

DEBATING SQUAD HEAR LAW PROF

Breckenridge Says Quick Wits Needed By Modern Scientific Lawyer.

"Quick wits mingled with a knowledge of facts are the qualifications of the modern scientific lawyer," declared Professor Millard S. Breckenridge of the law school speaking before a joint meeting of the debate squad and class Thursday evening in Murphy hall.

Facts, Mr. Breckenridge said, are essential to the effective presentation of a case in court. Not only must facts be presented through witnesses by the lawyer; he must skillfully draw facts from witnesses who are instruments of the opposing side. To be able to do this, the lawyer must necessarily use his wits.

Presentation of evidence is also an important factor in cases of argumentation, according to Mr. Breckenridge. The actual result of the trial is directly dependent on the manner in which material is presented to the jury. Irrelevant material should always be avoided by debaters as well as lawyers.

Great satisfaction was expressed by members of the class for Professor Breckenridge's address. Professor George McKie, faculty adviser of the debate group, stated that the regular meeting would be held next Thursday night as usual at seven-thirty o'clock in 215 Murphy hall.

Chase Entertains Visitors at Game

As president of the University, Dr. Harry W. Chase entertained the following notables at the game yesterday:

Chancellor and Mrs. Charles M. Snelling; Governor and Mrs. L. G. Harding, Governor and Mrs. O. Max Gardner; Judge and Mrs. N. A. Townsend; Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. R. T. Fountain; Former Governor and Mrs. Cameron Morrison; Former Governor and Mrs. A. W. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. John Sprunt Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Daniels, Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Mangum, Congressman Charles A. Jonas, Mr. and Mrs. George Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harvey, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Lee Smith, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Woollen.

Dr. W. C. Coker, Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Parker, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Knight, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Wilson, Rev. W. D. Moss, Mr. Andrew Keogh, Miss Sarah Bogle, Miss Charlotte Templeton, Miss Anne Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Page, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McCorn, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Womble, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Tapp.

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Mull, Mr. Henry Burke, Colonel J. W. Harrelson, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brooks, Dr. Delia D. Carroll and Dr. Norwood Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Duffy, Mr. W. A. Graham, Mr. Thomas O'Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Page, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Park, Judge and Mrs. John J. Parker, Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Poe, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sullivan, Thomas S. White, Mr. and Mrs. John Huske Anderson, Mr. W. M. Kendall, and others.

A number of the guests will be delegates to the Library and Southern Education meetings.

A Night View of the New Library

John Sprunt Hill Accepts New Library For Trustees

$625,000 Structure Dedicated Saturday With Andrew Keogh As Chief Speaker; President Chase Says It Is Fulfillment Of University's Dream.

Carolina's new $625,000 library was dedicated yesterday morning. The building—a magnificent structure—already houses the largest college or university book collection in the South this side of Texas.

Present at the exercises, which were held in Memorial Hall, was a notable assemblage made up of Home-Comers, delegates from other institutions, University trustees, students, faculty members, and a large number of visitors.

The exercises began at 10:30 o'clock after the University faculty members, speakers, trustees, and builders had formed a procession in front of South building and marched to Memorial hall.

Dr. Harry W. Chase, president of the University, who presided over the exercises, referred to the occasion as "the fulfilment of one of the dreams that has been ours for years."

"My own happiness is the greater that this building has come to us out of state funds," Dr. Chase declared, "for it indicates clearly that here in North Carolina is another great democracy that has seen the necessity of such a great central power-house for the University and for the State."

The dedicatory address was delivered by Andrew Keogh, librarian of Yale University and president of the American Library Association.

The address of presentation was delivered by Governor O. Max Gardner, who emphasized the view that "while its soul is the spirit of the men who teach and are taught, the heart of a true university is in its library."

John Sprunt Hill, chairman of the building committee of the Board of Trustees of the University, delivered the speech of acceptance in which he emphasized

(Continued on page four)

Honorary Fraternity Initiates Four Men

Four graduates of the University were initiated into Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, last night at a special initiation ceremony.

