

Stanley Hall Returns From Action In European Theatre

By Roy Thompson

Captain Stanley E. Hall of Portsmouth, Virginia, who left the University in 1940 to join the Army Air Forces, was back in Chapel Hill for a few days this week with one of the most interesting stories yet to come out of the war in Europe.

Captain Hall got his first baptism of fire during the invasion of North Africa. He flew 48 missions in the African campaign without mishap and was given a furlough in the States before being reassigned to the Eighth Air Force in England. Flying twelve more missions as navigator his luck held, but on the thirteenth it ran out.

"It was a special mission on November 2, 1944," he said, "and a dangerous one. Our plane, a Fortress, was assigned the task of destroying a group of oil tanks. The crew was probably the oldest and most experienced crew to fly a mission in the European Theatre. Our pilot, Lt. Col. Michaelson, was the most decorated man in the Eighth. We were flying at about 29,000 feet when the flak started. I got a piece in the shoulder when the plane was hit. We went into a spin, and the pilot gave orders to bail out. Two of the crewmen and I were floating down at about 8,000 feet when we saw the ship right itself and sail away towards England.

"We were on the ground almost immediately, and a group of German civilians were waiting for us. Remembering stories I had heard about the way some of our boys had been treated by them, I started shaking hands with all of them with my good hand. We were well-treated, but others who landed near there at about the same time were stoned and clubbed to death. Later we were turned over to the Wehrmacht and kept in prison camps in Balaria and Moosberg until our liberation by the Third Army some six months later. Like most of the men held by the Wehrmacht we were treated pretty well and were fed as well as they could feed us. Men who were tortured and starved were usually prisoners of the Gestapo and SS troops. With Red Cross boxes supplementing our German rations we managed to eat pretty well."

After his liberation, Captain Hall stayed in England for a time, long enough, in fact, to become engaged and get as far as the church door on the road to matrimony. Upon entering the church, however, his fiancée fainted. When she was revived they talked the whole thing over and decided to call it off.

Wearing the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Purple Heart, the Air Medal, and twelve oak leaf clusters, he got back to the States about the end of June and was given a sixty-day furlough after which he will report in Miami, Florida. He will probably be given a choice between discharge and new flying duty. At present he hasn't decided just what he will do, but after spending three days back in Chapel Hill he says that he soon as he leaves the service. He expects to complete work on a journalism degree within about six months after he returns to the University.

Commenting on changes around improvement that he had found was in the coeds. He admitted that his Chapel Hill he said that the biggest opinion might be a little biased after his internment of six months, but he was sure that there were more of them and that they were much prettier than those of his first years here.

Captain Hill caught a bus out of Chapel Hill about noon Friday, but before he left he was observed writing a check rather hesitantly. He explained that since he was shot down on his thirteenth mission over Germany he was just a little afraid to write a check on Friday the thirteenth. He finally filled in the date as July 14, 1945 and left Chapel Hill wishing that he could have found a few more of the people that he had known back in the good old days.

SOUTH AMERICANS

(Continued from first page) of the English Department headed by Professor Almonte C. Howell, and the Inter-American Institute, headed by Professor S. E. Leavitt.

The summer term began on July 9 and ends August 31. The doctors have three classes in the morning, the first being grammar, the second, conversation, and the third practical examinations in the English.

If the doctors speak English well by the end of the course, they usually receive a scholarship to the medical school which they are to attend.

There are many Latin-Americans who wish to attend the Institute but can not because there is not enough room for them.

Dr. B. F. Swalin

Shown above is Dr. Benjamin Swalin, director of the North Carolina State Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Swalin is also a member of the faculty of music at the University.

STATE SYMPHONY

(Continued from first page) al broadcasts, and by more children's concerts.

One of the ultimate ends of the orchestra is to become "one of the best in the country," pointed out Mr. Swalin. He went on to emphasize the great amount of musical talent that exists right in the state, and which is one of North Carolina's greatest resources.

Great interest and interest from unexpected sources is being shown in the present orchestra campaign, continued Mr. Swalin, reflecting an "eagerness for good things" on the part of the people of North Carolina. He mentioned various towns in the state which have already exceeded their quotas in regard to the campaign.

