

BUILD NOAH'S ARK

AND WIN
A FREE TICKET

HERE'S HOW

In each merchant's ad on this page appears a part of a picture of Noah's Ark, eight pieces in all. When properly fitted together you will have a perfect picture of the Ark. Each merchant has five tickets to give to the first five persons submitting the correct solution at his store.

We'll bet dollars to doughnuts Noah would have had one. But, alas, they weren't available.

It is clearly science's latest contribution to heating and the greatest modern convenience.

THE OIL - O - MATIC Oil Burner

You set the gauge and the Oil-O-Matic does the rest—IT AUTOMATICALLY KEEPS YOUR HOME THE SAME TEMPERATURE ALL YEAR.

You set another gauge, and the burner keeps your hot water at the same desired constant temperature.

Come down for a demonstration and let us refer you to a growing list of satisfied users in Chapel Hill.

NOAH'S ARK

Is but one of the many splendid attractions booked by the Carolina Theatre for this fall. The following is only a small number of the wonderful attractions coming:

- | | |
|--|--|
| Al Jolson
--in--
"Say It With Songs"
Moran and Mack | Harold Lloyd
--in--
"Welcome Danger"
Flo Ziegfeld's
"Glorifying the American Girl"
"On With the Show" |
| "Why Bring That Up"
"Gold Diggers of Broadway" | |

YOU CAN WIN—

All you have to do is put the ark together. When completed the picture represents the Ark sitting up on the rocks where it was built. Be one of the first five to present it to any of the stores represented and they will give you a FREE ticket to see "Noah's Ark" at the Carolina Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.