The four men, Dwight Plyler, '24, Fred Ray, '24, James Lewis, '26, and W. C. Johnson, '27, were all pledged to the group before leaving the University, and returned at this time for the initiation ceremony. Two of these men were members of the original group that petitioned for a chapter of the fraternity at Carolina.

At present all four are working for the Hardaway Contracting Co of Columbus, Ga., one of the largest construction firms in the southeast. Mr. Plyler is working on a bridge over the Tennessee river, Mr. Lewis is at a dam in Florida, and Mr. Ray and Mr. Johnson are at West Point, Georgia.

The annual fall tapping of Tau Beta Pi, when members of the present senior class in the engineering school will be chosen for membership, will be held sometime before Christmas.

Lutheran Students To Elect Officers

All Lutheran students are urged to be present at the Bible study hour this morning at 10 o'clock in Gerrard hall. There will be a short discussion of the topic for the day followed by a very important business meeting for the purpose of electing the student church council. Students are especially urged to be present as this matter of business must be transacted without further delay.

Entertainment Tickets

Season tickets for the remainder of the student entertainments are on sale at Dean Hibbard's office in South building. A reduction is being made, because the first performance of the series has been given.

Many Delegates Attend Exercises

Educational institutions in virtually every section of the country were represented here yesterday at the dedication of the University of North Carolina's new $625,000 library.

Among the delegates present were:

Leo M. Favrot, representing the general education board, Baton Rouge, La.; Professor Frank C. Mitchell of Duke, representing Millsaps college, Miss.; Donald Coney representing University of Michigan; Dr. Guy B. Johnson, representing Baylor University, Tex.; Mrs. Morgan F. Vining, representing Drexel Institute, Philadelphia;

Col. William A. Blair of Winston-Salem, representing Haverford college, Pa.; Miss Eva Wrigley and Professor A. G. Griffin representing Furman University, S. C.; Dr. E. B. Fowler representing University of Louisville, Ky.; Miss Mary R. Mullen representing Alabama Department of Archives and History, Montgomery; Miss Eleanor W. Falley representing Goucher college, Maryland;

Dr. John C. French representing Johns Hopkins University, Maryland; Miss Beverly Wheatcroft representing Georgia Library Commission, Atlanta; Miss Tommie Dora Barker representing Carnegie Library school, Atlanta; Miss Margaret Jamison representing Emory University, Georgia; Harry Clemons representing the University of Virginia;

Dr. L. M. Brooks representing Boston University; Professor Paul M. Gross of Duke University representing Duke University; Dr. L. H. Snyder of N. C. State college representing Rutgers University; Charles H. Stone representing North Carolina College for Women;

Mrs. Lillian B. Griggs and all members of the Library Commission—eight—representing N. C. Library commission; Miss Alice V. Wilson representing East Carolina Teachers College; Clarke Foreman representing the Julius Rosenwald Fund of Chicago; Miss Sarah C. N. Bogle representing Yale University.

Georgia Whips Tar Heels 19-12 In Tough Encounter

Tar Heel Notice

There will be an important meeting of the Tar Heel Staff tonight. All members of the staff are expected to be present unless excused by the Editor. The meeting will be held promptly at 7:30 o'clock in the Tar Heel office.

STATION HOOKS UP WITH EUROPE

University Radio Plant Connects With Madrid, Spain, for First Time.

The University radio station, W4WE, had a very successful season during the past summer. Communication was established with more than 10 foreign countries, and many messages were exchanged with other stations in the United States.

For the first time in the history of the station messages were exchanged with a station in Spain, when on October 8 contact was made with station EAR-96, at Madrid. This exchange of messages was especially noteworthy, because the QSA, readability of signals, of 5 is very unusual for Spain.