Concerning the procedure of the orchestra, Mr. Swalin pointed out the various types of memberships that may be purchased in the symphony society: $1 memberships, which grant a ticket to the concert in the locality; $5 active memberships, granting tickets to concerts in any part of the state, if they are sponsored by the North Carolina Symphony Society; $25 memberships, for donors; and $100 memberships for patrons

Director Swalin

Mr. Swalin, who has managed the orchestra since its reorganization in 1939, came to the University of North Carolina nine years ago from the faculty of De Pauw University.

He taught music at a Conservatory of Music in St. Paul, Minn. at the age of 16, and two years later became a member of the violin section of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, as its youngest member.

Later he studied in New York, supplementing violin lessons with advanced theoretical work at the Institute of Musical Art for seven years. He graduated from Columbia University with a B.S. degree in 1928, two years later receiving a M.A. from that college with a major in English literature. Two years later he received a Ph.D. degree from the University of Vienna and musical diplomas from the State Academy in Vienna.

He lived in Europe until 1933, and since that time has visited Europe twice.

"I am encouraged by the progress of music in our state," says Mr. Swalin. "I am grateful to music lovers throughout North Carolina for their support of the State symphony."

This Symphony orchestra, since 1943, has presented 24 concerts, in Chapel Hill, Raleigh, Greenville, Duke University, Durham, Winston-Salem, Greensboro, Cullowhee, and Charlotte, 12 of which were free programs for children.

FRESHMEN HOLD

(Continued from first page) dances in the Y court, are in the offering. The Council is working in conjunction with Graham Memorial and the Senior Y Cabinet with regards to recreation.

The largest turnout since the war began was present at the first meeting.

Regular meetings of the Freshman Friendship Council will be held every Monday night at 7:30 in the Parker Lounge in Graham Memorial.

Le Cercle Francais To Meet Saturday

Le Cercle Francais will meet at 4:00 o'clock on Saturday, July 21st at the Maison Francaise. All persons interested in the Cercle are invited to attend.

Roy Strowd Misses Fuehrer, Captures Personal Tailor

Sgt. Roy E. Strowd was right on the Fuehrer's tails when he captured Hitler's personal tailor while on guard duty a few weeks ago.

Before he left Sgt. Strowd promised his friends here that he would get Hitler himself, but he's satisfied with his recent catch, he says.

He explained in a letter to his parents about the capture of the German. It was while on guard duty that Strowd was checking posts and noticed a suspicious looking character wandering about.

Stopping the fellow and searching him, he found that he was concealing a weapon. He called the G-2 team who discovered that the man in question had been Hitler's personal tailor for ten years.

Sgt. Strowd, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Strowd of Chapel Hill, attended the University before entering the service.

Rights Of Tar Heel Topic For Discussion At Di Senate Meeting

The "Rights and Responsibilities of the Tar Heel" will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the Di Senate tomorrow night.

Speakers will be Douglas Hunt, speaker of the House of Legislature, and Robert Morrison, editor of the Tar Heel.

The meeting, scheduled to begin at nine o'clock will be held on the third floor of New East.

A reception for new students will be held immediately following the evening's program.

Edwards, Barnes Elected Officers In Woman's Council

The summer honor council, sole governing body of the women students for the summer, has elected Betty Edwards chairman and Sally Barnes secretary.

The council is composed of presidents of the dormitories and managers of the sororities. Its duties are to handle all coed student problems for the summer.

The problem of later hours for coeds is expected to be discussed in the near future.

A meeting of the members of the council will be held Tuesday at five o'clock.

Pre-Flight Group Given Reception In Carr Dormitory

The 71st Battalion of the Pre-Flight was entertained Sunday afternoon in Carr dormitory at a reception beginning at 2:30. The entertainment was under the direction of Mary Holt Drewry, social chairman.

The parlor and halls were decorated in navy colors. Miniature planes were suspended in the doorways.

Punch and cookies were served during the afternoon by Mrs. Bundy, temporary house-mother, while games and dancing were enjoyed by approximately 60 cadets and the girls.

ALL-STATE

(Continued from first page) Davie Poplar (in case of rain, Hill Music Hall) the All-State High School Band will present its sixth and final concert.

::: Up And Coming :::

At the Carolina: "Betrayal from the East," with Lee Tracy and Nancy Kelly.

At the Pick: Closed.

