

Four Students Hurt in Wreck Near Salisbury

Football Players Returning From Charlotte Skid Into Telephone Post; Dunavant Badly Hurt.

Bud Eskew, Jack Dunavant, Ty Reid, and John Daniel, University students, were injured Sunday night when the car in which they were riding slipped off the road, skidded back across it and smashed into a telephone post near Salisbury. Dunavant owned the car and was driving at the time of the accident.

All four of the injured men are football players. Eskew was holding down a varsity guard, and Dunavant, Reid, and Daniel, all sophomores, were trying for line positions. Dunavant seems to be the most seriously injured. According to reports, he sustained a broken collar bone, a concussion of the brain, and bruises. Reid had seventeen stitches taken in his scalp and suffered bruises on his leg, making it impossible for him to walk for some time.

Eskew suffered a cut in his head which necessitated five stitches. Daniel was slightly injured. The four others were in the front seat of the little roadster, due to the rain, and were necessarily crowded.

Harold Jarrett, another student in the University, who came along immediately after the accident occurred, carried Dunavant, Reid, and Daniel to Salisbury, where medical treatment was procured. He brought Reid and Daniel to Chapel Hill, Dunavant is still in the hospital at Salisbury and Reid is in the infirmary here under the care of Dr. Abernathy. Reid should be able to get up in a few days, while Daniel and Eskew are able to get about now. The cuts in the heads of the boys were evidently sustained from the side windshields, as the front one is guaranteed not to throw glass from any break.

The boys were returning from a short week-end spent in Charlotte, and were in a hurry to get back in time for their classes. According to Reid, it may have been that Dunavant fell asleep, or that he lost control of the car when it lurched back on the wet pavement from the shoulder. The car was completely demolished.

SELF HELP BUREAU SEEKS MORE WORK

Many Students Need aid in Order to Remain in School.

An S. O. S. call is being issued by the self-help bureau of the Y. M. C. A. to all townspeople, merchants, business men, and any one in Chapel Hill for work for the self-help men in the University. At least 25 boys must find work to do in order to eat after a week or less.

Never before in the history of the University has there been such a demand for work on the part of the students. A large number have come here with the expectation of getting work in order to remain; unless the townspeople and business men can furnish work, they must leave school.

It is requested that all who have work that possibly can be done by University students call at the Y. M. C. A. and ask for Grady Leonard who will get in touch with the most needy boys. The cooperation of every one is earnestly requested by Y. officials.

DONATIONS MADE TO NEW LIBRARY

Great-Grandson of Dr. Elisha Mitchell Presents Watch and Pewter Bowl to University.

Dr. W. C. Coker, head of the Botany Department, made an announcement yesterday of an award to the Library of two gifts received from John O. Miller of City of Richmond, Cal., great-grandson of Dr. Elisha Mitchell, the famed explorer who was killed in his ascent of the mountain named for him.

The two donations include an elaborate gold watch (with a key) which was discovered on Dr. Mitchell when the searching party found his body. The hands are stopped at the hour he was supposed to have met his death: 3:47 on "some day in June, 1857." The second gift is a pewter bowl which Dr. Mitchell kept on his desk during his distinguished teaching career at the University of North Carolina. There is a third gift already in possession of the Library, which will be added to the two gifts received by Dr. Coker. This is a letter, the last letter written by the adventurer before his death. In this letter—headed by the phrase: "some day in June, 1857," the writer announces to his daughter, Mary, certainty of success for himself and his companions.

The two gifts donated by Mr. Miller were accompanied by a card which the donor wishes to be displayed with them. The card is as follows:

To the University of North Carolina from
The Children and Grandchildren of Mary Sibyl Ashe Miller
Granddaughter of
Dr. Mitchell

The entire collection will be on display in the North Carolina Room of the Library in about two weeks.

COMPLETE LIST OF PRESS BOOKS IS ANNOUNCED

Press Association Prepares Catalogue for Fall Issue.

With especial interest on The North Carolina Series, books about the negro, and a social study series, the University of North Carolina Press Association has prepared its catalogue for the fall.

Following the usual procedure the board of governors of the association has selected ten books, all of which are to appear at early dates. It has been the practice of this board to have the submitted manuscripts read by scholars of this and other schools who are experts in their particular fields. The board bases its final decision upon the report of the readers.

It is unusual and interesting to note the various localities from which the books and their authors come. While a number of them are North Carolinians by birth or adoption, it is found that several of the writers hail from other southern states, and a few from the northern and eastern colleges.

One of the most interesting of the characters whose work ap-

Tar Heel Editor Completes Organization of 1929 Staff

New High Mark for 1929 Registration

Registration reached a high peak yesterday afternoon when the Administration office reported the total number of registrations as 2533, this total amounting to 29 more registrations than were received during the entire fall quarter of last year, when the registration for the quarter amounted to 2504.

Whereas the freshman class for this year is about the same in size as the class of last year, there is an increase in the number of students registered in the upper classes, and a large increase in the size of the Graduate school. The number of students registered here who are transfers from other colleges far exceeds the number registered here during the fall quarter of last year.

Annual College Night Exercises Run off Last Night With Dr. Chase, Ray Farris, and Tyre Taylor as Speakers.

The class of 1933 was received into the University last night at the College Night exercises in Memorial Hall. The exercises consisted of cheers, music by the University band, and speeches. A large number of freshmen and upperclassmen were present.

The assembly met on the steps of Memorial Hall at 8:15, and under the direction of the cheer leaders, practiced cheers which will be used for the Wake Forest game Saturday. The University band was present and interspersed the cheering with music. The band also accompanied in the Carolina songs. After a number of cheers and songs, the students entered Memorial Hall where the exercises proper were held.

Ray Farris, president of the student body and captain of the football team, on behalf of the students, received the class of 1933 into the student body of the University. He told of the significance attached to the student body and explained the duties expected of each of the students. President Chase extended the welcome of the University and members of the faculty to the incoming students. He related the glorious traditions connected with the 135 years of the University and urged every freshman to try to do his part in seeing that those traditions are continued through the years. The alumni were represented by Mr. Tyre Taylor, of the class of 1921, secretary to Governor Gardner. Mr. Taylor replaced Mr. Frank Page, former chairman of the state highway commission, who was scheduled to speak but was unable to be present. In behalf of the 11,000 living alumni of the University Mr. Taylor extended the greetings and welcome to the freshmen. At the conclusion of the speeches of welcome the audience joined in more cheers and songs.

Each year the College Night exercises are held for the purpose of formally inducting the freshman class into the University, and outlining the traditions and duties of the Carolina student body.