During the summer the station worked Peru for the first time. While communication with South American stations is not unusual, this exchange of messages was the first with a Peruvian station. Station OA4J, the station in Peru, is operated by William Garey Wilson of Barranco.

The contacts with both Spain and Peru were on a wave length of 20 meters, one of the five bands on which the local station is licensed to operate. Station W4WE works all five of the amateur bands under a license from the Federal Radio Commission.

No difficulty is experienced in carrying on a radio conversation with a foreign operator, for the majority of them can speak some sort of English, and the many international "Q signals" enable one to carry on a limited conversation without knowing anything about the language of the other party.

The University station is mentioned in the last issue of QST, the radio amateur journal, for having been in contact with stations in New Zealand and Australia.

Cards from other stations signifying that the local station has been in communication with them are always being received by the operators of W4WE, and in the laboratory there is a large board entirely covered with cards from foreign countries.

Since last spring the local station has talked to stations in Germany, France, England, Hungary, Brazil, Chile, Holland, Switzerland, Peru, and Spain.

Since its organization the station has been in contact with stations in 52 countries, 4 continents, and 2 expeditions, one in the arctic, the other in the antarctic.

2624 Students

There are 2624 students now enrolled at the university, five less than the record of two years ago, according to Dr. T. J. Wilson, registrar.

Bulldogs Play Heady Football in Defeating Carolina Before 24,000 Home-Coming Fans; Magner and Spaulding Star in Backfield for Tar Heels; Roberts, Downs, and Chandler Furnish Fireworks for Bulldogs.

Playing with an eye on the ball throughout, the Georgia Bulldogs fought their way to a 19-12 victory over the Carolina Tar Heels here yesterday in Kenan stadium. Some 24,000 spectators saw a Bulldog eleven stop Carolina's great backs before they reached the line of scrimmage and saw a Carolina line, which played great football against Georgia Tech last Saturday, allow Georgia's linemen to sift through and stop the backs before they started.

The game was decided by the breaks. But Georgia was here to win. It played from the opening whistle with the idea of winning. Carolina tied the score early in the game and at one time let 12-6, but Georgia came right back to score again and again. Its backs failed to run through Carolina's line or around the Tar Heel ends, but it stopped Carolina's passing attack completely. In fact it was the defensive playing of Georgia which won for it.

The game was colorful. It was thrilling until the last few minutes of play when Georgia spent most of the time deep in Carolina territory. Magner constantly threatened to break for long runs. He usually did when he got beyond the line of scrimmage. Slusser brought the stands to their feet several times with threatened long runs. Spaulding furnished plenty of fireworks with his defensive work and line plunging. But the Georgia fans felt the thrills. Georgia furnished a large number of them. Roberts, sub full-back, ran wild during his stay in the game. Chandler and Downs did enough running to keep Carolina from scoring. It was Georgia's day from the beginning.

Georgia scored early when Branch fumbled on Carolina's six yard line. Rothstein, one of the few seniors playing for the Bulldogs, tried the line twice and scored. "Catfish" Smith, highly touted before the game, failed to kick the point after touchdown.

Carolina then began to score. Ward tossed a pass to Spaulding who galloped 40 yards before being pulled down. But his run went for naught when Carolina failed to add another first down and the ball went over on downs. Smith kicked the ball outside on Carolina's 32 yard line, but the advantage failed to help, for Boland, captain of the Bulldogs, intercepted a pass a few moments later to give the ball to Georgia on their 29 yard line. Here the Carolina team clicked. Magner, Slusser and Spaulding combined to get a first down. Then "Rip" Slusser snagged one of Magner's heaves, outran most of Georgia's backfield, and scored. The try for point failed.

Action was rather slow for the rest of the half, although Magner continued to run wild when he got past the line of scrimmage. One of his runs went for 28 yards and the other for 50 yards. But the punch to drive the ball further was lacking.

(Continued on page three)