Thursday, July 19
4 P. M.—English Institute Conference, Graham Memorial Lounge, "English in Every Classroom."

7:30 P. M.—Bridge Tournament, Graham Memorial.

8:30 P. M.—Americans United for World Organization, Gerrard. Speaker: J. B. Woosley—"Implications of Our Federal Debt."

At the Carolina: "The Chicago Kid," with Donald Barry and Lynne Roberts.

At the Pick: Closed.

MEETING SLATED

(Continued from first page) Party, and Frank Ross, Student Party, for civilian member of the student council; Tex Kindred, University Party, and Chuck Heath, Student Party, for Marine representative to the student legislature; Jane Cromartie, University Party, and Coline Smith, Student Party, for town coed representative to the student legislature; and Jack Lackey, University Party, and Bill McCarthy, Student Party, for town representative to the student legislature.

Deadline

The deadline for nominations to be presented to the elections committee was 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. At that time, the Student Party had not yet submitted its nominations, but Brinkley decided to excuse the tardiness.

The election this summer, according to both Roy Thompson, chairman of the Student Party, and Allen Pannill, chairman of the University Party, promises to be hot and fertile with capable candidates.

Promises of a campus flooded with campaign literature and handshaking are swiftly looming before the students. Both parties are now laying the groundwork of campaigns which will reach a peak July 23.

Exam For Graduate German Students To Be Given Saturday

The examination for graduate students in the reading knowledge of German will be given Saturday, July 21, at 2 p. m. in 109 Saunders. Students wishing to take the examination should sign up in the graduate office not later than Wednesday, July 18.

IRC

(Continued from first page) This was done in cooperation with the Southern Council on International Relations.

The program was broadcast Sunday afternoon over station WRAL, Raleigh. The program received favorable comment and it is expected that a network of local stations will accept the program in September.

The most glamorous phase of the IRC activity is the speaker presentation program. Under this program some of the world's outstanding experts in the field of international relations as well as virtually all of the important ambassadors to this country and State Department experts. During the last school year the IRC presented four speakers to the student body. They were Dr. Michael Potulicki, Legal Advisor to the Polish Exile Government; Senator Joseph H. Ball, Republican supporter of Roosevelt; Dr. Samuel G. Inman, famous writer and leading authority on Latin America; and Dr. Edward Bernstein, Director of Monetary Research of the Treasury Department and principal author of Bretton Woods Agreement.

All of these activities are directed by student officers of the club. Any student is invited to apply and assist in the work.

Roland Giduz Spends Leave In Boston

Roland Giduz, son of Professor and Mrs. Hugo Giduz of Chapel Hill, spent a seven-day leave recently by visiting Paul Green and Franklin Milam in Boston at the Harvard Medical School. Giduz, a graduate of the University of North Carolina, is stationed at Ashford General Hospital in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

:.In the Armed Forces.:

Recently returned from the battle of Iwo Jima, and now at a rehabilitation area here is Marine Corporal Henry C. Cranford, Jr., of Durham, N. C. He attended the University two and one-half years, and was editor of the Carolina Magazine and worked in the University News Bureau.

Aviation Cadet Richard Lauritzen Kenfield of Chapel Hill, N. C., was recently commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army Air Forces at Turner Field, Albany, Georgia.

Richard Edward Cross, 18, seaman, second class, USNR, of Sciotoville, Ohio, has arrived at the Naval Training Station, Norfolk, Va., to undergo training for duties aboard a new destroyer of the Atlantic Fleet. He has completed a period of instruction at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. He attended the University and Ohio State University.

F/O David W. Masengil, of 500 Maryland Ave., Bristol, Tenn., has been assigned to the base of the First Troop Carrier Command for a one-month course in navigational training. Prior to entering the service F/O Masengil was a student at the University.

James Rogers Gooch, of Forest Hills, Chapel Hill, N. C., has advanced to storekeeper, second class, USNR, while serving aboard an LSM (landing ship, medium) of the Pacific Fleet. Before entering the Navy, he was employed by the University of North Carolina.

First Lieutenant James B. Faircloth, veteran combat navigator, recently returned from overseas, has now reported to the installation of the AAF Training Command where he will take the graduate refresher course in latest navigation aids and techniques. He was awarded the Air Medal with five Oak Leaf Clusters and the European theater ribbon with three bronze battle stars. Prior to entering the service, Lt.

