

Carolina Seeks Ration Loop Win Over Devils

Trackmen Turn Attention To Annual Event On Saturday

Large Field Expected For Ninth Meet

After taking their third win of the season Saturday by turning back Hunter Field, Ga., 57-42, Carolina's men of the cinder trails turn all their attention this week to the Ninth Annual Carolinas Track and Field Championships slated to be reeled off here in Fetzer stadium this week-end.

"This will be the biggest track meet held at Carolina since the Indoor classic last winter," Coach Dale Ranson said yesterday, "and it will be one of the best of the spring season for the fans." Entries are expected from Duke, Carolina, South Carolina, Camp Peary, Hunter Field, Cherry Point and possibly Pre-Flight, and many other contestants are anticipated from various schools and colleges of the Carolinas.

Included in the entries will be Bova and Shrader, who led Hunter Field here last Saturday; Montgomery, Fenton and Hansen of Cherry Point; La Rue, Irwin, Dibble and Nordin, of Duke; and maybe Charlie Beetham of the Pre-Flight school. Beetham may team up with the Cadets in their running, but the members of the Pre-Flight school entering may have to run unattached.

Montgomery, of Cherry Point, did 13 feet, five inches in the indoor meet here last winter.

The Carolina squad in its entirety will be entered in the meet, which will have a maximum of five entries from each school, and although first places for the Tar Heels are hard to predict with the large field of entries, Coach Ranson's lads may be high in the scoring if they are able to come up with a sufficient number of second, third and fourth places.

In the meet Saturday with Hunter Field, Carolina had things their own way most of the way, although many of the races, namely the 880, mile and two mile runs, were very close.

Bobby Dodson, lanky Carolina middle distance man, came up with his best performance of the year to take the half mile over Hunter Field's favored Bova. Dodson led most of the way and accepted a last 220 challenge successfully to do the two laps in 1:59.9. Forrest Leathers, Carolina miler, lost in the last 220 to Bova as Dodson won in the half. Bova put on a good kick in the last yards to pull ahead of Leathers by about four yards by the time he crossed the finish line.

The two mile run was about the same, Castle of Hunter Field beating Carolina's Doug Erath in the last 220 yards. Whitey Holden was right behind Castle and Erath for a close third spot. In the dashes Carolina had about its easiest and most successful time of the year, with Don Clayton and Ted Haigler leading the way. Clayton took the 100 with Haigler running second, and Haigler came up in the 220 to place first. Morman, of Carolina, finished third in both the dash events.

By previous agreement, neither the hurdles or the pole vault counted in the final tally of points.

The summary:
100-yard dash: Won by Clayton, UNC; second, Haigler, UNC; third, Morman, UNC. Time 10:4 seconds.
200-yard dash: Won by Haigler, UNC; second, Kobosk, Hunter Field; third, Morman, UNC. Time 22:6 seconds.

440-yard dash: Won by Hunter, UNC; second, Haigler, UNC; third, Paxton, UNC. Time 52.5 seconds.
880-yard dash: Won by Dodson, UNC; second, Bova, Hunter Field; third, Turner, UNC. Time 1:59.9.

One mile run: Won by Bova, Hunter Field; second, Leathers, UNC; third, Jaeger, Hunter Field. Time 5:35.2.
Two mile run: Won by Castle,

The first two play-off contests will be reeled off tomorrow at 5:30, with the pace-setting Phi Kappa Sigma softballers clashing with a strong Med School No. 3 crew on Alexander No. 1 and the Corsairs will lock horns with Vance Dorm on Alexander No. 2.

the semi-finals as the first bracket triumphers will tangle on Alexander No. 1 and the second bracket winners face each other on Alexander No. 2.

Out of the 25 teams that have participated in the event, none have finished their schedule without suffering a setback. The two teams that hold the distinction of having only one reverse charged against them are the Phi Kaps and Sigma Chi. Incidentally these two well-rounded softball clubs are seeded tops in the play-offs.

