

French Musical Will Be Given Monday Evening

On Monday evening, July 17, the French House will present its annual program of French songs and music in the main lounge of Graham Memorial at 7 o'clock.

The chief attraction will be three graduate students who will perform vocally and instrumentally.

Herman Lineberger will do a number of well known French songs while Georgia Fox will perform on the cello.

Almonte Howell and Kate Elmore will do a series of numbers on the piano. Howell has recently been awarded the Fulbright Scholarship for study in France. He is a music graduate.

The remainder of the program was not released by the French House but will include performances by other outstanding campus musicians.

WANTED—seven dozen Carolina coeds just like the lovely lass above. We don't even know the lady's name, but if you do we might be able to make a deal. Incidentally, if you're interested in the cup, it's the $350 trophy, made in London, that goes to the winner of the Bimini, Bahamas, tuna tourney. Girl not included.

Faculty Members Scheduled To Sing Sunday Afternoon

Three University faculty members, all rated tops as campus entertainers, will be the featured performers in a musical program scheduled for the main lounge of Graham Memorial this coming Sunday afternoon at 4:30.

The three are Dr. Urban T. Holmes and William Hover of the Department of Romance Languages and accompanist Thomas Nichols of the University Music Department.

The program will include works of Verdi, Mozart, Rasmanninoff, Schubert, Brahms, Rogers, Gershwin, and many other composers, both classical and popular.

All have had experience in the musical field before. Mr. Holmes and Mr. Hover both are soloists at the Chapel of the Cross here in Chapel Hill.

In addition to their extensive vocal talents they have also appeared on the local stage and have attracted a large following. In their previous appearances they have been very popular with campus audiences.

The three last appeared in a Lucretia Borgia production which was directed by M. Jacques Hardre, a native of France. This was presented here a few weeks ago.

Each of the three will do a number of songs.

Both students and townspeople are invited to attend the affair, which has been billed as a "Festival of Song."

It is being sponsored by the Summer Social Committee and is another of the many events on the Graham Memorial calendar, designed for recreation for summer school students and faculty.

A musical program of some sort is usually the order of every Sunday afternoon. Last week it was pianist Bobby Morris.

Bankers Holding Big Confab Here

The 14th annual session of the Carolinas Bankers Conference, sponsored by the North and South Carolina Bankers Associations, the North and South Carolina Banking Departments, and the University, is being held here Sunday through Friday, July 9-14.

"The conference this year offers bankers of our two states a far-reaching program with greater diversification than ever before," Chairman Louis Brooks said, pointing out that a number of outstanding authorities on various phases of banking and allied fields will appear on the program.

The course of instruction is divided into four sections: commercial banking division, trust division, and credit and agricultural divisions.

100 Educators At Workshops In 4 Colleges

More than 100 teachers and administrators are enrolled in four of the Resources-Use Education Workshops and courses being conducted at North Carolina College, Western Carolina Teachers College, Catawba College and Elizabeth City State Teachers College. Dr. Richard L. Weaver, program director of the North Carolina Resource-Use Education Commission, announced here this week.

These programs are under the direction of Dr. Theodore Speigner at Durham, Dr. Newton Turner at Cullowhee, Henry D. Cooper at Elizabeth City and Dr. Charles Howell at Salisbury.

Three additional workshops are scheduled at Greenville,

Greensboro and Boone, beginning July 17.
