

Carolina Crushes Maryland, 43-0 When Backs Run Wild; Spaulding Dashes 73 Yards for Touchdown

Magner, Branch, Farris, Crew, Jackson Are Among Luminaries.

SCORE IS BIG UPSET

North Carolina's "team of a hundred backs" ran roughshod over the University of Maryland at College Park yesterday to amass a total of seven touchdowns. The score was 43-0.

Ward tallied first for Carolina in the first period by circling end for 20 yards. Spaulding got the extra point by a kick from placement. This was the only score in the first period.

On the first play of the second period Ward rounded left end for his second tally. Try for extra point failed. Maryland threatened during this period but Slusser intercepted a pass to place the Tar Heels out of danger. After Carolina took the ball Magner, sub for Ward, circled end for 63 yards and a touchdown. Try for extra point was wide. The half ended with the ball in Maryland's possession deep in her own territory. Score N. C. 19, Maryland 0.

Ward Scores Three

Early in the third period Ward circled end for 25 yards and his third touchdown. Branch went in for Wyrick early in the fourth quarter and took a pass from Phil Jackson for a 60 yard jaunt and the fifth touchdown. A few minutes later Spaulding received a pass from Jackson and netted a fast 60 yard run for a score. The score was N. C. 37, Maryland 0.

During the final seconds of play Johnnie Branch took another pass from Phil Jackson and twisted his way to his second touchdown. The extra point attempt failed and the final score was 43-0 in favor of Chuck Collins' Tar Heels.

The entire Carolina team worked smoothly throughout the whole game and the line showed up exceptionally well, with Captain Farris, Crew, Harper, Holt and Gilreath showing much ability.

In spite of the lopsided score the Old Liners put up a game fight. Chalmers was the leader of Maryland's offensive, and Evans did some fine punting for Maryland.

In addition to the two parts showing the wing and fuselage construction, samples of the control surfaces, both aileron and rudder, were obtained at the same time.

Besides the parts which have just been added, the department has in its collection a Liberty motor which was placed in the University by the government last spring, the auxiliary equipment for this motor, and a propeller presented by the Hamilton Aero Manufacturing company of Milwaukee.

Another propeller has been given to the department by the Story Gawley company, of Glendale, Cal. As soon as this piece of equipment arrives, it will be placed in the room used by the senior mechanical engineering students, where all of the smaller parts of the collection are kept.

OCTOBER ALUMNI REVIEW APPEARS

Articles About Hazing Features; Watkins Replaces Allison.

(By R. M. Pittman)

Articles by Dr. Archibald Henderson, class of '98, and D. Allen Harrell, "North Carolina's boy Edison," who is now registered as a freshman in the University course in aeronautical engineering, contrasting "Hazing" and "Orientation" are features of the October issue of "The Alumni Review" which made its appearance yesterday. Dr. Henderson says, "If a freshman roomed in a University building his heart began to beat painfully after eleven o'clock at night." Anything from putting blacking on a boy's face while he was asleep to tying him to a tree in some lonesome graveyard and leaving him there until morning was the range of tricks played while he was a student here, Dr. Henderson declares.

Harrell says that upon his arrival here he and his class were met by several upperclassmen and a few of the faculty members who showed them around the campus, made them acquainted with the different buildings and helped them to get registered for their classes.

Interesting Sections

There are several interesting sections in "The Review" this month. "The Sun Glass" by the field secretary, is especially interesting. He gives in his own way, the thoughts, activities, and other matters of interest among the alumni.

Other sections are: "Here and There with the Alumni," and "Keeping Up With the Classes." The latter two show the efficient method the general Alumni office has of keeping in touch with the alumni after they leave here.

Will Be Nucleus of Working Committee for University's State-Wide Appeal.

Goldsboro, Oct. 5.—(Special).—A group of class agents, representing virtually every living alumni class, will form the nucleus of a working committee for the University Alumni Loyalty fund, according to an announcement made here today by Leslie Weil, chairman of the Loyalty Fund council. Represented in the list, all of whom are University alumni, are many of the outstanding citizens of North Carolina.

The Alumni Loyalty fund council is sponsoring a state-wide appeal to alumni to supplement state appropriations with private gifts.

The class agents are enthusiastic in their belief that University alumni everywhere are eager to respond to the call of the Loyalty fund, according to Mr. Weil, who points out that this method of financing is necessary in order that the University may continue to grow in excellence and finish as it grows in size. The private funds will be used to finance excellence.

The class agents have written three letters to the members of their respective classes outlining the plans of the appeal. Emphasis is being placed on a one hundred per cent participation rather than the size of the annual gift to be made.