Setting the earlier season pace were the softballers from Vance Dorm, but later the V-12ers dropped a couple of unexpected games to end the season with a 10 to 2 count. Trailing in League D and gaining a play-off berth is Med School No. 3 posting a record of 9 wins against four reverses.

The final standings in League C reveal more than a photo finish since Pi Kappa Alpha and the Corsairs ended the season in a deadlock, with each compiling 9-3 records.

Along with the Phi Kaps, the Zeta Psi's will represent League A in the play-offs. Smith Raiders, a team composed of Marines, finished second in B League thereby gaining a berth in the drive for the championship.

Tar Heels Travel To Durham With Game Lead Over Duke

By Irwin Smallwood

Sporting a full game Ration League lead, a determined Tar Heel baseball team will clash with the Duke Blue Devils in Durham tomorrow afternoon in the second game of the season between the arch rivals. Duke capitalized on Carolina errors last Wednesday here to turn back the locals, 10-4.

Coach Bunn Hearn, veteran mentor, has not voiced a definite choice for the starting hurling duties, but either Chuck Hayne or Red Forrest will undoubtedly get the call. Forrest is the loop's leading pitcher with a three and nothing record, and Hayne sports a two and one record. Hayne was the losing pitcher against Duke last week despite his good hurling job.

Hayne or Forrest

Opposing Hayne or Forrest on the hill for Duke will probably be Lefty Griffith, winner of five Ration league games as against two setbacks, with five-hit pitching in the last meeting, but the Blue Devil was hit freely by Pre-Flight Saturday as the Cloud-busters downed the Dukesters, 12-8.

Carolina's baseballers will be playing hard, after going all to pieces in the first Duke-Carolina tilt, and judging from performances in the ORD game Friday, the local fielding is back to its usual good state. (Note: In the game with the Tech Hawks from Greensboro, Carolina infielders handled nine chances without a bobbie.) Coach Hearn's lads just had one of those "bad days" that are bound to come, and they should be back in their normal form tomorrow that has netted them six wins against two losses and the Ration loop leadership so far.

Same Infield

No deviations from the infield combination of Frazier, Gregory, Thompson, Hughes and Zientek are anticipated, and the outfield combine of Elger, Fahey and Mullen is also expected to remain in the starting role.

After the tussle tomorrow, Carolina will have only three more league encounters on their slate—two here and one away. Pre-Flight will be met here Saturday and then a game here and a game there will remain with Duke. These last two games will undoubtedly determine the winner of the 1945 Ration League bunting.

ORD Takes Tilt

The local nine ended the week's play here on Emerson field Friday by dropping a 9-0 decision to a superior, star-studded Overseas Replacement Depot club from Greensboro, but the Tar Heels showed marked recovery from the spell of erroring of Wednesday.

ORD's Tech Hawks, sporting two former major leaguers and a host of others who are more than ready for the jump, hopped on Red Forrest with their big bats in the second, third and fourth frames for all nine tallies, but after that they were held to just two hits for the final five innings by Forrest and relief hurler Tommy Andrew. Andrew hurled the last four stanzas and gave up the two safeties.

Elger Banged a Triple

Carolina put three men on base in the fourth inning with none out, but Red Hughes was caught off third by former Philadelphia Athletic Jim Castiglia. The next two men, Bob Fahey and Al Chappell, fanned to retire the side. In the sixth hard-hitting Al Elger connected for a long triple with two down only to die on base as John Gregory fanned before the pitching of Joe Harrington. Hughes singled in the ninth and came home on a hard double by Gregory but the lanky short stop was nipped at the plate by the fast relay of the ball by the veteran visiting baseball crew.

Hughes led the Tar Heels at bat with two for three, and Tommy Thompson, Elger, Gregory and Fahey each got one base knock. ORD was paced at bat by Castiglia, but such men as Lee Gamble, outfielder with the Cincinnati Reds before entering the army, and many others added enough hits to the ORD column to make the total 10 before the fray was over.
