blount Joyner.

Classics—Helen Byrnes; Economics and Commerce—Anna Virginia Austin; Education—Vester Moye Mulholland; English—John Edward Farrior, Robert Edwin Hollinger, James G. Rice.

German — Sam Moore Shiver, Jr.; History—Ellen Fairbanks Diggs, Margaret E. Kinsman, William Durell Miller; Mathematics — Betty Boyd, Gwendolyn Ruth Hill.

Physics—Jack Lavoy Parnell; Political Science—Mavis Andree Mann; Psychology — Priscilla Rosner; Romance Languages — Eloise Baynes,

Johnstone, Maret, Nourse Edited Jinx-Ridden 1945 Yackety Yack

By W. H. Higgs, Jr.

Gene Johnstone, editor of the Yackety Yack says the Yack WILL come out this year, but due to "several difficulties," it may be a little late.

Johnstone is planning to go to Charlotte this week in order to talk to the printer and get them to set a definite release date for the Yack.

Previous editors had patterned their Yacks after the old ones, but the new editor decided to give the students something "new and different," so the whole layout was completely redrawn.

Inside the red and gold covers, sun dials, hour glasses and clocks emphasize the "Time" theme of the book which was suggested by the sesquicentennial anniversary of the University.

Staff Announced

The staff is as follows: Margaret Woodhouse, business manager, Evelyn Cheek, Davis and Nancy Helm, assistant editors, Joe Denker, Photography editor, Catherine Sloan, editor, professional section, Sara Spratt, editor, activities section, Don Ryder and Fred Poldrugo, co-editors, fraternity section, Carroll Poplin, sports editor, Bob Wadsworth, art editor, Betsy Dickson, editor, senior section, Jeanne Parry, editor, sororities section, Margaret Fountain, personnel manager and Bob Colepaugh, Irby Todd, Shirley Rivers, photographers, and Winston Briggs, index compiler, and Boots Allsopp.

The history of this year's Yack, even before Gene was elected editor, is one of the most turbulent of any Yack.

Tyler Nourse was elected editor of the 1945 Yack last spring. He left school during the summer. When the Publications Board appointed Cookie Maret acting editor early last fall, it was already late to start work on the Yack. Everything looked good for the Yack when Cookie was elected editor by the student body last November. But then due to scholastic reasons she had to resign this spring. The PU Board and the student legislature appointed Gene to fill out Cookie's unexpired term.

Besides having three different editors, the Yack was faced by other major difficulties. The Yack finally won its financial battle after wrestling with the PU Board and giving the second annual Beauty Ball.

Priorities delayed the arrival of an enlarger for two months. Joe Denker went to New York to see about this matter personally. After the enlarger finally did get here, further priority troubles with respect to sorely limited film and printing paper delayed the work for another month.

In the midst of all this turmoil, they had to move the Yack office down to the Thomas Wolfe lounge of Graham Memorial from the second floor. Even before they got settled in their new home, the yellow flames of fire reached out, damaged their typewriters, and destroyed material delaying them another two weeks.

JOHNSTONE

MARETT

NOURSE

Pre-Flight Exec To Ship Out For Foreign Service

Lt. Comdr. Howard L. Hamilton, USNR, Executive Officer at the Navy Pre-Flight school here for the past year and a member of the administrative staff since 1942, is being detached for duty outside the country. He is succeeded by Lt. Comdr. Norman Loader, USNR, of Westfield, N. J. Both officers were in the Navy Pre-Flight program during organizational days early in 1942.

Lt. Comdr. Hamilton entered the Navy in January, 1942, on leave of absence from Ohio State university with which he had been associated two decades, first as a student and later as an executive and educator. He reported to Chapel Hill on May 24, 1942, as head of the Academic Department, and in April, 1944, he became Executive officer.

The new Executive Officer, Lt. Comdr. Loader, attended New York university and was graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1926. During 1942 he headed the Essentials of Naval Service course at the Pre-Flight school here.

DUNCAN

quirements for a date are that he be nice, friendly and "interesting." She also says that at present there is no "one and only" in her life. That may be true. But pictures of a certain Navy man (not of the Carolina variety) appear rather frequently in her room on the second floor of Spencer.

Ruth Duncan Lays Plans For Future

Before entering Carolina, she went to St. Petersburg Junior College. She modestly refuses to talk about her extra-curricular activities there, but her roommates, who have known her for many years, will assure you that she was an outstanding student.

Ruth, a commerce major, wants to do personnel work—at least for a while—after she graduates. She explains that she prefers this type of work because it will give her a chance to meet people. And she does like people!

Ruth is enthusiastic over her work with student government. Plans for next fall's orientation program have just been completed. Ruth hopes to encourage the coeds to feel that this is really their government. She would also like to get closer cooperation between the three main branches of woman's government—the honor council, coed senate and the interdormitory council.