Faircloth attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he played both football and baseball.

DeVan Bgrbour, Jr., of 319 Forest Road, Raleigh, was commissioned an Ensign in the Naval Reserve and designated a Naval Aviator recently at the Naval Air Training Base, Pensacola, Florida.

Prior to entering the Naval service, Ensign Barbour attended the University for two years where he was a member of the varsity basketball team.

Ensign John H. Garmany, Jr., USNR, of Pensacola, Fla., is stationed at the Atlantic Fleet's Amphibious Training Base, Little Creek, Va., training to serve as gunnery officer on an LSM. He attended the University.

Marine Lieutenant Colonel Elmer A. Wrenn, of Greensboro, N. C., who led one of the most dramatic mass flights in the Pacific, is now directing the activities of a Marine aviation unit at this advanced base.

The flight, which was made by all the squadrons in the group, covered a total distance of 2,500 miles — from the Marshalls to Okinawa. It is considered one of the longest over-water flights for land-based fighters on record. A graduate of the University, Wrenn played guard on the varsity football squad in 1937.

Lieutenant Commander William S. Woolen, USNR, of 311 East Franklin Street, led his carrier-based Composite Squadron in support of the landing of American forces on Okinawa, the group shooting down a total of six Jap planes.

Twice decorated with the Navy's highest award, the Navy Cross, Lieutenant Commander Woolen shot down two planes in each the Battle of the Coral Sea and the Battle of Midway. He received his education at Woodberry Forest Preparatory School, Orange, Virginia, and at the University.

BANQUET GIVEN

(Continued from page two) House will foster the continuance of friendship between the United States and France, which has so long been in effect.

The banquet hall at the Carolina Inn was decorated with the French national colors, and the program included a number of French songs, closing with the "Marseillaise."

Crossword Puzzle

- ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE
- ACROSS
- 1—Fall behind
 - 4—Come into life
 - 8—Halt
 - 12—Sore
 - 14—Actual
 - 16—Mohammedan leader
 - 17—Unit of weight for gems
 - 19—Godfather
 - 21—Breeds
 - 23—Runs away
 - 24—Timid
 - 26—Copy
 - 28—Open to doubts
 - 29—Gesture (Fr.)
 - 31—Prefix: with
 - 32—Town in New Guinea
 - 33—Strike
 - 34—Fly larva
 - 35—Lira (abbr.)
 - 36—Image
 - 37—Donated
 - 38—Late U. S. poet
 - 39—Character
 - 41—Name
 - 43—Rip
 - 45—Tastes
 - 47—Turn aside
 - 49—Before
 - 50—Mistake
 - 52—Away from wind
 - 53—Gone by
 - 54—Quarrel
 - 55—Take seat

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12			13		14		15		16
17			18		19		20
		21		22		23
		24		25		26		27
28			29		30			31
32			33
35			36
		38		39		40
		41		42		43		44
45				46		47
49			50		51		52
53				54				55

DOWN

- 1—Shortage
- 2—The Atlas
- 3—Long necked animal
- 5—Correlative of either
- 6—Things (law)
- 7—Short sleeps
- 8—Flavor
- 10—Self (pl.)
- 11—Spoil
- 13—Milk farm
- 15—Pind
- 18—Goes with "la"
- 20—Back of neck
- 22—Greek letter
- 24—Distant
- 25—Vouchsafe
- 27—Be excessively fond
- 28—Troubles
- 30—Wesal
- 31—Small bay
- 33—Small fish
- 34—Canks
- 36—Jot
- 37—Kind of jelly
- 38—Heaps
- 40—A beverage
- 41—Home of Irish kings
- 42—Congers
- 44—Let it stand
- 45—Vigor
- 46—Little drink
- 48—Portuguese coin
- 51—Father

Look Your Best at the Coming Dances
SEE MACK AT
GRAHAM MEMORIAL BARBER SHOP
Basement of Graham Memorial

When in Durham Drop in at
Thomas BOOK STORE
At Five Points

All Kinds of BOOKS
Games Toys
GIFTS For All Occasions

BULL'S HEAD BOOKSHOP
Ground Floor Library
Best New Fiction and Non-Fiction
Browse - Rent - Buy